GREAT AMERICAN PATENTEE

Washington, Jan. 14.—The greatest patentee in this country—and that probably means the greatest in the world—is Thomas A. Edison. He has rolled up the enormous total of almost 1,000 patents and shows no inclination to quit.

Ask the Patent Office people who comes next to Edison and they will tell you that nobody is within hailing distance of the wizard. A good many men can count their patents by the score, and as some of them are much younger than Edison they may beat him out in time.

THOMAS A. EDISON

Up to the present time, however he deserves the title of the Great American Patentee. That means a good deal, for it is undoubtedly a fact that an American will take out a patent on less provocation than any other man or woman in the world.

As a consequence the Patent Office is piling up a swollen fortune which makes it a bloated bondholder among the Government departments. It has achieved a surplus of $6,000,000, and is growing richer every day. Yankee ingenuity is gorging the Patent Office with records and piling up models by the hundred thousand.

THE WORST KIND.

After Piles have existed for a time, the suffering is intense—pain, aching, throbbing, tumors form, filled to bursting with black blood.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid (used internally), the only absolute Pile cure, cures the most stubborn case in existence; bonded guarantee to that effect with each package.

VESPER SACRED
CONCERT SUNDAY

Handel's "Messiah" To Be Re-peated.

A vesper sacred concert will be given next Sunday afternoon at First M. E. church at three o'clock. The choir under the direction of Prof. J. L. Harris, will give Handel's "Messiah." The concert Sunday afternoon will be augmented by an orchestra of twenty pieces.

There once was a maiden young and gay.

She'd laugh and sing the whole long day.

For I am so happy and well, said she. Now that I take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea.—A. G. Luhken & Co.

A simple method of resuscitation from asphyxia is reported by Dr. W. Frendenthal, of Berlin. He introduced the index finger into the mouth and moved it to and fro over the epiglottis, causing an effort to swallow, which was immediately followed by a return of inspiration. This proved successful when the older methods failed, while it makes severe traction on the tongue unnecessary.

Women in Madagascar drap their shaws as the old Roman senators did their togas. The Roman custom was to wear the toga wrapped around the body and across one shoulder, leaving the other one uncovered.

TEACHER SHOULD
GUARD PUPILSThis Is Belief of Secretary
Hurty.

In a current issue of the Educator-Journal, Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, discusses the health of school children and presents an opinion in line with the rules which have just been adopted by the state board and which require that a child suffering from any infectious disease shall leave school. Dr. Hurty believes that the teacher should look after the physical as well as the mental welfare of the pupil. Under the heading of "General Illness," he says:

"To discover and determine illness is not difficult, for it is shown in the countenance, in the attitude and manner. The sick child, if it plays, does it listlessly; it has flushed cheeks, or heavy lidded eyes or contracted brows, or distressed lines about the mouth. It takes very slight perception to discover these signs and the good teacher who perceives the lines should not delay in sending the child home with a pleasant and kind note to its mother."

PENNY WISE, POUND
FOOLISH, POLICYThis, Winslow Says, Is Idea
Pursued by U. S. With Representatives.

FORCED TO USE OWN PURSE

Washington, Jan. 14.—From all over the globe complaints of shabby treatment of American diplomatic and consular representatives are coming to congress and the state department. The "knockers" in the foreign service are very numerous and insistent. Recently Charles Denby thundered a volley of complaint across the Pacific from Shanghai, and now Alfred A. Winslow, American consul at Valparaiso, Chile, has sent a letter to Congress that has effected the attention of members of that body to some of the troubles of a consul. Mr. Winslow is an Indiana man, hailing from Hammond and he is the Hoosier characteristic of being able to speak his mind. His statement as to how the government fails to provide for its consuls is interesting.

"One thing is certain," he writes, "and that is that the service must either often suffer seriously or the consular officer must draw heavily on his private purse to pay government bills, as I have done the past year. It seems to me that it would be wise to be at least as liberal with consular officers as business houses are with their foreign representatives, and then hold them to account in the same manner. None but honest and capable men should be retained in the service, and these should be given some liberties as to what is necessary for the best interests of the service at their respective posts. I believe the present is a 'penny wise and pound foolish' policy that the United States cannot afford to follow."

LABOR LEADERS
AGAINST WATSONWill Speak at Big Terre Haute
Mass Meeting to Be Arranged For.

