NEWSPAPERS HAVE MANY VICTIMS

Even Amalgamated Copper
Fades Into Insignificance.

A new democratic newspaper will be published shortly at Greensburg, a company having been organized for the purpose. It is said that the party wants a "red hot" one over there and that the present democratic paper is not satisfactory. In connection with the proposed new paper the Rushville Republican remarks:

At present there are three daily newspapers published in Greensburg—just about two too many—and what effect the fourth venture on the field will have remains to be seen. It will probably mean a fight which is going to cost some party of men a pretty penny, with a grand windup of a survival of the fittest, for the territory is already crowded.

There is a great deal of money in the newspaper business—and if one does not believe it they have only to ask one of the countless army who has dropped a wad. Next to amalgamated copper it probably has the longest list of victims. The most convenient manner for a novice to conduct a newspaper is to remain standing up—never sit down—for you cannot get at your money so easy.

FOR THE SAKE OF HUMANITY HE SUFFERED MANY HARSHIPS.

Was at Last Rewarded by a Great Discovery.

The great scientist that devoted twenty years of his life to travel and study for the betterment of mankind, was at last rewarded by a discovery that is today filling hundreds of homes with health and happiness. Hundreds of letters of thanks are being received from every direction; and while money is a much needed thing, the scientist in an interview said: "I would gladly give every dollar I have and every dollar I ever expect to have if all people now suffering with stomach, liver and kidney troubles understood the wonderful merits of Root Juice. It is a compound that heals and tones the blood-making and blood-filtering organs. It creates a healthy appetite, prevents fermentation of food in the stomach and bowels, cleanses the system, stops bloating, belching and heart burn. It removes all causes of constipation and kidney symptoms. In after effects of La Grippe, when the general health is bad, Root Juice has a truly wonderful toning action on the whole system. The great remedy is sold for $1 a bottle at A. G. Lukens' drug store.

THIRTEEN DINED 22 YEARS AGO

All Are Still Living and Dinner
Will Be Repeated.

York, Pa., Jan. 4.—The superstitious belief in the unlucky number thirteen was somewhat dampened here yesterday, when it became known that just twenty-two years ago thirteen young men who celebrated the incoming of Christmas day by a midnight supper are still alive.

At that time—1885—the "Thirteen club" as they called themselves, joked over the superstition attached to the number.

One of the number, J. D. Miller, a cigar maker, is living in Iowa, and it was intended that the supper should be repeated, but on account of his not being able to reach in time it was abandoned until next year.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded, 50c.

WOMAN SANG AS FLAMES BURNED HER

Mind Unbalanced by Religious Fanaticism.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth Mosher, her mind unbalanced by religious fanaticism, deliberately burned herself to death at her home in Lincoln yesterday afternoon, praying fervently and singing while her body was being consumed by flames. After kissing her husband and telling him that she was going to take a nap, the woman went to her room, soaked her clothing in kerosene, lighted a match and ignited it.

SOULS LIVE IN BIRDS.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 4.—Exasperated by the everlasting "Nevermore" quoths of the naturalized ravens, former Queen Ilhuokalani has evened up scores with Uncle Sam, whom she thinks is not a gentleman because he would not aid her in keeping the throne of Hawaii.

She has made known in plain language, that is in Hawaiian language, that she hopes when she dies that her soul will live in the body of a British raven, instead of one contaminated by the jurisdiction of the United States.

The natives believe that the souls of their rulers live in the bodies of the ravens, which are found in large numbers in the islands. The large number of birds is caused by the respect the natives have for them.

A HOLLOW LOG WAS HIS HOME

Kentuckian Lives for Fifteen Years in That Manner.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 1.—The arrest of August Bierman has brought to light a remarkable story. Bierman, who is 66 years of age, has been living in the woods on the river bank for fifteen years.

His only residence in the winter time has been a hollow log in which he would curl up and sleep during the greater part of the day and night. It is charged that during the recent cold spell the aged man of the woods crept into an outhouse and built a fire and for this reason he was arrested.

Bierman walks five miles every morning to St. Mary's and Elizabeth hospital, and eats the refuse from the kitchen and then returns to his abode.

The three wealthiest nations are the United States, Great Britain and France, the United States being nearly as rich as the other two combined.

COLDEST DAY WELL REMEMBERED HERE

It Is Asserted by Older Men,
That Forty-five Years Ago
Stock Froze to Death.

HAS NO COMPARISON.

Forty-five years ago Wednesday Wayne county and Indiana in general experienced the coldest weather ever recorded. The thermometer reached the low point of thirty-eight degrees below zero and as one of the old veterans who passed through the ordeal expresses himself in present day slang, "It would have frozen the hair off a brass monkey."

The last day of December was remarkably warm. Weather likened unto Christmas weather of the past few days was had until eight o'clock at night. From eight o'clock until midnight a cold north wind blew and snow flakes passed over. At daybreak the next morning the ground was covered with snow and the thermometers until the noon hour registered at thirty-eight below zero.

Stock froze to death in barns and few in the open lived to "tell" of the frightful experience. Ground froze to the depth of several inches in that few hours and the best of "never freeze" pumps encircled columns of ice.

There have been many cold days since that time but none that offer any comparison to January 1st, 1863.

