

HER LOVE BURNED IN EVERY LETTER

Young Woman, Murderously
Assaulted, Writes in Endearing Terms to Lover.

MAY NOT SURVIVE ORDEAL.

WHILE ON THE WITNESS STAND
AND UNDER AWFUL STRAIN,
THE OLD WOUND IN THE GIRL'S THROAT RE-OPENED.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 25.—Although on the witness stand two days with testimony against Shirley Doyle, her former lover, who is accused of having cut her throat and then attempted suicide, Miss Lydia Scott may not live to hear the verdict of the jury.

Racked in mind by humiliation in court, and crushed yesterday when a score or more of her love letters were read in open court, before nearly a thousand people, and her wounded throat strained by talking on the witness stand until she suffered a hemorrhage of the throat, the twenty-two-year-old girl was a wreck last night while identifying the letters.

Miss Scott seemed to choke, but she was hard pressed for her testimony until suddenly blood appeared on her lip. She caught it with her handkerchief before many spectators discovered it. Judge McClure noticed it and excused the witness.

Old Wound Reopened.

For an hour afterward in the judge's private office blood came from the girl's throat by the reopening of the old wound inflicted by a razor three years ago. Miss Scott was put in the care of a physician and she was not permitted to go on the stand again to talk today. Her trying ordeal came when the defense proceeded to read letters that she admitted writing to Doyle.

Among these were many written after he was returned to prison for violating a prison parole. He is alleged to have murderously assaulted the young woman. Mingled with endearing words indicating she had not lost her love for him were citations of various passages of Scripture, and she implored Doyle to read and think of the eleventh and twelfth chapters of Acts. To familiarize the jury with the passages she referred to Attorney Bagot to read the chapters. The court proceedings seemed for a while like a church service.

Doyle's Testimony.
Doyle was put on the stand later in the afternoon. He told of first meeting Miss Scott at Martin Doyle's home in October preceding the tragic Sunday, March 19, 1905, when the double throat cutting took place. He testified that Miss Scott was jealous of him, though he was going to see another girl on that Sunday, and while out buggy riding and after a quarrel she attacked him with a razor and cut him twice on the neck.

A few minutes later, and while in the buggy, Doyle testified that Miss Scott cut her own throat, and later told him she wanted to die.

People fought to get into the courtroom. Many women wept when they saw Miss Scott falter and also heard the lawyers mercilessly expose her letters. The case will probably get to the jury by this afternoon.

It Does The Business.

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c. at A. G. Luken & Co. drug store.

BURGLAR STOLE WOMAN'S PICTURE

She Was in Bathing Costume
And He Liked It.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 25.—Maggie McDade, of 3435 Penn. avenue, plump and shapely, has put in most of the time since yesterday morning blushing at the nerve of a burglar, who, it appears, found her picture in a bathing suit so winning that he forgot a world of jewels which he had gathered up to take with him, and escaped only with Maggie's picture. Police Inspector Robert Gray has the note and is trying to find the burglar by the handwriting. The note is understood to read as follows:

"Dear Miss: I couldn't take this junk after seeing the photo. I have won the picture, however."

Maggie wishes she had had on longer skirts when she had that picture taken. There are quite a few persons living in that house whose jewels had been gathered by the daylight burglar, but he dropped them too, when he came on that photo of Maggie in her bathing suit.

MRS. G. JAY GOULD HAS MUCH HISTRIONIC TALENT WHICH HAS NOT BEEN ABATED.

Mrs. George Jay Gould shows that histrionic talent has been by no means abated by her long absence from the stage. She recently played in a sketch at the Plaza Hotel, for charity, and showed all her old brilliancy as an actress. The picture shows Mrs. Gould and Kyrie Bellows as they appeared in the sketch.

HAPPENINGS AT GARFIELD SCHOOL

On last Monday morning, Principal D. R. Ellabarger spoke to the pupils of the school. He gave a very interesting talk urging upon the young people the necessity of forming good habits early in life. Other members of the high school faculty will speak before the school next term.

The school council held its last meeting of the term last Monday. As there was no special business the time was used in asking questions concerning different phases of school life. In this, the members revealed that they have gathered a great many practical and valuable ideas on the purposes of school organization.

The Garfield pupils are interested in the rumored exchange of Garfield and the high school. The advantages to be gained by this change is the addition of a manual training department for the high school and domestic science for both schools. The increased facilities in all departments are being anticipated with pleasure.

Dr. George Fisher, who spoke at the high school hall on Monday night under the auspices of the Richmond Y. M. C. A., gave an interesting talk Tuesday morning. He talked to them about play, which he holds is the most vital thing in the life of a boy. He emphasized the value of team games. He also pointed out the necessity of careful attention to this side of a boy's life by educators, and complimented the schools on having such an excellent play ground.

The SA history pupils have been giving talks this week on special topics assigned some time ago. Several pupils from each section have furnished the program in the SA room during the general exercise period this week by giving their talks there instead of the class room.

The Garfield gymnasium was the scene of some lively contests last night. The Garfield junior basketball team played a team from the Starr school. The score was 12 to 11 in favor of Starr. This is the second game played by these teams, the first

"COFFEE GRUNTERS"

Ever See One?

Thoughtful people have a laugh on coffee cranks now and then.

"I had used coffee ever since I was a small child," writes an Ind. lady, "and have always had bad spells with my stomach."

"Last spring just after I began housekeeping, I had a terrible time with my stomach and head. My husband brought a package of Postum and asked me to try it."

"I laughed at it because none of my folks would ever try it. But I made some the following morning, following directions on the package, about boiling it well."

