

STOKES JACKSON TO BE PETTED AND FONDLED BY MANY

Sixth District Democrats Will Gather in Big Meeting at Greenfield Tomorrow Night
To Pay Homage to Leader.

THE REV. T. H. KUHN
IS ON THE PROGRAM.

Other Gubernatorial Candidates Will Also Be Present And a Big Whoorah Is Expected to Result.

Many Richmond and Wayne county democrats will go to Greenfield Tuesday night when the fellow townsmen of Stokes Jackson, will give a banquet there in honor of his election as Democratic state chairman. Many invitations have been issued by Representative Harry Strickland, who expects to become a candidate for Speaker of the next Indiana House. All of the candidates for governor and other places on the state ticket, members of the committee and other party workers have been asked to join with Greenfield in paying tribute to the new leader. The Rev. T. H. Kuhn of this city will be one of the several gubernatorial aspirants to dip his hand in the political finger bowl. The topic of his speech has not yet been announced.

Jackson proposes to make it very evident at the banquet that he is not controlled by Thomas Taggart or any one else in the Democratic party, but that it will be his mission to bring about harmony and serve all factions and interests alike. Jackson's neighbors at Greenfield say that if Taggart or any one else figures that he can lead Jackson around and compel him to "come through" on any proposition desired he will find that he is dealing with the wrong man.
They assert that Jackson is independent of Taggart, and that he will devote all his energy to the election of good tickets everywhere.

They insist also that Jackson will give the affairs of the committee all the attention they require, and that no one will have occasion to say he has not received a square deal. They declare, too, that there is no more enthusiastic Bryanite in Indiana than Jackson, and he asserts that he never wavered in his loyalty to him, even though he was a delegate to the convention that nominated Judge Parker.

DOUMA IS DOOMED TO FAILURE, SAYS RUSSIAN.

This picture is from a snapshot of Prof. Paul Miluykoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats in the Russian Douma, who is now in this country. Prof. Miluykoff declares that a state of civil war still exists in Russia, and that the Douma is doomed to failure, for it cannot voice the sentiments of the populace.

MINISTER DEFIES TEMPERANCE MAN

Says That He at Least Is Not A Hypocrite.

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 20.—Assailed in an open letter by J. S. Butler, a prominent temperance citizen of Kokomo, in which he is dubbed as a "drunken preacher," the Rev. E. N. Hamilton, who admits that he drinks and is asking for the Republican nomination for prosecutor upon a temperance platform, declares that he is not a "backdoor Christian."

He says that he will not play the hypocrite for office, and while the term "Rev." in the public mind may carry with it the idea of total abstenence, it need not do so. He says he will not be cowed by moral pretense, and that every man who votes for him will do so with open eyes, and that the electorate has a chance to demonstrate whether it prefers a man who makes an honest confession of his habits or to sustain hypocrites, who do all he does, but conceal their habits of life.

He says that in voting the Republican ticket he does so with a full consciousness that his party organization stands for a sale of liquor. He says that he defies any person to disprove that a temperance man can not be such without being a total abstainer.
He asserts that he would like for the people to cease to be cowed by the blatant dogmatism of Prohibitionists, who assume all the virtue of the case, when in other directions they may be extremely mean and dishonest men.

One Gift She Missed.
Six-year-old Harry wanted to buy his sister a little birthday present. His heart throbbled with joy at the thought, though he had in his pocket only 10 cents. Nevertheless a week ahead of time he went around the shops and came back with a very satisfied look.
His mother asked him what he had bought.

"I got her a cream puff," he said.
"Well, you know, Harry," said his mother, "that won't keep fresh for a week."

"That's what I thought after I bought it, mother," replied Harry calmly, "and so I ate it."—Ladies'

BOULDERS USED IN CHURCH BUILDING

Most Unique House of Worship in the Richmond Methodist District.

NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Greenfield, Ind., Jan. 20.—The most unique church in the Richmond district of the Northern Indiana Methodist Episcopal Conference will be the Ada New M. E. church in East Greenfield or "Oklahoma," which is under construction. The foundation and side walls will be entirely of boulders, picked up on the surrounding farms.

Enough boulders to complete the church have been pledged by the farmers and over $1,200 of the $2,700 which the church is to cost is in the hands of the treasurer. The church will be surrounded by a boulder fence with high rock pillars on either side of the driveway leading to the church.
The old English style will be carried out in the plans for the grounds and the exterior of the church, but the interior will be modern in every particular.

Church Is Commodious.

The basement has a natural drainage into Brandysine. The auditorium will have an elevated floor with a seating capacity of over 200. The choir loft will extend the full length of the auditorium with a semi-circular pulpit space and railing.

