

MONEY GIVEN IN PAYMENT IS MUSTY

Electric Light Bonds Are Paid
For With Money That Has Been Buried.

PEOPLE AFRAID OF BANKS.

THIS UNUSUAL CONDITION HAS
JUST BEEN BROUGHT TO LIGHT
AT HAGERSTOWN—PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS TO GET MORE.

Hagerstown, Ind., Jan. 8.—Much of the money offered in payment for the recent issue of electric light bonds was in bills that were damp and musty. This indicated that it had been buried for a long time. Local business men say that concealing money has grown since the failure of the Commercial Bank in July, 1895. All of the issue of bonds was paid for by local people who were eager to get more.

REID-SLOOP NUPTIALS.

Pretty Wedding at the Home of Bride's Parents.

Whitewater, Ind., Jan. 8.—A pretty wedding ceremony took place at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Woods, near Hollansburg, O., the bride being their niece, Miss Fanny Sloop, and the groom Mr. Verling Reid of New Paris, O. The ring ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Comfort, pastor of U. B. church of Pleasant Hill, O. The bridal altar was formed in the archway between the first and second parlors and the floral appointments consisted entirely of roses, carnations and smilax. The bride was dressed in a white silk dress trimmed in a satin applique. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and wore a cluster of rose buds in her hair. Miss Piper was a pretty gown of white with blue silk. She wore a cluster of pink and white roses. After the wedding a four-course dinner was served. The dining room was decorated in holly and the table in carnations, smilax and fern and the sitting room in smilax and pink and white carnations. Many beautiful presents were received. Among those sending wedding gifts were Mr. John Sloop of Denver, Hannah Steele of Portland, Ore.; Miss Edwards of Kentucky; Mrs. Arthur Cox of California; W. E. Chenoweth of Warsaw, Ind.; Mr. D. B. Barton, of Richmond; Mary Harrison of Greenville, M. H. and Everett Reid of New Paris, Ohio. Those who witnessed the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. George Reid and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Daugherty of New Paris, Miss Ellena Coffield of Richmond, Mr. Kenneth Barton, Shirl Chenoweth, Lottie Piper, C. W. Chenoweth and wife, Dr. A. H. Gist and wife of Richmond, J. T. Gist and wife of Chester, W. E. Kester and family of Palestine, Harry Chenoweth, Mary Smith, George Banks and family, E. E. Chenoweth and children, Emmitt Baker and wife, W. A. Chenoweth and family, W. H. Anson and wife of Union City, Ind., Ira, India and Norene Chenoweth, Fred Wallace, Nora Townsend, Ralph Sloop, Charles Chenoweth. The bride and groom escaped the merry wedding party. Their honeymoon destination is not known.

An Ax to Grind.

The familiar expression, "An ax to grind," frequently attributed to Benjamin Franklin, originated with Charles Miner, who introduced the following tale of woe in a short, pithy essay published in a country newspaper of Pennsylvania during the year 1811: A little boy is asked by a man with an ax and an engaging smile if his father has a grindstone, and the family being in proud possession of that implement of warfare, the youngster lends the way into the back yard.

"What a fine little fellow you are!" exclaims the stranger, quite casually, as though scarcely conscious of speaking loud. Of course the boy becomes at once his most obedient servant and, by more well directed praise, brings water to whet the wheel and herculean turns the grindstone until his small hands sting with blisters. But the moment the ax is ground its owner calls his little fetch and carry slave "rascal," crushes his newborn manly pride by bidding him hurry off to school.—Los Angeles Times.

An Auction Room Incident.

It was an auction sale on Market street, and the auctioneer was disgusted. He had offered a watch and chain which he claimed to be worth $22. The first bid was $1, and he could not get a second. "I'll shut out if there is an ounce of nerve in this crowd," said he, and, taking a one dollar note from his wallet, he held it up and asked for bids. A laugh went through the crowd, but for a couple of minutes no one bid on the note. "Come on," said the auctioneer. "What is the matter? Don't you think the bid is good? After another moment the voice of a small boy was heard. "Five cents," he said. "That's the game," said the auctioneer. "We'll make it 10¢." A man in the crowd bid 10 cents, and the boy raised it to 15. The bidding went on until the little fellow had got to 95 cents, when the auctioneer handed him the note. He gave the auctioneer another note and got a nickel change. The auctioneer then treated the crowd to a lecture on courage.—Philadelphia Record.

The Source Of Life.

Infants and children are constantly needing a laxative. It is important to know what to give them. Their stomachs and bowels are not strong enough for salts, purgative wafers or cathartics. Pura, powders or tablets. Give them a pleasant, gentle, laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which acts at the stomach and bowels, and is not a habit-forming drug. It is the only great remedy for colic, constipation, flatulence, indigestion, and all the troubles of the children's system.

SLEIGHS, CONVEYANCE OF PAST YEARS

It Seems So as There Is a
Dearth of Sleighing
Weather.

Whether climatic conditions in this section have changed, or not, within the last decade is a much mooted question, but be that as it may, there is no disputing the fact that big snows never occur in this part of the country like they did some years ago. Most of the older citizens can recall the time when snow would lay on the ground with considerable density throughout a greater portion of the winter. It was in those "good old days" that sleigh riding was one of the greatest winter sports.

Every one who owned a horse also owned a sleigh, every livery stable had them ready for their patrons, while all dealers carried a large stock of this favorite conveyance.

INSULTS TO ROYALTY.

Some of the Things That Constitute Lèse-Majesty in England.

Many people think that lese majesty—giving insult to royalty—is not a crime in Great Britain. The English statute books, however, contain many penalties for such offenses.

Placing a postage stamp on a letter upside down is a punishable offense, as is also the defacement of a coin bearing the royal image. This is insulting the king's effigy.

Private individuals may not raise the royal standard over their dwellings. This is the emblem of the regal authority to be displayed only where the king is present.

While an agitator may talk against royalty in the abstract as much as he chooses, contemptuous or insulting personal references to the reigning sovereign opens the offender to a heavy fine and imprisonment.

The slightest slip upon the face of the king or queen—or any other part of the anatomy, for that matter—is punishable with the death penalty. In the reign of Queen Victoria a Lieutenant Page struck her across the face with his cane. He was sentenced to death, but the queen commuted his sentence.

It is likewise a crime to bring the uniform of the navy into a public house. To put a low comedian or a villain of the stage in a discarded uniform of the navy is sufficient to bring heavy censure from the government. For this reason theatrical costumes usually are so that the uniforms worn are not exactly copies of the real things.

Mrs. Lela Morrow, the charming widow of the late George Morrow, departed by the light of the moon from her home at her brother-in-law, Boyd Smith, in Redfordton, at 3 o'clock Monday morning on matrimony bent in company with John Morrow, a handsome widower of forty-five years, and they rode in a buggy toward Forest City. The buggy broke down, then the couple led by Hymen's torch walked three miles to the home of E. E. Lawrence, Esq., who at daylight performed the marriage ceremony.—Rutherfordton (N. C.) Sun.
