

DONOVAN AGAIN IN THE BOX FOR DETROIT

Famous Pitcher Reports to Hugh Jennings Saying He Is Ready for Battle Against Chicago.

DETROIT FANS ARE MUCH DISCOURAGED.

Tigers, However, Entered Today's Game With the Spirit Of Win—Overall Put on the Firing Line.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

FIRST INNING.

Chicago—Sheppard flied to Schaefer, who made a pretty catch back of second. Evers jumped a fly into short center that fell safe. Donovan soon came to have neither speed nor curve. Schulte singled past Coughlin. Chance singled to center. Evers scores. Williams was sent out to warm up. Steinfield flied out to Crawford. Hoffman hit to Coughlin who tagged Schulte on the line after making a pretty stop. Three hits, one run.

Detroit—McIntyre walks; O'Leary fairs; Crawford singles to centerfield. Hoffman commencing in vain effort to get the ball. Cobb bunted twice, fouling then struck out. Rossmann's third strike was a wild pitch, and he reached first safe, filling the bases. Schaefer struck out retiring the side. One hit, no runs.

SECOND INNING.

Cubs—Tinker was easy. Coughlin to Rossmann. Kling fouled out to Schmidt. Rossmann tossed Overall out to Donovan. No runs.

Detroit—Schmidt struck out. Coughlin's drive was straight at Tinker who threw him out to Chance. Donovan walked. Donovan stole second. Kling making no throw, being hampered by a high pitch. McIntyre lined to Hoffman. No runs.

THIRD INNING.

Chicago—No runs; Detroit, no runs.

FOURTH INNING.

Chicago—No runs; Detroit, no runs.

Detroit, Oct. 14.—Donovan told Jennings today he was in shape to pitch the game of his life, and Jennings answered by taking "Wild Bill's" word for it and put him in to stop the Cubs from clinching the world's baseball championship today. Although the players have no further interest in the game receipts, they are fighting hard for this game, the Tigers victorious of Cubs against the Tigers, having nerved them to do their utmost.

The fans today numbered about two-thirds of yesterday's crowd and were undeniably gloomy, even with Donovan on the job.

Chance withheld the announcement of his pitcher until the last moment, but in the warm up, Overall showed up best. But Chance decided to start off with Reulbach.

BROWN THE HERO.

Detroit Unable to Touch Star Chicago Twirler.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14.—Back on the job went the wondrous Cubs and played the striped Tigers to a far-away.

Behind the superb pitching of the great Mordecai Brown, the Chicago boys played perfect ball, outlasted the American leaguers in all the finer points of the game and practically threw a diamond hitch around their second world's championship. This was the crucial combat of the series. The Tigers, cheered by their victory of Monday and confident that their batting lamps were trimmed and burning, went into the fray full of pepper and sure that they were going to tie up.

It was a perfect day for baseball, clear, warm and nearly windless. The cautious carried their overcoats and doubtless were equipped with heavy blankets underneath, but needed neither. Starting at 2 o'clock, the game was sure to be over before the evening chill began. No better setting for a deciding combat could have been selected. The playing field was in perfect condition, level as a billiard table and green as the banners in an A. O. H. parade. The 13,000 fans completely surrounded the arena, without encroaching upon the surface reserved for the athletes. There was enthusiasm and confidence in plenty among the sons of Michigan when the two great teams took the field, and Umpire Connelly, after a brief conference with the captains, gave the word to play. Everything was made to order for a Tiger victory, and such a result was firmly expected by 85 per cent of those present.

Tigers' Hope Crushed.

