

DES MOINES LOSES HER TENDERLOIN

Great Moral Wave Sweeps Over Iowa's Greatest City.

INMATES ARE SEEKING AID.

HAVE TURNED TO THE CHARITY SOCIETIES FOR REFUGE AND MANY FORSAKE LIFE OF IMMORALITY.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 16.—"Taps" sounded for the "red light" district of Des Moines last night at midnight and for the first time since the city became a city, there is no longer a "Tenderloin."

Yesterday the grand jury convening for the September term of court was instructed to investigate the alleged "social evil" trust and return indictments against all persons found to have been connected with the traffic of women. The order issued a week ago for all denizens of the red light district to reform and signify their intention of doing so by registering with the secretary of the Humane Society or leave Des Moines by midnight has resulted in eighteen girls from the "tenderloin" registering. It is estimated that sixty or more of the women have left Des Moines and when the police made the rounds of East Court avenue, the old district early last evening, but one house was found open, and the inmates were then packing up. They were warned to be away by midnight.

Those who have not registered and have not left town are scattered about and plain clothes men from detective headquarters have been acting as spotters, scouring the city and locating the places where girls have moved. Raids will begin tonight, but no places will be raided, says Chief Hume, unless complaint is made by the neighbors and information filed.

Of the eighteen girls who have signified their intention of reforming, one has found respectable employment through the Humane Society. Two others are being cared for at a refuge home opened by the Volunteers of America for that purpose. A committee from the W. C. T. U., the Humane Society and police department is now endeavoring to find a suitable house and place them there until work can be found for them.

PRETTY ACTRESS WITH THE "HONEYMOON TRAIL."

OLIVE VAIL.

One of the big events of the theatrical season locally will be the presentation of the best of Chicago's musical successes, Honeymoon Trail, which comes to the Gennett on Friday night. This musical comedy is by the well known writers, Adams, Hough & Howard, authors of The Time, The Place and the Girl, The Girl Question, and A Stubborn Cinderella, all of which have made Mort H. Singer, the producer, famous and established the LaSalle Theater as the greatest of musical comedy producing houses.

The play deals with the many funny mix-ups caused by a hustling salesman of a brand of baked beans while he is on a vacation at a rest cure establishment. Supposedly he is at this sanitarium for the purpose of giving his overworked brain a rest from the strain of thinking up new ideas to boom his beans, but a few hours after his arrival he thinks up a brilliant scheme for a good advertisement, and the fun of the piece hinges on the carrying out of the same. The funny situations caused thereby, and the seemingly endless complications he gets the people of the sanitarium, and the guests of a nearby hotel into, create extremely ludicrous hilarity and enjoyment. During the course of the play he has a little love affair, which by the way, does not run any too smoothly, until at the finish he wins the girl, and the play ends happily with his marriage to the girl of his choice.

The play affords many opportunities for the interpolation of many songs, some of which are very beautiful and catchy, and were the cause of much humming and whistling in Chicago during the two hundred nights run of the piece last season. Among the big hits may be mentioned "When I Feel Like Loving," "You Can't Be a Friend to Everybody," "One Little Boy Had Money," "Nothing to Do But Nothing," "I Don't Want a Million Dollars," "Whose Little Girl Are You," and "I'm Going to Steal the Moon."

Manager Mort H. Singer has taken full advantage of the opportunities afforded him in the way of scenic environment, and has supplied one of the most gorgeous productions ever furnished a musical comedy. In fact, in the way of scenery, costumes and properties, Honeymoon Trail is claimed to be the best equipped company on the road.

All in all Honeymoon Trail will be found to be a delightful entertainment comprising all that goes to make a successful musical comedy: good comedy, pretty songs and wonderful dancing.

IS GIRDLED BY FIRE

Grand Marias, Minn., Is in Immediate Danger of Destruction.

SEVEN LOSE THEIR LIVES.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 16.—Grand Marias is girdled by roaring mountains of fire. Edward Honker, white, and six Indians, cut off from town by fire in their efforts to save homesteaders at Neston, have perished in the flames. This is the news brought in by Adjutant General Wood and officers of the Minnesota naval militia, who arrived on the steamer Gopher from the north shore. They say the danger is not yet over.

Lutzen, a small settlement near Grand Marias, is surrounded by fire and everything there seems doomed to destruction.

