a pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired.

Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it and I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received. I am entirely well and feel like a new person."

SHOW WELL NAMED;
IT HAS TROUBLES
OF SEVERAL KINDS

Not Only Was "A Jolly Man's Troubles" Refused the Gennett at Night, But Suit of Attachment Was Filed.

"A Jolly Man's Troubles" was the title of a show billed for the Gennett Thursday afternoon and evening, but which was chased out of the house by the theatre management after the afternoon production, seems to be most appropriately named. The company ran a foul of a whole flock of troubles, the principal ones being the action of the theatre management and a suit of attachment and garnishment filed against the show manager, M. W. McQuigg, by a former employee, Thursday night the company with its one "property" trunk and two pieces of scenery beat a hasty but quiet retreat from Richmond. When last seen the company, minus its manager, who is among the missing, was headed in the direction of Ft. Wayne.

Thursday afternoon while a small audience was being bored to death by "A Jolly Man's Troubles" suit for attachment and garnishment was filed in the circuit court by William F. Lee against M. W. McQuigg, manager of the show. In the complaint it was stated that Lee was manager of the Francis Lee Greater shows and that last summer McQuigg had a contract with this company to act as an advance agent and to make contracts for exhibitions of these shows. It was expressly stated in the contract that McQuigg last August fraudulently collected $125 from the Sheldon Live Stock Association of Sheldon, Ill., by representing that he was authorized to collect this money to meet advertising expenses. It appears that McQuigg then skipped with the $125 and W. F. Lee was compelled to refund this amount to the Sheldon people. In the complaint it was stated that the plaintiff had reason to believe the management of the Gennett theatre was indebted to McQuigg, as manager of "A Jolly Man's Troubles," $100 and he petitioned to have this amount attached.

It appears that McQuigg, feeling that something was about to drop, avoided Richmond, so when the sheriff appeared to serve the papers on him he was not located. After the matinee Mrs. Swisher, manager of the theatre, told the acting manager of the show that the Gennett would be "dark" that evening. She said the production was too poor to be put on at a water tank town. The manager, stormed and threatened. He had a contract for two shows at the Gennett, he said. "And we had a contract for two shows but I fail to see where you have a show," said Mrs. Swisher. In conclusion she told him that by lingering in Richmond too long there was a possibility of the sheriff attaching the two pieces of scenery and the property trunk. A hint to the wise is a good bet, so at 10:30 Thursday evening the show manager had the two pieces of scenery and the trunk smuggled out of the theatre and the company departed for Ft. Wayne on the 11 o'clock G. R. & I. train.

The ladies of the Macabees gave their third annual dance Thursday evening at I. O. O. F. hall, and it was well attended, about fifty couples participating. The music was furnished by Messrs. WANTS OVERSTREET
FOR AN ADDRESS

Secretary Haas Is After the Indiana Congressman.

OPPOSED TO PARCELS POST

Since Congressman Jesse Overstreet, of Indianapolis is opposed to the parcels post system as planned by Postmaster-General von Meyer, Secretary Haas of the Commercial club, is making an endeavor to secure his services for an address in this city before he returns to Washington, to assume his duties in the next session of the national legislature.

Congressman Overstreet is chairman of the post roads committee in congress, and has studied the parcels post system in all its details and has made several addresses upon the subject which have attracted widespread interest.

He says the system would be an aid to the mail order houses in this country, as they could take advantage of the low express rates which would aid them in distributing their wares over the entire country. Overstreet says that the postmaster general secured his ideas of the parcels post in Germany, while ambassador to that country, and where the system is working nicely. Overstreet argues, however, that as the railroads of Germany are under control of the government there are no express companies and the system cannot help but work satisfactorily.

THIRD DEATH OCCURS.

Word has just received in Richmond announcing the death of Mrs. Verlin Drury at Denver, Col. Within the past four weeks husband, mother and daughter have died of typhoid fever. One son survives.

MONEY WAS NOT STOLEN.

