UNION TRACTION EMPLOYES NOW ON A BIG STRIKE

It Was Decided to Take This Action This Morning at Muncie and Promptly a Hundred Men Walked Out.

INTERURBANS ARE STILL RUNNING HOWEVER.

Officials of the Traction Line Remain Firm and Say They Will Not Give in to Employes —No Violence Up to Noon.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 1—The Amalgamated association of street railway employes voted unanimously this morning to strike. A hundred are now on a strike but Union Traction interurban cars are in operation, manned by strike breakers from Chicago. Up to noon there was no violence.

Mayor Terhune of Anderson and Mayor Guthrie of Muncie, called on the officials of the Union Traction company in hope of solving the difficulty, but made no headway in that direction. The two were cordially received and were thanked for their interest in trying to settle the question, but were firmly assured that the traction company had no more advance to make and that there was no question for arbitration between the Union Traction company and its employes.

Company Remains Firm.

The officials said that there had been no departure from the scale of wages and that there have been no changes in the conditions under which the men are working, except that a contract had been signed with the representatives of the Amalgamated association. The company, the officials declared, had acceded to the request of the majority of its interurban employes and signed an agreement with the Brotherhood of Interurban Trainmen.

UNUSUAL FEATURES MARKED WEATHER IN THE YEAR 1907

Weather Bureau at Washington Will Be Apprised of Conditions Existing Here During Past Twelve Months.

WAS BIG RANGE IN THE TEMPERATURE.

Mercury Stood From Ten Degrees Below Zero to Ninety-two Degrees Above—Forty-nine Inches Rainfall.

Walter Vossler, voluntary weather observer, for this vicinity, has just completed his weather report which he will make to the weather bureau at Washington, for the month of December and also for the year of 1907. The report is an interesting one both from the standpoint of local conditions and for comparison with former reports.

December.

Maximum temperature, December 8, 50 degrees. Minimum temperature, December 5, 8 degrees. Mean maximum 39.2 degrees. Mean minimum 26.2 degrees. Daily average 33.2 degrees. Greatest range 28 degrees. Total precipitation for the omnth, 3.66 inches. Greatest precipitation for one day was on the 23rd, which was 1.22 inches. Snow fall was .7 inches. No. days of rain, 10; clear days, 4; partly cloudy, 9; cloudy 18.

One of the phenomenal occurances was Dec. 9, when thunder and lightning was witnessed both to the east and the west, but the stars and moon were shining brightly. A severe electrical storm occurred on the night of Dec. 25, lasting from 11 p. m. until 3 a. m.

Report For 1907.

Maximum temperature for the year was 92 degrees, on July 6. Lowest temperature for the year was 10 degrees below zero, Feb. 6. July was the warmest month and had a mean temperature of 73.1. February was the coldest month and the mean temperature was 25.1. The annual mean temperature was 50 degrees.

The greatest rain fall was on July ... of 2.72 inches. June had the greatest rain fall which was 7.51 inches. The ... snow was Jan. 16 ... 2.9 inches. Greatest snow ... month was 14 inches. The ... fall for the year was 11.4. ... precipitation, including ... snow, 49.39 inches.

The temperature for the past year was about 7 degrees above normal and the average rain fall was 4.11 inches, while the normal is 3.6 inches.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to heartily thank all our kind friends and neighbors for their many attentions and services rendered during the sickness and death of my husband, Louis E. Weisbrod, especially Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keelor, and the members of the Modern Woodmen lodge who drew all respect for their steadfast friendship and assistance, and their prompt action at death.

Thanking all sincerely.

Mrs. J. C. Weisbrod

Is The Stomach Dispensable?

An operation for the removal of the stomach, in a Chicago hospital recently, promoted discussion among the surgeons whether the stomach could be removed and the patient be none the worse for it. Before the discussion had well died out, the patient had died. It demonstrated he could not live without his stomach. To keep the stomach in good condition, and cure constipation, indigestion, etc., use the great herb laxative compound, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Druggists sell it at 50 cents and $1 a bottle.
