The resumption of active operations of Gaar, Scott & Co., is a message of gladness in more than one way to Richmond. To the workers affected it means steady work once more and to the business men of the city it means that this great firm, with its countless resources for gathering information relative to conditions the country overseas the bright light of better business conditions ahead.

After all, people shouldn't kick over the $150,000,000 annual pension outlay this country makes for its old soldiers. Foreign countries, when they see how much we can afford to take care of our old soldiers, shiver when they realize how very much more we can afford to take care of a large army for war, should the occasion arise.

And now the Russian navy department denies that Commander Diatchkoff was sent to watch our fleet. All right, Russia, have it all your own way; but for heaven's sake take the fellow away off somewhere so we won't have to run the chance again of ruining our linotype machines on his name.

The recent decision of the Pennsylvania supreme court, that the two-cent fare law in that state is unconstitutional is evidently encouraging the railroads to begin a general assault on the rights of the people and drive them back to the old conditions before Roosevelt and Reform were synonymous.

So the residents of Williamsburg look with contempt upon any community so debased as to need peace officers or courts of justice. Well, now, didn't we get our last sheriff from up around Williamsburg, and isn't he running for re-election, with evidence of pretty good support from that little city?

We wonder if C. B. Hunt, the Main street grocer, who is making a test case of the new meat inspection ordinance, ever considered that that ordinance was passed to protect the people of Richmond against diseased meat and that some of those same people of Richmond are among his customers?

After the exposures of last summer, of the rotten kind of diseased meat that could find its way on the local market, we are surprised that any meat dealer would dare go on record before his customers as favoring a return to the old custom of uninspected meat.

It is to laugh! Manager Quinn of the prospective Ohio league threatens to place another baseball nine in Richmond unless "Shorty" Jessup comes into that league with our home nine. Take care "Shorty," or Mr. Quinn will hit you on the naked wrist with a bird shot!

Some meat dealers do not seem to realize that the old and long established law of the right to buy in the cheapest market, does not work when there is danger that that source of supply offers an opportunity for the distribution of diseased meat.

And now that Governor Magoon of the Cuban provisional government, has been called to Washington, we suppose we shall have some more highly edifying reading about how the president is using federal patronage to aid the Taft boom.

Well, if Nick Longworth is hankering to be governor of Ohio and labors in behalf of the people of that commonwealth as earnestly as his illustrious father-in-law has for the country, we say here's luck to Nick.

The San Francisco Chronicle says that a great number of Japanese are leaving this country for their home country. Well, who cares? If they would all get out then there would be no Japanese question to worry over.

Well, of course, the senate ought to be a pretty good judge of what constitutes an autocrat, inasmuch as it is water-logged with gentlemen commonly supposed to belong to that variety of human parasite.

An so the dear old senate thinks

President Roosevelt is an autocrat. Well, well, to think how times have changed; President Roosevelt up in the ranks with Senator Aldrich and the rest of the autocrats.

Now when some of the old boys get to envying us youngsters they want to just stop and thank their lucky stars that they were born early enough to do something to get in on that $150,000,000 pension list.

If C. B. Hunt believes our meat inspection ordinance is class legislation, he's right. It is legislation in favor of the consuming class to protect them from tubercular and otherwise diseased meats.

The fire at Bethany college, the rescue of the pretty co-eds from the burning building by the men students and leap year, ought to be a combination greatly in favor of Cupid.

Think of it! Ex-Senator Davis of West Virginia, announces that his wedding will take place in the spring and he only a spry young chicken of 85 and leap year, too.

What's the significance? Hughes announces his candidacy for president and Harriman and Odell are loudly announcing that they are for him.

Write it in letters of gold—"Better fence the city than add to the enemies—by allowing unsuspected meat to be sold."—City Attorney Study.

But we doubt if the local manifestation of the failure of international marriages will have any weight with the Vanderbilts.

Possibly Grocer Hunt might do well to read about the present crusade being conducted in Chicago against tubercular meat.

From his side of the old story we would have thought Harriman had had enough of dealing with presidential candidates.

MR. NICHOLSON AND THE CHARITY BOARD.

