

COMMISSION MEETS WITH OPPOSITION IN ENFORCING LAW

Railroads of the State Have Been Fighting Many Reforms for Which the Commission Has Seen Fit to Ask.

FREIGHT INTERCHANGE REFERRED TO IN REPORT.

The Case Is Still Pending and It Is One of the Most Important Cases Which the Body Has Taken Up.

The past year the Indiana Railroad commission had its hands full as an outgrowth of its efforts to enforce legislation regulating the railroads. The commission feels that it has not enough authority. In a report submitted to Governor Hendy it sets forth the extent in which it became involved in litigation during the year 1907. This report includes the case now pending regarding the efforts made by the commission to have a physical connection between the C. C. & L. railroad and the P. C. C. & St. L. railroad made in this city. Concerning this report reads:

"In the superior court of Marion county the P. C. C. & St. L. railroad company has brought action against the commission to set aside its order requiring that company and the C. C. & L. Railroad company to make physical connection and interchange business in city of Richmond, Ind. In this cause the commission, with the consent of the executive, employed Shively & Shively as special counsel. This action is still pending."

The report also sets forth the protest of the G. R. & Ft. W. railroad against an interlocking system at Decatur. This case was heard before Judge Fox and the commission was sustained. Concerning this action the report reads:

"The action of the Cincinnati, Richmond and Ft. Wayne Railroad company against the commission to set aside its order requiring the installation of an interlocking plant at Decatur, Ind., has been defended by the commission and the court recently sustained the commission's demurrer to the complaint and the cause is now pending on that ruling."

FRESH INSPIRATION.

Napoleon and His Attitude Toward the Common Soldier.

Napoleon understood human nature. He recognized the great truth, "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he," and knew how to apply it not only to himself and his own ambitious projects, but to other men as well. Moreover, he knew precisely the right moment to apply it to quicken the spark of divine energy which smolders in every man, although the ashes of fatigue and failure may cover its light temporarily.

A French soldier carried a dispatch to Napoleon. Just as he delivered it into the hands of the emperor his spent horse dropped dead. Napoleon wrote an answer to the dispatch, then, dismounting from his own horse, he handed the bridle to the soldier.

"Take this horse and ride back, comrade," he said.

"Nay, sire," stammered the soldier, gazing at the blooded horse and its trappings. "It is too magnificent and grand for me, a common soldier."

"Take it!" commanded Napoleon. "There is nothing too grand and magnificent for a soldier of France."

The soldier mounted and rode away on his perilous business, ready and willing, and Napoleon's words, repeated through the ranks and columns of his army, gave to his tired troops fresh inspiration and energy. "Nothing too grand and magnificent for a soldier of France!" they said, and the thought that they were worthy of the best inspired them to the mighty deeds which followed.

WIFELY ORDERS.

Two Men Obeyed Them, but the Third Man Balked.

"Three men sat rather late at the club one night," said the man who is responsible for the story. "As they were separating they discussed a little nervously the receptions that awaited them at their wives' hands and agreed that he who didn't do what his wife told him on getting home should have to treat the others to a turkey dinner. The first man after reaching his house stumbled about the dark bedroom till he kicked the cat. The cat squatted, and the man's wife, raising her head from the pillow, moaned, 'Well, go on; kill the poor cat and have done with it.' The man frowned and muttered to himself, 'It is a case of kill the cat or pay for the dinner.' So he killed the cat."

"The second man on his arrival could not find any matches. As he looked for some in the drawing room he bumped against the piano, and his wife complained, 'Why don't you break the piano, careless?' Determined not to lose his bet, the man got a hatchet, and the sound of crashing blows soon filled the house."

"The third man, getting home, stumbled on the way upstairs. His wife screamed angrily, 'Go on! Fall down stairs and break your neck, do!' 'Not me,' said the third man after a moment's thought. 'I'll pay for the turkey dinner.'—Chicago News.

ACROBATIC AND CONTORTION STUNT AT THE NEW PHILLIPS THIS WEEK.

THE ZEMOS—FOUR IN NUMBER—AND THE DOG.

