A. C. LINDEMUTH TO HEAD INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE ASSOCIATION

WAS CHOSEN IN CHICAGO YESTERDAY WITHOUT OPPOSITION, IT MAKING THE THIRD TELEPHONE PRESIDENCY FOR HIM.

WAR DECLARED ON BELL CO.

Within the Short Space of Fifteen Minutes, $15,000 Was Raised to Be Used in Furthering Independent Interests.

A. C. Lindemuth, president of the Indiana Independent Telephone Association, and president of the Richmond Home Telephone Company, has added another presidency to his already long list, and will hereafter serve as president of the International Independent Telephone Association, he having been elected in Chicago yesterday at the big convention. Lindemuth is considered one of the best posted men in the ranks of the Independents and in the past has done much to raise the Indiana system to its present high level. Under his guidance the International Association is expected to grow with leaps and bounds. The sessions of the Independent telephone leaders was of interest, from a local standpoint as much money was raised which will be devoted to further pushing the fight against the Bell telephone company. The two public service companies are at swords points in Richmond at the present time.

In fifteen minutes a fund of $15,000 was raised at a meeting of the international association yesterday to help prosecute a war against the Bell telephone company.

The money was raised while the convention of the independent association was in session at the Coliseum annex, and after an address made by H. D. Critchfield, of Milwaukee.

There was some little excitement during the meeting when one member of the association offered a resolution that any one in the hall who was not a member be rejected. At the suggestion of President Gary, who was in the chair, the motion was referred to the committee on resolutions and possible trouble was averted.

At the final meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. C. Lindemuth, Richmond, Ind.; vice president, P. C. Holdvogtle, Rockwell City, Ia.; E. B. Fisher, Grand Rapids, Mich.; J. T. Demers, Quebec; Arthur Wright, Los Angeles; secretary, J. B. Ware, Grand Rapids, Mich.; treasurer, Manford Savage, Champaign, Ill.

MARKED FOR DEATH WAS DICTATOR

Conspirators Would Have Killed and Dethroned The King.

PLOT NIPPED IN THE BUD.

Lisbon, Portugal, Jan. 24.—An abortive attempt to overthrow the monarchy and proclaim Portugal a republic was nipped in the bud last night by the prompt action of the government. The plot was organized by a small group of advanced republicans. As near as can be ascertained the plan was to assassinate Premier Franco and then depend for success upon street risings, supported by secret republican and labor organizations, armed with bombs and revolvers.

The conspirators intended to take advantage of various festivities to carry out the coup d'etat. The royal family were at Villa Vicosa entertaining the duke of the Abruzzi. Most of the army and navy officers who were in the city were attending a gala performance at the theatre, while many of the chief functionaries of state were present at a magnificent ball at one of the legations.

The police discovered what was in the wind early in the evening and they raided a house where the ringleaders in the plot were conferring. When they broke in the doors the lights were extinguished, and in the confusion that followed most of the conspirators managed to make their escape.

Several of them, however, were captured, including the leader, Joao Chagas, a republican journalist, who was prominent in the revolt of 1891; Francisco Boreira, editor of O Mundo, and a merchant of the name of Grendella. A case of revolvers and bombs was found in the cellar.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN FAULTY MEASURES

Motion to Censure the Government Defeated.

Tokyo, January 24.—A motion to censure the Government was defeated in the Lower House of the Diet today by 177 votes to 168. It declares a lack of confidence in the Cabinet, based on the alleged faulty financial measures.

GOVERNOR HUGHES

WEIGHED—FOUND WANTING.

By Alfred Henry Lewis

In the February issue of "Human Life," "A Magazine About People," Alfred Henry Lewis starts his first article on "Presidential Possibilities," and he writes up Governor Hughes. He will follow with articles on Taft, Cannon, Cortelyou and others. Read the following extracts from Mr. Lewis' caustic article on Governor Hughes in the February issue:

This should illustrate my meaning—When Mr. Hughes was running for the Governorship, I chanced to be talking politics one evening with Mr. Roosevelt.

"But you don't mean to tell me," exclaimed that vigorous chief magistrate, arching eyebrow of surprise at my expressed coolness toward Mr. Hughes, "that you regard Mr. Hughes as other than honest, able and intelligent?"

"Let me tell you a story," I said; "It should shed a ray. There was a careful farmer who owned a coop of priceless chickens. 'Some one,' says the farmer, 'will steal these chickens if I don't watch out. I'll buy a dog—an honest, able and intelligent dog.' He bought the dog, installed him, and sought his downy couch, confident, satisfied and secure. That night every cockle was stolen. The farmer was amazed. There sat the dog—honest, able and intelligent. And yet that great coyness never seemed to bother him a bit. The farmer couldn't fathom it. His wonder abated, however, when, upon back-tracking the miracle, he found that the party who stole the chickens was the party who sold him the dog."