The resignation of Timothy Nicholson from the board of state charities should not pass without recognition of the eminent service long given freely to the state by this distinguished citizen of Richmond. Mr. Nicholson has set a worthy example to his fellow citizens. He is by no means an old man at seventy-nine years, though he feels that he should give way to a younger man. It is right and well that after many years of service there should come a season of relaxation. Mr. Nicholson has been a member of the Board of State Charities from its organization, now nearly 20 years. He has seen and helped bring about vast improvements in the condition of the state's reformatory and charitable institutions, which were too long the prey of politicians and the spoil of campaigns. Mr. Nicholson has done his share in the work of eliminating politics and making secure the prevalence of a sane business policy in the state's institutions. We trust the government will find for the vacancy a man who can worthily take up the duties Mr. Nicholson reluctantly lays down.

The board of state charities is largely advisory in its function and yet, by reason of that fact and because of the high character of its members, it exerts great influence. The governor has appreciated the necessity of maintaining a high standard of the membership of the board. The services of the best men of Indiana are needed for the peculiar duties of this board. It exercises a supervisory care over not only all the inmates of all the benevolent and penal institutions in the state, but over the employees thereof, and has regard to all that concerns the benevolent and correctional activity of the state.—Indianapolis News.

Grain foods contain the vital principle in greater proportion than other foods. If you eat right, your vitality will remain at its height for years.

Grape-Nuts food is made from wheat and barley. It contains the "vital phosphates" that nature places in certain parts of the grains and is so prepared as to be quickly absorbed and converted into vital energy.

If you want to store up vital energy for the accomplishment of the greatest success, make Grape-Nuts a part of your regular diet. "There's a Reason." Read the book, "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

WATCH DOG OF THE TREASURY AGAIN SOUNDS A WARNING

CHAIRMAN TAWNEY AGAIN TOLD MEMBERS OF LOWER HOUSE TO BE CAUTIOUS ABOUT SPENDING THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

MADE LITTLE IMPRESSION.

Said He Appreciated the Fact That His Warning Would Not Be Heeded—Anticipates a Deficit of About $100,000,000.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Chairman Tawney, of the committee on appropriations, sounded his annual warning note to the house of representatives against extravagance in appropriations. His opportunity came when the urgent deficiency bill came up for consideration and then in a solemn tone the "watchdog of the treasury" announced that there would be a deficit of $100,000,000 at the end of the next fiscal year unless the most rigid economy was practiced and the estimates of the various departments materially curtailed. The threat of a deficiency usually makes little impression upon the members of the house, inasmuch as it is not their own money they are spending. But there seems to be more danger of an excess of expenditures than receipts now than there has been since Tawney has been issuing his customary admonition to his colleagues. This is due to the fact that the receipts of the government have been falling short of last year.

Mr. Tawney said he appreciated the fact that his reference to a possible deficit would not be received with favor here or anywhere else, especially where there is a sentiment for increased expenditures, but still he felt it his duty to state the facts. He had been ultra conservative in his statement of the financial condition of the country.

REVELRY IN HOMAGE TO EVANS' FLEET IN SOUTH AMERICA

IT IS SHOWN IN REPORTS ISSUED BY SEVERAL SOUTH COUNTRIES WHO ARE MAKING ELABORATE RECEPTION PLANS.

PROPOSE SPECIAL MEDALS.

American Ambassador Would Have Special Token Struck Off to Show American Regard for Brazilian Army And Navy Officers.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 24.—Evidence of the interest in the passage of the fleet of American battle ships around South America is found in the telegraphic reports received here of the various preparations to meet and welcome the visiting ships of war. From Buenos Ayres it is announced that the Argentine Minister of Marine, Admiral Beltrami, is at present at Bahia Blanca, inspecting the squadron of cruisers that will put out to sea and greet Rear Admiral Evans and his command off Cape Corrientes. Buenos Ayres is preparing to give an official banquet to 200 guests in the presidential palace in honor of the officers of the American torpedo-boat flotilla. These vessels are due at Buenos Ayres Jan. 26. From Montevideo, Uruguay, comes a statement that E. C. O'Brien, the American minister, accompanied by some of the most prominent members of the American colony, will journey down to Punta Arenas and meet the fleet there.

A dispatch received here from Lima, Peru, declares that in view of the expected arrival of the American fleet at Callao the police force of that seaport is organizing a special corps of men who speak English to do patrol duty while the vessels are in port.

