NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the Second ward of the city of Richmond, Wayne township, Wayne County, Indiana, that I, the undersigned, a male inhabitant of the State of Indiana, for more than ninety days prior to the time of the filing of said application, and a person over the age of twenty-one years and of good moral character, intend to apply to the Board of County Commissioners of said County and State at their next regular session commencing on the first Monday in March, 1908, for a license to sell intoxicating liquors, vinous and malt liquors in a less quantity than five gallons at a time, and permit the same to be drunk on the premises where sold, in accordance with the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, approved March 17th, 1875, as well as other laws of the State now in force.

And I further state I am and will be the actual and sole owner and proprietor of the said business, should a license be granted to me, and that I am not acting and will not act as the agent or partner of another in the conduct of the same.

The precise location of the premises in which I desire to sell said intoxicating, vinous and malt liquors, as aforesaid, should a license be granted me, is as follows, to-wit: Being a certain room No. 420, on the ground floor fronting on Main street, of building known as the Commercial Hotel, situated on lots Nos. 15 and 16 in Jeremiah Cox's addition to the City of Richmond, Wayne Township, Wayne County, Indiana.

THE BARBER SHAVED.

Noted by the Barber That Not Quiet His Nerves.

There were five of us hunting and fishing in the Queensland bush when one rainy day a stranger appeared. He said he was a tramp barber, and as none of us had been shaved for a fortnight we gave him half a day's work.

About four hours after he had left us a band of six men rode up, and the leader inquired if we had seen a tall, roughly dressed man pass that way. We told him of the barber, and he looked from man to man and exclaimed:

"Good gracious, but you are all freshly shaved!"

"Yes, we gave the barber a job," "And he shaved each one of you?" "He did and did it well."

"The boys, do you hear that?" shouted the man as he turned to his companions.

"What of it?" asked one of our party. "Why, he went insane yesterday and cut a man's throat in his barber's chair over at Unadilla, and we're after him to put him in an asylum."

They rode away at a gallop, and next morning returned to our camp with the man, who had been captured after a hard fight and was tied on his horse. He seemed to remember us when he was given a drink of water, and as he handed the cup back he quietly observed:

"I say, gentlemen, please excuse me. I meant to finish off the last man who got shaved, but I got to thinking of something else, and it slipped my mind."—Cape Times.

Beacon Fires in China.

In China such beacon fires as spread the alarm of the Spanish armada through England used to be the call to war. Many years ago, the story goes, the emperor sat with a beautiful woman looking toward the beacon hills. She would like to see those waiting piles lighted, and upon her insistence the thing was done. The greatest excitement prevailed throughout the province, and troops came hurrying in from all sides. When the leaders learned that no danger menaced, that the fires were lighted to satisfy the whim of a woman, their wrath fed on their lost confidence, and with the actual call to arms the response was slow and unenthusiastic. It was a repetition of the old story in Webster's spelling book. "Wolf" had been cried too often.

The Hub Of The Body.

The organ around which all the other organs revolve, and upon which they are largely dependent for their welfare, is the stomach. When the functions of the stomach become impaired, the bowels and liver also become impaired. To cure a disease of the stomach, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is the best remedy. It is the most prompt relief for constipation and deranged bowels.

Repentance of the Shop.

"I never was so insulted in my life!" said the girl with the brown eyes indignantly.

"Explain further," was the request. "Why, you know Fido chewed up the muff to that set of gray furs of mine, and so I went into a shop today to see if I could find a muff that would replace it. I told the clerk what I wanted. He couldn't find anything that would suit, so he called another clerk. This one hunted high and low, he dragged out muffs till they heaped the counter, but he couldn't find one that would match. Finally he called the proprietor, a fat, stuffy man, who came waddling down the aisle and said, 'What is the trouble?'

"I can't make a match," I said almost tearfully.

"Why, that's funny," he said in a hatefully patronizing manner. "What's the matter with the men?"—New York Press.

Michelangelo.

Michelangelo stood in the front rank both as painter and sculptor. In both arts he was worthy of the highest praise. The fresco of the "Last Judgment" in the Sistine chapel is considered the most wonderful picture in the world, showing the omnipotence of artistic science and the fiery daring of conception that but few other painters can even approximate. In sculpture the "Moses" and the "Slaves," not to mention other pieces, rang among the finest creations of the art and proclaim Michelangelo to have been as masterful with his chisel as he was with his brush.—New York American.

A Surprise.

Teacher—Fredly Fangle, you may give the German name of the river Danube.

Fredly—Danube.

Teacher—Don't! That is right. I am glad you have studied your lesson so well.

Fredly is surprised, but keeps still.—Exchange.

Joining the Grandad.

A fond grandfather and father were admiring the new baby. Fond Grandfather—I declare! That youngster is a great deal more intelligent than you were at his age. Insulted Father—Naturally, he has a great deal brighter father!—Life.

A Mere Painting.

She—Why, no. The stolen Gainsborough was not a hat—it was a picture. Her Husband—Oh, I thought from the value that it was a hat.—Town and Country.

Strike from mankind the principle of faith and men would have no more history than a flock of sheep.—Lytton.

Never was good work done without much trouble.—Chinese Proverb.
