

ONE CENT PER WORD Each Insertion

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

THE MARKET PLACE OF EASTERN INDIANA

The Simplest and Cheapest Way to Get What You WantAll Advertisements Must Be in This Office Before 12 Noon.Situations Wanted
Will Be Advertised Free

7 DAYS FOR THE PRICE OF 5

WANTED.

WANTED—First class girl to do cooking, etc.; no washing; good wages to right one; call 1426 Main street. 2-11

WANTED—Competent white girl for house work, in family of two. 100 N. 13th. Best of wages. 1-7

WANTED—Situation by a good girl in a good family. Address "Z." care Palladium. 1-31

WANTED—Men to learn barber trade; will equip shop for you or furnish positions, few weeks complete, constant practice, careful instructions, tools given. Saturday wages, diplomas granted, write for catalogue. Moler Barber College, Cincinnati, O. 11

WANTED—Two good girls for general housework and to take care of two children. Apply Mrs. James Morrison, N. E. corner 16th and S. E. 25-11

WANTED—See Morehead for professional vault cleaning. Phone 2177. 938 Butler Street. may16-17

WANTED—Manager for branch office we wish to locate here in Richmond. Address with reference, The Morris Wholesale House, Cincinnati, Ohio. 4-30

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—City real estate. Porterfield, Kelley Black. 9-11

FOR SALE—Cheap road wagon at 828 Main. 3-7

FOR SALE—Columbia motorcycle at 1/4 the regular cost. In first class condition. Call Brown-Darnell Co., 1022 Main St. Fri&Sun

PUBLIC SALE of household goods. Monday, July 6th at 2 o'clock p. m. No. 207 N. 15th St. T. R. Woodhurst, Auctioneer. tu&sat

FOR SALE—Some nice vacant lots in east end. Cheap on payments. See me quick. Al H. Hunt, 7 North 9th. 2-4

FOR SALE—Good buggy, good condition, 200 Linden Ave. 2-31

FOR SALE—Needles, cils and repairs for all sewing machines. R. M. Lacey, 539 Main. 1-7

FOR SALE—Mission Wood on sewing machine. Something entirely new. Call and see them. R. M. Lacey, 539 Main. 1-7

FOR SALE—One seven foot, 3 spring wagon. See or call Meerhoff the Plumber. 1-11

FOR SALE—Dressed turtle and fish. Muth's Fish Market. Phone 1535. 29-7

FOR SALE—A car load of horses every Saturday and Monday at Gus Taube's barn. 9-11

PALLADIUM WANT ADS PAY.

FOUND.

FOUND—Money in Centerville. Owner may have by identifying and paying for the cost of this ad. William Shinn, 621 N. 13th. 5-11

LOST.

LOST—$10 bill in paper money. Return to Koorsen & Taube, Gro. 4-21

LOST—Gold Leaf Brooch valued as a present. Return to Palladium office. 4-21

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Large furnished front room, bath; 415 N. 15th. 2-7

FOR RENT—Rooms for light housekeeping or boarding; 103 N. 17th. 2-31

FOR RENT—Eight room house, bath, electricity and gas; 1510 N. E. St. 1-7

Apply to Mrs. M. A. Kiehlhorn, 74 S. 17th. 2-11

FOR RENT—Desk room. See Al H. Hunt, 7 North 9th St. 3-31

FOR RENT—Three rooms, 207 South 5th St. 3-21

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms; also office rooms, with steam heat and bath; at The Grand, for gent only. 3-4-11

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished rooms. All modern conveniences, 115 N. 12th St. 1-7

MISCELLANEOUS.

LOST—White poodle. Reward if returned to 112 South 5th. 3-11

MONEY LOANED—On easy terms. Thompson's Agency, 710 Main St. June 12 Fri&Sat 11

FIRE INSURANCE—Richmond Insurance Agency, Hans N. Kohl, Mar. 716 Main. may3 sun & thur 11

FIRE, Life, Accident and Health. E. B. Knollenberg, Room 6, Knollenberg Annex. jun16-tu, fri, sun 11

Instantaneous Water Heaters of all kinds. See them in operation at Meerhoff's, 9 S. 9th. Let us figure on your plumbing, heating and lighting. 1-11

CHANGE OF OFFICE—Dr. Robert A. Chaffin, dentist. Successor to Dr. P. Harding, Westcott Block. Phone 1716. 29-7

WAYNE Cleaning and Excavating Co. Cisterns cleaned and repaired. Hardwood floors refinished. Furniture and wall paper cleaned. Cement and sewer work, whitewashing. Household goods crated for shipment, 1016 Main street, Richmond, Ind. Home phone 1630. 18-11

GAS WATER HEATERS and hot weather surdries at Meerhoff's. Both phones. 21-11

SCHOOL.