It is understood here that the American Ambassador, Irving B. Dudley, has made the suggestion to Washington that the government strike off a special medal as a token of American recognition to the Brazilian army and navy officers who acted as escorts to the American officers during the stay of the fleet here. The Rio Janeiro newspapers suggest the idea of similar action by the Brazilian government.

The supply ship Arctura, which has been in attendance on the torpedo boat flotilla until the flotilla's departure on Tuesday, left this evening for Buenos Ayres. The colliers Nero and Brutus will leave here on Sunday for New York. The Italian cruiser Puglia also left here bound for the Pacific touching at Montevideo and Buenos Ayres.

This Gray Old World. A certain man was once permitted to make the world over to suit himself, the world and all that in it was. And when he was done he stood back and surveyed his work and exclaimed: "A paradise! Ah, truly a paradise!" But at the end of a week he was found dead, and the verdict of the coroner's jury was that he had been bored to death.—Puck.

DYSPEPSIA-PROOF. How Any Meal Can Be Thoroughly Enjoyed By Any Stomach.

Men, as a rule, are first discovered by their enemies. Their antagonists turn on the searchlight, and the proof of merit will lie in being able to stand the flash.

It was only in this way that Mr. White ever knew that dyspepsia was one of Mr. Black's worst enemies. Sitting face to face at a two-by-four table, he handed his afflicted friend the bill of fare: Oyster Cocktail. Stuffed Olive. Boston Clam Chowder. Strained Gumbo. Sirloin Steak with Mushrooms. Roast Beef Hash. Boiled Ox Tongue with Sauerkraut. Lobster a la Newburg. Baked Pork and Beans. Combination Crab a la Salad. Hot Mince Pie. Pineapple Fritters.

Mr. White ordered a "little of each." Mr. Dyspepsia Black ordered crackers and a glass of milk. "I had such a big breakfast this morning," he said, "that I'll just take a bite to keep you company." But Mr. White could not be deceived: "I am afraid you can't stand the gleam, Mr. Black. Why don't you say you have dyspepsia and be done with it? You'll always have that hungry look anyhow as long as you have dyspepsia. Now listen. My stomach was in just as bad condition as yours at one time. But now I can eat anything, at any time. For instance, this clam chowder or sirloin steak or even the lobster would be just as welcome to my stomach as your crackers and milk. You don't realize how this dyspepsia business is robbing you of your spirit, of your energy and ability to think quickly. I can't help notice it. You haven't the cheer and sociability you had three months ago. Now I'll tell you what to do," and thereat the cheerful Mr. White took a vial from his pocket and extracted a wee tablet.

"There, there is a tablet that contains an ingredient, one grain of which digests 3,000 grains of food. For even the worst dyspeptic it's the only thing that really gives relief. The reason is it relieves the stomach of nearly all the work it has to do, digests everything in the stomach and stimulates the gastric juice. I can't get along without them. They are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them anywhere on earth for 50c a package. Yes, it is true, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets absolutely stop heartburn, nausea, indigestion, dyspepsia of the worst type, sour stomach, bloaty feeling and all eruptions and irritation, and freshen and invigorate the stomach. They cheer you up, and make you get all the good there is in your food. You will forget you ever had a stomach to worry you.

SOCIALISTS DID NOT PARADE

Were Prevented by Police to Their Disgust.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—A hundred weary souls, who are not averse to acknowledging the claim of Dr. Benjamin L. Reisman as "king of the hoboes" or to following his lead so long as he does not do anything too strenuous, were the nucleus of a dreadful commotion in the Loop district yesterday.

The socialists had intended to hold a mass meeting of the unemployed along the lake front at Washington street, to march to the city hall and present a "petition in boot." Two o'clock had been announced as the hour and there was to be a parade after the meeting. Dr. Reisman, who describes himself as "a poor physician, but a good reformer," was in on it. The doctor insists upon being in on everything of that kind.

When the socialist leaders applied to the police for a permit to parade they were met with a refusal, and although they were naturally piqued that such an innocent request should meet with such brusque treatment, they promptly held a meeting, adopted a resolution to the effect that Chief of Police Shippy was worse than Captain Kidd; also that a gendarme or a Cossack was a sullen dove in comparison with a Chicago policeman—and called the meeting off.