The officers of the Gopher declare the gravity of the situation on the north shore has not been exaggerated.

No Egg Too Bad to Sell.
Seated in a dark, cool cellar, a lighted candle in one hand, three eggs in the other, the egg candler talked.

"No egg is unsalable," said he. "You can sell an egg when there's nothing left of it but the shell. Who buys it then? The kid glove maker. He beats his kids soft in a yolk bath, and the riper that great foaming yellow bath is the more joyously the kid glove maker splashes about in it."

"Here's a half dozen fresh broken, O. K. but for the shells. The confectioners'll take 'em."

"This couple is what you might call fair—what your grocer would term 'fresh'—not 'new laid' nor 'best fresh'—only 'fresh.' Such eggs you could stand in a Spanish omelet, but not boiled. We'll split them and sell the yolks to low class bakers and the whites to papermakers for sizing."

The Woman Who Gambles.

Moralists say that the emotion of gaming makes women ugly. It is not necessary to take the word of the moralists for that. Gaming does not make women ugly. It unmasks them and it is of that that they must be warned. It is natural enough, since they play passionately, and in playing they forget the world and their faces. So much the worse for those who do as Jezebel. Jean Lorrain has left terrible pictures of old painted faces the natural condition of which is revealed by the excitement of play.—Paris Vie Heureuse.

TAX LEVY HIGHER AT CENTERVILLE

Increase for the Purchase of Fire Hose.

Centerville, Ind., Sept. 16.—The town council met Monday evening in regular session. The most important business transacted was the authorization of a tax levy for the ensuing year of five cents on each one hundred dollars for the purpose of meeting the expense of the new fire hose and the purchase of land for the extension of the cemetery.

THE KALLIMA BUTTERFLY.

An Insect That Perfectly Imitates a Dead Tree Leaf.

A moth usually rests with its fore wings outspread over the prominent pattern of his hind wings, says Waldemar B. Kaempfert in the Booklovers Magazine. In any other posture he would inevitably meet a swift death. A butterfly, on the contrary, rests usually with his wings uplifted and pressed together. Otherwise, the gaudy upper surface would be as conspicuous as the black ink on this white paper—a signal for attack by relentless and voracious foes. In order to hide himself the butterfly has, therefore, lavished all the resources of his imitative art on the under surface of his wings. By far the most astonishing instance of this kind is afforded by the East Indian Kallima butterfly, the blue upper surface of which is richly and ostentatiously adorned with a stripe of orange, but the under surface of which bears a truly staggering likeness to a leaf, when the wings are drawn together. Here we have an insect that apes not merely the approximate shape and color of a dead leaf, but also the midrib with the delicate veining, the sharp point, and the short stem common to many tropical leaves.

It might be supposed that this imitation of an ordinary object is sufficiently minute to protect the Kallima from its enemies. Self preservation apparently demands not merely a dead leaf simulated, but in touches even more exquisite, for the resemblance has been so craftily carried out that the lighter colored varieties, a dead, shriveled leaf flecked with parasitic growths, stained and spotted to give the appearance of holes eaten by caterpillars.

RIVALS ENGAGED IN HARD CAMPAIGN

Both Watson and Marshall Making Strenuous Tour Of the State.

WATSON'S LABOR RECORD.

HE SAYS HE DEFIES ANYONE TO POINT TO A LAW OF HIS WHICH WAS AGAINST THE INTERESTS OF LABOR.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—James E. Watson, Republican, and Thomas R. Marshall, Democrat, nominees for Governor, addressed two meetings each, Tuesday. Tuesday afternoon Watson spoke to an audience of nearly 5,000 men and women at Marion. Watson spoke at length on his labor record, as the unions are strong in Marion. He defied any one to point to a single legislative act of his that was unfair to labor. His remarks on county local option were received with great enthusiasm. Last night Watson spoke at Muncie, with Senator Hemenway, to a large audience. Both declared for county local option and lauded the Republican party in state and national politics.

Marshall spoke at Oakland City Tuesday afternoon and at Princeton at night. He was accompanied by T. D. Seales, First District Chairman, and Mayor Bohne, of Evansville. At both meetings, Marshall declared that his remarks regarding the ministers have been misunderstood, and that he did not mean to attack them. He declared again that he would not sign any county local option measure without knowing what it contained.

