

TREND OF TODAY
TOWARD WICKEDNESS

Cardinal Gibbons Expresses
View of Americans as He Sees Them Today.

BEGIN IN THE SCHOOLS.

AMERICANS SHOULD NOT LET RELIGIOUS TEACHINGS DROP FROM INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING—HE IS OFF FOR ROME.

New York, July 20.—While traveling from Baltimore to New York prior to his departure for Europe on the steamer Koenig Albert today, Cardinal Gibbons talked of politics and moral conditions of the United States and gave his remedies for the situation. Among other things he said:

"I am much concerned over the political conditions in this country. There seems such a gradual trend toward unrighteousness in the great masses of people in some respects that thinking men must realize that the problem must be met without delay.

"There is no politics without morality. There is no morality without religion and without religion there is no God. The public school is the only place to begin. There are so many cunning little schemes always being devised by atheists, unbelievers and non-Christians to put God out of the public schools that the authorities of this country in every state should exclude atheists and non-Christians from any offices of the church.

"And what is the plan," was asked. "Separate the public schools of the country. Let each denomination maintain teachings can inculcate the love of God into the little hearts of the children while teaching them other things."

"And the expense." "Let it be borne by the state. The schools be maintained from the tax funds and each school given its portion of the funds."

"In politics today," continued the cardinal, "men will sell their votes for a dollar and a half. Men are nominated and elected who are unfit. Thinking becomes subservient to obeying the orders of a boss." Continuing he said:

"No matter who is elected I do not fear for my country's welfare. I have perfect confidence in the people. But the duty that confronts the next president is great. The divorce laws should be made a national issue and revised by congress in such a manner to stop this wholesale divorce. That is striking at the roots of the family and there is where the fight for better things must be made. No matter whether it was in the platform or not it should be made a national issue."

At the North German Lloyd pier Cardinal Gibbons was joined by Arch Bishop Farley, Father Lee, Father O'Donovan, Bishop Fly of Detroit and Bishop O'Connell of Washington and fifty or sixty prelates many of whom continued on the trip. When questioned as to his first visit Cardinal Gibbons said:

"This is my first visit to the Pope in five years. I shall go direct to Rome and spend some time there. The last time I saw the Pope was during the conclave which elected him five years ago."

Cardinal Gibbons and his associates are taking with them to Rome what is known as Peter's Pence, the annual collection of money made by Catholic churches in this country and forwarded to the Vatican.

Sleep

Sleep is nature's rebuilding period, when the energy used by the brain, muscles and organs is renewed. If you lose sleep, your system is robbed of the strength sleep should give. Continued loss of sleep multiplies this loss until you become a physical wreck. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the irritated nerves and brings refreshing, invigorating sleep. Nervine contains no opiates, and therefore leaves no bad after-effects.

"For over two years I suffered untold agonies: my friends thought I was going crazy. I could not sleep nor rest at all. I tried different doctors, but failed to find relief. My head would ache all the time; I was like one drunk; could not concentrate my mind, and was so restless and worried that sleep was out of the question. After taking one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine I felt wonderfully changed. I am now on my third bottle and am gaining all the time. I can lie down and sleep like a child, and am able to do my work."

BIG EXPENSE TO KEEP WHITE HOUSE

$1,000 a Week Will Have to Be
Spent During the Next Fiscal Year.

ESTIMATE IS PREPARED.

ARMY ENGINEER C. S. BROMWELL
STATES SEVERAL REPAIRS
WILL HAVE TO BE MADE SOON.

Washington, July 20.—It is the official view of Colonel C. S. Bromwell, the army engineer in charge of the White House, that it will be necessary for the American people to spend $1,000 a week during the next fiscal year to keep the home of the president in a habitable condition.

The upkeep of the house during the current fiscal year is $673 and a few pennies over each week. But things are getting shabby. The children have been using the chairs to build choo-choo trains; they have placed their hands on the paper in the red, blue and green parlors, and in some mysterious way a large piece of the stucco was broken out of one of the columns in the reception hall.

Colonel Bromwell thinks the chairs should be sent to the upholsterers, new paper put on the walls and the whole interior done over with fresh paint and enamel.

The paper on the wall of course is not paper at all, but the finest brocade silk. The upholstery on the Sevres designed chairs is also of the finest. The Colonel figures it will cost $15,000 to do absolutely necessary work. In submitting his estimate to the secretary of the treasury he remarked that the annual appropriation of $35,000 is barely enough to keep the house from going to rack and ruin. The $15,000 asked for is put under the head of "extraordinary repairs."

Would Give Labor.

"Woman," he said wearily, "has no idea of economy of labor. Of course she has a hard time in many ways, but it's largely her own fault. She likes to work."

"Why do you say that?" she demanded.

"Why, just by way of illustration, there's that curtain lecture you have given me every lodge night for over a year. Same old lecture delivered in the same old way, and still you fail to take advantage of modern inventions. Just think what a saving it would be if you used the phonograph."

Could Not Pass the Examination.

A dilapidated specimen of a man stopped a Kansas City merchant on the street one morning and asked for a cash donation. "Mister," he said in a plaintive voice, "I hain't had any work to do for more'n a month, and I'm powerful hard up."

