New York, Jan. 1.—With the light as the confetti that swirled about the Broadway route, New Yorkers took the last from the calendar of 1907 light and set their faces toward the year.

Of all the boisterous New Years, there never was one noisier or more hilarious. Early yesterday word was sent out from Police Commissioner Bingham's office, "The crowds have a good time. So rowdyish, but allow them to be noise."

In this way General Bingham sized the fact that the night of New Year's day in the metropolis primarily for hubbub making, the which can be compared only to the racket that ushers in the old Fourth. It had been promised last night's demonstration would be the noisiest ever, and the whole name off as advertised.

COST ALMOST MILLION.

The celebration cost New York about three quarters of a million dollars—the exact amount will not be known until tomorrow, but those in authority on the subject that $250,000 was expended in the restaurants and cafes; that the then got $100,000 and the musicians, artists, cabmen and waiters the balance of a half million; while club part private entertainments and the like and one attractions along Broadway put at least a quarter million in circulation.

Fortune of Million and a Half Goes to Women Not Relatives

Everett B. Webster, late president of the wire trust, whose will, leaving an estate worth $1,500,000 to two women other than his wife, will be contested. Mrs. Webster was cut off without a cent. One of the beneficiaries under the will is Elizabeth Sanders Rogers, wife of Jacob C. Rogers, who was Mr. Webster's private secretary. The other is Dorothy Schellier G. Dubins, wife of Edgar George Dubins, Mr. Webster's London divorce proceedings before her husband's death.

ORDER OF OWLS MAY BUILD NEST

Grand President of Indiana, Is
In the City Perfecting Organization.

ORDER IS FIVE YEARS OLD.

DURING ITS EXISTENCE IT HAS GAINED A MEMBERSHIP OF
NEAR 50,000—NUMBER OF BUSI-NESS MEN MAY BE AFFILIATED.

James L. Nimal, grand president of Indiana and supreme organizer for the Order of Owls, is in the city formulating plans for the establishment of this secret order in Richmond. Indications are that the order will meet with unusual success in this city and it is probable that there will be 75 local business men who will take the initial degree on January 12, the work to be done by the degree team from Middle.

A smoker will be held Sunday afternoon at the Westcott to which those interested are invited. At this meeting the object and purpose of the order will be presented.

This order is about five years old and up to the present time has 54,000 members in different parts of the world. The Order of Owls aims to combine all of the desirable features of similar fraternal orders.

The ritualistic work of the order is beautiful, and founded on moral, not sectarian principles. "Smile," "Hear the call of the distressed," "Be a good fellow, with a grasp of the hand and a kindly word," are its mottoes. The local chapters are known as nests and as the name implies, all are members of one household. The motto of the Owls' order is:

There's so much bad in the best of us, and so much good in the worst of us.

To speak ill of the rest of us, It hardly behoves any of us.

To speak ill of the rest of us.

POPE'S JUBILEE OF HIS PRIESTHOOD

Without Coming Together of Multitude, Event Is Celebrated.

Rome, Jan. 1.—The Pope's Jubilee began today. In December, 1858, he said his first mass. Yesterday his holiness remarked that 20 years had elapsed since the opening of the jubilee of the priesthood of Pope Leo XIII, when 200,000 pilgrims gathered here from all corners of the earth to render him honor. In contrast to this the jubilee of Pope Pius opened very quietly and without the coming together of a multitude.