Then up rose Three-Fingered Brown and barred the way, crushing the hopes of the Michlanders at his own sweet will. This fine figure of an athlete, a man of intelligence, character and moral courage, as well as exceptional physical ability, shattered the myth of his weariness and gave one of the most magnificent exhibitions of the pitching art that ever dazzled a multitude. With that alleged lame arm of his he shot the sphere across the pan like a streak of lightning, and many there were who were bewildered thereat. The slugging Tigers were at little children in his hands. Only two could touch him, and one of these was Charley O'Leary, the weakest batsman in the Tiger line-up. The other was Sam Crawford, who hit safely his first two times up and then yielded to the skill of Mordecai, and was a ripe and luscious berry thereafter. The great Cobb was helpless, the awful McIntyre was hopeless, the biffing first baseman, Claudius Rossmann, was as a child. Cobb struck out once, and so did Rossmann, and neither of these sluggers succeeded in getting the ball out of the infield or so much as gave the fast Cub defenders a single hard chance to handle. In six of the nine rounds the men who created such dismay have yesterday were set down in the fastest possible order. Brown used his famous hook curve, which does not wander widely from its path, but breaks with such speed that opposing sluggers cannot size it up until it is resting in the catcher's hands. As usual, the three-fingered artist had the most perfect command of every brand he heaved, and he was absolute master of the day. The score:

MORSE FACES TRIAL

Indictments Charge Violation
Of the National Banking Laws.

MAY FACE TERM IN PRISON.

New York, Oct. 14.—Charles W. Morse and his business friend, Alfred H. Curtis, who was president of the National Bank of North America before the recent panic, were placed on trial today before Judge Hough in the criminal branch of the United States district court on indictments for various violations of the national banking laws and for conspiracy. The trial will probably be long, as the evidence is vast. If a conviction is found and sustained in the higher courts there will be no alternative from going to jail, for while the offenses specified in the indictments are misdemeanors under the national banking law, the penalty is a prison term of from five to ten years, at the discretion of the court. For conspiracy the penalty is a $5,000 fine or a two-year term in prison or both. Morse and Curtis are charged with misapplication of funds and making false entries, the indictments alleging in detail the misapplication of $210,081.47 of the bank's funds through overdrafts allowed to Morse.

STUDENTS IN BUZZ OF EXCITEMENT

Stabbing Fray Reported at High School.

Much excitement prevailed among the students at the high school yesterday when it was reported that Earl Moore, a freshman, who moved to Richmond from Georgia last year, had stabbed Lawrence Bercham another student, with a pocket knife. On investigation it was found that Bercham had been stuck with a knife just above the knee. Both boys agree that the cutting was accidental.

"BUDDY" ARRESTED.

William Woods, colored, known as "Buddy" has been arrested and charged with the theft of cartridges from a shooting gallery on Main street. No affidavit has been prepared against Woods but he is held under an appearance bond for $100. Woods says he is innocent and his mother, who provided his bond, says it is an effort to impose upon the young man.

BOTH WRESTLERS ARE CONFIDENT

Terrible Turk and LaSalle Are Preparing for Thursday Night's Fray.

GREAT CONTEST EXPECTED.

BUSCH, THE CLEVER GERMAN IS-SUES CHALLENGE TO THE WIN-NER OF THURSDAY'S BOUT
THROUGH PALLADIUM.

There promises to be a big crowd at the coliseum tomorrow evening to witness the wrestling bout between the "Terrible Turk" and Joe LaSalle, the clever Canadian light-heavyweight. LaSalle will be one of the hardest men the Turk has taken on in this part of the country, and the man who wins the match will know he has been at hard work.

LaSalle has been training hard all week at the Earlman gymnasium and is now in the pink of condition. The Turk is always in fine trim, so it is certain the bout will be fast and furious. LaSalle is confident of defeating the Turk. He states that he has been taking all comers and that the Turk does not look any more difficult to him than the others did. The Turk is also full to the brim of confidence.

Busch, the clever German mat artist, has been busily working to get a return match with the Turk. Busch states that he is certain that in the Gracioso-Roman style he can defeat big Bob. Busch this morning, through the Palladium, issued a challenge to the winner of the bout Thursday night.

THE BOTTLE TREE.

A Life Saver For Cattle During the Australian Droughts.

"It was like a real bottle, thirty feet high, covered with the bark of a box tree and with a gum tree growing out where the cork ought to be."

