

NEW CASTLE GOT TASTE OF POLO

QUIGLEY BROS. STARRED.

PLAYED THE FASTEST GAME EV-
ER WITNESSED BY THE FLOW-ER CITY FANS—SAMPSEL WAS WEAK AGAINST LOCALS.

New Castle, Ind., Jan. 31.—This city got its first taste of real-for-audience-in-the-wool polo last evening and liked it. One thousand people crowded the rink and gazed with admiration and the much talked of Quaker five as it buried the locals under a landslide of goals; Richmond 11, New Castle 1. The local defense was very weak, Canfield being the principal offender. But for his yellow work, New Castle would probably have held Richmond to four or five goals instead of allowing the Quakers to pile up eleven. Canfield's poor eyesight was the result, it is alleged, of him attempting to assimilate all the nose-paint in the city yesterday.

The Quigley brothers on the rush line for Richmond played the fastest polo ever seen in this section of the country and made the local defense men look like cigar store Indians. The much vaunted Samsel was a weak brother against the Quaker defense men. Lineup and summary.

LAFADIO HEARN.

The Way the Writer Got Even With the Heartless Editors.

"Lafadio Hearn, that wonderful writer, worked on newspapers in his youth," said a publisher, "and the ruthless way his studies were changed, cut and butchered was a great wrong to his heart."

"In after years Hearn took a malicious joy in collecting stories about editors—editors and their superior and omniscient way with manuscript. "One of his stories was of an editor to whom a subscriber said:

"I enjoyed that poem on the three ages of man in today's paper, Mr. Sheers; I enjoyed it immensely. Do you know, though, I thought that it was originally written the seven ages of man?"

"So it was, sir; so it was," said Editor Sheers pompously. "Yes, the extract was originally written the seven ages of man, but I had to cut it down for lack of space."

"Another story concerned a weather report. A reporter, discussing the weather, wrote that winter still lingered in the lap of spring."

"The editor as he read over the article called the reporter up to his desk and told him that he would cut out that sentence about winter lingering in spring's lap. He said the idea was good enough and original and all that sort of thing, but it would not do to publish because the high moral tone of the paper had to be maintained in a town full of school girls."

Staring at Royalty.

Royalties are early cured of any shyness of being looked at. They are there to be seen, and both the king and queen when they go to the opera and turn their glasses on the occupants of opposite boxes are openly amused by the disconcerted looks of persons who feel abashed under the inspection. Not a trace of self-consciousness is left on the face of an English royal, with the exception of perhaps a single princess under an artillery of glances. Such attentions are anything but resented. Indeed, the beautiful Duchess of Devonshire used to say that when the butcher boy ceased to turn round after her in the street she would know her reign was over.—London Chronicle.

Didn't Agree With Him.

A Carolina man was recently inspecting a farm owned by him and operated by an old friend who had pressed into service every member of his family, including his aged father. "The old man must be getting along in years," said the owner.

"Yes; dad's nigh on to ninety," was the reply.

"Is his health good?"

"Well, no. The old man ain't been himself for some time back."

"What seems to be the matter?"

"I dunno, sir. I guess farming don't agree with him no more."—Success Magazine.

Cheap Fun.

He—You talk about men playing poker. It is no worse a vice than the shopping habit of the women. She—Perhaps not, morally speaking; but, then, it takes money to play poker, whereas a woman can shop all day without it costing her a cent except what she pays for car fare.—Boston Transcript.

Only one close game was played in the series between the Bortons and Idlemans last evening. In the first game but a few pins intervened between the winning and losing totals. In the second two games however it was a runaway for the winner. The Bortons won two out of the three games. The scores were below the usual standard.

It is an unusual fact that the quality of the bowling of the players in general, is deteriorating instead of improving. Practice usually develops ability but with the local bowlers some other condition seems to have a stronger opposite effect. It can not be said to be lack of interest because the players are always interested in every match. One reason assigned is that too great an effort is made to allow the natural ability to assert itself.

