"BLOOD OF JESUS," CALLED CONCOCTION

Evangelist Thinks Many Songs
"Ragtime."

Findlay, Ohio, Oct. 2—Walter C. Ulrich, of Lexington, Ky., calling himself the motor cycle evangelist, is in the city to reform churches and their music. He says that a majority of the songs used in American churches are nothing more than religious ragtime, and that he would rather hear a congregation sing "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" than the awful concoction, "Nothing But the Blood of Jesus." He thinks it sacrilege to use such songs in service.

A NEW CLOTHES RACK

Designed For the Needs of Women
With Little Closet Room.

A woman who has no closet room but wardrobes only in her apartment has had a carpenter make an adjustable clothes rack that may be moved wherever she goes and which when taken apart is merely two standards and a long curtain pole.

She designed the rack as follows: Two pieces of oak an inch and a half thick by four inches wide, each set in a standard eighteen inches long by two high and four wide. The uprights were six feet six inches high and were set in the center of the supports, each narrow end running the long way of the supporting blocks or feet. At each end of each of these two blocks a flat, thin piece of wood was nailed by the carpenter so that one might, if desired, use slim nails for fastening them to the floor.

Through the top of each standard a hole was cut large enough to permit an inch and a half curtain pole passing through. Across the top of each standard was also nailed a flat, thin piece of oak the same length and width as the feet or supports of the standards, running the same way.

These standards are placed opposite each other, against the wall preferably, and a ten foot one and one-half inch curtain pole is run through the holes. The standards may then be pulled nearly to the end of the pole, or they may be pushed toward each other to any desired point, or a short pole may be used.

The gowns or garments are then placed on the wooden clothes hangers having hooks at the top and the latter then hung on the pole, the hooks fitting the one and one-half inch pole very easily. The standards being so high permit of trailing gowns and long coats being hung on them, and the depth of eighteen inches insures the feet and the top pieces projecting beyond them.

To keep the clothes free from dust, which is everywhere, a cover must be made. This woman bought two heavy unbleached, seamless, ready made sheets and had them stitched together in a flat seam and put this over the rack, the flat boards at the top holding it out. In this case the standards are only six feet apart. If pulled out the full ten the extra wide sheeting would have to be bought by the yard and cut to the desired length.

Of course any other covering of sufficient thickness will do, but unbleached muslin was chosen in this case because it could be laundered and kept clean easily and because it would look better with every laundering.

DRAINAGE DEMANDS.

The Importance of Good Plumbing
Sewerage and Water Supply.

In populous cities and towns the drainpipes and sewers are a prolific source of disease, to repel which even the most efficient safeguards are incomplete, but much is gained to health by keeping the run clear of obstruction, with an occasional flushing, with the addition of lime, soda or salt and hot water.

On moving or clearing out days we look upon the dusty pile of wornout and utterly useless rubbish brought to light and wonder where it all came from. Not one thing of all is worth saving or carrying away, and the whole obtruding collection of good for nothing should have been long before discarded from the family storehouse. We are apt to be too indifferent in respect to the environments of our country homes, which are not accessible to any general system of sewage. All waste water should be carried a considerable distance from the house and never suffered to stagnate in the open air.

If the water supply is from a well it should be located beyond the possible impregnation of objectionable deposits. We have in mind the corruption of well water in one instance by a cow yard and in another by a refinery located at a distance of a hundred feet or more.

The trouble may be years in manifesting itself, but it is sure to come in time. Open wells in frequent use are preferable to closed ones, inasmuch as they have the advantage of continuous air purification.

The needful appurtenances of a country home are a series of outbuildings including a stable, a cow shed, hen house, etc. While these should be conveniently accessible from the dwelling they should never be suffered to encroach upon the sanitary appointments.

Good health is the foremost consideration, and nothing should be allowed to stand in the way of it.

Halfway Measures.
"I tried to compliment the opera singer, but he seemed offended."

"What did you say?"

"I said I considered him the greatest living tenor."

"You should have told him that he is the greatest tenor that ever lived and that after his death real music can survive only by means of the phonograph."—Washington Star.

INDIANA SITUATION PLEASSES HITCHCOCK

Outlook for Republican Success Particularly Gratifying to Him.

MIDDLE WEST FOR TAFT.

GREAT CHANGE WROUGHT SINCE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE TOOK THE FIELD, OFFSETTING BRYAN SENTIMENT.

New York, Oct. 2.—Chairman Frank H. Hitchcock of the Republican National Committee, was in high glee before his leaving for Washington. He said in his private office that the outlook for Republican success in some of the doubtful states had materially improved. He spoke particularly of Indiana. This was the date set by him for the beginning of the real campaign, and it was said at national headquarters that, true to the predictions, buttons were pressed and wheels started in all the states where work is needed.

Within two weeks, it was predicted, the so-called Bryan wave which is admitted to have swept through among parts of the West and Middle west will have receded, and Mr. Taft will be found to be gaining. In fact, it was stated that Mr. Taft's trip through the Northwest has already brought about a change.

Mr. Hitchcock said that the coin is coming in fast. He also stated that telegrams and letters have come urging that Governor Hughes be sent back to Indiana and Ohio to insure success to the national ticket there.

OF HOUSE OF DAVID

Yet Peyser Wrote Threatening Letters to Indianapolis Mayor.

TOLD TO GET OUT OF TOWN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2—E. S. Peyser has been started for Louisville on a ticket purchased for him by Mayor Bookwalter. He admitted that he had sent the mayor a letter demanding a place that would pay $45 a week, and that he wrote another of a threatening kind, when his first was not answered.

Captain Bray and Lieutenant Manning, of the city detectives, found Peyser at 526 Highland avenue, where he was living with the family of a street preacher of his own sect. Peyser said he was one of the House of David, a sect led entirely by inspirations from above, with headquarters at Benton Harbor.

"My inspirations," said Peyser, "come through these," and he fingered his flowing curly hair drooping about his shoulders. "I was never led to write a demand for money before, and even if I was inspired to touch a match to any building I would not do it, because I would know it was a bad impulse." Very willing to do the bidding of Mayor Bookwalter and Chief Metzger, who questioned him closely for some time, the stranded messenger from Benton Harbor boarded the train and, armed with a ticket which had been purchased with money given by the mayor and other city officials, he started for Louisville.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

To cure a wart put a drop of vinegar on it three or four times a day and then put on the vinegar as much baking soda as the vinegar will absorb. Keep it on ten minutes, and in a few days' time the wart will drop off and leave no mark but a tiny white spot.

If the heart is weak, but otherwise normal, it can often be strengthened by active leg movements, such as running on tiptoe, swinging the legs back and forth, and in a circular motion, flexing the foot and knees and running. This last should be begun slowly and not continued too long at first.

For burns and scalds there is nothing more soothing than the white of an egg, which should be poured over the wound. It is softer than cold cream. A varnish for a burn and, being always at hand, can be applied immediately. It is the contact with the air which gives the extreme pain. White of eggs excludes the air and prevents inflammation.

HITCHCOCK CALLS ON THE PRESIDENT

Is His Visit of Today on Request of Executive?

Washington, Oct. 2.—Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican national committee is expected in Washington today. It is reported the President summoned Mr. Hitchcock to request from him an explanation of many criticisms which have come to the White House concerning the management of affairs in New York and Chicago, but Secretary Loeb last night denied the portion of the report which attributed Mr. Hitchcock's coming to a special request from the President.