Such was the way in which an Englishman described the first bottle tree which came under his notice, and truly one who does not know the tree is its sudden appearance in his pathway, often in the midst of dense scrub, must make a vivid impression.

The lower part of the trunk is thick and cylindrical, decreasing in size toward the top, its shape being that of a gigantic living bottle, from the neck of which spring the only branches and leaves that the tree possesses. In this respect it carries to an excess the peculiarity of most Australian trees—namely, their lack of branches for a considerable distance up the stem.

The bark is of grayish color and is very hard, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, but the wood inside is soft and moist. The latter can be chewed in the same way as sugar cane, but as it lacks its sweet, pleasant taste it is rarely used in this way. This peculiar characteristic of the tree, however, makes it a valuable food for cattle.

Indeed, during the long droughts which occasionally visit Australia hundreds of settlers have to thank the bottle tree for saving them from ruin. Sometimes for more than a year and in the inland districts for still longer periods scarcely a drop of rain falls.

Every blade of grass is dried, tanks become empty, creeks no longer run and in many cases dry up altogether, as do nearly all the water holes and ponds; cultivation is impossible, and fodder for cattle and horses is extremely difficult to procure. Then the bottle tree comes to the rescue. Every scrub is searched for these living bottles, and everywhere is heard the ringing of axes as the strange, attractive trees are laid low.

As soon as the trunk has been stripped of its bark the cattle are brought to it within easy distance, and there they remain till neither leaves nor wood is left. In places where the settlers have no scrubs of their own they will drive many miles in order to obtain a wagon load of this great treasure.

Sometimes instead of allowing the animals free access to the tree the settlers cut the trunk into strips, put the strips through the cutter and thus make a substitute for proper chaff.

In many instances during a drought, except for prickly pears and the foliage of trees, cattle are fed on these living bottles alone, and they have been the means of saving large quantities of stock.

It seems strange that in the absence of rain these trees should retain their moist interior, as the majority of others look dry and drought-stricken.

But throughout all the bottle tree flourishes, lifting its dark green leaves toward the sky, whither the farmers and squatters turn longing eyes in the hopes of the wished-for rain.

When the dry season ends and the land in a very few weeks is covered with fresh green grass, the work of the bottle tree is done. But, mindful of its past usefulness, no farmer unless under absolute necessity fells this tree, and it may often be seen standing in solitary grandeur, its strange shape outlined against the blue sky, while the land at its base has been put under cultivation or has been converted into grazing grounds for the cattle.

CHILDREN ASKED TO DO THEIR PART

Can Do Much for Orphans
Who Are Ill by Saving Pennies.

TAG DAY IN ONE WEEK.

CONTRIBUTIONS WILL BE RE-CEIVED FROM ALL PEOPLE IN THE CITY, THE MONEY GOING TO REID MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

Tag day will be one week from today.

Children will be appealed to this year to save their pennies and donate them to the cause on that day. There are twenty-three children from the Wernle Orphans' Home at the Reid Memorial hospital suffering from typhoid fever. They would appreciate nice fruit and other choice articles not provided for them on the hospital menu. There are thousands of children in the city and if all of them have the pennies given them between now and Wednesday, October 21, much money can be raised and much can be done for those twenty-three invalids.

And the general public is appealed to, also. The same plan as followed last year will be in vogue again. Booths will be placed in a number of stores, the public buildings, the banks, and other places and all who give will be presented with a tag. There will be no solicitation, only a free will offering. Last year the plan proved a success and it is expected this year the amount of money raised will surpass that of the initial tag day.

A SCISSORS ARTIST.

The Wonderful Feats Performed by Joanne Koetner.

More than 200 years ago a little girl was born at Amsterdam, Holland, whose name was Joanne Koetner. She was a peculiar child in that she cared nothing whatever for play and sport, but found her greatest delight in making copies of things about her, imitating in wax every kind of fruit and making on silk with colored floss exact copies of paintings which were thought wonderful.

