PENN TEAM CLAIMS THE SECOND PLACE

Quaker Supporters Are Happy Over Team's Work the Past Season.

OUTLOOK BELIEVED BRIGHT

OVERWHELMING DEFEAT OF CORNELL SERVED TO BLOT OUT ALL THOUGHTS OF GAME LOST TO CARLISLE INDIANS.

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—University of Pennsylvania football men are deliriously happy over the sensational and crushing defeat their team administered to Cornell on Thanksgiving day. Their only disappointment is the fact that the team failed to receive credit for three more touchdowns which were made, but disallowed on account of penalties. According to the relative merits of the two teams Penn should have won by four touchdowns to none, a fact which the most ardent supporters of Cornell concede. But the memory of these additional touchdowns will live in the minds of the spectators as long as the game itself. Among the football critics who saw the game the opinion was nearly unanimous that the Quakers should be ranked no less than second among the teams of the East. Pennsylvania suffered but one defeat, that at the hands of the Indians, and the Indians also were the only team that could cross Penn's goal line during the season. The Quakers have no excuse for their demoralization that day, but an analysis of the score shows that although the Indians did score 26 points, they crossed the Quaker goal line only once by legitimate football.

TRACTION AFFAIRS LOOK BRIGHTER

Indianapolis, New Castle and Toledo Line to Resume.

ELEVEN MILES UNFINISHED

According to New Castle advices, the affairs of the Indianapolis, New Castle and Trolley traction line, in which a number of Indianapolis and New Castle men are interested and which recently went into the hands of a receiver, are progressing finely. A meeting of the creditors of the road was held last week and an agreement was reached whereby work should continue on the line and whereby the receivership should soon be discontinued. Only about eleven miles of the road remain unfinished, and it is felt that with its completion far better results for both creditors and promoters of the line will be attained.

PALLADIUM SELECTS ALL-INDIANA TEAM

Two Earlham Players, Harrell And Hancock, Are Given Recognition.

SEASON NOT SUCCESSFUL.

NEITHER FINANCES, NOR THE ARTISTIC FEATURES OF THE GAME WERE WHAT WAS EXPECTED EARLIER IN SEASON.

All-Indiana Football Team

Center—Sprock Wabash
Guard—Berkheiser Purdue
Guard—Hoover Indiana
Tackle—McGaughey Indiana
Tackle—Doan Notre Dame
End—Tucker De Pauw
End—Hancock Earlham
Quarter back—Hargrave Wabash
Half back—S. Paddock Wabash
Half back—Harrell Earlham
Full back—Ryan Notre Dame (BY TORT.)

Indiana's football season has not been an altogether successful one, either from an artistic or a financial standpoint. Two of the leading institutions had teams far below the average, while two or three of the others had fairly successful seasons. In no institutions, however, were any really great stars of the game developed. By that I mean men whose brilliancy was so pronounced as to make them stand head and shoulders above their contemporaries.

For this reason the selection of an all-state team means the selection of a balanced team rather than one made up of the very best players in each position. It is necessary to shift one or more players from their regular positions to secure that degree of effectiveness which is demanded in a team.

The Palladium, this year as last, did not make any selection until the season was over and the work of all of the players had been observed. Some men showed flashes of form in one game that were not kept up in others and a proper balance had to be taken. Consideration has been given to all college players who were eligible under the rules of the Indiana Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Perhaps the most noticeable thing about the season is the dearth of high class forwards and the great number of brilliant backs. This is a condition that is likely to continue, because the new rules require faster back fields, while the forwards do not have to have the strength nor the endurance that were required when it was necessary to advance the ball only five yards to make the first down. There is not a line in the state that could resist the attack of the plunging back fields of two years ago under the old rules, and if the new rules remain in force there probably will not again be such lines as there were in those days. Earlham is given two players on the All-Indiana team—Hancock and Harrell. They were two staunch bulwarks of the Quaker eleven and deserve recognition.

ted States Currency Notes," and providing for their printing to the amount of $500,000,000.