OPPOSITION TO "PEERLESS LEADER" WILL BE ORGANIZED TO WAGE WAR

Washington, Jan. 8.—If William J. Bryan has a "walk-away" in the democratic national convention it will be because his opponents in the party can not control the situation against him.

Leading democrats of conservative bent of mind are not willing to admit that "it is all over but the shouting," and that Bryan has a "lead-pipe clinch" on the nomination. The anti-Bryan democratic politicians and the anti-Bryan democratic press will not tolerate the thought of permitting Bryan to dominate the convention and nominate himself without going to the last extreme to prevent such a consummation.

The democratic convention will be composed of 966 delegates. Two-thirds of these, or 483 delegates, would be sufficient to nominate Bryan. One-third, plus one vote, or 323, would make Bryan's nomination impossible if they could hang together.

It is with the intention, if possible, of getting 323 delegates, or more, cemented into a hard and fast union against Bryan that the democratic leaders who want to shelve the Nebraskaan are now devoting their efforts to it in line with this program that "favorite sons" are being groomed—Gray in Delaware, Harmon in Ohio, Chanler in Virginia and Culbertson in Texas, with one or two others thrown in.

The plan provides that as many states as can be induced to do so shall instruct their delegates for favorite sons, and those that have no favorite son candidates shall see to it that uninstructed delegates are sent. It is hoped by combining the favorite son delegations and the uninstructed delegations that can be wielded until further orders against Bryan.

PRETTY GIRLS SOLD FOR $10 APIECE

Innocents Forced Into White Slavery According to Attorney's Statement.

STARTLING CHARGES MADE.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—"Ten dollars a head for white slaves." This is the price which Assistant State's Attorney Clifford Roe, of the Harrison Street Police court, today declared was agreed upon between a proprietor of a resort at Springfield, Ill., and William F. Henderson, 92 LaSalle street, a theatrical agent, for every young girl that Henderson shipped to him.

Mr. Roe's startling statement came immediately after the case of Henderson, who is charged with having attempted to attack two young girls who were, it is alleged, lured to his place of business by a fashionably attired woman, who is said to have led the girls to believe that Henderson was about to place them on the stage in the troupe of a popular musical comedy, had been continued for one week.

The girls who performed the charges against the alleged theatrical man are Miss Eva Kraus, 18 years old, and Miss Ida Parker, 19 years old, 1543 Lill avenue.

SIXTH DISTRICT MAN TO BE HEAD

Stokes Jackson of Greenfield Is Taggart's Choice for State Chairman.

A HARD FOUGHT BATTLE.

OTHER CANDIDATES IN THE RACE ARE WORKING AND JACKSON WILL NOT RECEIVE PLUM WITHOUT A CONTEST.

Candidates for Chairman.

Gilbert Hendren, Second District. Adam Heimberger, Third District. U. S. Jackson, Sixth District. Richard K. Risk, Eighth District. Henry Barnhart, Thirteenth District.

Indianapolis, Jan. 8.—Wise politicians gathered at the Grand Hotel to help elect a democratic state chairman said last night that no man could predict the outcome of the contest. Other "wise" ones, and among them those who are friendly to National Chairman Thomas Taggart, insisted that the contest was not in doubt—that U. S. Jackson of Greenfield had the chairmanship as good as won.

Friends of Gilbert Hendren, the Second district candidate for chairman, scoffed at this view of the Taggart man, and asserted that Jackson was far from having the chairmanship "cinched."

Mr. Taggart, who is known to be friendly to Jackson, was in the lobby of the Grand the most of yesterday afternoon. To personal friends he imparted the information that Jackson would be the new chairman. Mr. Taggart, it is known, is doing what he can for Jackson in a quiet way. Men who are on the "inside" in democratic politics say that if Taggart consulted his own personal desire he would make Gilbert Hendren chairman. "But he believes," said one politician, "that Stokes Jackson will come nearer pacifying the different elements of the party than any man who could be elected. There was a time when Jackson and Taggart were not congenial on the subject of politics, but that time is past and Taggart now wants Jackson elected chairman."

It was declared late yesterday afternoon that Jackson would receive at least eight votes.