Before Mr. Hughes had to run for office he had burst upon the public notice twice. The first time he conducted an investigation against the gas thieves that resulted in no good to the public, no harm to the thieves. Mr. Hughes' second appearance was in connection with that insurance investigation, still warm in the memories of 1907.

It fell about in this wise: Mr. Alexander and young Mr. Hyde got to fighting for possession of the Equitable. They succeeded, so to speak, in kicking each other out of bed, and Mr. Ryan got the bed. Also, they kicked the covers off the bed, and the inner villainess of the Equitable was disclosed to an onlooking world.

This latter situation didn't suit the card of Mr. Ryan, then in possession of the bed. The Ryan ownership of the Equitable was not to transpire for some months; but the truth is, he got possession before Messrs. Hyde and Alexander had been fighting a week. Mr. Ryan couldn't cover up the Equitable rottenness; affairs had gone too far. Whereupon he resolved to do the next best thing, and uncover the rottenness of the Equitable rivals.

The New York Life and the Mutual were as vile in their internal management as was the Equitable. Mr. Ryan pushed a legislature button or two, and an "investigation" was ordered. No; Mr. Ryan didn't own the Albany legislature, but he occasionally leases it for the season, and this was one of the seasons.

READ THIS ARTICLE IN OUR JANUARY NUMBER

Mr. Vance Thompson, the greatest American writer abroad, is sending us a series of Human Life Stories, and his article on "Bernhardt," in the February issue, is a most striking study of a most remarkable woman. Our February number is full of good things from cover to cover. There is no magazine in America, at any price, with a better staff of contributors.

The following bright literary stars write for Human Life: David Graham Phillips, Vance Thompson, Charles Edward Russell, Alfred Henry Lewis, Hon. Brand Whitlock, Julian Hawthorne, Elbert Hubbard, W. B. (Bat) Masterson, Clara Morris, Ada Patterson, and many others.

Human Life originates, seeks out new and enthralling fields of interest in everyday life. You will find in it entertaining accounts and pictures of people you have never seen in print before; you will find the great and the almost great; the famous and sometimes the infamous, described with a knowledge of their little humanities which is engrossing. Human Life is filled with new features: its page of Cartoons, Poems We've Liked; its page of Beautiful Women, for which we offer four $5.00 gold pieces every month, its Stories by Boys and Girls, and many other features.

WHEN SPECTATORS CHEERED, JUDGE CLEARED THE COURT

INTEREST IN CASE IN HEARING AT ANDERSON WHERE MAN IS ACCUSED OF CUTTING GIRL'S THROAT, WAS INTENSE.

WITNESSES FOR DEFENSE.

These Will Attempt to Show That the Young Woman First Cut Defendant's Throat and Then Turned the Knife on Herself.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 24.—During the trial here of Shirley Doyle, aged 24, charged with having cut the throat of Lida Scott, aged 22, and then attempting suicide, Judge McClure suddenly stopped the examination of Martin Doyle, a brother of the prisoner, to exclude 600 spectators from the court room because the audience cheered when he presented a question of Attorney Bagot, for the defense.

Martin Doyle, to whose home Shirley Doyle took Miss Scott after slashing her throat, according to her testimony, is a witness for the state. Attorney Bagot inquired of him if he was not the man who recently went to Cincinnati, accompanied by his niece, Lida Huffman, and registered as husband and wife. Doyle said: "I did not. Is that any of your business?"

The defense introduced 24 letters alleged to have been written by Miss Scott to Shirley Doyle since he was returned to prison for violation of parole. She admitted writing seven of them.

It was thought she would faint, but she rallied and fanned herself continually, although the courtroom was not uncomfortably warm. The defense will present the letters to the jury today.

Physicians testified that the wound inflicted by a razor in Miss Scott's neck ordinarily results fatally. Martin Doyle's testimony was that he knew nothing of the tragedy until he was called out of his own home and in Shirley Doyle's buggy found the girl half dead. Some weeks later, Martin Doyle found a razor in a straw tick on a bed that Shirley Doyle had occupied after Miss Scott's throat was cut.

The state will close its examination today. The defense will call but few witnesses and will undertake to prove that she cut Shirley Doyle's throat and then her own with suicidal intent.

"He'll never make a great artist."

"Why not?"

"Every conclusion he draws is bad."
