Naval Academy Class Ring.
A naval officer and a friend were strolling down Broadway one afternoon recently. The former glanced in at a pawnshop window and suddenly stopped. "Hello!" he exclaimed. "There is a Naval Academy class ring." He went into the shop and asked to see the ring. There could be no doubt about it. It was a ring belonging to a member of a class which graduated some years ago. The officer bought the ring and put it in his pocket. "Why, when can you want with that ring?" asked his friend. "Is the owner a particular friend of yours?" The officer said he was not and then explained that it had always been a custom of the naval service for any naval officer to redeem a Naval academy class ring whenever he saw one and send it back to its owner, who, of course, makes good the loan at his earliest convenience.
"That is why," said the officer smilingly, "pawnshop keepers are always anxious to lend money on our class rings, and that is also one reason why a naval officer will never pawn his class ring until some comes to the worst."—New York Tribune.
A Best's Criticism.
The late Dr. Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who was noted for his genial humor, was once severely criticized by a fellow countryman for his un-Scottish habit of joke making. He had just been elected M. P. for the Striding burghs, and a disappointed Scot remarked with a sigh: "He'll use for us, mon. Why, he can joke wifoot deficiency."—London Rallian.
NOTICE.
Hokendaugus Red Men will meet at the Hall tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock to attend the funeral services of Don Draper.