$710,287,626 IS NEEDED.
Amount Required to Run Government for Year 1909.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The secretary of the Treasury has sent to congress the estimates of appropriations required for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909. The figures show an increase of $77,479,819 over the estimates for 1908 and an increase of $56,220,646 over the appropriations for 1908. This last item, however, includes deficiencies and permanent annual appropriations.

The estimates submitted by the Smithsonian Canal Commission for the fiscal year 1909 aggregate $33,183,143. Appropriations for the current fiscal year amounted to $27,161,367.

ROOSEVELT TALKS TO SENATORS
Offers No Suggestions, but Seeks Information on Laws.

Washington, Dec. 4.—A conference was held at the White house Tuesday evening between the president and Senators Aldrich of Rhode Island and Crane of Massachusetts on the subject of currency legislation. The president called in these two leading senators in order that he might have their views concerning the many propositions that have been made to him during the last several weeks in favor of plans for relieving the currency stringency under such circumstances has occurred.

Nothing definite was decided upon. An interesting phase of the conference was that the president himself had no particular plan to urge.

A TARIFF COMMISSION.

Senator Beveridge Says Five Men Should be Appointed.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Asked to express his views on the resolution which he will shortly introduce, providing for the appointment of a tariff commission Senator Beveridge said: "I think the whole subject ought to be carefully studied by a commission, to report at the beginning of the next congress after the next inauguration. The commission should be composed of acknowledged practical experts in their different lines. I would have it absolutely divorced from politics and would not have a single member of either house or senate upon it. I think an American commission of five men can do the work in two years, especially with the great advantage they would have in having a trained force that could be called upon in the Bureau of Census, Labor, etc., and the statistics that are already available."

BILL TO RESTORE MOTTO.

Kentucky Representative Wants "In God We Trust" on Coins.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Representative Ollie James, of Kentucky, will introduce a bill to restore "In God We Trust" to coins.

"After six years of flourishing the 'big stick,' President Roosevelt has at last removed one trust that's 'In God We Trust,'" said Mr. James today. "In removing the motto he struck one of the greatest blows to religion and morality that has ever been given in this country. He says that some one may laugh at the motto. Such an argument, if followed to its logical conclusion, would tear down every church steeple in the land."

"Mr. Roosevelt will soon find that his countrymen do not sympathize with him in his willingness to abolish the motto which expressed the national gratitude to the Creator."

REQUEST FOR FT. HARRISON.
Cortelyou's Budget Includes Appropriations for Land.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The estimates of appropriations for the next fiscal year which Secretary Cortelyou forwarded to congress included a request for an appropriation of $750,000 to buy 6,250 acres of land adjoining Ft. Benjamin Harrison, "to be used for a maneuver camp for the troops of the United States Army and the militia located within the geographical limits of the Northwest Division."

It is not considered likely that the appropriations committee will act favorably on this estimate. Many congressmen who have small army posts in their district are jealous of Ft. Benjamin Harrison and their influence counts.

BANKS NOW HAVE SUFFICIENT GOLD

Movement of Yellow Money From Europe Likely to Be Stopped Soon.

RATE DECREASES DAILY.

NEW YORK INSTITUTIONS RECEIVE MOST ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY.

New York, Dec. 4.—Most of the large banks received encouraging advices today from their out-of-town correspondents respecting the general betterment of financial affairs, and the opinion was expressed in foreign banking circles that America would not have to import much more foreign gold.

A few of the large houses had small engagements in process of negotiation today, however, and some experts figured out that we might receive from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 from London before the present movement ends. A considerable amount of foreign gold is now on the way here, and from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 probably will arrive next week.

The foreign bankers were able to get bids of only half of one per cent from the money brokers for large consignments of foreign gold. Some bankers intimated that the currency premium was declining so rapidly as to indicate that there would be no such factor for the market to reckon with by the middle of next week.

The steamship LaProvincie, which arrived from Havre, brought twenty boxes of gold eagles, amounting to $750,000.
