CUDAHY OFFERED AN INDIAN BRIDE

Saved the Life of Chief Horse Eagle.

Bliss, Okla., Feb. 11.—After saving the life of Chief Horse Eagle, of the Ponca Indians, at the risk of his own, John Cudahy, Jr., son of the Chicago packer, was forced to decline the chief's offer of his loveliest daughter as a wife in the presence of the blushing Indian maiden herself.

Tonight Cudahy is laid up with two broken ribs and lacerated scalp at the 101 ranch, while 100 Indian braves and medicine men are holding wild orgies and dance on the rolling prairie about the ranch house as an appeal to the Great Father for Cudahy's quick recovery.

Cudahy plunged into an icy river today and cut the brittle ice in which the chief was entangled after his pony broke through the ice. The animal broke his ribs with a kick during its frantic plungings.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING

City Schools Begin the Second Semester Under Favorable Circumstances.

ONLY ONE NEW TEACHER.

Everything connected with the re-opening of the public schools, on Monday, for the new term, was of the most satisfactory nature. At every building the work was speedily organized and today the routine had been fully established. The large number of promotions at the February period results in the necessity of reclassification of students and requires the first day of the term for this work. It is necessary in many cases to purchase new books and other supplies. It is probable that the enrollment for the term will run to a very high figure. No material change has been made in the list of teachers, except the addition of Prof. B. W. Kelly to the faculty of the high school.

PITFALLS OF ENGLISH.

Our Puzzling Language and Its Words of More Than One Meaning.

Of all modern languages English is undoubtedly the most difficult to acquire. In addition to the ordinary pitfalls of forms and idioms that entrap the foreigner struggling for mastery of a strange tongue, there is one so peculiar to ours that nothing even remotely similar presents itself in any other language, whether ancient or modern.

This is the paradoxical word, the word which has two meanings diametrically opposed to each other. It is not enough that, with all the wealth of words borrowed from half a score of other languages, we must impose a double and often a multiple burden on some poor little monoglossic word like "get," for instance, whose meanings are legion. Our language must needs confound the student at the gates with the paradox. To give a few examples:

The word "let" means to "allow" or "permit" and likewise to "prevent," "hinder" or "refuse," meanings diametrically opposite. "I will let you do it" in the former sense is hardly more common in use than the phrase "without let or hindrance," and Shakespeare has it, "By heaven, I'll make a ghost of him that lets (prevents) me!"

"Cleave" means to split asunder as well as to "adhere" or "bind" closely. Scott makes Marmion threaten to "cleave the Douglas's head," while holy writ enjoins upon the husband to "cleave unto his wife."

Another example is "lucid," which means both a "dull red" and also a "pale green" hue, tints that are exactly opposed in the scale of color. While the former is the more common meaning, the latter is more scholarly correct, as the word is derived through the Latin from the Greek adjective meaning "greenish blue."

Again, we have "fast." A horse that is "fast" may be in rapid motion or standing tied stock still. In either sense, whether of motion or immobility, the word emphasizes the idea.

Examples of this bewildering pitfall of our tongue might be multiplied indefinitely. It may be said of the English speaking world as it was said of the old Romans—that their supremacy is due to the fact that they do not have to learn their own language.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Wire hairpins were first manufactured in England in 1545. Before that time the hair was held in place by the wooden skewers.

GOMPERS DECLARES FOR THE LABORERS

Brutal Are Declarations That Workingman Must Submit or Starve.

MAKES REPLY TO MORGAN.

SAYS THAT HE DOES NOT WANT FOREIGN CONDITIONS DUPLICATED HERE IN THIS RICH COUNTRY.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—W. D. Huber, of the Carpenters' union, and W. J. Spence were temporary president and secretary, respectively, of the convention of 75 delegates that assembled here yesterday to organize a department of building trades in the American Federation of Labor. President Gompers welcomed the delegates, saying, among other things:

"Yesterday there appeared in the newspapers an interview with J. Pierpont Morgan, the greatest financier of our country.

"The interview was published in two newspapers, one of them sent me a telegram, asking for an answer to Mr. Morgan. I shall read the telegram—that gives the substance of the interview, and I shall want to say a word or two in regard to it."

