GLASS OF WATER POURED DOWN LOVER'S BACK ESTRANGED COUPLE--NOW MARRIED

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21.—Because a playful little sister of the bride-elect poured half a glassful of ice water down his back, Milton N. Thackberry, now a prosperous lawyer, lost his lady love 20 years ago. But he has pursued her intermittently ever since, and last night they were married by Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus.

Miss Edna Grace Oviatt, member of a prominent family, and herself well known socially in Boston, New York and San Francisco, was the bride. Twenty years ago she was 17 years of age, and she and Thackberry were betrothed. After the manner of lovers they considered Miss Oviatt's 10-year-old-sister in the room with them a crowd, and Thackberry finally hit upon the expedient of sending the child after a glass of water. He only drank half of it, thus exposing the subterfuge, and in a spirit of mischief the little one poured the remainder down the back of his neck.

BAD COOKING DRIVES TO DRINK

Judge Says Men Cannot Stick To "Straight and Narrow."

New York, Jan. 21.—That most women cook badly and thereby drive their husbands to drink was the opinion given by Judge Greenbaum, of the supreme court, in an address at the Hebrew Technical school for girls. The judge said: "In this country the cooking is far from what it ought to be, particularly in the country districts, where nature has endowed the soil with all that should make for ideal conditions as to food. Yet the average woman there knows nothing about cooking. The cooking is vile. Children are nourished improperly. The wage-earner, the bread-winner, does not receive proper food to sustain him. I have no doubt that many men go to saloons at night just because they are improperly nourished at home."

It Does The Business.
Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. I used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c. at A. G. Luken & Co., drug store.

FRANKFORT'S CRIME STILL A MYSTERY

Question as to Whether Mrs. Dukes Committed Suicide Has Not Been Solved.

CORONER IS INVESTIGATING

Frankfort, Ind., Jan. 21.—The police are no nearer a solution of the mystery which surrounds the death of Mrs. Samuel Dukes, whose body was found at the home of George Bengel last Saturday morning than they were forty-eight hours ago, and there are many conflicting opinions in the city regarding the case. The police assert that there is much more evidence to show that murder was committed, and it is on this theory that they will continue their investigation.

Divorced Husband's Belief.
Samuel Dukes, divorced husband of the dead woman, is firm in the belief that his former wife was murdered, and though he has mentioned the name of a man he believes had part in the murder, the police take no stock in his opinion, as there is no evidence that the man in question has been in town within the last few months.

An examination of the revolver found by Mrs. Dukes' side shows that the weapon had not been fired recently. The inside of the barrel was rusty and was filled with dust. It showed no traces of powder or grease. The rim of the single cartridge that was exploded was also rusty, and the police assert that the cartridge was fired months ago. Coroner Brown will begin his investigation this afternoon, and his verdict will determine the course of the authorities.

Underclothing Powder Burned.
It was stated at first that the woman could not have fired the shot that killed her, because there was no hole in the dress over her heart.

However, an examination disclosed the fact that the underclothes were powder-burned, and it is now thought that if she fired the bullet she pulled apart the opening in her dress and discharged the revolver point blank at her bosom. The dress was buttoned in front.

Advice to Mothers: Don't let your children waste away. Keep them strong and healthy during the winter with Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It is the greatest tonic for children. Pure and harmless, does the greatest good. 35c. Tea or Tablets. A. G. Luken & Co.

MURDERED WOMAN'S SISTER WEDDED

Tragic End of Woman Does Not Deter Marriage Plans.

Frankfort, Ind., Jan. 21.—Joy followed sorrow very quickly with Mrs. Anna Dunbar, the sister of Mrs. Ella Dukes, whose death still remains a mystery, and at whose home the dead woman lived. She was married yesterday to William A. Mikles, who was a boarder with Mrs. Dunbar at the time of the tragedy.

The hasty marriage has not lessened the tongues of the gossips in connection with Mrs. Dukes' death.

