DURUM WHEAT.

A case of some interest has been raised by the seizure under the United States pure food law of a carload of flour shipped from Minnesota to a bakery in Richmond, Ind. Although the State pure food law resembles the United States law very closely this seizure could not have been made by the state authorities because, the shipment being from another state, it is a case of interstate commerce and falls under the national law. The offense charged is selling or offering for sale a manufactured product under a false label. The flour was in sacks labeled "Flour manufactured from the finest selected hard spring wheat," whereas the government inspector claims that it was a mixed flour manufactured in part from durum wheat.

There are several different varieties of wheat grown in the United States whose qualities for bread making depend on differences of chemical elements and of milling processes. The difference in chemical elements depends on the varying proportions of nitrogenous matter, gluten, moisture, etc., which different varieties of wheat contain, influenced more or less by climate and environment.

Durum wheat, the mixture of which with hard spring wheat and labeling the product as "pure hard spring wheat flour," constitute the alleged offense in this case, is popularly known as a macaroni wheat. It was first grown in India, Russia, Spain and Argentina and was introduced in this country through the efforts of the department of agriculture in 1899. Its introduction has proved a great success commercially and otherwise. Probably no other new crop has been so warmly welcomed by the farmers of the regions suitable to its growth. It proved to be admirably adapted to the climate and soil conditions of the Great Plains regions and the semi-arid regions of the Northwest, including the Dakotas. It requires little moisture, is not subject to smut or rust, is a strong grower and will flourish in climates and soils where other wheat can not be raised successfully. For these reasons durum or macaroni wheat has proved a very popular and profitable crop in some parts of the country.

Its introduction by the agricultural department did not cost more than $10,000, and the present value of the crop is about $10,000,000 annually and increasing. Durum wheat flour when properly handled, makes good bread, and its introduction has caused a remarkable development in the manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti in the United States. There is no doubt whatever as to the value of the flour for the preparation of articles of this class, and it is also useful for the purpose of blending. It is really a high grade flour, and when mixed with a low grade bread wheat flour the blend is good for making bread and pastry. The issue raised by the seizure at Richmond is not as to the value of durum wheat or the quality of the flour, but is simply one of ethics and honesty as to whether a blended flour may be labeled and sold as "flour manufactured from the finest selected hard spring wheat." The question will probably come before the courts.—Indianapolis News.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE OPEN TO ALL.

POLES ON MAIN STREET.
Editor of Palladium.

The Central Union (Bell) or any telephone company can put their wires in conduits under the ground if they will accept the ordinance passed June 19th, 1904, which ordinance regulates the telephone charge for residences shall not be over $1.50 per month and business houses not over $2.00 per month.

This Central Union or Bell Telephone company is not accept.
The question is—getting poles off Main street more important than regulating the price? If I was sure the Bell Telephone company would never buy out the Home Telephone company, I would know just what to do. I want to do what the people want me to do. Yours respectfully,
WM. H. BARTEL, JR.

KILL THE PROFESSORS MAY WEAKEN EFFECT

Hugo Muensterberg Says That There Are Too Many Second-Class Men.

FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. CHEMISTS FEEL HURT.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—In an address to the Germanistic Society of Chicago in Fullerton hall, Prof. Hugo Muensterberg, of Harvard university, declared that American universities would be better off if two-thirds of the professors were killed.

He said: "There seems to be something weak and mollycoddle about our whole academic system. In our highest institutions of learning we find, with a few notable exceptions, only second-class men. And we may be sure second-class schoolmasters never will build up a first class scholarship. 'An increase in the salaries of the assistant professors and instructors in our colleges and universities by a few hundred dollars a year will never accomplish anything. What is needed is great premiums at the top. 'One of the greatest evils from which our American universities suffer is too great an abundance of men. As soon as an institution gets some money the first thought is to add more men to the faculty to out do some neighbor institution. Everyone of our American universities would be nearer to the ideal if it would kill two-thirds of its instructors and professors.'"

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

REVISION OF TARIFF
National Board of Trades Goes on Record in Washington.

WANT TARIFF COMMISSION.
Washington, Jan. 25.—The National board of trade concluded its sessions here with the adoption of a number of important resolutions, among them being one urging an expeditious revision of the tariff and endorsing the proposition for the creation of a permanent tariff commission. It was unanimously agreed that the president and congress should be petitioned to take immediate steps to bring about reciprocal trade treaties between the United States and other countries. Postmaster-General Meyer's proposition for the establishment of a postal savings bank was commended. It was further recommended that the tariff should be amended and that works of art, intended for public museums and art galleries, shall be admitted free of duty. The National Board of Trade went on record in calling upon congress to clearly define the status of the tariff with reference to our insular possessions.

These officers were elected: President, Frank D. La Lanne, of Philadelphia; first vice-president, P. M. Estes, of Nashville, Tenn.; second vice-president, Clinton White, of Boston; treasurer, William R. Tucker, of Philadelphia.

