That woman with the ever-smiling face who is commonly supposed to lead a rosy existence and have no troubles, generally has as many trials and tribulations as any other woman, only she doesn't put them into circulation over the back fence or at the sewing circle.

For a panic booster the old recluse who died recently at Eaton, and left a house full of hoarded money, had all other contestants backed off the bench when it was found he had even concealed a fifty-cent piece in a hall of yarn.

Samuel Hugg, a farmer residing near Princeton, Indiana, had a close shave with what he believed was a panther, Saturday. As he lived to tell the tale, it is evident that the panther did not hug Hugg.

Skaters can not use Glen Miller lake on account of air holes, by order of Park Superintendent Klapp. — News Item.

In other words, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of dredging and undertakers' bills.

Dog fights are more popular at Cornell university than Latin. That's rather funny for both subjects are somewhat similar, as the one is a dead language and the other generally ends with a dead dog.

Maybe the Pennsylvania railroad is so persistently anxious to get that strip of land in Glen Miller as spite work for the buffets it is getting over the freight interchange question.

Sure, there are eight candidates for congress in the Sixth district now, but when it is all over the consolation will be that there will be but one congressman to keep tab on.

From the increasing number of local applicants for positions in the civil service, Richmond men leap to the fore as unafraid of being called molly-coddles.

Secretary Cortelyou's declaration of sympathy for Senator Foraker shows where his sympathies would be if elected president of this nation.

But just because prison life grew hair, on the head of a bald convict is no sign that the front row at the theatre will be deserted.

At Earlham College on Saturday, sixty students moved twenty thousand books into the new library. Where were the professors?

Or in other words, Secretary Cortelyou really does think he saved the country during the recent panic.

Events of the Week

Nothing of a stirring nature is promised in congress the present week.

On Tuesday the battleship fleet will end its sojourn in the harbor of Rio Janeiro and enter upon the most interesting stage of its long voyage—the one which will take it eventually through the straits of Magellan. Its next stop will be at Punta Arenas, within the straits, where the armada will rest for five days before it heads northward for Callao. In the voyage through the straits, Lieutenant Commander Cone's torpedo flotilla will for the first time join the big ships at sea. This will necessitate altering the original program of the flotilla, and its visit to Buenos Ayres and Montevideo will be cut out. After leaving Rio Janeiro, probably no word will be had of the battleships until the report at Punta Arenas.

In both Rhode Island and Kentucky the legislature will continue their efforts to break the deadlock over the contest for United States Senator. The Kentucky legislature will resume balloting, and that of Rhode Island will meet on Tuesday, when it is expected that the long-existing deadlock will be broken and a senator named.

The withdrawal of Colonel Samuel P. Colt from the contest is expected to result in the election of Senator Wetmore.

The North Carolina legislature will convene in special session on Tuesday for the purpose of considering the railway passenger rate question, and to straighten out the complicated situation which has arisen there over the 2 1/2-cent rate bill passed at the last session.

Today in New York, F. Augustus Heinze, former president of the Mercantile National bank of that city, was arraigned to formally plead to the recent indictment returned against him.

THE ONLY EXIT FROM THE BOYERTOWN THEATRE WHICH PROVED TO BE THE DEATH TRAP.

This is the narrow stairway, the only exit to the opera house at Boyertown, Penn. It was here that scores of the victims were trodden under foot and trampled to death or burned. This was the only way out of the hall, that held 800 persons.

on the charge of overcertification of checks while president of the institution.

In the French chamber of deputies this week, M. Jaures will interpellate the government on its policy in the present interesting Moroccan situation, particularly with reference to its attitude in the contest between Mulai Hafid, the rebel Sultan and Abd-El Aziz.

The week probably will see the end of the court-martial of General Steessel growing out of the question of the surrender of Port Arthur.

The Canadian minister of labor, Mr. Lemieux, will make in the house on Tuesday, an explanation of the agreement which he reached with the Japanese government on the immigration question.