"In an interview published J. Pierpont Morgan declared that labor must learn that it cannot control industry. Renewals of employment are not wanted now. He declares federations will be powerless to prevent wage reductions, because work is partly stopped. Working men cannot strike because there are no jobs now. There are no stocks on hand you know," says Morgan, "and we do not want to take up work now. So what can they do? They will have to submit or they will starve. The question is to be settled. They are to learn that they cannot control industry. We want wages that will make honest living and profit possible."

"In the paper is a statement of an interview with a gentleman who has made a study of conditions in New York, in which he says that one out of every three men is idle in New York City. Idle for what? The material is there, the machinery is there, the hands and intelligence are there, and yet men and children in the schools cry for food.

"Calls It Treason.
"It is not only brutal and inhuman, but it is treason to our country and to the human race for any one to think, much less give expression to the idea, that the working people must submit further or starve.

"The American workingmen have come to the conclusion, if I have any conception of their thoughts, their hopes and their expressions, that the conditions that obtain in other countries, where there are large armies of unemployed, will not obtain in the United States; it will not be tolerated. If we permit it, it will be our own fault, and we will have failed in our duty to each other, to our fellow citizens of today and the days to come. But we are true to each other, we are intelligent and we are sympathetic. We are earnest and honest, loyal citizens of the United States and true to the traditions of our country, true to the unions of labor. I appeal to you and all labor that as we build up our unions we build up a sentiment of fraternity and solidarity in the hearts of the men of labor."

Suffering & Dollars Saved.
E. S. Loner, of Marilla, N. Y., says: "I am a carpenter and have had many severe cuts healed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It has saved me suffering and dollars. It is by far the best healing salve I have ever found." Heals burns, sores, ulcers, fever sores, eczema and piles. 25c at A. G. Luken & Co., druggist.

CHIEF OF ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ACTIVE

Says He Will Testify on Corruption Fund.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 11.—Theodore Alvord, state President of the Anti-Saloon League, last night mailed to Senator Fisher, Chairman of the Senate Committee appointed to investigate the story that a $150,000 corruption fund had been raised by the liquor lobby to defeat the prohibition resolution now in the Senate, a letter in which he stated his willingness to appear before the committee and give testimony, if they desired.

The foes of prohibition have claimed that the story of the midnight meeting, at which the large sum was said to have been raised, originated with Alvord, who told Miss Nina Ayres, a reporter. She defied the authority of the lawmakers and refused to tell the name of her informant. The liquor interests, following her refusal to divulge the name of her informant, attributed the report to Alvord. He returned to the city last night from Washington and immediately "got busy."

TO THE VOTERS OF WAYNE TOWNSHIP:

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my many friends for the splendid vote I received in my race for Township Assessor and I appreciate very much the fact that I was given a large vote than I received four years ago. CHARLES E. POTTER.

RESULT OF THE CONFERENCE SHOWN

Said to Be Tentative Arrangement on Bill of Lading.

Washington, Feb. 11.—It is said that as an outgrowth of the conference of railroad officials and representatives of shipping organizations held in Washington last week, a tentative arrangement on a uniform bill of lading, subject to ratifications by the railroad interests, has been arranged so far as the Eastern classification territory is concerned. It is expected that the lines in that territory probably will adopt a form of the bill of lading to be suggested by the commission.

MISSIONARY'S PRAISE

Coughs, colds, grip and throat troubles are epidemic now. Beware! No other ailments destroy the tissue of throat and lungs more quickly.

For the prevention of pneumonia, bronchitis or consumption, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best, safest and surest cure. Try it before you call in a doctor. In view of my long and always successful experience with having used this reliable remedy in my family for a period of 23 years and having found it to be the best medicine for throat trouble, I unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers from bronchial affections. M'GOWAN LINE HAS FRANCHISE FIGHT

Terre Haute and Brazil Are After the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern.

A BOYCOTT IS DECLARED.

CASE IS VERY SIMILAR TO THE ONE IN RICHMOND, ONLY RESIDENTS AND MERCHANTS CARRYING BATTLE FARTHER.