The Sunday school room will have a seating capacity of 100, and a rolling partition will divide it from the auditorium. Choir and study rooms have been provided for and a large vestibule. A bell presented by the old soldiers, veterans of the civil war, will be placed in the tower.

It is the aim to complete and dedicate the church by early spring, when probably one of the poorest communities in this part of the country will own its up-to-date, novel and handsome church.

A STRANGE SENTENCE.

Punishment For Murder That Was More Cruel Than Death.

In 1801 a man died in the Catskills who had been condemned by one of the strangest sentences on record.
Ralph Sutherland was born in 1701 and lived in a stone house near Leeds. He was a man of violent temper and morose disposition, shunned by his neighbors and generally disliked. Not being able to get an American servant, he imported a Scotchwoman, and, according to the usages of the times, virtually held her in bondage until her passage money had been refunded.

Unable to endure any longer the raging temper of her master, the girl ran away. Immediately upon discovering her absence the man set off in an angry chase upon his horse and soon overtaken her. The poor woman never reached the house alive, and Sutherland was indicted and arrested on the charge of murder.

At the trial he tried to prove that his horse had taken fright, run away, pitched him out of the saddle and dashed the girl to death upon the rocks, but the jury did not accept the defense, and Sutherland was sentenced to die upon the scaffold.

Then came the plea of the insufficiency of circumstantial evidence and the efforts of influential relatives.
These so worked upon the court that the judge delayed the sentence of death until the prisoner should be ninety-nine years old.

It was ordered that the culprit should be released on his own recognizance and that, pending the final execution of his sentence, he should keep a hangman's noose about his neck and show himself before the judges of Catskill once a year to prove that he wore his badge of infamy and kept his crime in mind. It was a more cruel decision than the sentence of immediate death would have been, but it was no doubt in harmony with the spirit of the times.

Thus Ralph Sutherland lived. He always lived alone. He seldom spoke.
His rough, imperious manner had gone. Years followed years. At each session of the court the broken man came before the bar of justice and silently showed the noose that circled his neck.

At last his ninety-ninth year came, the time when the court had ordered that the utmost penalty of the law should be executed. For the last time the man tottered before the judge's bench, but new judges had arisen in the land, new laws had been made, old crimes had been forgotten or forgiven, and there was none who would accuse him or execute sentence. Indeed, the awful restriction that had bound his life so intimately to the expiation of his crime was now legally removed.

But the spirit of self punishment continued, and when Sutherland, after he had passed his hundredth year, was discovered dead, alone in his house, his throat was found to be encircled by the rope which had been placed there nearly three-quarters of a century before.

A Vacation.

A certain scientist in the service of Uncle Sam at Washington is said to be a hard taskmaster to both his official and his domestic servants.

Being detailed once to accompany a scientific expedition on an extended cruise, the scientist is said to have underwent a trifle in communicating the news to his personal attendant.

"Henry," said he, "how would you like to go with me around the world?"
"Do we go from east to west, sir?" asked the man.

"Yes."

"And we lose a day going that way, do we not, sir?"

"We do."

"Then, sir, I should like very much to go. It would give me a day off."—

DESCENDANT OF WASHINGTON DIED PENILESS, ALTHOUGH HE WAS HEIR

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 20.—Although he was one of a number who was heir to an estate valued at $100-000,000 and a direct descendant of the first president of the United States, John Ball, aged 79, died here a poor man.

John Ball was one of a number of heirs of the estate of Joseph Ball, of Philadelphia. It is known that Joseph Ball died intestate in 1820 in Philadelphia. He owned many acres of land, many business blocks, all in the city limits. All this was leased for 99 years, and the time has expired.

Joseph Ball also owned 400 lots in the city of Washington, 30,000 acres of land in the Tigris Valley, Va., and 417,000 acres distributed over Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Several years ago John Ball, with other heirs from Indiana, attended a meeting held in Indianapolis for the purpose of perfecting an organization.
A research in lineage brought out the fact that all who could prove heirship have flowing in their veins the blood of the Balls, one of whom was the mother of George Washington.

CONFERENCE MAY MAKE MANY CHANGES

The Rev. J. O. Campbell Would Be Most Affected.

Congregations of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the city are becoming interested in the annual conference of Northern Indiana ministers, which will be held at Anderson the first week in April. At this meeting changes will probably be made in the pastors of the Richmond district.

At the quarterly conferences the congregations will consider the recall of the respective pastors. Any action that might be taken at the conference would have its greatest effect, on the Rev. John Campbell, pastor of the Fifth Street church and candidate for congress. He could not change his residence from this district and continue as its representative if he should be elected to serve as the Sixth district's representative in congressional halls.

How Fast He Could Go.