SCHOOL—Next Monday is the time to begin your course at the Richmond Business college. 30-7

LAUNDRY.

We can help make you happy—honestly we can. Richmond Steam Laundry.

"I have a secret," said the sweet singer. "I shall have to use a cough syrup."

"Use only tar syrup," spoke up the manager.

"Does it make any difference?"

"Yes, everything depends on the pitch of your voice."

Floored.

One Sexton—Do you have matins at your church? The Other—No, we have o'clock.—Harper's Weekly.

MAY BE LAST TRIAL

Brookbank Not Thought to Have Attempted to Murder
Rushville Marshal.

A STORY OF THE CASE.

New Castle, Ind., July 4.—Charles Brookbank, the Fayette county school teacher, will, in all probability, not again have to face the charge of assault and battery with intent to commit murder. Brookbank was tried in the Henry Circuit Court, on a charge of venue from Rush county, of assault with intent to commit murder, the victim being Town Marshal Price, of Rushville.

The alleged assault took place at Rushville on the night of the Watson-Hall reception. Price was trying to arrest an intoxicated man on an interurban car, when he and Brookbank became involved. Brookbank testified that the marshal was about to put his eye out with his thumb and was beating him with his mace when he drew the revolver from his pocket and it was discharged. The court's instructions were to the effect that if a man was not guilty of any misdemeanor and an officer tried to arrest him, he was entitled to use force sufficient to resist. Nine of the jury stood for acquittal and three for conviction, and the failure to acquit was a great disappointment to Brookbank who has always borne a good reputation.

PLAN REUNION OF PENNVILLE STUDENTS

Hoped Affair This Year Will Be Successful.

Cambridge City, Ind., July 4.—There will be a meeting at the home of John Wickes in Pennville Sunday afternoon, of all the present and former students of the Pennville school to make arrangements for their annual reunion and picnic, which will be held in the very near future. This is always a big and very pleasant reunion and it is the hope of the committee that this year it may be more successful than ever before. It is always attended by some of the very first students, and people who are located a great distance from here. Cambridge City expects to have a large delegation.

NO CLUE OBTAINED.

Superintendent Bailey stated last night the police department has obtained no clue in the case of the robbery of the Chenoweth & Dykeman dental offices. The police maintain the theft must have been committed by some one who was acquainted with the interior of the rooms.

15c and 18c

RED SEAL

DRESS GINGHAMS

34c Yd

And a thousand other bargains at

Railroad Store

Sale begins

Tuesday, July 7

Sixteen Year Old Boy Travels 6,000 Miles on Just Six Dollars

Chicago, July 4.—Could you travel 6,000 miles, gain seven pounds in weight, and return home the picture of a Remington westerner in complexion on $6?

Alexander Schick the 16-year-old son of Mrs. Jacob Schick, 555 Bernice avenue, has just completed the feat. In place of riding comfortable in vestibule cars and stopping at hotels en route, he rode on everything that travels on two tracks, from a section car to the top of a passenger coach, and slept wherever men of the law were not likely to interfere. The largest sum expended for a meal during the trip was 15 cents, and that sumptuous repast was secured in a Cincinnati restaurant where the atmosphere and crockery were thick.

The youthful adventurer, who was a choir boy before he turned cosmopolitan, left the parental hearth, Feb. 15 to win a dollar his uncle, Alfred Bower of Indianapolis, Ind., had offered him if he displayed enough nerve to stay away from home four days without calling on his mother for aid. He not only remained away from home four days, but found "hoboing" such good sport that he traversed the whole of the southern and western states before he decided to return and claim his dollar.

Cooks—"Mulligan" for Mother.

Young Schick is now an adept in the jargon and methods of subsistence of the hobo. Since his return the Schick household has had considerable difficulty in following his conversation. He has persisted in going into the kitchen and cooking a dish called "Mulligan," which is a hash made from "pickups" or "handouts." Mrs. Schick consented to his cooking the mess one evening and since then they haven't cared much for anything in the way of food.

After "Alex," as his mother calls him, had been away from home three days the following postal was received from him:

Dear Ma—Am in Lima, O. The first night I was on the road I slept in a box car, the second in a mission house and the third in a jail. That's going some. You can never stave to death on the road, because the people take too much pity on you this time of the year. Love to all.

ALEX.