Coroner Brown is quietly investigating the circumstances of death and all other evidence available, and probably will not conclude his work before Wednesday or Thursday. However, late last night he said that unless there were new developments to the contrary of which he knew nothing now, he would very probably render a finding to the effect that Mrs. Dukes had taken her own life.

John—"What kind of tea do you like best?" Priscilla—"Go-teas, some, but Rocky Mountain Tea best." John—"Way Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea best?" Priscilla—"It speaks for itself, John." (Makes lovely complexions.) A. G. Luken & Co.

CHICKENS AND DOGS HOLD EIGHTH BEDLAM

Fancy Birds and Animals to Be Shown in Indianapolis.

Local poultry fanciers are looking forward to the time when the fine chickens, dogs, cats, rabbits and pet stock of the state will hold their eighth annual bedlam in Tomlinson hall, Indianapolis, February 2 to 7. Not only have preparations been made by the fanciers' association of Indiana for the entertainment of some of the most prominent and exclusive chickens and dogs of this state, but there are to be present prominent members of the elite chicken society of the Mississippi valley, drawn hither by the annual mid-winter meeting of fine hens, roosters, pullets, cockerels and blue-bloods and buff stockings under the auspices of the Mid-winter Branch of the American Poultry association. The association comprises the district composed of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Two young thieves who had robbed a shop front in Brussels, were so hard pressed in the chase by the police and the shopkeeper that they lost their heads and fled right into the police station before recognizing it.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR OWN COUGH MEDICINE.

More Effective than any of the patent nostrums for curing coughs or colds is a simple remedy which you can make at home in five minutes at very small expense. Use

Granulated Sugar Syrup 13 1/2 oz.
Pinex 2 1/2 oz.

Take three-quarters of a pound of granulated sugar, add water, heat and stir until you have a thick syrup. Any druggist will sell you enough Pinex (2 1/2 oz.) for 50 cents. Mix in a clean pint bottle and shake well. Keep well corked and it will last the family for many months.

Pinex, as you probably know, is the most concentrated form of Norway White Pine Extract. The best results from this prescription are to be had only by using the pure Pinex. All druggists have it or can get it easily on request.

HARRY HEBBLE IS MAN WITH PUNCH

Former Richmond Patrolman Now Auditor for the Rock Island.

HAD THREE PROMOTIONS.

GAINED THROUGH HIS COURAGE IN INTIMIDATING "BAD NEGROES" ALONG THE WORST DIVISION IN ARKANSAS.

Harry Hebble, Richmond's ex-patrolman and former base ball hero, is making good in no uncertain fashion on the Rock Island railroad down in Arkansas. Hebble left Richmond some months ago to take a position as train auditor, a job similar to that of the conductor on eastern railroads, as far as the collection of tickets is concerned. He was immediately assigned to one of the hardest divisions of the Rock Island line, which was located in the "river bottom" district of Arkansas, noted for its bad negroes. Each Saturday, according to custom, these negroes left their shacks and farms along the railroad and migrated to the larger cities and after imbibing large quantities of whiskey, took the train home again. And it was on a return trip that the fun began. The negroes never bought tickets for the return trip and once on the train they put up such a bold and threatening front that few train auditors made very serious attempts, either to collect fares or to put the non-payers off the train.

Hebble ran up against this situation on his first run. Those members of the old Columbia club of this city who remember how nifty Harry Hebble was with the gloves, can guess pretty nearly what happened next. When the intoxicated negroes refused to pay their fares Hebble "mixed it up" with them immediately and considerably dampened their ardor by laying five or six of them out in the opening hostilities. He then collected the fares from the entire train load of colored men. The next Saturday he had similar trouble with another crowd of "bad ones" who had not heard yet of the "fighting auditor's" reputation. But Hebble collected their fares just the same after demonstrating again that he was "the man with the punch." And from that time to this, fares are being paid regularly by all passengers. Since the battle with the negroes, Hebble has had three promotions and stands high with the officials of his division.