Hiram L. Spencer, one of the veteran poets of the country is spending the sunset of his life in a quiet country home at White Head, New Brunswick. He was born in Vermont in 1829. His best known poem, "A Hundred Years to Come," was written when he was at school.

HEADLESS BODY OF WOMAN YET UNCLAIMED

Was Found Floating on the Lake Front.

Chicago, January 24.—The headless body of a woman which was found floating in Lake Michigan last Monday is still unclaimed and the police have practically given up hope of its being identified. Today two women from Indianapolis said they believed the body to be that of Alice Hall, of San Francisco. Reports received from San Francisco, however, failed to disclose any knowledge of such a person at the address given.

MITCHELL MAY BE HEAD OF NEW U. S. DEPARTMENT SOON

DECLARED THAT ROOSEVELT WOULD HAVE GREAT MINE LEADER HEAD OF BUREAU OF MINES.

SOCIALISTIC OPPOSITION.

Do Not Want Their Leader to Accept A Government Position—Plans of The Present President Not Yet Made Known.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—It is declared that President Mitchell has been promised by President Roosevelt an appointment as chief of the bureau of mines when it is created by congress. President Mitchell has not indicated what he will do when he retires further than that he wants a chance to regain his health. However, he has strongly advocated the establishment of a Bureau of Mines, and the convention will adopt a resolution favoring such action by congress.

The socialistic element among the miners is bitterly opposed to Mitchell accepting a political position. Other miners are insisting that he be retained at a good salary, in an advisory capacity, while others want to give him two years' leave of absence on pay so that he can recuperate and then resume his place at the head of the organization. In the meantime President Mitchell is preparing to retire April 1, and is "mum" as to what he will do thereafter.

The convention of the United Mine Workers of America was adjourned at noon yesterday until this morning. None of the committees was ready to report. The delegates were addressed by Miss Laura Gregg, of Kansas, delegate from the National Woman Suffrage association. The delegates endorsed the movement by a rising vote. President Mitchell announced that the credentials committee would take up the claim of Patrick Dolan, former president of the Pittsburgh district miners to be admitted as a delegate.

It is said that the convention will not formulate a wage scale until after it has been determined whether the operators will meet the miners in joint conference January 30. It is also said that a joint wage conference will not follow the convention immediately and possibly may not be held in this city.

THE PEOPLE ARE AROUSED.

They No Longer Doubt Testimonials Are Useless.

The Root Juice people came to Richmond to prove the reports that were circulating over the country in relation to the many remarkable cures the great remedy was making. Hundreds of people that heard of the remedy, crowded into A. G. Luken's Drug store and bought some of it and after taking it a short while many returned for more and urged their friends to try it. Many local testimonials were published in this paper until it became useless as so many of this city know of many cures it has made and is making. It has certainly proved to be the greatest remedy known for the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. It is remarkable the way it heals the stomach and bowels and gives strength to the liver and kidneys. Out of all of the hundreds that gave the remedy a fair trial at this point not a single one has been heard to condemn it, but on the contrary many who suffered for years with indigestion, chronic constipation, rheumatism and various kidney complaints, after taking a few bottles of the Juice claim a positive cure. So the great remedy does not merely patch IT CURES. Root Juice is sold at A. G. Luken's drug store for $1 a bottle, six bottles for $5.

The Medieval Grocer.

In an interesting and informing lecture at the Agricultural hall Mr. J. Aubrey Reeves discoursed on "Grocers Past and Present." "Grocers," he said, "were once called pepperers, because they dealt in pepper and spices. Their history would seem to begin about 1180, when there is an entry on the Pipe Rolls referring to the London Guild of Pepperers." Then in 1316 Mr. Reeves finds a reference in the city records to one William Chambers being apprenticed to John Guter, a "grossarius" of Soper lane. The title seems due to the dealings in things by the gross—i. e., in quantities. In those days grocers ministered to the luxuries of the rich. Now," said Mr. Reeves, "they distribute the necessities of the poor." The appearance of tea changed the business greatly and took the place of drugs, which parliament forbade grocers to sell.—London News.

Porson, the celebrated English Greek scholar, principal of St. John's College in the university of Cambridge, took a ride every day on a big black horse. A stranger being shown the sights of the town, asked as he saw Porson riding, "Who is that?" "St. John's head on a charger," answered the other with perfect truth.