INVESTIGATION IS ON

Paper Industry in Wisconsin Is Being Looked Into.

INFORMATION IS GLEANED.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 16.—"I am not prepared to state whether or not my endeavors here have added much to the knowledge I already possessed concerning conditions in the paper industry, but feel that the investigation in Wisconsin surely will result in much good," said Chairman James R. Mann of Chicago, of the Congressional Paper and Pulp Investigating Commission, last evening, after holding an all-day session at Menasha, at which time Augustus Spies, President of the Marinette and Menominee Paper Company, of Marinette, Wis., and Senator William Jones, of Bangor, Maine, testified. Continuing, Chairman Mann said:

"While our committee will investigate the paper industry generally in Wisconsin, we will pay particular attention to the present and probable future supply of pulp wood and its availability in this locality. We will look into the price of wood, paper and labor, hours of labor and combinations."

The committee investigated the price of print and pulp wood for more than a quarter of a century back, and gained valuable information in this matter that was not available in the East.

Today they will come to Appleton to visit the mills and possibly take testimony of two or three witnesses. Chairman Mann has decided to establish headquarters at Menasha instead of Appleton.

CHALLENGES KERN TO JOINT DEBATE

John Temple Graves Wants to Discuss Issues.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 16.—Thomas L. Hisgen and John Temple Graves, nominees respectively for the presidency and the vice-presidency of the Independence party, spoke last night at the Schubert theater. Graves sent a telegram to John W. Kern, democratic nominee for the vice-presidency, challenging him to a joint discussion, the meeting to take place in Louisville tonight. Mr. Graves said he could see no reason for Mr. Kern refusing to meet him in Louisville unless he really did not care to discuss the issues of the campaign with him.

ARE AGAINST OPTION

Hotel Keepers' Association Believes in Saloons.

STANDS FOR REGULATION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—Executive officers of the Indiana hotel keepers' association met in Indianapolis yesterday and entered their protest against county local option. Many of the state hotel keepers depend largely on their liquor trade to sustain their business. They passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we believe in the exercise of justice and equality in all lines of trade and business, contending against none, but at all times and all occasions contributing to the general advancement of commercial interests and the elevation and upbuilding of our own business and the communities in which we live. We further

Resolve, That we look with disfavor on the prohibition of the liquor traffic, believing that it is an abridgement of personal rights inimical to democratic government and a barrier to the prosperity of any community, and further, because it does not attain the end for which it is designed and only fosters and promotes disrespect for existing law. We further

Resolve, That we disapprove of so-called county local option, because it is a misnomer and means county prohibition, believing as we do, that the public should have ample opportunity to exercise its option on the question in the cities and towns where the trade exists at municipal elections. We further

Resolve, That this organization and its members use all honorable means to elevate the business and encourage the conduct of the same along legitimate lines, by opposing the sale of intoxicants to minors, drunkards and dissolute persons by the abolition of the dive and the winery; and by recommending the enactment of such legislation as will promote practical temperance.

NEW PHILLIPS PRONOUNCED "O. K."

State Inspector Blake Passes On Improvements.

The New Phillips theater has been made safe during the summer months by the addition of two exits, and now passes in every respect the examination of State Inspector Blake, who on his recent visit called the theater O. K. in every respect. The new exits have been added downstairs to the right, near the front of the auditorium, with the old arrangement a crowded three minutes, and with the additions it is estimated that barely two minutes would be needed to get every one out.

In the gallery a new fire escape has been added, and this place has now everything in the line of safety that could be wanted. On the stage, stand pipes have been put in, and a fire that might break out there, where it would be most dangerous, can be coped with very capably.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

EVELYN THAW SEEKS THE STAGE

Is "Broke" and May Go on the Road.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw quietly came into Boston yesterday in her automobile from Portland, Me., and spent most of her time at a prominent theater with the manager of a comic opera company.

Mrs. Thaw's brother, Howard Nesbit, is playing with the company and last night he said Mrs. Thaw had come here to obtain a theatrical engagement and it was likely she would go out with the company when it leaves Boston in two weeks. Mrs. Thaw refused to discuss the report, but the manager admitted they had talked the affair over.

"From what Mrs. Thaw tells me," he said, "she is 'broke' and has to go to work. I'd be glad to have her with us, if we can settle on terms."