Affairs of the Sporting World

President Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox, has spent $21,000 for players this winter. That is $16,000 less than Cincinnati has invested to date.

Willie Heston, former star of the University of Michigan football team and greatest halfback the game ever knew, was married at Monroe, Mich., to Lydia Sisson.

Pitcher Pfeister, famous southpaw of the Chicago Cubs, says the 1908 Cubs will be better than ever, and that the National league and world's championship will be easy picking.

Dan Kelley, Michigan's star sprinter, credited with 100 yards in 9.35 seconds, says that his opinion the century dash will never be covered in 9 seconds by a human foot.

Abe Attell is training at Miller's place in Frisco, the same spot where Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchell trained for their contests at Frisco. Both Ketchell and Johnson were returned winners, and Attell feels that he will make it three straight.

Jimmy Coffroth and several other Frisco fight promoters are looking up important matches for the new year.

Coffroth hopes to match Battling Nelson and George Memsie for Washington's birthday. McFarland is to fight Tommy Murphy at Boston on January 7. This will be his first appearance in Boston.

Jerry Freeman, the popular first baseman of the Minneapolis baseball club of last year, is in danger of losing a finger of his right hand, and possibly the hand itself, through blood poisoning. A slight cut on the finger, received while opening a can of oysters, has resulted more seriously than was at first thought, and the big fellow was sent to a hospital.

The proposed trip of the White Sox to Honolulu early in the spring has fallen through, the time necessary to prepare for the journey having been exhausted. President Charles Comiskey says he would like very much to take the trip, but cannot see his way clear to do so, as he has other plans for the team's training trip which have not been completed.

It is stated that the national league has decided to respect the wishes of the American league, and the baseball season will open next spring several days later than it opened last year.

WANT TARIFF CHANGE

Members of Manufacturing
Organizations to March
On Congress.

SURPRISES LAWMAKERS.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The commercial and manufacturing organizations of the country will next week begin to bombard congress in favor of legislation creating a tariff commission. A committee representing nearly all the large organizations of this description in the country will assemble here February 4, and will call on President Roosevelt. Speaker Cannon and a large number of influential senators and representatives for the purpose of asking favorable action on a tariff commission bill.

While the committee that has been appointed is not wedded to any particular bill, it likes the Beveridge bill, the thing it is after is to get action at this session of congress.

Congressmen Surprised.

Many of the members of congress have been surprised at the widespread sentiment in favor of the creation of a tariff commission. Likewise they have been surprised at the determination of the large commercial and manufacturing associations are showing in the demand that congress pass immediately a bill creating a commission. Every republican member of congress is receiving letters from constituents favoring the proposed legislation. The American Reciprocal Tariff league, with headquarters in Chicago, seems to be exerting a powerful influence in favor of the creation of a commission. Through its exertions most of the agricultural papers from Pittsburgh to Denver are calling on their readers to write to members of congress on this subject. It has also brought the matter before various winter meetings of farmers and stockmen throughout the country, and the pressure from this source is being felt in the form of resolutions which are being forwarded to congressmen.

Frog's Narrow Escape.

A correspondent writes: "My son, aged ten and a half years, was working in the garden when a viper about two feet long glided past him. A good shot with a stone about the size of a cricket ball broke the reptile's spine, while a sharp edge of the granite cut open the belly, thereby restoring to freedom a frog, which hopped out of its prison unhurt."—Madras Mail.

Speaking.

"Did you think Miss Hawkins was speaking?"

"I'm sure I don't know," replied the young lady. "If she had, her mouth wouldn't give them a chance to be heard."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Young Baby.

From a morning paper: "Nurse wanted to look after young baby, age about eighteen." We do not know much about the subject, but is that particularly young for a baby?—London Globe.

ALLISON GETS A NEW CASTLE OFFER

Local Amateur Is Desired for That Five.

It is rumored that Carl Allison, the star rush on the Greeks' team, has been offered a regular position on the New Castle team. Without doubt "Allie" could hold down the position with great credit both to himself and the team, but it is not probable that he will accept the position as he is not desirous at the present time of entering professional polo.

