QUARREL OVER CLOVER CROP AND FIGHT

Luther Rusk Strikes Winfield Eliason.

Upon the charge of assault and battery upon Winfield Eliason, Luther Rusk was arrested at his home north of Pennville yesterday. The arrest was made by Officer Hebble and Sergeant McManus. Rusk gave cash bond to guarantee his appearance in city court Tuesday morning.

According to the story told the officers, Eliason, who owns the farm which is tenanted by Rusk, went to the farm and engaged in conversation about the clover crop that had been threshed. It is claimed the two men had a disagreement and warm words ensued. These were followed up when Rusk struck Eliason in the face.

The officers had to pull off a walking stunt to arrest Rusk and serve papers on a number of witnesses, who reside in the neighborhood.

A VICTORY IN MEDICINE!

By Patient Research and Many Experiments a New Pill Was Invented That Is Far Superior to Castor Oil as a Physic, and Gives the Effect Without Any Taste.

For over four hundred years medical men have searched in vain to find a physic superior to castor oil. Dr. Robert Blackburn, of Dayton, Ohio, conceived the idea a few years ago of combining certain well-known medicinal herbs correctly combined, to act on the stomach, large and small intestines, liver and colon, a remedy would be had for constipation which would act as a physic, and mildly as castor oil, yet without the nauseous taste to overcome. He was successful in preparing a simple mixture which is really a pleasurable physic, and from all other pills. The new medicine is sweet little pills is Blackberry Royal Pills, and they can be had in 10c and 25c packages of any drug store.

CRADLE SONG—THREE TWINS.

The "Three Twins," which comes to the Gennett, tonight, is positively one of the best musical comedies that has ever been produced. Its long run in Chicago of five months at the Whitney at the Herald Square theater, in New York, where the S. R. O. sign is still being displayed nightly.

The "Three Twins" is a musical comedy with a plot and many novel features, the conglomerate nonsense, the riot of color and the spirited movements make such an agreeable attack on one's senses that it matters not under what name the revelry goes. The music titillates and tantalizes, and the witty lines and adept clowning excites one to laughter.

Mr. Gaites has so lavishly costumed the beautiful show girls that they are pleasing to the eye. In the second act there is eight of the handsomest Parisian Directorate gowns, worn by beautiful and shapely girls. The electrical effects are marvelous, the facograph being a distinct novelty, the electrical arial swing being an amazon structure of steel, illuminated with over 2,000 electric lights revolving at a rapid rate with six girls in the baskets singing the Cuddle song, is said to be one of the most beautiful gales ever staged.

The company is headed by Victor Morley, who created the title role and includes Richard Bartlett, George S. Trimble, Eva Fallon, Maud Demarset, Della Niven, Ruby Ray, Florenz Kolb, W. H. Woodside, Frank Smith, E. P. Bower, Ada Bateman, Marie Naskow and a large chorus.

"Paid in Full."—Gennett.

Away from the beaten path, worn hard by the constant travel of the author who believes in conventional themes, did Eugene Walter stray in his search for a story which might appeal to the great mass of theatre-goers in America, and in "Paid in Full," which will be given on the stage of the Gennett Wednesday night by Wagenhals and Kemper, he has found a novel story. It is neither a play of the East nor of the West (but of all America and he has created strong characters, participating in strong scenes; their dialogue is such as men and women of the world of today use, the men and women we daily rub shoulders with, and in order that the perfection might best be conserved, Wagenhals and Kemper have gathered together an unusually brilliant cast. For once the critics of Chicago and New York were united in acclaiming "Paid in Full" the greatest play since the days of "Jim the Penman," and "The Banker's Daughter." The play is in four acts, all of the scenes being placed in New York, but easily applicable to any city in the land. The engagement here of "Paid in Full" promises to be one of the most notable theatrical events of years. Already there has been a large demand for seats.

Chauncey Olcott—Gennett.

There is nothing more delightful than a sweet, wholesome Irish play, well given and Chauncey Olcott has without doubt been identified with more of these works than any comedian living. In "Ragged Robin," which he will present here at the Gennett, Friday night there is not a line or a situation that will offend the most modest person, and its phenomenal success is sufficient demonstration that plays of this kind are still popular if presented in a proper manner.

Vaudeville—New Phillips.

The coming of Pete Baker to the New Phillips theater is being looked forward to by the play goers of a decade ago, who knew him then as the original German comedian of the stage. He was starring then with "Chris and Lena". But Baker's glory is not a faded glory, for if he doesn't show the younger devotees of the stage the real thing in song and yodel and dialect, he will have failed for the first time.

The rest of the bill is strong, and includes the Mario trio who comes with the best act of an acrobatic nature that has ever been shown at the theater.

KILLS TWO WITH AXE; HANGS SELF

Jealousy Cause of Horrible Triple Tragedy.

Johnson City, Tenn., Oct. 5.—This town was the scene of a shocking triple tragedy Sunday afternoon. William Bales, aged 35 years, while at the home of his brother-in-law, Burney Bayless, attacked the latter with an ax, killing him instantly. Then he turned the weapon on his wife and struck her on the head.

Bales was hurried to jail. To control him it became necessary to tie him with a rope. He managed to release himself, and half an hour later he was found dead in his cell, having hanged himself with the same rope.

Bales, it is said, was insanely jealous of his wife, and he came this morning from Embreeville with murder in his heart.

Mrs. Bales was still alive late this afternoon, but with no hope for her recovery.

"STINKING ODOR" LAW ENFORCED

Hundreds of Autoists Forced Off Chicago Boulevards.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—Nearly 1,000 of our very best citizens and several tourists from adjoining cities were jostled off the South Side boulevard Sunday by sundry large, thick policemen and forced to do their speeding over the ordinary streets.

This was due to the discovery by the South Side commissioners of a forgotten ordinance which forbids any vehicle on the boulevards which emits smoke or any "stinking odor."

Consequently many naughty persons, whose touring cars were filling the atmosphere with the rank odor of petroleum, were side-tracked by the police and invited to betake their "offensive odors" elsewhere.

JOE NOTTER, STAR OF JOCKEYS

Keene's Rider Regarded as Best Since Days of "Snapper" Garrison.

Hardly a year passes that there is not one jockey who does not stand out in the list of riders at the New York race tracks. Last year it was Walter Miller who occupied the highest notch. This season it is Joe Notter who appears at the top. Right here there is a coincidence which may lead many to believe that it's the horse that makes the rider. This idea is due to the fact

PITTSBURG MEN PUNISHED BY GIRLS

Hundreds Now Carry Hatpin Wounds.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 5.—Reports from physicians show that there are hundreds of men in Pittsburg now suffering with hatpin jabs administered by women and girls during the Mardi Gras proceedings of last week's sequel-entennial. The police department last week announced that everything would be permitted on the streets at night, the same as halloween, and it appears that the young men, old men, too, were given the privilege of throwing confetti in the face of every pretty girl they met, rubbing her face with a tickler, etc. They went too far sometimes, and by Tuesday night most of the girls and women held hatpins where they could get them into action quickly, and a small army of injured this week is the result.

Richmond people testify to this. William W. Fry, of 320 North Twelfth Street, Richmond, Ind., says: "For a long time I was miserable on account of kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were irregular in action and contained a sediment resembling brick dust. Many nights I had to get out of bed five times to pass the kidney secretions. My back ached intensely and there was a pain across the kidney region. While looking about last winter for a cure for my trouble I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a box and began using them as directed. Being promptly relieved I continued with the remedy until kidney disease left me. I give Doan's Kidney Pills, which can be procured at A. G.
