WHY REPUBLICAN PARTY IS BEST TOLD IN ESSAY

Founded Upon Principle This Government Was Established to Protect Rights of Every Individual.

PARTY OF PROGRESS AND ALSO MEANS PROSPERITY

Organizes National Will and Is Constructive Party as Represented by Issues It Has Supported.

The following was awarded $150 by the Republican Congressional committee as the best article submitted on the subject. It was written by Frank Hendrick, of New York city.

I.—The Party of Expansion.
The republican party was founded upon the principle that this government was established to protect for all times the rights and opportunities of every individual from abridgement. That principle it has successfully maintained. Through the civil war it consecrated a reunited country to free and equal American citizenship. It has kept the channels of interstate commerce open for all and, through the national banking system, the refunding of the national debt, resumption of specie payments, the gold standard and the emergency currency law, has sustained the life current of national integrity.

As trustee of the national wealth, it has investigated mineral regions, surveyed soils, developed waterways, including the Panama canal, irrigated deserts, conserved watersheds, and husbanded the public lands. Protecting American labor by regulating immigration and by taking at the custom house, to pay American taxes, foreign capital's advantage from low wages, it has preserved to American industries the home market of eighty millions of the world's greatest consumers and so laid the surest basis for American competition in foreign markets. Uniting capital and labor, thus, in a common prosperity and common source of increased reward, it has created opportunities, improved conditions of employment, brought about a higher standard of living, and more widespread distribution of wealth and well being, and made expansion moral as well as material.

Intrusted with insular possessions, it has brought them peace and progress, and provided for the extension and protection of American trade, for the national defense, and for the honorable discharge of the responsibilities of world greatness. Maintaining peace at home, with foreign nations and among them, it has given American rights and American opportunities new meaning throughout the nation and throughout the world.

II.—The Party of Progress and Prosperity.

Promising progress and prosperity, it has been politically sincere. It has never had a candidate of a section, prejudice, or class, nor a platform of negation, scheme of repudiation, program of secession, or doctrine of despair. It has never lent itself to a demand for revolution, to be followed by reaction and retrogression, it has stood firm for evolution by constant, steady enduring progress. Finding trusts, giant born, flourishing under supposed conflict of state and national law, the double prohibition of existence serving but to foster their development, it has never, in an attempt to destroy trusts, withdrawn, in state or nation, the protection of law from property, but has, through executive investigation and resort to the courts, resolved the conflict which had silenced law and given trusts existence.

It has never proposed to advance American workingmen and American industries by banishing American industries and building up those of other lands, and scorned to insult labor with an illusory promise of immunity from law. Yet it passed the Pure Food law and the Employers' Liability law, secured equal accommodations on railroads, aided agriculture, created the Civil Service, established Free Rural Mail Delivery, reduced foreign postage and increased pensions. Continuing naturally marked-out progress, it will keep its pledges of tariff readjustment, currency reform and development of the merchant marine, and make the United States the financial center as it has made it the industrial center of the world.

III.—The Constructive Party—It Organizes the National Will.

In the evolution by which party government has become the extra-constitutional method of securing responsibility to the people, the republican party has become the traditional representative and the democratic party the organized aspiration of individuals for power without responsibility. Fairly tried, from 1893 to 1895, the two democratic houses and the democratic president were a "wild team" and a helpless driver. Democracy agitates local differences, republicanism organizes the national idea. In 1893 the people were committed to the cause of human liberty; the idea of "Liberty and Union" expanded for the first time into the reality of the American nation.

In 1879 money was committed to a specie basis; specie was at once, until 1893, no longer sought, and government bonds went to a premium at the reduced rate of interest. In 1896 business men were again committed to confidence; before a single statute was enacted prosperity set in and in ten years bank deposits almost trebled—a permanent gain which the recent panic, a "state of mind" now completely dispelled, scarcely touched. In 1906 business was committed to fair methods; without compulsion violations largely ceased.