"Been out of work for a month?" said the merchant. "What is your occupation?"

"I work in the packing house when I can get anything to do."

"In the killing department?"

"No, sir; in the cutting room."

"Then you can tell me perhaps how many teeth a cow has on her upper jaw?"

"Why—er—no, sir. I never noticed."

"That's too bad," said the merchant, putting his hand in his pocket. "The dime I am going to give you would have been a dollar if you hadn't failed in your examination."

DODDRIDGE CHAPEL
TO HAVE HOMECOMING

Event Will Be First Two Days
In August.

Milton, Ind., July 25.—Doddridge chapel people are preparing for a homecoming on Saturday and Sunday, August 1 and 2. Large crowds are expected to be present, among them being many former residents of the neighborhood, now in various sections of the country. Rev. Abram Mariatt, Rev. John H. Doddridge of Vincennes, and Rev. J. A. Sargent are expected to assist the pastor, Rev. J. T. Seull in addresses.

He Made Sure.

A story is told of the Sudan rail way which shows patient literalness. To an official there came the telegram from an outlying station: "Station master has died. Shall I bury him?" The reply was sent: "Yes; bury station master, but please make sure he is really dead before you do so." It is due time back came the message: "Have buried station master. Made sure he was dead by hitting him twice on the head with a fish plate." There was perfect assurance that there had been no premature burial.

A Man of Nerve.

He-I called to see you last evening. She-Yes? He-Yes, the servant told me you were not in. She-Yes, I was so sorry to have missed you. He-I thought you must be. I heard you laughing upstairs in such grief stricken tones that I almost wept myself out of sympathy.

The Reason.

Teacher-You've been a very good boy for the last day or two, Bobbie. I haven't seen you fighting with the other boys or romping in the school room. Bobbie-Yes'm. I got a still neck.—Cleveland Leader.

KIDNAPER IS CAUGHT WAGES ARE HIGHER

Only Prompt Action Saved Man
Who Assaulted Girl,

CITIZENS ARE IN A RAGE.

REPORT OF LABOR BUREAU.

Glassboro, N. J., July 20.—Charles Hemphill, a young man whose home is in Clayton, narrowly escaped lynching by citizens because he had kidnaped Cora Garton, a 7-year-old child. Only the quick action of the police authorities in secretly removing Hemphill to the Woodbury jail, it is believed, saved his life.

Hemphill hired a team and lured the girl from her home. When her disappearance was noted hundreds of persons began a search, but nothing was seen or heard of her until nearly midnight, when Hanley Beckett a summer cottager at Pitman heard screams and, leaving his home, came across Hemphill and the child. Beckett demanded an explanation and Hemphill fled.

A little later Hemphill was captured at the railroad station as he was buying a ticket for Philadelphia. Word of the capture was telephoned to Glassboro and men armed with clubs, base ball bats and some carrying ropes, began to gather about the Glassboro jail. Word was sent to Pitman of the temper of the crowd and it was decided to detain Hemphill there and give him an immediate hearing. At 2 o'clock in the morning he was arraigned before Magistrate Paulin and held in $1,000 bail. Then he was hustled into a covered wagon and a quick trip was made to the Woodbury jail. The physicians say the girl is not seriously injured.

Better Than His Own.

They were discussing the factors which make for success in the world when the knowing young man said: "There's nothing like force of character. Now, there's Jones! Sure to make his way in the world. He's a will of his own, you know."

"But Brown has something better in his favor."

"What's that?"

"A will of his uncle's."

Down on His Luck.

"Oh, John," she exclaimed as she observed him getting into his overcoat, "I hope you're not going to be out again tonight!"

"I hope not," he replied absentmindedly, "but it's quite likely. The car's been running very badly for a while lately."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Mean Way It Works.

"If you refuse to marry me," said the wealthy old man, "I shall pine away and die."

"Of course," responded the girl bitterly. "And if I would marry you you would hang to life like a bulldog. But that's the way it goes."—Detroit Tribune.

These are some of the facts of interest in a statement issued by the bureau of labor as the result of an investigation of the principal wage working occupations in 4,169 establishments, representing the principal manufacturing and industrial industries of the country. The article is entitled "Rates of Wages and Retail Prices of Food, 1890 to 1907."

Investigations covering the sales of 1,014 dealers in sixty-eight localities show that the retail prices of thirty principal articles of food, weighed according to consumption in representative working men's families, were 4.2 per cent higher in 1907 than in 1906. As the advance in retail prices from 1906 to 1907 was greater than the advance in wages per hour, the purchase power of an hour's wages as measured by food, was slightly less in 1907 than in 1906, the decrease being 1/2 of 1 per cent.

The average hourly wages in 1907 were higher than in any other year of the eighteen year period from 1890 to 1907, and more than 20 per cent higher than the average in any one year from 1890 to 1900. As compared in each case with the average for the ten year period, 1890 to 1899, the average hourly wages in 1907 were 28.8 per cent higher, the number of employees 4.4 per cent greater and the average hours of labor per week 5 per cent lower.

The average price of food in 1907 was higher than in any other year in the eighteen year period.