The boy went to New Orleans via section car, freight train and the "blind" of a baggage car. In Birmingham he was thrown into jail for trying to establish sleeping quarters in a box car. It was a "rummy burg," he said, and he "beat" it for the west when he was released, traveling night and day. When he reached Arizona and began to rub up against Chinamen, Japanese and Mexicans, his ideas about the pity of people shown wanderers underwent radical changes. He stalked the desert three days, hungry and thirsty, before he succeeded in "swinging a blind."

Chased by Police.

Several times he met the same fate that the Birmingham police handed to him. He reached Los Angeles on the top of a Pullman. He wrote his mother a postal and told her that everything was fine on the coast and then sought a box car on a siding to spend the night. When he woke up he found the car sealed and attached to a train speeding somewhere, which turned out to be San Francisco. After spending a night in the car in the Golden City, he was unloaded with the lumber and placed in the care of a policeman. He saw enough of the earthquake and "San Fran" to satisfy him and started for home at the first opportunity. The trip was made in ten days with few meals.

Young Schick says that he is not likely to yearn for the "road" again. He has secured a position in the Stock Exchange and intends to stay in Chicago. He has written his uncle for the dollar.

and chairman of the national committee, declares nobody can talk about who is to be vice-president.

"There is nothing to that story of the New York candidates withdrawing," said Mr. Mack. "Nobody will know about that until the New York delegation holds its caucus on Monday."

After all the talking is over the bosses will get together in Denver and decide on a man and that man will be the one nominated by the convention.

BRYAN GROWS BITTER.

Pays His Respects to Standard Oil Magnate.

Lincoln, July 4.—William J. Bryan from his porch at his Fairview residence, told a big delegation of Pennsylvania men and women who stopped in Lincoln on their way to Denver just what he thought about James M. Guffey, the Standard Oil magnate, and democratic boss of the Keystone state. Bryan called Guffey "bush whacker" and several other things, whereat the crowd of loyal Bryanites cheered themselves hoarse. This was the first bitterness Bryan has shown during the preliminary campaign for the presidential nomination. Guffey is bitterly opposed to Bryan and has fought him tooth and nail. The Pennsylvania delegation has forty members instructed for the master of Fairview. Twelve members are counted on as favoring Bryan and sixteen go to Denver, their choice unexpressed. Bryan's speech was not long. It occupied less than five minutes. In it he used the personal pronoun "I" exactly seventy-five times.

Today was reception day at Fairview. The delegates on their way to Denver began to arrive in bunches.

MADE FINE CATCHES.

Cambridge City, Ind., July 4.—(Special).—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore have returned from a fishing trip at Colon, Mich. They report a very pleasant trip and also a very successful one. Mr. Moore thinks that that part of the country is one of the best places to fish. Daily catches averaged from ninety to one hundred.

THOROSIA: Gold Medal Flour makes lightest bread.

ROOSEVELT'S FOURTH

He Celebrates the Day With a Family Reunion at His Summer Home.

HE PUT IN A BUSY DAY.

Oyster Bay, July 4.—President Roosevelt celebrated the Fourth of July at Oyster Bay today with a family reunion. All the Roosevelts were invited to Sagamore Hill to renew acquaintances and witness the fireworks display which the president had arranged for tonight. The Roosevelts include the president his own family, three cousins, Emlen, James A., and J. West Roosevelt, with their families. Each visiting family included at least five children. All the president's family were at home except Kermit. After the president had finished his morning's work with Secretary Loebe, he directed his attention to the entertainment of his family house party.

He was starting for the beach with his children and a large supply of firecrackers when he was interrupted by a telegram from Col. Chas. Bromwell, Superintendent of Grounds, of Washington, who presented a request signed by eight leading democrats, asking permission, in the event of Bryan's nomination to fire a salute from the cannon in the monument grounds. The president telegraphed his assent. After the celebration the president went for a long horseback ride with his sons Archie and Quentin, over the unfrequented roads of Long Island, while Mrs. Roosevelt chaperoned a party of young people on a trip on the Sylph.

INTERNATIONAL STEEL CORPORATION PROPOSED

Capitalization Will Reach
$750,000,000.

London, July 4.—The "Iron and Steel Trades Journal" advises, reiterates the statement that an international steel combination is approaching completion, in confirmation of which that journal publishes interviews with representatives of American and German syndicates which affirm the truth of the report. The headquarters of the concern will be in London. Its capitalization will reach $150,000,000.

WILL INCREASE DEPTH OF WELLAND CANAL

Canada to Compete in the Carrying Trade.

Ottawa, July 4.—The Canadian Minister of Railways has announced that the depth of the Welland Canal is to be increased from 14 to 25 feet to compete with America in wheat transportation to Europe.