Terre Haute, Feb. 11.—The Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Eastern Traction company has a fight on its franchise rights in Brazil and Terre Haute, which has started in a way to menace the ability of the company to operate its interurban lines. At Brazil the County Commissioners ordered the County Surveyor to cut down the poles if they are in the highway, which is reported to be the fact. The company was notified to disconnect its wires with the courthouse and other public buildings, contracts having been made otherwise for lighting these buildings. County and other public officers who have been using pass-books have turned them in. The merchants have boycotted the line and are getting all freight from Terre Haute and Indianapolis by steam roads, and residents between Terre Haute and Brazil are riding in wagons and other vehicles. The City Council also is to take action requiring conditions which will be burdensome to the company.

In Terre Haute, City Attorney Rawley has given the opinion that with this opinion the Mayor should take action to prevent the company operating the service until it obtains a franchise. When the company began the through service between Indianapolis and Terre Haute recently a readjustment of fares between Terre Haute and Brazil was made by which there was an increase, and in some instances it is as high as three cents a mile. A year ago the company asked Terre Haute for an interurban franchise, but no agreement was reached, and Hugh McGowan was due, according to his letter, to come to the city last fall and reach an agreement. He did not come, and meanwhile while he has been using the streets for the interurban service.

Vegetable Gluttons.

Sundews, common in English marshes, are sufficiently knowing to distinguish between various substances presented to them. Offer them a nice scrap of tender beef, and in a couple of hours they will have concealed it from sight. Try them with a piece of chalk or a tiny pebble, and they remain stolidly immovable. Wet the chalk and offer it again, and the plant apparently mistakes it for meat, the bristles gradually closing round it, then, discovering the deception, they gradually relax and return the chalk without thanks. These vegetable gluttons will absorb morsels of poached eggs and mutton chops, but cheese turns the leaves quite black and finally kills them.

Saluting the Flag.

Army regulations prescribe in detail what honors shall be paid to the flag, and these regulations are implicitly and gladly observed. No matter how little one may relish the duty of showing the respect due to some military superior, he is always ready and glad to do honor to his flag. Whenever any one in the military service of the United States passes near the unfurled colors or whenever the flag passes before him, he is required to remove his cap in salute, and if sitting he is required to rise and stand at "attention" until the flag has passed.—St. Nicholas.

SALOONS MUST CLOSE

According to Law Passed by Last Legislature, Wednesday Is Legal Holiday.

IS LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

Saloons in Richmond must be closed on Wednesday, the anniversary of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln. This is in accordance with a law passed by the last Indiana legislature, making both the anniversary of Lincoln's birth and of Washington's birth legal holidays. The banks will also be closed. Chief of Police Bailey had notice served today on the saloonkeepers that they must not open tomorrow. This makes two days that these places of business will have to close in a single week, none of them being allowed to open on primary day.

Progress.

Graveyard of Asiatics.

The northern territory is the graveyard of innumerable Asiatics, who enter by way of the gulf of Carpentaria in quest of gold. Death from thirst and starvation accounts for thousands. The few who survive return to China to spread the fame of Australia's relentless solitude and hunger tracks.—Chambers' Journal.

Advice.

"What would you do?" asked the excited politician. "If a paper should call you a liar and a thief?"
"Well," said the lawyer, "if I were you I'd toss up a cent to see whether I'd reform or lick the editor."—Cleveland Leader.

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF WAYNE COUNTY:

I desire publicly to thank my many friends who stood by me so loyally in the campaign just ended. I am profoundly grateful to each one who gave me his support and only wish I might be able to thank each one personally.
Sincerely,

CRUCIFIXION IS SLANDEROUS MYTH

This Is the Way Emil G. Hirsch Thinks of It.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—The story of the crucifixion of Jesus by the Jews was declared to be a slanderous myth by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch at Sinai Temple today. He regarded the account of the crucifixion as largely fanciful and declared intolerant Christians had distorted it to make it appear that the Jews executed the founder of the christian church.

"The account of the crucifixion is not possible of belief by those who have studied the customs of the age in which that great leader lived," said Dr. Hirsch. "The Jewish law did not provide such a punishment and the Jews could not have enforced it if it had. The details of the trial are not in accordance with the practice. Finally, the varying accounts of the supposed event in the different gospels are so contradictory that no judge would admit them in evidence in any court."