HEROISM OF THE TELEGRAPHER IS REWARDED BY GIFT OF $10,000

Des Moines, January 20.—W. E. Gearhart, of Madrid, Iowa, a telegraph operator on the Milwaukee Road, 50 years of age and working on a small salary, is to receive $10,000 from the estate of the late C. C. Thompson, a Chicago banker and real estate man.

Gearhart, while in the employ of the Great Western at Melbourne in 1889, saved Mrs. Thompson and her daughter from being run over and killed by a freight train. Gearhart sustained a serious injury, but the incident had been well nigh forgotten when notice of the bequest came to him through a Chicago attorney.

The accident took place in front of the Great Western Depot at Melbourne in 1889. The rescue was made by Gearhart at the risk of his own life.

BRYAN IS TO ASSIST BECKHAM

Will Speak Before the Legislature.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 20.—William Jennings Bryan has volunteered to come to Kentucky and help the Democrats win the United States senatorship. Ex-Governor Beckham received a letter from Mr. Bryan saying he would be here on Tuesday. No plan or program has been arranged for the day, but it is presumed Mr. Bryan will be asked by the Legislature to make a speech before he returns to Cincinnati Tuesday night.

While nothing new has developed in the senatorial race since the adjournment on Friday, everybody is talking of the proposed combination between the Republicans and anti-Beckham Democrats for the purpose of electing State Senator Wheeler Campbell over Beckham and Bradley.

WATSON MEETS WITH OPPOSITION

Evansville Labor Unions to Fight Nomination.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 20.—At a joint meeting of 27 of the labor unions of the city yesterday afternoon, committees were appointed to work in all the wards of the city on the day of the republican primary against Congressman James E. Watson, candidate for governor. They charge that he is unfair to organized labor.

CANAL DRAINED TO FIND BODY

Remains of Missing Man Were Not Found.

In order to determine to a certainty whether or not the body of Charles Johnson, the missing Muncie real estate dealer, was in the bottom of the canal, near Indianapolis, it was drained Sunday, but no body was found.

B. N. Johnson, of Indianapolis, a nephew of the missing man, said that he would organize a searching party, which would scour the territory north and west of where they searched last week. Johnson disappeared from a sanitarium at Indianapolis two weeks ago. Richmond police have been requested to make a search for the man.

NEGRO HANGED AND THEN RIDDLED

Alabama Posse Metes Swift Vengeance.

Dothan, Ala., Jan. 20.—Cleveland Franklin, a negro, employed by a cotton oil company, was lynched here last night about 8 o'clock by a masked mob of 200 angry citizens. The negro's body was riddled with bullets after it had been swung from the limb of a tree in the northern part of the town. It is said Franklin shot and seriously wounded A. C. Faulk, secretary and treasurer of the oil company here Saturday night after he had been caught in the act of robbing the cash drawer at the mill.

Graft in Old New York. The first use of the word "graft" in New York occurred 250 years ago. A small stream that led from a swamp through what is now Broad street was made into a ditch with the sides planked to form what is known in Holland as a "graft" or a canal. Three laborers were employed on this job by the burgomasters, and a committee of five was appointed to supervise their operation and see that they gave full value for their pay. The completed graft was turned over to the undersheriff with these orders: "He is ordered to take good care and superintendence of the newly constructed graft and also that the boats, canoes and skiffs be authorized to operate

OKLAHOMA TAKES NATIONAL LEAD

Desires Senators to Be Elected by the Vote of The People.

COMMISSION APPOINTED.

WILL VISIT ALL STATES IN THE UNION TO CREATE SENTIMENT FOR CHANGE IN THE CONSTITUTION.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Down in the new State of Oklahoma a movement of national significance has just been started in the direction of the election of United States senators by direct popular vote.

C. N. Haskell, the Governor of Oklahoma, acting under authority of the state Legislature, has appointed a committee of eight, four Democrats and four Republicans, of which he himself is ex-officio chairman, to travel over the country, visiting state after state, with a view to inducing the state legislatures to join in the call for the submission to the people of an amendment to the United States Constitution providing for this reform. The four democratic members are William H. Murray, speaker of the Oklahoma House of Representatives; Thomas H. Doyle of Enid, George H. Evans of Chickasha and Jesse Dunn of Alva. The republican representation on the committee consists of Clarence Douglas, proprietor of the Muskogee Phoenix; John Threadgill, owner of the Threadgill Hotel of Oklahoma City; Thomas B. Ferguson, of Watunga and D. L. Sleeper of Tulsa.

