Look Here, Let's Have a Little Talk, You and I.

..A SEWING MACHINE TALK..

Do you think we'd sell a sewing machine if we lost money on the sale.

Suppose we sell a Sewing Machine to you and make a good profit on it. Yet, in the end we'd lose if the machine wasn't as represented. Don't you see that if you buy a Sewing Machine from us you're bound to be pleased? We cannot afford and will not allow it to be otherwise. You may not see it that way, but we do—WE TAKE ALL THE RISK—It's our low price that makes you shy; isn't that so? You're apt to think our Sewing Machines are not good. Why? Because we charge so little—But you're wrong there. HOW CAN WE SELL SO CHEAP? Just think a bit. We pay cash for the machine. We buy direct from the factory—and only ask a small profit, and a dozen other good reasons why we can sell you the BEST Sewing Machine on the Market for the least money—COMPARE! If you are going to buy a Sewing Machine, let us show you the kind we sell for $23.75 ON EASY PAYMENTS.

Bert Bond, Formerly of Richmond, and a Well Known Brakeman, Runs Off With Pretty Aurora Girl.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 17.—The wedding of Miss Inez Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce of Aurora, Ill., and Bert Bond, of Richmond, a well known Burlington fireman, which took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of the Rev. Cheney, of Wheaton, Ill., Baptist church, was a complete surprise to the Pierce family and to the many friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Bond left for Chicago immediately after the ceremony notifying relatives in Aurora of their marriage from Chicago. A dislike for large wedding which shared by herself and Bond was reason given by the bride for the elopement.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN
DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Rachel Moorman, one of the oldest and most highly respected women of the city died last evening at her home, 529 Main street, after an illness of about eleven days, having been afflicted with pneumonia. She has for a number of years made her home with her daughter Miss Clara Moorman proprietor of the Moorman bookstore, and other relatives. Her age was 89 years. She was born July 9, 1819 in Switzerland county this state and while she was yet very young her parents moved on a farm south of the city. She was married to H. Moorman in 1839 and he launched into the grocery business in the same room now occupied by the Moorman book store in 1842. This has been the home and place of business of the family ever since.

In 1888 Mr. and Mrs. Moorman celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Moorman, who died in 1889 came to this country from Germany. By this union there were fifteen children of which seven survive; 28 grand children, of which 21 are living; 27 great grand children, of which all are living but three. She was a convert to the Catholic church. The funeral services will be announced later.

PETITION FOR THE PARDON OF POWERS

At police headquarters today, a blank petition for the pardon of Caleb Powers, the famous Kentucky prisoner, was received. With the petition was a request that it be circulated for signatures. This paper will be turned over to some one interested in Powers and there is no doubt but that a large number of Wayne county people, who sympathize with the accused man, will attach their signatures. This month Powers was again tried for complicity in the murder of Governor Geobel. The jury in the case disagreed; ten being for acquittal and two for conviction. Petitions to Governor Willson of Kentucky for the pardon of Powers, are being circulated throughout Kentucky and Indiana.

CASE FROM RANDOLPH.

Today Judge Fox appointed William A. Bond guardian ad litem of the minor defendants, Maude, Osa and Myrtle Shook, in the case of Alonzo R. Boren, executor, et al, against Carrie Shook, et al. The case was brought to the Wayne circuit court on a change of venue from Randolph county. It is to construe a will.

ELKINTON GIVES LAST LECTURE

The second of the series of lectures was given at Earlham last evening, when Joseph Elkinton, of Philadelphia, Pa., spoke to a good sized and appreciative audience on the several countries of Europe, touching mainly on France, Germany, Switzerland, China and Japan. Mr. Elkinton's address was very interesting and those who heard him speak of his lectures only with praise. The next of the lectures in this course will be given on next Thursday night by Frank R. Robertson, perhaps the most widely traveled lecturer on the American platform. Mr. Robertson will talk on the countries of South America. His first lecture will be on Panama.