COMPARTMENT CARS

Pennsylvania Railroad Will
Discontinue Their Use
After Tomorrow.

OPERATION UNPROFITABLE.

After tomorrow there will be no compartment cars run on the trains of the Pennsylvania operating through this city and between Cincinnati and Chicago. The discontinuation of these cars was decided upon at a meeting of traffic officials in Chicago Wednesday, at which time next Sunday was set as the date upon which they should be dropped out of service. This move is acknowledged to be prompted by the policy of retrenchment, though it is known that the Pullman company has been desirous of getting rid of the compartment cars for a long time.

It is pointed out that the operation of the compartment car has never been profitable in view of the fact that at no time was it possible to fill them, passengers almost invariably refusing to use the upper berths. With only the lower reserved there were never more than seven or eight passengers in the car, thus limiting the revenue derived to a point prohibitive of a satisfactory return. These cars have not been in use on trains in and out of Chicago on the Western roads for more than two years.

Hounding.

Hounding is not only an economic mistake, but an economic crime as well. It is, in fact, a survival of the evil days of maldistribution. It comes down to us from the time when nearly all governments were conquerors which considered themselves entitled to plunder their subjects. Thus hounding is founded upon distrust of the government.—Statesman, Calcutta.

SOFT COAL STRIKE NOW SEEMS CERTAIN

Pittsburg Operators Vote for Lockout If Miners Refuse
To Accept the Cut.

GOING TO INDIANAPOLIS.

WILL THERE LAY THE SITUATION WHICH CONFRONTS OPERATORS, BEFORE THE MINERS, SAY CUT IS NECESSARY.

Pittsburg, Jan. 31.—One of the worst coal strikes in the history of bituminous mining is threatened. The leading operators of the Pittsburg district decided that the miners must accept a reduction of 10 cents a ton or every mine in the Pittsburg district, which produces 55,000,000 tons annually, will be closed immediately.

A committee of operators left for the convention of miners at Indianapolis and the proposition will be presented.

The operators say it is absolutely necessary to reduce the cost of production if profit is to be made. The miners are receiving 90 cents per ton, the highest price ever paid, fixed two years ago when the country was most prosperous. This means $3.50 to $4 a day for the miners. Within the past few months, the operators say, the demand for coal has decreased, while prices have been reduced so that they are not making over five cents a ton.

It is alleged that one reason for John Mitchell's retirement from the head of the miners' union is that he does not wish to personally be in charge during the lockout which appears inevitable. It is scarcely possible the miners will continue at work under a reduction. There are 125,000 in the Pittsburg district alone.

In past fights the operators of the Pittsburg district dictated the action of those in Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois and Kentucky, and it is likely they will do so now.

HELD CHILD'S HEART

Hen Medic Commented on the

It to the Class.

INMATES WERE CUT UP.

Lincoln, Ill., Jan. 31.—Charges that Dr. C. Harriet Hook, of the Illinois home for feeble minded children, held the hearts and other parts of the bodies of dead inmates of the institutions before her auditors in her class room lectures and made glibly comments on them were gone into by the legislative committee.

Before the session began with Dr. Hook as the first witness Edward Hope, one of the members of the committee, said the committee had been informed that Dr. Hook on one occasion held up the heart of an inmate. "You remember Johnny Jones? Well, this is his heart. If you will take a good look at it you will understand the construction of the machine that pumps the blood through your body."

Dr. Hook was examined specifically on the allegation that parts of children are preserved in jars for exhibition to classes of attendants and helpers who have nothing to do with the medical treatment of inmates. She explained that the exhibition of the livers, hearts and stomachs contributed to the general information of the attendants and nurses.

"Does it make them more kind to the patients?" asked Mr. Hill.

"I presume not," she replied, "but the better educated attendant is better able to care for the patients."

Succeeded.

Gaddie—You don't seem to have made a very satisfactory impression on Borem. Cleverley—I tried very hard to do so.