Generous Mrs. Crews.

A gambling story is told of Charles James Fox that rather reflects on his honor. He was one of the ardent admirers of Mrs. Crews, a noted beauty of her day, and it is related that a gentleman lost a considerable sum to this lady at play and, being obliged to leave town suddenly, gave Mr. Fox the money to pay her, begging him to apportion to her for his not having paid the debt of honor in person. Fox lost every shilling of it before morning.

Mrs. Crews often met the supposed debtor afterward and, surprised that he never noticed the circumstances, at length delicately hinted the matter to him.

"Bless me!" said he. "I paid the money to Mr. Fox three months ago."

"Oh, did you, sir?" said Mrs. Crews good naturedly. "Then probably he paid me, and I forgot it."

DESIRE THAT COURT

SET LANGDON FREE

Claimed Evidence Against Him Is Not Sufficient.

An attempt has been made to induce Judge Fox of the Wayne circuit court, and Prosecutor Jessup to dismiss the case against Frank Langdon. Langdon is the East Germantown saloonist who was arrested on the charge of violating the liquor laws. He has spent about two weeks in the county jail. It is claimed the state has no evidence against the man and can not bring about a conviction. His case is set for trial by jury tomorrow.

FOURTH OF JULY BOY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Markley, Jr., are the parents of a Fourth of July boy, born on Independence Day, 1908. The youngster and mother are doing nicely. Before marriage, Mrs. Markley was Miss Mabel O'Neal, daughter of W. P. O'Neal, member of the board of public works. The father is the son of the well known bailiff of the Wayne circuit court.

OFF ON VACATION.

Ray Harris, turnkey at the county jail, is enjoying his vacation of two weeks at a Michigan lake on a fishing expedition. In the meanwhile Sheriff Meredith has to attend to Harris' duties at the jail. Oscar Mashmeyer deputy sheriff, is attending to the interests of the office at the courthouse, and looking after the business of his chief in the circuit and commissioners' courts. On the quiet, the prisoners at the jail anticipate a lark while Meredith is on guard duty.

A GHOST STORY.

The Spectral Horseman That Visits Wycollar Hall.

This ghost story is contributed by a correspondent of an English magazine: "Wycollar Hall, near Colne, was long the seat of the Cunliffes of Billington. They were noted persons in their time, but evil days came, and their ancestral estates passed out of their hands. In the days of the commonwealth their loyalty cost them dear, and ultimately they retired to Wycollar with a remnant only of their once extensive property. About 1819 the last of the family passed away, and the hall is now a mass of ruins. Little but the antique fireplace remains entire, and even the room alluded to in the following legend cannot now be identified. Tradition says that once every year a spectral horseman visits Wycollar Hall. He is attired in the costume of the early Stuart period, and the trappings of his horse are of a most uncouth description.

"On the evening of his visit the weather is always wild and tempestuous. There is no moon to light the lonely roads, and the residents of the district do not venture out of their cottages. When the wind howls loud, the horseman can be heard dashing up the road at full speed, and, after crossing the narrow bridge, he suddenly stops at the door of the hall. The rider then dismounts and makes his way up the broad oaken stairs into one of the rooms of the house. Dreadful screams, as from a woman, are then heard, which soon subside into groans. The horseman then makes his appearance at the door, at once mounts his steed and gallops off.

"His body can be seen through by those who may chance to be present; his horse appears to be wild with rage, and his nostrils stream with fire. The tradition is that one of the Cunliffes murdered his wife in that room and that the spectral horseman is the ghost of the murderer, who is doomed to pay an annual visit to the home of his victim. She is said to have predicted the extinction of the family, which, according to the story, has been literally fulfilled."

Shameless.

Persons belonging to the higher walks of life are to be seen promenading in short jackets and chimneypot hats without the slightest symptom of awkwardness or shame.—London Tailor and Cutter.

Half of our diseases are in our minds, and the other half are in our houses.—Ernest Seton Thompson.

POTTER IS BETTER

Physicians Greatly Encouraged
Over the Condition
Of the Bishop.

IS MAKING A HARD FIGHT.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 4.—The condition of Bishop Potter while still critical, continues to improve. Thursday night his condition was said to be worse than at any time during his illness but toward morning he had the most wonderful rally known to the physicians in attendance. However, the crisis has not yet been reached and his condition remains grave. The bishop's daughter, Mrs. Henry C. Davidge arrived tonight from San Francisco via New York.

