

BREWERS WORK FOR OPTION LAW REPEAL

Flaming Posters Being Sent Over State by Brewery Combine.

SPECULATION CONFIRMED.

NOW ASSURED IF DEMOCRATIC STATE LEGISLATURE IS ELECT-ED, REPEAL OF LAW IS CER-TAIN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 13.—That the brewers will make a tremendous effort to secure the repeal of the county local option law if the Democrats should carry the legislature this year is shown by the fact that they are beginning a bill-post campaign with a view to prejudicing public opinion against the county local option statute. The bills appeared on boards in Indianapolis yesterday.

This is the most direct evidence that has yet been obtained connecting the brewers with a movement to repeal the law which was written upon the statute books at the recent special session of the legislature.

The Terre Haute Brewing company, of which Crawford Fairbanks is the head, is sending to bill-posting agents throughout the state lurid bills of large dimensions which are to be posted as conspicuously as possible. Seven sheets are being sent to each bill poster, with instructions to post them in such a way as to form a large bill about eight by ten feet in dimension.

Across the top of the completed bill will appear in immense red letters the following:

"Effects of county local option."

Across the bottom, in letters almost as large and fully as red, will stand out the following legend:

"County local option means prohibition with all its evil effects."

The intervening sheets between the top and bottom streamers will be devoted to printed matter that will attempt to show in detail the so-called "evil effects" of prohibition. Evidently the brewery combine sets especial store by one sheet entitled, "Bankruptcy Follows Prohibition," for the instructions to bill posters specify that two copies of it shall be posted on each bill board, one on each side of another sheet in red and black type.

The sheets which bears the caption, "Bankruptcy Follows Prohibition," deals with conditions at Kansas City, Kans., and presents pictures of 108 storekeepers in that city which the poster says have been made vacant by the abolishment of saloons from that town.

"The Camera Can't Lie" is the brewery comment on this series of photographs.

Then follows, in bold faced type a description of "what prohibition did" in Kansas City, Kans.

Appeals to Selfish Interests.

The "red and black sheet of statistics," as it is called in the letter of instructions to bill posters, deals with the statistical side of the liquor traffic and appeals to a large variety of citizens from the standpoint of selfish interest alone. It is addressed to "farmers, manufacturers, dealers, insurance agents, transportation companies and wage earners."

Then this circular proceeds in part as follows:

"The continued growth of prohibition and the destruction of the brewery and distilling industries will result in the farmer and the allied trades in all lines of manufacture being made to suffer great losses through the destroyed markets for their products."

"Every farmer, every workman and every manufacturer in the United States should now assert his rights and use every effort to suppress this growing evil of prohibition, which is jeopardizing the livelihood of upward of six millions of people and threatens to participate the greatest financial crisis this country has ever known."

Letter of Instructions.

The letter which the Terre Haute Brewing company is sending to bill posters is as follows:

"Dear Sir—We are shipping you by express paper for eight sheet stands contracted for by us through Proctor & Collier. These stands are to be posted with seven sheets arranged as follows: Two sheets across the top, reading, 'Effects of County Local Option.'"

"Post the three individual sheets through the center of the stand from right to left, as follows:

"Bankruptcy sheet, Red and black sheet, Bankruptcy sheet.

"Post the two remaining sheets of statistics across the bottom, same reading as follows:

County Local Option Means Prohibition With All Its Evil Effects.

"To make ourselves clear in the matter we wish to state that we are to be charged for eight sheets, although we are only posting seven sheets to each stand. You will understand by the above instructions that there are to be three rows of sheets to the stand; the top row having two sheets, the center row having three sheets and the bottom row having two sheets.

Yours very truly,

"Terre Haute Brewing Company."

Crawford Fairbanks of the Terre Haute Brewing company, was one of the most pronounced opponents of the county local option bill while it was before the legislature and remained here during the entire special session, counseling with Thomas Taggart, Albert Lieber and others who were managing the fight against the bill.

The bill-posting campaign confirms what many persons had suspected—that the brewers will spare no effort to have the county option statute wiped off the books at the earliest possible moment.

A Proposition to Women.

Madam, if someone would tell you in secret of a soap which would wash faces, linens, linoleums, windows, flannels, anything, and do it with half the labor, would you try it? Well, Easy Task will do all this and more. It is no experiment. It is the only white laundry soap that has been in use for twenty-five years. Now, will you try it? Only 5c a cake.