The republican party, at each period, sounded the public conscience, felt the national pulse, framed its policies in response, and realized in law the dominant American idea. Its constructive past assures its constructive future. It is today as it always has been, "The Party fit to Govern."

IV.—The Party of Statesmen.

The party of statesmanship, it has been the training school of statesmen. Its policies have been forged in the heat of public discussion, tempered in the deliberation and shaped in the conflict of many trained minds, and drawn and finally wrought for the country's welfare. Dominating its members through principles, it assures unity in government; its staunchest partisans have made the greatest contributions to National progress. The roster of its leaders is the national roll of honor of public service.

V.—Taft and Sherman Constructive Candidates—A Constructive Platform.

Republicanism stands today for progressive policies in safe hands. By solving the constructive problems of world power in the last two administrations, William H. Taft taught the world our capacity and us our own. In all constructive legislation for twenty years James S. Sherman has been a leader. In the records of the republican candidates as well as in the platform are written the story of the nation's progress and the reliance of the future.

A democratic president or a democratic house would turn back those pages; thereafter Bryanism would record "Destruction." This the republican senate could not prevent. Under Taft and Sherman and a republican congress the great progress of the past will be held and the greater progress of the future will be assured.

John Morris, 438 Main St., Richmond, Ind., says: "I was a great sufferer from lumbago for several years and these pains and pains have given me many restless and nervous nights. I doctored with several different physicians and used remedies without success. Finally being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I went to A. G. Laiken & Co's drug store for a box. I was better in three days after beginning the treatment, and took in all three boxes. The lumbago has never bothered me since and I have often told people of this experience."

MILTON CITIZENS. GOOD SAMARITANS

Found Stranger at Their Gates
And Took Him in at Once.

AGED STRANGER SUFFERED

VILLAGERS PROVIDED PHYSICIAN, FOOD, RAIMENT AND MONEY ENABLING HIM TO CONTINUE HIS LONG JOURNEY.

Milton, Ind., Sept. 8.—An unknown aged man was seen to fall unconscious near Frank Adams' blacksmith shop Saturday evening about 5 o'clock. He was removed to Dr. I. F. Sweeney's office where he was found to have suffered a stroke of paralysis, the left side being affected. Every care was given to the afflicted man, and during the night he regained consciousness and told his name and particulars of himself. His name is Fletcher Auxter and his age 76. He is a painter and carpenter; unmarried. His kinsmen in North Carolina having all passed away he decided to go to a friend in Robinson, Ill. All afternoon on Saturday he suffered a violent pain in his head. When the train reached Cambridge City he got off intending to work at his trade for a few days, then go on. He was bewildered and took the L. E. & W. railroad track leading to Milton and continued to the place where he fell. The aged man was neatly dressed and quite intelligent, and a good conversationalist when his faculties returned. He knew many of the relatives of the old pioneer families of Wayne county who yet remain in the old north state.

After regaining strength and use of himself he was given a purse of money which would take him to his destination. If he had fallen where relief could not have been secured he could not have lived over an hour.

Oysters on St. James' Day.

According to a saying that has long been current in London, "Whoever eats oysters on St. James' day will never want money." As a result, Londoners, under the effect of this old superstition, begin to eat oysters on the 25th of July instead of waiting for the coming of the first month with the "R." So far as can be ascertained, it makes no difference whether the oysters are eaten raw or cooked.—Circle Magazine.

SECURITY

Have you ever stopped to consider what it is that makes a bank STRONG or those requisites which it should have to be able to insure to its depositors a guarantee of safety for the funds entrusted to it?

LARGE CAPITAL AND SURPLUS

These are the most important factors which determine the strength of any bank and which should be the first items of consideration in the selection of your bank.

Dickinson Trust Co.

Having a CAPITAL of $200,000.00, SURPLUS and PROFITS of $100,000.00, Stockholders' ADDITIONAL LIABILITY of $200,000.00, a total of more than ONE HALF MILLION OF DOLLARS, offers to its depositors an unusual margin of security for the safeguarding of their interests.