CAUSES A STIR IN VIGO.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 14.—The Indiana Federation of Labor has decided to make a stand here against the candidacy of Congressman James E. Watson for the republican nomination for governor. There will be a conference Thursday afternoon of local labor leaders and Edgar Perkins, State president; Thomas Perry of Indianapolis, chairman of the Committee on politics; O. P. Smith, of Logansport, State Organizer, and Fred Felch, chairman of the legislative committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. This conference will fix a date for a mass meeting. Senator Hemenway had planned with the republican leaders in Terre Haute, who are in control of the organization, to deliver the vote of Vigo county to Watson. Former Attorney-General Charles Miller had spent some days in Terre Haute preceding the recent Indianapolis love feast, and thought he had assurance of votes, but the Judge-Piety faction talked freely about handing over a solid vote to Watson, whereupon Miller hurried back here to learn what the true sentiment might be.

The Stings in the Important Measure Taken Out That

OF SUCCESS HOWEVER.The Real Friends of the Law
Are Satisfied as It Is at Present — Wiley Believes
Mistake If Changed.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The forces that for years opposed pure food legislation, either state or national, are anxious to persuade congress to take some of the stings out of the federal pure food law. So far the lobbying has been done quietly; the effort has been to sound members. Later if sufficient encouragement is received an open attack on the law, or on some sections of it will be made.

As a part of this campaign to break down the new law the interests have caused articles to be published in magazines and in the trade papers offensively attacking the men who have to do directly with the enforcement of the law. Whether congress will pay any attention to the campaign that has been started remains to be seen. It seems reasonable to suppose that it will ignore the interests that are making the attack on the law. The fight is directed against the board of three members with Dr. H. W. Wiley at its head, which primarily decides whether a manufacturer of food stuffs is obeying the law. In most of the criticisms of this board there is failure to take notice of the fact that the findings of the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of commerce and labor. And then there is a final appeal to the courts.

Cause of Recent Friction.

Most of the recent friction has grown out of the attitude of the board on the products of the corn products company, said to be controlled by the Standard Oil company. Whether this company shall call its principal product "corn syrup" or "glucose syrup" is still undecided.

Friends of Law Satisfied.

The real friends of the pure food legislation are satisfied with the law as it stands. If Dr. Wiley could have his way he would undoubtedly make some changes in the law, but he believes it would be a mistake to attempt to make the law over at this time, and so has no recommendations to offer to congress. A little later the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce will grant a hearing to persons and concerns that have suggestions to offer. If such hearings are held the old substantial friends of the legislation will be found there, insisting that nothing shall be done to break down the law. The law has, of course, worked hardships, but the men who were responsible for its enactment believe that the country endorses it enthusiastically.

GERMANY WILL BACK
PRINCE VON BUELLOWNo Electoral Changes Increasing Agitating Power of Socialists.

BLAME FOR RIOTS SHIFTED.

EACH SIDE DECLARES THE OTHER WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SERIOUS OUTCOME OF THE DEMONSTRATIONS.

Berlin, Jan. 14.—That the government will back Prince Minister von Buelow in his attitude toward the requested change by the socialists of the franchise system which culminated in the street demonstrations of Friday and Sunday was the declaration today of a person who is in close touch with the administration. The socialists demanded that the present oligarchical system of suffrage be abandoned and that a "manhood suffrage" be substituted.

The socialist disturbances will result in the liberals drawing closer to the support of the government, this official said. "The liberals in Germany are composed largely of manufacturers, bankers, merchants and other property-owning interests. These interests perceive that if they are to avoid being devoured by the socialists they must stand together for a strong government, Prince von Buelow's declaration was no more than the simple truth. The government will consent to no electoral changes which increase the power of the socialists to agitate against the existing organization of society, and all political parties, excepting the socialists, will make common cause with it."

Both sides are disposed to minimize the character of the demonstrations of yesterday and each affirms that the manifestations were composed in part of rowdies who made use of this opportunity to endeavor to create mischief. Herr von Buelow, the chief commissioner of police, says the demonstration was carefully planned and that the police took decisive action only when they knew that the socialists were determined upon unlawful public demonstrations. The socialists quite agreed that the demonstrations were planned in advance, but they declared that they would have passed off in an orderly manner if the police had not brutally charged inoffensive paraders.