"I was greatly pleased with the results and kept right on using it. Now I wouldn't think of drinking anything else. I tell every old coffee 'grunter' I see, about Postum, and all my folks and my husband's people except a few cranks, use Postum instead of Coffee."

"When put to cook in cold water over night and then boiled 15 minutes in the morning while getting breakfast it makes a delicious drink."

NAVY DEPARTMENT IS GIVEN BLAME

Special Committee Appointed
To Investigate Reuter Dahl
Charges Reports.

SHOULD NOT HAVE INVITED.

PERMISSION TO BOARD THE BAT-TLESHIPS SHOULD NOT HAVE BEEN GRANTED—ASSERTIONS
MADE ARE REFUTED.

New York, January 25.—A Washington dispatch says:

The report of the special commission consisting of Rear admirals Capps and Converse, appointed by the president to investigate criticism of the navy made by Henry Reuter Dahl, and sustained by some of the most prominent officers in the service, is now complete. It probably will be transmitted to the president this afternoon.

The report finds that the charges of Reuter Dahl, except in minor instances, are unfounded. It absolves Lieutenant Commander Sims, the president's naval aid, who is charged with furnishing Reuter Dahl with information. It is shown that the navy department invited Reuter Dahl aboard the vessels, and his criticism followed these invited trips.

It emphatically denounces the attempt to create the impression that the vessels of the United States navy are useless junk which should be relegated to the scrap heap. The report leaves Rear Admirals Melville and McCalla, whose criticisms have been bitter and sweeping, in a bad light. It means that they must deny the statements attributed to them or else stand court-martial.

Lieutenant Commander Sims has never publicly criticized the navy, and the only charge against him was that he had furnished Reuter Dahl with information. He is absolved from this, as it is shown that it was not he, but the navy department which extended the invitation to Reuter Dahl to visit the ships, and it was from observations on these trips that he deduced the facts upon which he based his criticisms.

The naval constructors of the government have been vindicated, for, while minor defects in warship building, which were known to the public years ago, are admitted, Reuter Dahl's criticisms of the navy are shown to be without foundation in fact.

$25 FOR A LETTER

CAN YOU WRITE ONE?

Eight Prizes to Be Awarded in
A Letter Writing Contest
Open to Everyone
In Indiana.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been used in this state for a generation. Hundreds of remarkable cures have been reported during that time and there is scarcely a family in which the remedy has not been tried with beneficial results. This contest is the reward for the letters to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination, every narrative must deal with facts.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., of Schenectady, N. Y., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before Feb. 1, 1908, from the state of Indiana, on the subject, "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received, a prize of $5.00 for the third best and five prizes of one dollar each for the next best five letters.

The Conditions.
The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case or one that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, so long as every statement made is literally true. The letter should be no longer than is necessary to relate the benefit obtained from the remedy in the case described.

Each letter must be signed by the writer with his or her name and full address and the letter must give the correct name and address of the person whose cure is described. THESE WILL BE STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL and will not be made public. Letters containing addresses that cannot be verified will not be considered in awarding the prizes.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw the announcement of this competition. Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of award.

The contest will close Feb. 1, 1908. Do not delay, but if you know of a cure write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows:

FLEET ANIMALS.

The Wonderful Speed Developed by the Greyhound.

Representations of the greyhound appear upon sculptures over 3000 years old. There is no doubt that it is one of the very oldest fixed types of dog and the most universal in its distribution. India, Arabia, Persia, are among the countries that for ages past had the greyhound. Lately there was exhibited in England a greyhound from Afghanistan—a shaggy form suited to that mountain land. Of course these dogs are not all exactly greyhounds in the western sense, but they are essentially the same in type; they are "gazehounds," long legged, light built dogs, bred to run their game by sight and not by scent and to overtake it not by wearing it down, but by sheer speed and skill of running. How this type was evolved affords much interesting speculation.

"A greyhound is probably the fastest creature that moves upon the earth," says a breeder of those animals. "It is on record that a greyhound beat the famous race horse Flying Childers. An absolute trial between horse and greyhound is difficult to bring off, because, while the horse can be ridden at top speed, it is impossible to insure that the greyhound will run 'all he can'." But a dog that can start, say, fifty yards behind a hare and overtake it within another fifty, and this is about what a greyhound does, must surely be faster than anything else that lives or has his parallel only among the birds."

The same writer says of greyhound coursing: "One used to hear that it was a 'pothouse' not a 'gentleman's sport.' But I have heard men who follow both declare that they prefer coursing to racing, and I can quite understand it. In coursing there is the absolute certainty that all is above suspicion of anything 'shady.' Every time a dog is run he is honestly run to win or divide the stakes. You can not 'pull' a greyhound."—Chicago News.

The New Cook's Way.

A new cook was in the kitchen, and the mistress was trying to be pleased with the way she served dinner. The salad was especially unappealing, with large coarse green lettuce leaves instead of the crisp, white little hearts the family was accustomed to.

"What did you do to the lettuce?" mildly inquired the lady of the house after dinner.

"Sure, I washed it all good," replied the new cook.

"But the small white part?" persisted the mistress.

"Oh, the core, ye mean. I threw it away, of course."—New York Press.

The Recent Financial Flurry

demonstrated the great value of a savings account. Many wage earners, with income temporarily cut off, passed through the period without inconvenience as they were able to fall back upon their bank accounts.

Unfortunately, however, numerous others had not fortified themselves in this manner. They are now in debt.

Now that the shops are open again, you should maintain a savings account. Do this, and the next flurry will not find you unprepared.
