

SCHOOLS FORCED TO CLOSE BY LAW

Hagerstown Corporation May Eliminate Township Institutions.

ONE TO BE RETAINED.

CONSIDERED TO BEST INTERESTS OF ALL SCHOOLS THAT THEY SHOULD BE MANAGED BY THE TOWNSHIP.

Hagerstown, Ind., Jan. 4.—There is reason to believe that Hagerstown as a school corporation will pass out of existence with the close of the present school year. The recently enacted laws governing teachers' compensation and government of schools, enlarging the powers of township trustees, make it advisable to turn the schools over to the township and abolish the school corporation of Hagerstown. There remain but three country schools in the township, all the others having been abandoned and the pupils sent to the town school. There are indications that the three remaining schools will shortly be closed and then the entire population of the township will attend the Hagerstown school.

School authorities have decided that the best interests of all the schools would be served by passing all to the management of the township. By so doing a greater school fund would be available and the greater salaries prescribed by the new law for teachers could be paid. The amount of revenue received by the Hagerstown school, as at present organized, is not sufficient to meet the larger requirements of the new law. The only objection to the plan that has developed so far is the fact that the entire management of the schools would then be placed with a single man, the township trustee.

Friends Offer to Give Money to Rev. Cooke and the Pretty Girl With Whom He Eloped

The Rev. Jere Cooke, and his seventeen-year-old ward, Floretta Whaley, with whom he eloped, has been discovered in San Francisco. The eloping couple has again disappeared.

ELOPERS ARE FOUND IN SAN FRANCISCO, BUT THEY AGAIN DISAPPEAR; ONE PREACHER IS ANXIOUS TO GIVE ASSISTANCE TO COUPLE.

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—Friends of Jere Knobe Cooke, the unfrocked minister, and Miss Floretta Whaley, the 17-year-old girl, with whom the pastor eloped from New York eight months ago, have been engaged in a search for the couple. Money and the necessities of life are to be had in plenty by the fugitives if they will communicate with these friends.

Rev. Frederick W. Clappett, rector of Trinity church, is anxious to find the couple. Gratz K. Brown, the clubman, who helped Cooke to retain a job as painter, is also anxious to find the man, that he may at least make proper provision for the infant child of the elopers. And Miss Hazel Starkhouse, who rented a room from the couple, is also doing all she can to locate them.

"I do hope they are happy and that the world will treat them more kindly wherever they are," said Miss Starkhouse last night. "Yesterday a man came here and asked that he be given the trunk to take to Mr. Balcom, as I knew Mr. Cooke, but as he had not the credentials I refused to allow him to take the trunk away. This man said that the couple were in Oakland."

The Scurfew of Life.
Infants and children are constantly needing a scurfew. It is important to know what to give them. Their stomachs and bowels are not strong enough for salts, purgative waters or cathartics, pills, powders or tablets. Give them a mild, pleasant, gentle, laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which sells at the small sum of 50 cents or $1 at drug stores. It is the great remedy for you to have in the house to use in children when they are sick.

PRETTY JULIA MILLS VICTIM OF CRUEL INITIATION

As Result of Actions of Members of a New York Sorority, Mothers Are Waging War on Methods.

WAS FORCED TO DRINK FROM HUMAN SKULLS.

Was "Branded," Forced to Place Hand in "Molten Metal" and to Grasp the "Human Hand."

New York, Jan. 4.—The nerve-racking terrors of an initiation into a Greek letter society of girls, students in private and preparatory schools in the city, has caused several meetings of about 20 angry mothers at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, 2684 Broadway. Their first purpose is to break up the local organization of the Sigma Gamma society and their second is to start a campaign throughout the country against secret societies among school girls.

It was the story of Julia Mills, not yet seventeen, as told by her to her mother, that caused Mrs. Mills to take the first steps against what she regards as a dangerous organization. There are twenty-six members of the local chapter of the society.

Miss Josephine Moore, daughter of Mrs. Moore, is the high priestess of the order. Julia Mills was "initiated" recently. The girl staggered home, half hysterical, and Mrs. Mills demanded an explanation. Fairly burning with indignation, she repeated the story at the meeting of the mothers. The initiation was held at the Moore home.

Miss Mills, according to her story, was summoned to appear there. When she was ushered in she was led into a dimly-lighted room between two columns of black-robed, black-masked figures up to the high priestesses.

"Are you prepared to undergo ordeals to prove yourself fit to become a sister of this order?" solemnly asked the priestesses.

"Ordeal is severe," "I am," she answered and was led to an anteroom. At a signal she was led back to the assemblage and told that after this first test there could be no turning back.

This will be a test of your fortitude of your fitness to be a sister. You are ordered to thrust your hand into a small caldron of molten lead which you see before you. Ready, obey orders!"

Miss Mills dashed her hand into the liquid and sank to her knees in fright. After she recovered her composure in part she was surprised to note that the caldron was filled with mercury.

Again she was led into the anteroom and brought back blindfolded. A droning voice told of a clammy hand which each of the beloved sisters had grasped before becoming one of the order. A priestess was ordered to bring in on a tray the hand. The candidate was ordered to grasp it. Shuddering, she involuntarily drew back her arm when she felt the clammy fingers. She was led back blindfolded into the small room, ignorant of the fact that she had grasped a wet chamomile skin glove filled with sand and not a human hand.

Drinks Out of Skull.
Again she was led forth, this time to drink a nauseating liquid out of a skull which liquid would "serve to make her of one blood with her other prospective sisters."

Revolted at each gulp, she was compelled to drink the skull. So the nerve-racking tests went on. Finally the voice of the priestess was heard to say:

"Now for the final supreme test. Gather all your remaining courage and prepare for the most severe test of all. Faithful guardians, lead the candidate to an anteroom, strip her to the waist, bind her arms behind her and then bring her back."

In a few moments the girl, now almost hysterical, was brought back. Then the same droning voice went on: "In order that this ceremony be indelibly fixed on your mind, it is necessary that the letters of our beloved fraternity be burned upon your back in acid. Guardians, brand the candidate!"

At the first touch Miss Mills sank senseless to the floor. When she had been revived it was explained to her that the branding had been done with a piece of ice.

TENANTS RESIST

Strike Against New York Landlords Daily Growing.

New York, Jan. 4.—Six hundred notices of dispossession proceedings were obtained from the municipal courts yesterday by the Eastside landlords as a retaliatory move against the tenants who decline to pay their rents until their demands for a reduction have been allowed. The strike leaders asserted today that 12,000 families had refused to pay rent this month. Attorneys for the tenants propose to have the dispossession cases tried separately. It is thought that the landlords may be forced into submission through in-terminable court proceedings. Several landlords have made rent concessions. The tenantry are planning a monster parade, and it is estimated that fully 175,000 men, women and children will march.