A Big Tow of Coal.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Jan. 4.—The tow-boat Sprague, the largest vessel of its class plying on the Ohio river, passed down with a tow consisting of forty-five coal boats, seven barges not quite so large as the coal boats, and two fuel boats carrying coal for the steamers. The tow was 800 feet long and nearly 300 feet wide, the boats being lashed together in the form of a parallelogram. It carried 1,300,000 bushels of coal, equalling nearly 50,000 tons, for the New Orleans market.

Whitcap Trial Nearing an End.

Columbus, Ind., Jan. 4.—The defense rested in the case of the state of Indiana against David Fox, Charles Sylvester, Lovell Bowers, Jacob Kirk, Joseph Stull, Charles Stull, Andrew Stull and Charles Seitz, charging them with whitewashing William T. Vanest of South Bethany, on the night of June 22, 1907. The state occupied little time with its testimony in rebuttal, and arguments were begun yesterday afternoon. It is expected the case will go to the jury today.

Fell Under the Wheels.

Kendallville, Ind., Jan. 4.—John Landwehr, freight brakeman on the Lake Shore railway, fell under the wheels of a train at Kendallville, near here, and was cut to pieces. Landwehr was coupling cars of an extra freight train, and he stepped on the main track in time to be caught. He was twenty-six years old.

ALLIANCE TO END IN DIVORCE COURT

Same Old Story Repeated in Marriage of the Countess
Of Yarmouth.

HAD ENOUGH OF THE EARL.

RICH AMERICAN GIRL DAZZLED
BY THE NOTION OF A HIGH
SOUNDING TITLE NOW RE-
GRETHERS HER STEP.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 4.—Mrs. Mary Thaw, mother of the Countess of Yarmouth, is severely ill. The shock upon learning of the divorce proceedings of the countess is responsible.

London, Jan. 4.—The failure of another alliance of the English nobility with an American woman of wealth became public yesterday afternoon when the Countess of Yarmouth, who was Alice Thaw of Pittsburg, a daughter of Mrs. William Thaw and a sister of Harry K. Thaw, whose second trial for the murder of Stanford White will begin next Monday in New York city, applied to the divorce court for an annulment of her marriage to the Earl of Yarmouth.

The court has ordered that the proceedings be held in camera and the papers are being kept secret. The only inkling obtainable of the charges preferred is a statement to the effect that the nature of the medical evidence to be given makes a public hearing inadvisable.

The Countess of Yarmouth is staying at Park Hall, near Evesham, Worcestershire, a magnificent country seat she has leased, decorated and refurnished with lavish expenditure. She declines to comment on the case. The Earl of Yarmouth could not be found in his usual London haunts, and it is supposed he is on the continent, where he spends much of his time.

It has been well known for two years that the domestic affairs of the Yarmouths were most unhappy. The earl's companions and his manner of living were such that he could not give his wife the position in society she had a right to expect. She supplied immense sums to defray her husband's extravagances, and her friends say she has conducted herself with dignity throughout the troubles resulting from the unhappy marriage and her brother's difficulties.

The Hertford family, the head of which is the Earl of Yarmouth's family, and to the head of which the earl is heir, he being the eldest son of the sixth Marquis of Hertford, is one of the oldest and proudest of the British nobility. The notoriety brought upon the family through its indirect connection with the Thaw murder case was galling, and this climax to the earl's marriage to Alice Thaw is a bitter pill. The Marchioness of Hertford, who has stood by her daughter-in-law throughout her troubles and has exerted herself to reconcile the couple, is prostrated with grief.

The countess herself has suffered from the strain of the past year. Her friends advised her to remain in England until after the divorce proceedings, but the countess desires to return to the United States for her brother's second trial, and is undecided which course she will pursue.

Last summer on the advice of Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, her brother-in-law and sister, who were with her two months, the countess decided to seek the aid of the divorce courts. It was intended to defer this action until the second Thaw trial in New York, but the delay in bringing the case to trial led to a change of plans. When the countess returned to England after the trial of her brother, she received a cold reception, not only from the earl, but from all the members of his family except the Marchioness of Hertford, his mother, and the couple have seen little of each other since that time. On what grounds the countess bases her claim for the nullification of the marriage to the earl is not stated in the papers filed thus far with the court, but there has been much talk of the earl's doings on the continent, where he spends the greater part of his time.

May Tone Him Down.

Montreal, Quebec, Jan. 4.—L'Evening, a French-Canadian daily paper published in Quebec city, which terming members and ministers of the provincial legislature fools and ignoramuses, has been found guilty of libel in thirty cases which were brought against it and was fined $50 in the case of each minister and $25 in the case of each member.

Canada alone produces over $5,000,000 worth of furs every year, and to this Alaska now adds $750,000 of raw pelts and Labrador probably half this amount. Until a decade or so ago the Prydzloffs and other seal islands sent out $2,500,000 worth of skins annually; and then of course there are immense quantities dressed and manufactured for the home markets.

FAMOUS COUNTESS OF YARMOUTH HAS FILED SUIT FOR LEGAL SEPARATION.

Tiring of the extravagances of her husband, the countess declares she will tolerate his actions no longer. During their married life he has at no time given her the social position which she so desired, contenting himself to associate among a few of his fellows, living the life of the under-world.
