BRYAN ANNOUNCES CAMPAIGN PLANS

Final Trip in East and Middle West.

Lincoln, Oct. 3--W. J. Bryan spent another quiet day at home today. He has decided that he will not prepare in advance his speeches to be delivered at the deep waterways congress banquet in Chicago next Wednesday night, when he and Judge Taft will be guests of honor.

Mr. Bryan announced today that when he returns here from Chicago he will devote two days to speech making in his old congressional district in this state. He will then rest two days, after which he will go east for a final speech making trip into Ohio, New Jersey, New York, Illinois and Indiana.

Bryan is greatly interested in the making public of the campaign contributions on October 15. He believes this will prove a strong document for campaign purposes and is urging headquarters to get all funds possible before that day. The fact that the list of contributors will include names of many who in the past have opposed his candidacy, Bryan believes will indicate that his contention of a reunited Democracy is true.