Rank Foolishness.
When attacked by a cough or cold, or when your throat is sore, it is rank foolishness to take any other medicine than Dr. King's New Discovery," says C. O. Eldridge, of Empire, Ga. "I have used New Discovery seven years and I know it is the best remedy on earth for coughs and colds, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. My children are subject to croup, but New Discovery quickly cures every attack." Known the world over as the King of throat and lung remedies. Sold under guarantee at A. G. Luken & Co., drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

MISSING PASSENGERS WERE PICKED UP
Twenty-Eight People Landed On Hook of Holland.

Hook of Holland, Jan. 25.—All the missing passengers and crew from the steamer Amsterdam were brought in here safely at noon today. The steamer Amsterdam belongs to the Great Eastern Railway company. She sailed from Harwich for Rotterdam January 21, with fifty-six passengers on board. That same night she was in collision with the British steamer Axminster, near Nieuwe Waterweg, and sustained serious damage. Her crew and passengers left her in small boats, and all the boats excepting one were speedily picked up.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR LA GRIPPE.
La grippe coughs are dangerous as they frequently develop into pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs so that no serious results need be feared. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. A. G. Luken & Co.

NOTICE.
There will be a meeting of Div. 598 B. of L. E. on Saturday night of Jan. 25th, instead of the regular 4th Sunday meeting. A good attendance is desired.

President Roosevelt Says He Has Not Full Faith in Pure Food Rulings.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The action of the president in indirectly serving notice on the board of food and drug inspection that he has not full faith in its rulings, will, in the opinion of loyal supporters of the federal pure food and drug law, tend to weaken the enforcement of the law.

The chief executive has served this indirect notice by announcing that he will create a board of expert pharmacists to pass on several mooted rulings of the board. Letters have already gone out from the white house to several heads of colleges and universities asking them to suggest the names of chemists whose services might be valuable. As soon as the president has heard from these heads of educational institutions he will appoint the board. It is only natural that the members of the Board of Food and Drug Inspection, composed of Dr. H. W. Wiley, solicitor McCabe and Mr. Dunlop, should feel somewhat hurt by the action of the president. Messrs. Wiley and Dunlop have the reputation of being high-grade chemists.

This is Worth Remembering
Whenever you have a cough or cold, just remember that Foley's Honey and Tar will cure it. Do not risk your health by taking any but the genuine. It is in a yellow package. A. G. Luken & Co.

SALOON MEN NOW CUTTING EXPENSES
Discharge Bartenders and Draw "Suds" Themselves.

New Castle, Ind., Jan. 25.—"Cut down expenses" is the order of the saloon men, whose places may be decosed by the blanket remonstrance from this city and Henry township. Within the last three weeks six bartenders have been discharged and are now seeking other employment. The proprietors, some of whom have not "turned a hand" in their places of business for a number of years, are now behind the bars "slinging the suds," handing out the long-necked bottle, glass and "chaser." And even the usual freely-given "beer chaser" is not now set out unless the customer orders it. Everything about the saloons savors of "save money while we can," and they are doing it in every way possible.

A Cure for Misery.
"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at A. G. Luken & Co., drug store.

Facts About the Capital.
A walk over to the national capitol reveals to you an edifice well worth seeing, and only after spending some time in walking through it can you gain a conception of what the domestic life of the capitol is. For instance, consider that it contains 430 rooms which are used for office, committee and storage purposes. 679 windows, 550 doorways, 140 fireplaces, 291 wash basins and sinks, 14 bathtubs, 15 ventilating fans, 18 motors, 8 elevators, 2,000 horsepower of boilers, 8 steam pumps, a lighting service equivalent to 25,000 incandescent lamps of sixteen candlepower each and over 14,000 square feet of skylights. This is all on the inside, and when we look over the outside and the forty acres of land to be kept up we begin to realize that it is no small job to keep the cobwebs out of the capitol and the weeds out of the yard.—Pathfinder.

HOW TO AVOID APPENDICITIS
Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Foley's Orino laxative cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels and restores the natural action of the bowels. Foley's Orino laxative does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. A. G. Luken & Co.

There are three kinds of Chinese dragons—the lung of the sky, the li of the sea and klan of the marshes. The lung is the favorite kind, however, and has "the head of a camel, the horns of a deer, the eyes of a rabbit, ears of a cow, neck of a snake, belly of a frog, scales of a carp, claws of a hawk and uaim of a tiger." His special office to guard and support the mansions of the gods and he is the peculiar symbol of the emperor.

On the morning of October 19, one of my dogs bit me a most painful howl and I got out of bed and across on the wall. "Some one is dead," and the following morning related my experience to the Salt river officer stationed here and recorded it on his diary. My sister died at 4:45 a. m. on the morning of October 19, at Winfield, exactly at the time that the dog gave the significant warning.—Letter in Madras Mail.

It fills the arteries with rich, red blood, makes new flesh, and healthy men, women and children. Nothing can take its place; to remedy has done so much good as Hollister's Rocky Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. Tea or Tablets. A. G. Luken & Co.
