

RELIABLE JAMES CAMERON SIGNED

First Baseman of Last Season Once More in the Quaker Fold.

MINZLER WAS RELEASED.

POPULAR SHORT STOP'S STICK WORK RESPONSIBLE FOR JESSUP'S ACTION—LEAGUE SEASON OPENS IN RICHMOND MAY 8

(By Tort)

Manager Jessup announced last evening that he had secured the signed contract of Jim Cameron, the polo star who also was a member of the local independent base ball club a part of last season, and that he would get into the game next Sunday. Cameron will be played at his old position, first base, and his addition will give the team its required batting strength. It is probable that Burns, the big southpaw first baseman, will be shifted to the outfield. Cameron, Parker, Hurst, Baumann and Bambrugh are good reliable batters. Manager Jessup and Shinn are also players who can be depended upon to hit well. Burns has not yet shown that he can line 'em out but he appears to be a youngster who will hit with the best of them after he gets to playing regularly. As the team now stands, summing everything up, it should be the best hitting and fielding aggregation that has represented this city on the diamond for some time.

Minzler Released.

Manager Jessup yesterday handed "Gov." Minzler, the popular little shortstop, his release. Richmond fans will hate to see the little fellow go, but Manager Jessup was forced to take this action as there appeared to be no place on the team for the Germantown midget. He is a beautiful fielder, but his work with the stick is light. It was because of Bauman's superior batting that he was chosen over Minzler.

Jessup at Marion.

Manager Jessup left this morning for Marion where he will play in the polo games between the two all-star teams. These teams play there again Wednesday night and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights they will show at Muncie. The little manager is not expected home until next Sunday, when the Quakers will probably lineup against the ancient enemy, the Dayton Shilohs. During the absence of Jessup, Captain Parker will have charge of the squad, and he states that all of the men will be given a thorough workout in final preparation for the league season, which opens a week from today with the locals at Van Wert.

On Friday, May 8, the opening of the I.O. league season will be observed here with Logansport as the attraction. The usual parade to the park and the customary ceremonies there will be observed. Mayor Schilling will probably leave the first ball over the plate, or in the general direction of the plate. It is expected that there will be a big crowd in attendance.

Wayne the day after the murder. Reynolds is charged with receiving stolen goods. When arrested he had some of the money young Blake stole from his mother after he had killed her. Reynolds has been in jail since he was arrested.

Overheard on the Street.

Two well known men were seen laughing heartily on Main street Monday. When asked the reason by the reporter they said their wives had used Easy Task soap, finished their washing by noon and for the first time in years sat down to a square meal with them on wash day. As each had the same experience, they were convulsed with laughter.

The Twilight of Life.

The muscles of the stomach in old age are not as strong or active as in youth and in consequence old people are very subject to constipation and indigestion. Many seldom have a bowel movement without artificial aid. Many also have unpleasant eructations of gas from the stomach after eating. All this can be avoided by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which permanently regulates the bowels so that the stomach that food is digested without discomfort. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold at 50 cents or $1 a large bottle.

EARLHAM IS BEATEN

Close 1 to 0 Game Went to Kentucky State University.

WHITE TAPPED A FEW.

With White in the box the Earlham collegians bit the dust yesterday afternoon before the prowess of the Kentucky State University, diamond heroes. The game went seven innings, the southland collegians winning out 1 to 0. Cautel was in the box for the Kentuckians and the Quakers could do nothing with his delivery. White was also very effective and received good support. It was a mislay on his part that lost the game. In the fourth Giltner drew transportation and went to second on White's miscue in attempting to catch him at that bag. Creel scored him on a steaming single. White was tapped for five hits but the Quakers could only connect for one safety. Frigid weather kept the attendance down.

MEN ACCUSED OF ASSAULT RELEASED

Both Laster and Botts Free Men.

Because the prosecuting witnesses in their casts did not wish to appear against them and assume the publicity that would result, Frederick Botts and French Laster, two young men charged with attempting to abuse women and girls, were released on their own recognizance in the Wayne circuit court yesterday. Both were ordered to leave the city and not return. The young men promised.

Botts was charged with provoking Mary Sherry, a little girl. It was alleged he made improper advances toward her some days ago and she resented and appealed to the police. The arrest of Botts followed. He has been confined in jail for some time awaiting trial.

French Laster is a young Tennessee native who was arrested and charged with assault and battery on Miss Mary McGreevy. Laster could give no plausible story of his whereabouts on the night of the assault and the authorities believed he could have been convicted upon trial. He is an ignorant young man, who neither can read nor write. He gave his age as eighteen. The lad claimed never to have been in trouble before. Botts has served time.

MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANTS FAILURES

Marston Says He Knows of None That Are Not a Burden to Tax Payers.

HE COMES TO RICHMOND.

