

Days of '98, when Richmond Boys Prepared For War, to Be Recalled

Next Thursday the sight of a miniature city of tents in the heart of beautiful Glen Miller park will recall to the residents of this city and county the stirring days of the Spanish-American war, just ten years ago last spring.

Although the presence of Uncle Sam's olive-drab uniformed infantrymen will be a reminder of the time the Hoosier volunteers, responding eagerly to President McKinley's call to arms, awkwardly executing their drills, but anxiously awaiting the time they would be sent to Indianapolis for mobilization, the sight that will greet the eyes of the big crowd which will gather at the Glen, Thursday, will not be the same as the one seen there in those exciting days of '98.

As one sees the smart looking, well set-up and trained regulars going through their maneuvers, his memory will recall a company of about one hundred young men, drawn from every class in life, from the Harvard student to the day laborer, being instructed in the art of war, hitherto almost unheard of by them, and clumsily stumbling through the various drills to the sharp, impatient commands of their officers. The spectator will also recall that these hundred men—green but willing and in dead earnest—wore no uniforms. Their costumes varied from tailor-made suits to overalls.

When the Gallant Tenth with a flash of arms and to the tune of a lively marching air played by the regimental band, swings out of the Glen to parade down Main street, there will be many a man and woman who will recall the sight of those one hundred Wayne county boys swinging down Main street enroute, as they thought, to "the front." Once again they will hear the band playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and once again they will see the sobbing women on the curbing and at the Pennsylvania station waving their farewells to husband, brother or sweetheart.

The sturdy boys of Company F, 161st, Indiana, presented a motley appearance that long ago day, but their heads were up and their step as light as though they were going to a barbecue; and who is there to say, you will ask yourself as the Tenth goes by, that the regulars were more gallant looking than they?

JOHN D. IS AT HEAD COME 500 STRONG

Once More Takes Up Reigns Of the Standard Oil Company.

Cincinnati Business Men Will Arrive in Richmond Wednesday.

ALWAYS CONSULTED FIRST

WILL GET A BIG RECEPTION

New York, Oct. 3.—John D. Rockefeller, who has taken the public into his confidence in telling the story of his life in a popular magazine, has emerged from his partial retirement in relation to the affairs of the Standard Oil company and is once more its active, dominant head.

Mr. Rockefeller testified in Chicago some time ago that he had had no active part in the concern for two or three years; now this is all changed. Where two or three years ago he visited 26 Broadway, the Standard's headquarters, only once in several months, he now makes his appearance once or twice a week.

Mr. Rockefeller is a keen analytical student of big social and economic movements and in discussing the present spirit which is moving the American people he has declared to close personal friends that he believed a policy of publicity was best, especially in a country where reading is so universal and a tremendous campaign of education being carried on by the newspapers and the magazines.

It is in the furtherance of this plan that he has again taken the headship of the corporation that is figuring so vitally in the present political campaign. Nothing is now done by the Standard Oil company without first consulting him.

ONE FAMILY HAS THIRTY-ONE VOTES

All of Them Will Be Cast for Taft.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 3.—William H. Taft is to profit handsomely from the Potts family, of which William Potts, of Mishawaka, four miles from South Bend, is a member. In the family are nine brothers and these, with the sons of two sisters and of the sons of the brothers, and those who have joined the Potts family by marriage will cast thirty-one votes for Taft. It is not believed that this record can be duplicated in the country.

Peanuts.
Peanuts only thrive in a warm climate. The plant requires a limy, sandy loam and yields from two bushels of pods planted an acre as much as forty or fifty bushels of pods and two tons of straw. The seed is planted about one inch deep in rows from twenty-eight to thirty-six inches apart and from twelve to sixteen inches in the row when danger of late spring frosts has passed. After planting and during the growing period of the crop the soil is kept close and open and free from weeds. The crop is harvested before frost in the fall, the plant being loosened by means of a special plow, then taken up and put into shocks. After drying from fifteen to twenty days the pods are picked.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND CASES OF CHOLERA

Russia Is Sorely Afflicted with Epidemic.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 3.—Since the beginning of the epidemic there have been 15,033 cases of Asiatic cholera reported in Russia and 7,102 deaths in St. Petersburg alone, since the presence of the disease was officially admitted, September 8, there have been 4,913 cases and 1,875 deaths reported.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Boston, Oct. 3.—The school board voted yesterday afternoon at a special meeting to establish new industrial schools, with sessions in the evening, under the present statute which created the State Industrial Commission. The schools will be located in Boston proper, Charlestown, East Boston and Roxbury. Under the law the state will pay one-fifth of the cost of running the schools and the city the remainder.

REPAIRING CEMETERY.

Woman's Cemetery Association of Milton Active.

Milton, Ind., Oct. 3.—The Woman's Cemetery association has begun work of cleaning the Friends cemetery north of town. Samuel Beam is doing the work. The place was in a deplorable condition but will soon be neat and orderly. The transformation of the South Side cemetery was truly remarkable and shows what women can accomplish when they take a hand in affairs.

"Kirby could become famous if he weren't so lazy."
"Oh, he will get famous yet."
"What do you mean?"
"Why, he takes such good care of himself that he will live to be 100 and be famed for that."—Detroit Free Press.

THINGS OF INTEREST TO GARFIELD STUDENTS

The members of the school council were chosen last week. The council is made up of eight 8A's, six 8B's and four 7A's. Early next week the council will be organized for the term. Standing committees on physical education, decoration, social education and general exercises will be appointed. The council will elect a financial secretary, a recording secretary and a treasurer. With each committee will be assigned a faculty advisor. The plan of having Garfield affairs settled by a school council has been tried for several years and has been found very satisfactory. Its essential features have been adopted by many other schools over the country. The members of the council for this term are: 8A—Dale Shreeve, Chauncey Edgerton, Edward Laning, Howard Messick, Lucile Nusbaum, Cornelia Shaw, Mildred Lamb and Pauline Wrede. 8B—Robert Taylor, Willard Kaufman, Kent Morse, Lois Kelly, Mary Johnson and Marjorie Curme. 7A—Ralph Snively, Karl Haner, Helen Neal and Rose Ferling.

Next week the gymnasium classes will be organized. So many pupils have asked for work that it will be necessary to provide extra classes. Pupils urge that the indoor games begin at once but this will not be done so long as the weather is pleasant for out-door sports.

The pictures owned by the school will be hung this week by a committee of teachers. Each year the pictures are reassigned so that the same pictures do not appear in any one room for two consecutive years.