One of the most charming social events of the week was the bridge whist party for which Mrs. Eric Reynolds was hostess at her charming and hospitable home on East Main street. Thursday afternoon. The guests numbered forty, there being eight tables of bridge with two of duplicate whist. The affair was not progressive and no prizes were given. Red Christmas bells hung between the doorways and in the several wall pockets about the rooms were clusters of various colored chrysanthemums. On the mantels were strands of smilax. A three course luncheon was served during which a most beautiful program of popular and classical melodies was played on the piano by Mrs. Reynolds. The company included Mesdames Henry Gennett, Clarence Gennett, J. M. Knodle, B. B. Johnson, Fred Schneider, John Lantz, Rudolph Leeds, Will Earhart, William Campbell, Leroy Browne, George Cates, George Williams, Florence Lodwick, Horatio Holton, William Bradbury, E. B. A called meeting of the Anglican Literary society of Earlham college was held at one fifteen o'clock at Earlham this afternoon, in the room of Prof. William N. Trueblood. Special business was considered, it being decided to postpone Monday evening meeting until Tuesday, on account of the concert of Macmillen at the Gennett.

The social committee at Earlham has arranged for a musical to be given Saturday evening in Earlham Hall by the talent of the school. The program will probably be of one hour's duration beginning at 7:45.

The pupil's recital which was given in Earlham Chapel this afternoon was one of the most entertaining affairs that has been given at the college for some time and was attended by a large number of students. Following is the program: Piano solos, Miss Marie Peterson, Martha Meyn, Marguerite Christman, Elizabeth Morrison, Agnes Kelly, Myrtle Johnson, Grace Stanley, Ruth Morrow and Haley Harold; vocal solos by Miss Pearl Hascocaster, Mr. Byron Huff and Mr. Thurman Overman.

The parlor was artistically arranged with pink roses on the mantels, while in the dining room white and pink chrysanthemums were pleasingly arranged on the table and about the room. SEWER BID WAS REJECTED.

The board of public works rejected the bid of Hipskind & Son, Wabash contractors, for building route two of the Northwest Second street sewer. Their bid for this work was $13,100 which was slightly in excess of the estimated cost. Bids for building this section of the sewer will be readjusted and it is thought that Hipskind & Son will submit a bid within the estimated cost of construction.

Clarence Jessup May Play Polo This Winter.

After having received many flattering offers in the past few weeks to play polo, Clarence Jessup is now considering very seriously of donning the shin guards and mask for the Youngstown, O. team in the Interstate league. The offer made him is one of the handsomest ever made in the West. Previous offers have gone by unnoticed by the doughty little captain of Richmond's pennant winning team of several winters ago. The Youngstown plun, however, is so good that Jessup thinks perhaps he might do well by accepting it. Jessup is one of the many believers

HE ADVISED BROWN TO MARRY BRADLEY
WOMAN, HE SAYS

Attorney Barnes Continues His Testimony in the Trial Of Mrs. Bradley for Murder Of the Former Senator.

Washington, Nov. 22—Lawyer Barnes of Salt Lake City resumed the stand in the Bradley case today. He testified that Senator Brown had consulted him regarding the case, and he advised him to marry the woman. Brown was surprised. Afterward he told Mrs. Bradley he did not believe Brown intended to marry her. Mrs. Bradley insisted he would keep faith with her. The witness said Mrs. Bradley appeared broken and would quote poetry and laugh hysterically. The witness concluded she had an insane love for Brown.

The story of Brown's acknowledgment of the paternity of the two youngest of Mrs. Bradley's children was told Thursday in Judge Stafford's court by other lips than hers.

"I acknowledge Arthur Brown and Martin Montgomery as my children by Annie Bradley," such was Mr. Brown's own method of expressing himself on the subject, and the legend was inscribed on a soiled and blotted piece of writing paper. It was dated February 10, 1905, and was brought to light by Colonel Maurice M. Kaighn, an attorney of Salt Lake City, the present receiver in the United States land office in that city, and a friend of Senator Brown of 30 years' standing.

In Richmond that polo should again be revived in this city. He says that Richmond is one of the greatest polo towns in the Middle West, and stock holders in the local coliseum would reap a rich reward if they would but revive the old game. "It's a shame to see all that money lost," said Jessup when speaking of the local situation. A money making league could be organized, he thinks, in this section of the country.