Doctor Imogen Bassett stated tonight before the official bulletin for the night was issued that the patient's condition is remaining the same as in the morning and that regular intervals had been taken at regular intervals and the cheerfulness of the bishop continues the same. His heart was stimulated and oxygen administered today.

The final bulletin of the night at nine p. m. said Bishop Potter's condition at this hour is even more satisfactory than at nine this morning. Respiration 28, pulse 110 and more regular.

SIGN OF A BEATEN MAN.

Runner Who Looks Behind Almost Sure to Lose the Race.

"There are many more good distance runners now than in my days," said an old time champion after watching a three mile scratch race at the New York Athletic club games. "But the habits of the runners have not changed any, for I noticed one little trick in the race that bore the significance that used to attach to it.

"To the casual onlooker there was nothing to choose between the two leaders when they were beginning the last quarter of a mile. Right from the crack of the pistol they were running almost stride for stride with the low, graceful, easy action of the real long distance runner.

"Neither had called into use the reserve power which must be utilized in the final sprint for victory when they turned into the stretch for the final lap. Then one of them slightly turned his head to see where the third man was.

"That man is beaten," was the thought which occurred to me at once, and it proved true, as always, for when the dash for the finish began he allowed his rival to get a lead of five yards before going after him in earnest pursuit.

"From that point to the finish there was no perceptible difference in the speed of the men, but the man who had turned his head to make sure that he would get second place, instead of bending every energy to win, of course landed where his thoughts placed him."—New York Sun.

The Gun Barrels Grew.

In the early days in the northwest, when the Hudson Bay company laid the foundations of great fortunes by trade with the savages and a gun paid for as many beaver skins as would reach to the muzzle of it, the skins packed flat and the gun held upright, it was alleged that the barrel of the weapon grew and grew with each successive year until the Indian, after he had bought it with the peltry, had to borrow a file and cut off a foot of useless metal.

Domestic Bliss.

Wife—I have about made up my mind. John, that when I married you I married a fool. Husband—That reminds me of a remark you made just before we were married. You remember that you said it would be hard to find two people more alike than you and I.

His Glassy Eye.

Doctor—I diagnose all sickness from the patient's eyes. Now, your right eye tells me that your kidneys are affected. Patient—Excuse me, doctor, but my right is a glass eye.—Moody's Magazine.

Simple.

Lawyer (at the theater on the first night)—I can't imagine how the piece can be drawn out into five acts. Author—Oh, that is very simple. In the first act, you see, the hero gets into a lawsuit.

The Green Tickets

Mean
Mill Cost

Read all of the big green bill.

Store closed Monday,
July 6th.

Railroad Store

LEARNING TO SWIM.

The Fat Man Who Was a Model of Patience and Perseverance.

Persistence in undertaking is a laudable virtue, but it can be a bit overdone sometimes, as in a case described by Y. L. Molloy in "Our Autumn Holiday on French Rivers." Mr. Molloy and his friends, longing for a good dive, went to a swimming school on an island in the Seine. They donned their rented costumes and were preparing for the plunge when a man with ropes came along and insisted on trying them about their waists. It was according to police regulations, and although they made an indignant protest, they were obliged to submit.

While we were dressing, says Mr. Molloy, we asked the two swimming masters for an extra towel. "Pardon," they replied, "we must attend to our monsieur."

Then we saw that there had come upon the platform a short and absurdly fat man dressed in bathing costume, swimming sandals and oiled cap. "Let's see him go in," said we. "What a splash he'll make!"

The swimming masters received the new arrival at the middle of the platform. There he balanced himself on his stomach on a wooden stump two feet high. The masters seized him by his hands and feet and with slow and deliberate movements made him strike out with the action of swimming. They kept this up for a quarter of an hour, and the perspiration rolled off him in great drops.

"He'll be awfully hot to go into the water after that," said I.

But he did not go into the water. The swimming lesson over, he moved toward the dressing room, saying: "I have done better today."

"Ah, yes," answered one of the masters. "Your progress is admirable."

The fat man beamed with complacency and went in to dress.

I called the swimming masters aside. "Does 'our monsieur' practice often like that? He must have great perseverance."

"Perseverance! He has worked like this for five years, and he has never been in the water!"

...this concrete you read carefully. Dr. Lowell's Syrup Pepsin is positively guaranteed to cure indigestion, constipation, sick headache, offensive breath, malaria and all diseases arising from stomach trouble.

Plumbing and Heating

Contractor

Charles Johanning

Cor. Main & 11th

Phone 2144

SEE OUR SPRING LINE

GO-CARTS

HASSENBUSCH'S

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. For sale at all drug stores.