This peripatetic commission is to have all expenses paid out of the Oklahoma treasury, but the members are to be restricted to a total salary of $1 each, which means that they will practically give their time and efforts free of charge.

Clarence Douglas, the chairman of the republican branch of the commission, is now in Washington and he talked interestingly of the proposition on foot.

"There is no doubt," said he, "that if the people had a chance to express themselves, the majority in favor of changing the existing method of electing senators so as to provide for a direct vote would be overwhelming. Under the Constitution if two-thirds of the state legislatures petition congress in favor of this reform congress will have no alternative save the submission of the proposed amendment to be voted upon by the people.

"It is the purpose of our commission to bring about concerted action of two-thirds of the state legislatures. If thirty-one states can be got into line the reform will be an accomplished reality. We intend to go about our campaign in a thoroughly systematic way and will visit practically all of the state legislatures, including that of Indiana. Necessarily we have undertaken a big task, but we feel that we will have accomplished a great benefit for the whole Nation if we succeed."

NEW PASSENGER CAR.

Benjamin F. Freebie, auditor for the Monongahela Railroad, a Pennsylvania line, has been granted a patent on a new style of passenger car which differs from any other passenger car ever built. He claims by using the new car the number of passengers injured in passenger train wrecks each year will be reduced to a minimum. The floor of the car will always remain in the same position, even though the car is turned over on its side or top. The interior of the car is practically a rotary chamber set on substantial trucks. The exterior of the new car is the same as that of an ordinary car. While the railroad men say that the steel passenger cars used on some lines have resulted in fewer accidents there is no way of preventing loss of life in case the car is turned on its side.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Richmond People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Richmond people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. Edgar S. Mott, of 17 North Sixth-street, Richmond, Ind., says: "Some years ago my husband was having some trouble with his back. There was a dull aching pain that bothered him most of the time. He was told about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply at A. G. Luken & Co's. drug store. After taking it he never again mentioned backache to me. He believed that Doan's Kidney Pills are a great remedy and has told several people of the benefit he got through using them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Dreams. Little Virginia, three years old, brought her mother to her nursery a few nights ago with heartbroken wails.

"What is the matter, dearie? Why are you screaming so?" "Mamma, am I all here?" "Certainly you are all here, right in your bed."

"But, mamma, feel of me; see if I'm all here. Are my feet here and the top of my head both?"

"Certainly, Virginia, every bit of you is here, tucked in your little trundle bed. Why do you think you are not?" "I dreamed," this with another great sob, "I dreamed I was a chocolate stick and I had eaten myself."—Exchange.

DYSPEPSIA PROOF.

How Any Meal Can Be Thoroughly Enjoyed By Any Stomach.

Men, as a rule, are first discovered by their enemies. Their antagonists turn on the searchlight, and the proof of merit will lie in being able to stand the flash.

It was only in this way that Mr. White ever knew that dyspepsia was one of Mr. Black's worst enemies. Sifting face to face at a two-by-four table, he handed his afflicted friend the bill of fare:

- Oyster Cocktail, Stuffed Olives, Boston Clam Chowder, Strained Gumbo, Sirlion Steak with Mushrooms, Roast Beef Hash, Boiled Ox Tongue with Sauerkraut, Lobster a la Newburg, Baked Pork and Beans, Combination Crab Salad, Hot Mince Pie, Pineapple Fritters.

Mr. White ordered a "little of each." Mr. Dyspepsia Black ordered crackers and a glass of milk. "I had such a big breakfast this morning," he said, "that I'll just take a bite to keep you company." But Mr. White could not be deceived. "I am afraid you can't stand the gloom, Mr. Black. Why don't you say you have dyspepsia and be done with it? You'll always have that hungry look anyhow as long as you have dyspepsia. Now listen. My stomach was in just as bad condition as yours at one time. But now I can eat anything, at any time. For instance, this clam chowder or sirlion steak or even the lobster would be just as welcome to my stomach as your crackers and milk. You don't realize how this dyspepsia business is robbing you of your spirit, of your energy and ability to think quickly. I can't help notice it. You haven't the cheer and sociability you had three months ago. Now I'll tell you what to do," and thereat the cheerful Mr. White took a vial from his pocket and extracted a wee tablet.

