Maxwell - Briscoe Company
Cheers New Castle People
By Order Given.

MORE WORKMEN ORDERED.

New Castle, Ind., Jan. 31.—The big plant of the Maxwell-Briscoe Automobile company will in the next few weeks be in operation with a large force of men. Orders have been received from the officers of the company to put on 100 additional men next week.

The plant is progressing nearer to completion each day and when done will employ 1,500 men. At the present time the company is securing information as to the number and capacity of the boarding places, also rooming facilities, and is preparing temporarily to accommodate the large number of men who will be brought from its eastern plant.

The various departments are being operated with portable steam engines. Every feature about the big plant is given attention with the comfort of the employees in view. The washing up room will accommodate 1,200 men at a time. The company has its entire year's product already contracted for.

DATES AND FIGS.

Frugal Fare of the Desert Wanderers of the East.

While journeying across the desert Mrs. A. Goodrich Freer, author of "In a Syrian Saddle," met a lonely traveler bound for Medeba. On hearing that the caravan was bound for the same place, he asked permission to join them. Incidentally he furnished an illustration of the difference between necessities and luxuries.

We were very grateful, says the writer, for coffee and an excellent lunch of sausage, poached meat and jam, with white bread, brought from Jerusalem. We ate our dainties with some sense of guilt, as the newcomer produced his lunch of dates and figs.

Dates and figs, he informed us, were the natural food of desert wanderers, sustaining to the body, stimulating to the mind. The wheat, the flesh, above all the alcohol of civilization, were mere interferences.

Was it not diet such as this—and he waved a pair of sensitive hands over his aspic-like larder—which had enabled him to reply to the inquiry of a personage as to how many hours a day he could ride in the desert, "Twenty-four, your majesty, since a day does not contain twenty-five?"

Was it not on a diet of figs and dates that he had ridden sixty hours without dismounting? Was it your meat eater, your wine drinker, who remained sound and wholesome when necessity obliged him to refrain from abstinence for twenty-one days?

At this point he carefully counted his date stones, observed that two more were yet due to his appetite and finished his frugal luncheon.

DID NOT CHARGE ALL

Defense of Pennsylvania State Capitol Grafters Will Be Novel.

LAW ALLOWS HIM MORE.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—That John H. Sanderson did not really charge as much for furniture supplied for the new Capitol as he was entitled to under his contract will be the chief defense in the conspiracy suit against Sanderson, Snyder, Mathews and Shumaker, now on trial here.

This was developed by the cross-examination of Stanford B. Lewis, who was Architect Joseph M. Huston's active assistant during the construction and equipment of the capitol. Huston was indicted jointly with Sanderson and his codefendants, but was granted a separate trial with the consent of the commonwealth.

When it was established that Sanderson had not charged all he says he is entitled to, the attorneys for the state took up the line and ran it out. They showed that a clothes tree which Sanderson contracted to furnish for $5.55 and for which he was paid by the state $27.00, could have been billed at $147.50, according to the theory of the defense. They also showed that Sanderson charged only nineteen and one-half feet for the fifty-six foot sofa, and at the rate of $18.40 "per foot," or $389.40, instead of $1,030.40, to which he was entitled, had he charged for it at this rate.

George C. Keim, who was a bookkeeper in the department of grounds and buildings under Shumaker, testified that, in March, 1906, Shumaker gave him twenty Sanderson bills, which Shumaker said had been approved by Snyder, to enter in his journals. Before Keim had time to enter the bills Snyder took them away and Keim never saw them until they were produced in court today.

The contention of the commonwealth is that the withdrawal of these bills is part of the chain of evidence of the conspiracy by which the state was defrauded by the defendants.

Ex-Governor Pennypacker, who was president of the board of grounds and buildings while the capitol was being furnished, will not be called by the commonwealth. Mr. Pennypacker has been subpoenaed for the defense, and if he is called as a witness he will be cross-examined by the commonwealth.

OVERTAXED

Hundreds of Richmond Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—

Backache, sideache, headache. Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Richmond citizen tells here a certain cure.

Dallas Cassel, living at 711 South Eighth St., Richmond, Ind., says: "I think it was about fifteen years ago that I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I was working, and in the course of a hard day's work had quite a bit of heavy lifting which brought on severe backache and dizzy headaches. I had tried several remedies, but with no effect. Finally I was induced to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at A. G. Luken & Co's drug store. After I had taken them for a short time the dull aching in back disappeared and with it the headaches. Since that time I have not been troubled, and have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A Sicilian Child's Amulets.

In Sicily old time superstitions are still general. The constant dread of the peasantry is the evil eye, and all wear charms to ward it off. When a child is born four amulets are hung about its neck—a little horn of coral, a cockleshell, a key and a tiny sack of salt—the horn to keep away the evil eye, the shell for safe keeping, the key to enter paradise and the salt for wisdom.—Pelizzotto's "By Italian Seas."