PARALYSIS CAUSES
YOUNG WOMAN'S DEATH

Miss Eva I. Wood, formerly a resident of this city and well known by a host of local people died in a hospital at Sault Sainte Marie, Mich., a few days ago. The body will be brought to this city for burial, the brother accompanying the remains. The burial will be at Earlham, where her parents are buried. Paralysis was the cause of death.

EVELYN MAY NOT TELL HER STORY
OF WHITE MURDER

She Was Called to the Witness Stand This Afternoon to Begin Her Tale of Shame, But Was Recalled.

THAW TELLS FRIEND HE IS IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Old Friend of the Family Made A Confident of Before the Great Roof-garden Tragedy—May Be Sent to Asylum.

New York, Jan. 17.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was called to the witness stand this afternoon to tell again her story, which at the first trial drove men and women to tears, but she was later withdrawn in favor of Mrs. William Thaw, the defendant's mother.

The first witness in the Thaw trial today was Miss Alice Fletcher of Washington. She said she had known Thaw for twenty years, having frequently visited the family. She said he was always subject to violent nervous fits. His talk was incoherent. She claimed she saw him in 1903 at the library and he told her he was in trouble over a beautiful young girl who had been wronged by a New York man. She claimed he said he wanted to die. In March, 1904, he became unbalanced and his mother was greatly worried. Prosecutor Jerome failed to shake her testimony.

White Threatened to Kill Thaw.

Benjamin Bowman, the stage doorkeeper at the Madison Square theatre in 1903, was the last witness at the morning session. "The Girl from Dixie," with Evelyn Nesbit in the chorus, was playing there when he was at the stage door, and he saw a good deal of White and Thaw. Littleton asked him about the conversation he had with White.

Bowman said he met Thaw at Fifth avenue and told him that White came to the theatre on Christmas eve, 1903, a few minutes after he had left in an automobile with Miss Nesbit. He told White Miss Nesbit had left the theatre. White replied, according to the witness: "You ———— liar." Then he took a pistol from his pocket and said: "I will kill him before morning."

Testimony Same as at Last Trial. Bowman's testimony at the last trial was not changed materially. He said he thought Evelyn Nesbit then was about 24 years old. Mr. Jerome had it put on record that she was born in 1884, which would make her 19 then. "Didn't she wear little short skirts?" asked Mr. Jerome, sarcastically. "No," said Bowman.

"Not at all," said Mr. Jerome. "Didn't she wear a short blue skirt with wide, flaring tie, and wide, childish looking collar?" "I only saw her once or twice that way," said the witness.

"Where did you tell White she had gone?" "Gone home," said Bowman.

"What," said Mr. Jerome in surprise, "Gone home with a man in an automobile in the night like that?" "That's what I said," persisted the witness.

He said from the time of the last trial until last April he was paid $12 a week by the defense. Mr. Littleton brought out that he had been subpoenaed every day, sometimes by the district attorney.

"But he didn't get $12 a week from the district," said Mr. Jerome. "Nobody would claim that who is acquainted with the methods of the district attorney's office," said Mr. Littleton, and the laugh was on Mr. Jerome.

Bowman's testimony ended with the statement that he told Thaw about White's threat because he thought he was in peril and wanted to warn him so he could protect himself.

No Witnesses at Hand.

Yesterday afternoon's session was a brief one, no witnesses being called. Mr. Littleton came in after the judge arrived, and after a talk with him he made a brief address, in the course of which he said that he had fully expected to have several witnesses present whose testimony at that time would be logical, but they had not arrived. He therefore asked for an adjournment.

After the adjournment Mr. Littleton denied that there was the slightest basis for the report going the rounds to the effect that the trial was about to be brought to a sudden stop by some new move on the part either of counsel for the defense or prosecution.

"There's no truth in the statement," he said. "What on earth is there to bring the trial to a sudden stop? The only issue on trial is: Did Harry Thaw kill Stanford White in a way that amounts to murder, or was he insane at the time of the shooting and should therefore be acquitted? Any other issue is at this time a mere fly speck by comparison."