"There, there is a tablet that contains an ingredient, one grain of which digests 3,000 grains of food. For even the worst dyspeptic it's the only thing that really gives relief. The reason is it relieves the stomach of nearly all the work it has to do, digests everything in the stomach and stimulates the gastric juices. I can't get along without them. They are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them anywhere on earth for 50c a package.

Yes, it is true, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets absolutely stop heartburn, nausea, indigestion, dyspepsia of the worst type, sour stomach, bloaty feeling and all eruptions and irritation, and freshen and invigorate the stomach. They cheer you up, and make you get all the good there is in your food. You will forget you ever had a stomach to worry you.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

THE SKULL BANJO.

Probably the Most Growsome Musical Instrument Known.

It is a well known fact that through dire necessity the American Indian has developed remarkable skill. The old stories of how these Indians made pottery and earthenware by the aid of only the most crude instruments and of their methods of burning and carving out the insides of the trunks of trees to make canoes are universally known.

But even with all their skill the fact that they were a barbarous, uncivilized race cannot be evaded, as is shown by this growsome instrument. In the time of the early settlers of this hemisphere their acts of cruelty were without precedent in the history of the world.

With these facts in view we can easily understand how the "skull banjo" came to light. It is known that in the small country of Paraguay, in the east central part of South America, the Indians who inhabited that place were more than ordinarily cruel. They were constantly engaged in warfare, and their primary aim when thus engaged was to capture the chief of the opposing side. When captured, this personage was carried to their camp and there cruelly murdered, and it was from his body that this awe inspiring musical instrument was made.

The instrument is made as follows: The body is decapitated, and the skull is then thoroughly dried. The one who is to perform the feat of making the instrument then cuts the top entirely off. Over the opening thus made a piece of skin taken from the body and also thoroughly dried is tightly stretched in the manner of a drum. From the back of the skull the two femurs or the two bones of the leg which extend from the knee to the hip project. These bones have been so trimmed that they are of uniform thickness throughout their entire length. The upper ends of these bones are joined together with one of the ribs, also taken from that body.

Then from the forehead of the skull to the rib which connects the two femurs a number of strings are tightly stretched. These strings are likewise made from the skin of the victim, having been thoroughly dried, stretched and rubbed with rosin.

But this even is not the full extent of the growsomeness of this instrument, for the skull is left so that the jaws are movable. Therefore with each shake of the instrument the jaws wag, and with a sharp jolt of the instrument the teeth come together with a snap.—New York Herald.

PATIENCE OF MEN IN LEAD NOW TRIED

Governor Hughes Is Contented to Float Along With The Tide.

PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRATIONS

NEW YORK GOVERNOR HAS NOT YET MADE ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIS INTENTIONS AND MACHINE MEN ARE WORRIED.

New York, January 20.—Is Governor Hughes willing to place his political future in the keeping of the leaders of the Republican party, and is he willing and ready to stand by the organization—the machine, as it is so often called—in return for what its captains do for him? If he is, these same captains say, there is no reason why he should not be the Republican nominee for the Presidency. But, they insist, he cannot afford to waste any time. Time is flying. And he must be up and doing in the way of making known to the "right" people his true position. Or is Governor Hughes content to abide his faith in God Almighty, trusting to being a man of destiny, and that a loud cry from the nation will not only bring to him the nomination, but also land him in the Presidential chair in an overwhelming sort of way? That Governor Hughes has both his sharp, piercing eyes bent on the White House is a fact known not only to his intimates, but also to those who do not share his fullest confidence. Up to close to the present time he was content to float along with the tide, trusting to "luck," which has been with him pretty much, ignoring the politician, and what was worse, from a political point of view, putting the bars upon him.