WILL ADDRESS MEMBERS OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB AND HIS SPEECH WILL BE TIMELY IN VIEW OF AGITATION HERE.

Glenn Marston, a municipal statistician of New York city, has been secured by the Commercial club to deliver an address in this city Monday, May 11. Mr. Marston has made an especial study of municipal matters and the club deemed it particularly apropos to hear his lecture while the city is considering again the proposition of the Richmond Light, Heat and Power company to purchase the municipal electric light plant. Mr. Marston has lectured throughout the country and it is said his addresses set forth matters not usually considered in questions dealing with municipal ownership. He asserts conditions in this country are not the same as in England and Scotland, which countries are cited constantly for reference and comparison in discussion of municipal subjects. Mr. Marston is said to be a very pleasing talker.

Mr. Marston holds that the only form of public control of public utilities that has met with enough success to justify its continuance, is through state commissions. The demand for public control is declared not to be caused by a general laxity on the part of corporations, but is due to abuse of privilege on the part of a comparatively small number of companies. He holds the demand for some kind of adequate control first found expression in the wave of municipal ownership which spread over the country a few years ago. He declares it to have been a step in the right direction as it showed that the public is waking up to the abuses which have been countenanced under the often almost unlimited powers granted to corporations through their franchises. The statistician claims it was expected municipal ownership would cure all the ills to which a corporation is heir. The result was found to be just the opposite. Public ownership in the United States has proved a failure. It is asserted by Mr. Marston that he does not know a single electric lighting or gas plant in the United States, which gives good service at reasonable rates without being a burden on the tax payer. "These losses are often concealed by clever bookkeeping," Mr. Marston has stated "but the real facts eventually must become known and we find that in the last fourteen months, about thirty municipal lighting plants have been sold, leased or abandoned—one every two weeks."

State control is pointed to as the remedy by Mr. Marston. He claims the ideal public service law would provide for regulation of rates and capital expenditures, publicity of reports, a uniform system of accounting, limiting competition power to compel improvements in service, and regulation of combinations and consolidations. Absolute power for commissions is not advocated but appeal should be so limited that a company can not run to the courts repeatedly and have the ruling of the commission set aside.

Manila, P. I. Concern Has Been Victim of Extensive Frauds. ARRESTS HAVE BEEN MADE.

Manila, April 28.—The Banco Espanol-Filipino has been the victim of extensive frauds, totaling about $60,000 in gold. The cashier says that through trusted employees who have been operating with outside accomplices and honoring checks against non-existing accounts, altering the books to conceal the frauds, this leak has been going on for years.

One clerk has been arrested and other arrests are expected to follow. The bank will partly recoup itself through the seizure of property belonging to those implicated.

AGED PEOPLE GREET OLD TIME RESIDENT

Unique Gathering at Williamsburg, Sunday.

A very enjoyable Sunday was spent by several people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Franklin, of Williamsburg, Ind. The guest of honor Jesse Bond of Mexico, Ind., was one of Wayne county's former residents. His father came to Richmond from North Carolina and settled on the farm where Earham college is now located. He then entered land near Greensfork, Ind., and later entered another piece of land near Peru, Ind. His son, Jesse, while working on this farm, met the lady of his choice, Jane Cox. They were married and rode horseback from that place to his home near Greensfork, Ind., and later entered another piece of land near Peru, Ind. in a wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen and a team of horses.

Mr. Bond is now visiting his daughter, Emaline Moore of Parker, Ind., and since he has so many friends and relatives in this county, who were very anxious to see him, it was planned for him to meet them yesterday. He is 80 years old, but says he is still a boy. He is very active for a man of his age.

The day was spent in an enjoyable manner. At the noon hour the table was spread with all those good things, which it is the privilege of one to enjoy on such occasions. Mrs. James Ladd, who has been confined to her room since Christmas, was taken in her chair to enjoy this occasion with the rest.

The following were present, the first nine of whom are over 61 years of age: Jesse Bond, Henry Bond, Abner Bond, Andrew Moore, Emaline Moore, Oliver Wilson, Lydia Campbell, Milton Cain, Adaline Cain, James Ladd, Mattie Ladd, Herlan Wilson, Florence Wilson, Horace Wilson, Charles Wilson, Verna Wilson, Ralph Wilson, Lulu Cain, Omer Wilson, Cora Wilson, Elden Wilson, James A. Franklin, Clara Franklin, Chester Franklin, Lydia Franklin, Louis B. Campbell, Emma Campbell, Thelma Campbell, Roy Campbell, Elbert Campbell, Gertrude Cain, Walter Cain.

The Distant Stars.

Few persons would guess that the smallest things visible to the eye are the stars. Yet, according to high authority, such is the case. Great as many of the stars are in actual magnitude, their distance is so immense that their angular diameter becomes insensible and they approach to the condition of geometrical points. The minute disks that they appear to have are spurious—an effect of radiation.