Whiskey and Beer Habit

Very few men become drunkards because they like liquor. It is frequently the moderate drinker, who before he realizes his condition, has become a drunkard. The nervous system, having become accustomed to stimulants, is unable to do the same amount of quality of work without liquor, hence the victim drinks more and more. This is a state of disease and should be treated by Orlime. It destroys the desire for liquor, so that the drink is not missed. There is no loss of time or detention from work when it is used.

Orlme is prepared in two forms: No. 1, the secret remedy which can be used in food or drink without the knowledge of the patient; No. 2 for those who take the remedy of their own free will. Both forms are guaranteed. A registered guarantee in every box.

Treatise on how to cure drunkenness free on request. The Orlime Co., Washington, D. C. The price of either form is $1 a box making the cost of the complete cure less than one-tenth what it is usually charged at sanitariums, with a guarantee that the expense will be nothing unless a cure is gained. Mail orders filled in plain sealed package on receipt of price.

Orlme is for sale by A. G. Luken & Co., Richmond, Ind.

MANUFACTURERS AND SHIPPERS ACTIVE

Indiana Men Want a National Congress.

FOR NATIONAL LEGISLATION

The Indiana Manufacturers and Shippers' association, including in its membership practically all the prominent manufacturers and shippers of the state, is responsible for a movement looking to the organization of a national congress composed of all the state organizations of manufacturers and shippers in the country. The purpose of the national congress would be to urge national legislation that would benefit manufacturers and shippers.

The present national organization of manufacturers is composed of individuals, it is explained, not organizations. The new congress would be composed wholly of organizations, each of which would be represented at the congress meetings by their presidents or special delegates. The congress would interest itself only in national legislation.

Trade in Turkey suffers from several restrictions. In sending telegrams for instance every sentence must be studied by the censor at Constantinople and no message is allowed in cipher. Even consuls can not use codes except when telegraphing direct to their governments or to their embassy at Constantinople. The cost is doubled by having to be sent first to Constantinople and then forwarded, and of course, the normal cost is greatly increased by prohibiting business codes.

NEW MINE BUREAU

Representative Chaney Says John Mitchell Should Be President.

CONGRESS LIKES THE IDEA.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Representative Chaney, who represents a district of large coal mining interests, made a canvass of the house of representatives, to ascertain the sentiment as to the establishment of a bureau of mines and as to the man who should be appointed as chief of the bureau.

"I find," said he, "that there is a general desire that such a bureau shall be created and that John Mitchell shall take charge of it. I talked to a large number of members and all of them, republicans and democrats alike, are in favor of putting John Mitchell at the head of the bureau. One reason for this is that many congressmen feel that the bureau should exercise, as one of its functions, a conciliatory influence over both miners and operators. It is recognized that no one could achieve better results in the direction of the bringing of the operators and men together than Mr. Mitchell. The salary, I am sure, would be made a sufficient inducement to tempt him, certainly not less than $4,000 and probably as high as $5,000 a year."

The outlook is now very favorable for the creation of a bureau of mines and mining. The sentiment in the senate has been proved to be in favor of it and Mr. Chaney and others accomplished much today toward paving the way for it through the house.

It is proposed that the bureau shall make a thorough study of the causes of mining accidents with a view to minimizing the loss of life from such causes.

Professor Bordas's recent attempt to convert corundum into rubies and sapphires by means of radium recalls the fact that although there are at the present time a dozen different methods of making artificial diamonds, none of the stones produced by these methods can compare with those made of old French paste the secret of which is lost. So perfect were paste diamonds that it was difficult for even a person with expert knowledge of diamonds to tell that they were artificially produced whereas most of the modern artificial diamonds can easily be detected, and their durability is not so great as the old paste diamonds. Indeed, wood paste diamonds are now almost as valuable as real diamonds.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN IS NOW IN JAIL

Rode Across Farmers' Fields And Caused Consternation.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 31.—The mysterious woman who has been riding a pony and leading a pack of dogs through Spencer and Perry counties for several weeks, was arrested at Rockport and sent to jail for being a public nuisance. She refused to give her name and was put on trial as "Jane Doe."

The woman refuses to talk. She has been sleeping in barns and haystacks and her dogs have raided hen yards and killed pigs and sheep. She had fourteen dogs when she first appeared in Spencer county, but the farmers, whose ire was aroused because she hurled their fences and rode rampant across field and meadow, killed all but five of the canines.

The woman appears to be about 30 years old and is dressed in rough clothing, with shirts that strike her at the knees. She has been begging her living from farmers' homes and they aver she has raided their poultry yards. Where she came from or what she is remains an absolute mystery.