A breeder and trainer of race horses who is known almost as well in England as he is here recently sold a horse to an Englishman. The Englishman before paying for the horse questioned a bit about the price and then said:

"You know, I'd like to see the horse first just to see how fast he can go."
"Never mind about that," said the trainer. "He can't go any faster than I can tell it."—New York Sun.

Family Secret.

"That's papa's picture," explained the little girl to the caller who was looking at a framed photograph on the piano. "You wouldn't know it unless I told you 'cause it's got a smile on the face."—Chicago Tribune.

Dodging the Water.

to have a bath. Tramp—A bath? What water? Constable—Yes, of course, water. Tramp—Couldn't you manage it with one of them vacuum cleaners?—London there should be none alike.—Brewer.

DISPROVES ALL THE THEORIES OF EXPERTS

Man Lives Seven Months on Soft Boiled Eggs.

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 20.—John Hesseler, the Kokomo man who has existed for seven months upon soft-boiled eggs is still alive although suffering sinking spells from lung trouble at intervals.
He eats six soft-boiled eggs each day and has disproved the assertion of experts that no man could partake of a single diet for so long a period of time.
He has eaten 1,200 eggs and is still engaged in the undertaking to subsist, despite disease, in this manner. He is near 70 years of age.

INDIANS GET TIRED OF OKLAHOMA RULE

Tribal Legislature Called to Meet in Defiance.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 20.—The Indian, and especially the full-blooded Indian, is finding it difficult to content himself with the change from his own tribal government to that imposed by statehood. As a result, among several of the Oklahoma tribes a disposition is being shown to maintain tribal relations and in defiance of state government to proceed along the old lines.

Statehood means the elimination of communal interests, the dethroning of the tribal chiefs, the abolishment of tribal legislatures, and the abandonment of all customs and ceremonies which tradition has brought down to them through centuries.

The Indian had often thought—that is, the Oklahoma Indian—that it would become possible some day for him to establish an Indian state, a state where the Indians would be in the majority, where they could elect their own people to govern them and be able to show to the world the real Indian statesmanship.

With making Indian Territory a portion of the State of Oklahoma, this dream of an Indian state had to vanish, and from this dream the Indian has awakened to find himself placed on the same footing as the white man with whom he must compete.

MINERS' CONVENTION TO OPEN TUESDAY

Meeting Promises to Be One Of Most Important in Organization's History.

JOHN MITCHELL ARRIVES.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 20.—Tuesday morning at Tomlinson hall the United Mine workers of America will begin their annual convention, this being the nineteenth annual session of the greatest labor organization in the country.
The convention will convene at 10 o'clock, with President John Mitchell as the presiding officer. The convention will consist of about 1,000 delegates, who come from the great coal districts of the country. It is not expected the anthracite region will be largely represented, as the wage scale of these miners does not expire until 1909.

President Mitchell arrived in Indianapolis yesterday evening from his home at Spring Valley, Ill. He is recovering from a serious illness. Vice President T. L. Lewis, who for the last three weeks has been engaged in visiting the different coal fields where his presence was demanded to settle small local disturbances, arrived in Indianapolis yesterday morning and will be busy night and day until the convention convenes preparing his report and arranging numerous details in connection with the gathering. Secretary W. B. Wilson, who is a member of congress from one of the Pennsylvania districts, is not expected to arrive until Monday.

Lewis and Wilson are rival candidates for the presidency of the organization and these men, together with President Mitchell, will likely be the most conspicuous figures in the convention.

President Mitchell to Retire.

The convention this year will be one of the most important meetings of the miners ever held. It will mark the retirement of President Mitchell from the high office he has held in the organization for many years. The convention will also be important from the fact that no interstate convention for the fixing of a wage scale has yet been agreed on and the delegates will look forward eagerly to the conference on Jan. 30, when it will be decided as to what shall be done about calling a wage convention. This conference will be participated in by miners and operators from the central competitive field.

The fact that the Illinois operators made known at the last convention in this city that they were in favor of a joint convention, but preferred a meeting with the representatives from Ohio and Indiana rather than with those from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, may complicate the situation in re-establishing an interstate movement as it formerly existed.

Are You Sick?

Much sickness is due to a weak nervous system.
Yours may be. If it is, you cannot get well until you restore nerve strength.
Your nervous system is nature's power house; the organs of your body get their power from it. If the power is not there, the action of the organs is weak, and disease (sickness) follows. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick because it soothes the irritated and tired nerves and gives the system a chance to recuperate.
Try it, and see if you do not quickly feel its beneficial effect.

"I was given up to die by a leading doctor. I got one of Dr. Miles' Nervine and found that Dr. Miles' Nervine fit my case. From the very first dose I took I got better. I am better now than I have been for years, and do all my own work on the farm.
That's what Dr. Miles' Nervine has done for me, and I am glad to recommend it to others."
