

ROLLED OATS TRUST ADVANCES PRICES

That Is, the Size of the Packages Has Been Reduced Considerably.

CONSUMERS PAY THE BILL.

GROCCERS OF RICHMOND THINK TRUST IS RUNNING A GOUGE AS MARKET QUOTATIONS ON OATS DOES NOT JUSTIFY THE RAISE.

Housewife, have you noticed a shrinkage in the size of your packages of rolled oats recently? If not, take another look. Sharp-eyed women have been for some time looking suspiciously at the size of these packages and their suspicions have been well founded.

"Trust a trust to see that it does not suffer loss in this era of reductions of prices," said a local retailer. "A trust can go counter to the general trend and raise prices to suit its own needs in spite of the fact that prices of commodities that it does not handle are going down. For the last twenty-five years I have been handling the various brands of rolled oats and have been able to sell them at 10 cents a package."

"We grocers thought the price stiff enough, for the cost of manufacture is nominal, the market price of oats being the principal cost factor. Now the different manufacturers have gradually merged interests until there are only two firms that figure prominently in the manufacture of that popular breakfast food. These two firms are closely allied and their prices for the different brands of oats are the same. A short time ago they decided to advance the price of oats, but instead of the usual method they tried that of reducing the size of the package and so nearly was this executed that the reduction in size, which practically amounts to an advance in the price of 25 per cent, was not noticed for nearly a month. A package of rolled oats used to contain twenty-four ounces of oats, not including the cardboard box; now the weight box and all, is only sixteen ounces."

Advance a Gouge. "The advance is simply a gouge on the part of the trust for the cost of production and the price of the raw material does not merit it. According to my estimate basing the cost at the present price of May oats in Chicago 54 cents a bushel, and allowing thirty-two pounds to the bushel, the profit to the manufacturer would be over 100 per cent. There used to be 1½ pounds in a package (there is little over a pound now) and we will allow two bushels to a case of thirty-six packages, making the initial cost a fraction under 3 cents a package. The cost of manufacturing rolled oats, allowing a liberal estimate, makes the total not over $1.50 a case. We have to pay more than twice that amount from first hands."

During the long, dreary, winter months, mothers become tired, worn out, can't eat, sleep or work. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the greatest blessing for mothers. Makes them happy and well. 25c. Tea or Tablets.—A. G. Luken & Co.

PREACHER-EDITOR IS A CANDIDATE

Henry County Theologian Desires Office.

New Castle, Ind., Jan. 16.—The Rev. B. R. Inman, proprietor of the Middletown News, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for representative from Henry county, according to his friends. The Rev. Mr. Inman has not made an announcement of his candidacy.

He was formerly pastor of the United Brethren church at Honey Creek, but was compelled to quit the pulpit on account of poor health. He purchased the Middletown News, formerly published by Joe Lambert, who was active in politics. The Rev. Mr. Inman has since taken an active part in politics.

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

No other organs of the body are so essential to good health as the kidneys. Foley's Kidney Remedy makes the kidneys healthy so that they will strain out the impurities from the blood which is constantly passing through them. Germany's crown prince is not the only son of royalty in the fatherland who is learning a trade. Three young sons of Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia, nephew of the Kaiser, have gone to the manual labor training school at Gross-Lichterfelde for the purpose of taking a course in practical mechanics. This is in accordance with an ancient tradition of the Hohenzollern house. The eldest son, Prince Frederick Karl, who is seventeen, is his younger brothers are being taught cabinet makers' work.

Consumption Cured In the Pine Forests

Great Benefit Also Derived By Outdoor Living at Home and Simple Home-Made Remedy.

Prompt Cure for Coughs.

Physicians are pretty much agreed that there is nothing so certain to cure consumption as the open-air life in the great pine forests, where colds and coughs—in fact, membrane diseases of all kinds—are practically unknown. It is the quinine in the pine which so charges the air that the membranes are constantly medicated by the air itself.

To those who cannot afford a trip to the pine forest, the following simple prescription is recommended, in addition to open-air living:

Granulated Sugar Syrup, 12½ oz. Pinex, 2½ oz. The 2½ ounces of Pinex will cost fifty cents at any good drug store. Put it in a pint bottle and fill it up with the thick Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two, or three hours as required. Keep well corked and it will last the family for a long time.

Pinex is the most concentrated form of compound extract of Norway white pine tar, and is peculiarly rich in guaiacol, the curative element in the ozone of the pine forests.

This simple prescription has been found wonderfully effective, curing a cold or a deep-seated cough usually in twenty-four hours. It is very prompt in removing soreness of the lungs, whooping cough, hoarseness, bronchial troubles and other throat affections.

It should be made up with the real Pinex, however. All druggists have it or can get it easily if requested to do so.

PRISONER TRIES TO SAW HEAD OFF

Crumpled Tin Cup and Proceeded With Job.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 16.—William Knox, a young and handsomely dressed man, made a determined and what may prove a successful attempt to suicide while locked in a cell at Central Station. He is at the Homeopathic Hospital in a precarious condition, having cut his throat with a piece of tin cup that he secured in his cell and later demolished.

Draining the cup, a cup of water taken him, Knox, who is a powerful man, succeeded in crumpling the tin rim and converting the sharp edges into a weapon. With this he sawed back and forth across his neck in an attempt to sever the jugular vein. He was unconscious when discovered by Sergeant Wallace, who promptly had him removed to the hospital.

last August succeeded that delightful entertainment at the LaSalle theatre, Chicago, is still running there to a succession of audiences limited only by the capacity of the theatre. As there is no chance that Chicago theatre-goers will allow it to leave this year, the Askin-Singer company has organized another company to present it on tour, just as they did last year with "The Time, The Place and The Girl," and as a consequence, theatre goers of this city will have a chance to see this charming play tonight and the sale of seats is very large.

Vaudeville at the Phillips. The four Sullivan continue to sing and dance their way into public favor at the New Phillips this week and to all those who care for good male quartets and for hard-soled shoe dancing this act will prove very attractive. There is much else on the bill that is of interest. Friday night is set apart for the amateurs and those who wish to take part can do so by leaving their names at the box office. This time is given in order to encourage amateur performers and they are urged to take advantage of it. Saturday there will be a special matinee for the children.

HOW TO AVOID APPENDICITIS. Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Foley's Orino Laxative cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Foley's Orino Laxative does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. A. G. Luken & Co.

Thus far soft woods alone have been used in paper making. Spruce furnishes three-fifths of the total amount used and hemlock one-fifth. The remaining fifth is composed principally of poplar and balsam. In the United States these varieties of timber are found chiefly in the Virginias, New England, New York, Pennsylvania and the Northwest.

Few public buildings in Europe have a system of ventilation that is any where near perfection, as witness the famous newly rebuilt Old Bailey Police Court, in London, which is supposed to be equipped with the most modern ventilating appliances, yet the judges continually complain that they are either half suffocated or almost blown off the magisterial benches. Purifying the vitiated atmosphere of crowded and insufficiently ventilated rooms by opening doors or windows causes an influx of cold air, which especially in winter is often dangerous.