Charles Sutton, another ex-member of the Richmond police force, is also doing well in the southwest and is at present "firing" on a railroad. He lives in El Paso, Texas. Mrs. Sutton, who was at one time with the Hoosier store of this city, is reported to be doing well as she holds a position as buyer for one of the largest stores in El Paso, at a splendid salary.

INDIANA TWO-CENT LAW IS ATTACKED

Case May Be Carried to the Supreme Court to Test Constitutionality.

THE ONLY CASE FILED.

One suit now pending in the federal court of Indianapolis attacks the constitutionality of the Indiana 2-cent rate law, and there is a possibility of the matter being carried to the supreme court, where it may meet the same fate as did the rate law in Pennsylvania yesterday.

The suit is brought by the Louisville, New Albany & Corydon railroad company, and seeks to enjoin the Indiana railroad commission from enforcing the 2-cent rate statute. The injunction proceedings were originally filed by Mrs. Anna M. Boyle, a stockholder in the company, but upon hearing the case was thrown out of court. Later another injunction suit was filed on behalf of the company and this is still pending in the federal court. The petition alleges that the company is unable to make a fair profit at the rate of 2 cents a mile, and therefore the company is being deprived of its property without due process of law.

As far as could be learned from the officers of the railroad commission and the attorney general yesterday this is the only case wherein the Indiana 2-cent rate law is attacked. None of the officials from either office could venture an opinion as to whether the decision of the Pennsylvania court would give railroads of Indiana an incentive to carry the law to the supreme court here.

THE SMALLEST SCREWS.

To the Naked Eye They Look Like Specks of Dust.

The smallest screws in the world are those made in watch factories. They are cut from steel wire by a machine, but as the chips fall from the knife it looks as if the operator was simply cutting up the wire for his own diversion. One thing is certain—no screws can be seen, and yet a screw is made by every third operation.

The fourth jewel wheel screw is next to invisible, to the naked eye resembling a speck of dust. With a glass, however, it can be made out quite distinctly. It has 200 threads to an inch. These little screws are four one-thousandth of an inch in diameter, and the heads are double in size. It has been estimated that an ordinary thumb would hold 100,000 of them.

About 1,000,000 of them are manufactured in the course of a month, but no attempt is ever made to count them. In determining the number 100 of them are placed on a very delicate balance and the number of the whole quantity calculated from the weight of these. All the small parts of the watch are counted in this way, probably 50 out of the 120.

When they have been cut the screws are hardened and put into frames, about 100 to the frame, heads up. This is done very rapidly, but entirely by the sense of touch instead of by sight, so that a blind man with a little experience could perform the task.

The next step in the process is to polish the heads in an automatic machine, 10,000 at a time. The plate on which this is done is covered with oil and a grinding compound, and on this the machine moves them very rapidly by a reversing motion until they are in perfect condition.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Drama of London's Fog.

There is a whole world of drama bound up in the chronicles of London's fog. This misty and mysterious visitant, far older than Gog or Magog, which used to visit the watches of the night when the metropolis barely lifted itself out of the surrounding marshes, has a fund of comedy as well as tragedy. Countless murders have been committed under its sheltering cloak, men and women have been waylaid, children have been torn from their mothers and wives from their husbands, but on the other hand there are a few incidents of a less harrowing character.—Strand Magazine.

Curved Spokes.

There is no doubt that an iron wheel with curved spokes is much more attractive to the eye than the ordinary variety, but it is not on account of its appearance that it is constructed in this manner. Wheels that are cast invariably contract a little in the process of cooling, and those made with straight spokes are always liable to crack. The curved variety, by allowing a certain give and take in the metal, avoid this danger.

But It Went.

"Prisoner at the bar," said the magistrate, "for the crime of overspeaking you will pay a fine of $10 or be took to jail for ten days."

"That's not a correct sentence," murmured the prisoner. — Philadelphia Ledger.