But after she had become very accomplished in music, spinning and embroidery she abandoned all these for a still more extraordinary art—that of cutting. She executed landscapes, marine views, flowers, animals and portraits of people of such striking resemblance that she was for a time quite the wonder of Europe. She used white papers for her cuttings, placing them under a black surface, so that the minute openings made by her scissors formed the "light and shade."

The czar, Peter the Great, and others of high rank paid her honor. One man high in office vainly offered her 1,000 florins for three small cuttings. The empress of Germany paid her 4,000 florins for a trophy she had cut, bearing the arms of Emperor Leopold, crowned with eagles and surrounded by a garland of flowers. She also cut the emperor's portrait, which can now be seen in the Hof Art gallery in Vienna. A great many people went to see her, and she kept a book in which princes and princesses wrote their names.

After she died, which was when she had lived sixty-five years, her husband, Adrian Block, erected a monument to her memory and had designed upon it the portraits of these titled visitors. Her cuttings were so correct in effect and so tasteful as to give both dignity and value to her work and constitute her an artist whose exquisite skill with the scissors has never before or since been equaled.

"So you finally proposed?" said his chum.

"Well, to tell the truth," returned the thoughtful youth, "I really didn't know that I proposed, but she accepted me, so I guess that settles it. I tell you this language of ours is not to be used lightly."

There is no medicine so safe and at the same time so pleasant to take as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the positive cure for all diseases arising from stomach trouble. The price is very reasonable—50c and $1.

EARLHAM HOPES TO DEFEAT FRANKLIN

Quakers Being Put Through Light Practice This Week.

SUFFER FROM LAST GAME.

SEVERAL MEN WILL NOT BE ABLE TO GIVE THEIR BEST SERVICES
BUT ARE COUNTING ON A VICTORY.

Saturday afternoon Earlham will play Franklin at Reid Field and the Quakers are counting on defeating the visitors in a decisive manner. Franklin has not made a very good showing so far this year.

This week Coach Vail has been putting his Quakers through light signal practice so that they can have an opportunity of ridding themselves of the stiffness resulting from the Purdue game last Saturday. Several of the men have not been able to work out this week but by tomorrow it is expected the entire squad will be on the field.

The line is beginning to play lower and is now charging well. Hancock the fast little end will be in shape by Saturday and his running mate, Gascon, should be rid of two ugly "charley horses." Lawrence is still in bad shape but will probably be out by next week. Harrell, Hines, Beecher, White, Brunner and Jones are all in good shape and Coach Vail will probably use all of these backs in the Franklin game.

Beebe was badly bruised up last Saturday and will be unable to play Saturday against Franklin. Hill will probably be used at quarter. He is a new man, but promising.

The ambition of the Quakers is to defeat DePaul, which has a very fast team this year. With his excellent back field material Vail should be able to develop a great offense to be used against the Methodists. This afternoon the Earlham team will play a short practice game against the high school team.

CAMELS HARBOR HATRED.

Will Wait Until an Opportunity Arrives For Revenge.

The Arab who has angered a camel will throw his clothes upon the ground, and the infuriated beast after stamping on them and tearing them asunder with its teeth goes on its way, and the driver is thereafter quite safe, as it seems to be an axiom with the camel that no man shall be put in peril of life twice for one offense.

The camel is stupid save when angry and then seems to become almost preternatural in carrying out its vengeful designs. Palgrave relates the following story of a camel's revenge. "A lad of fourteen had conducted a large camel laden with wood from one village to another at a half hour's distance. As the animal loitered or turned out of the way its conductor struck it repeatedly and harder than it seemed to have thought he had a right to do; but, not finding the occasion favorable for taking immediate quits, it 'bode its time.' That time was not long in coming.

"A few days later the same lad had to reconduct the beast, but unluckily, to his own village. When they were about halfway on the road and at some distance from any habitation the camel suddenly stopped, looked deliberately round in every direction to assure itself that no one was in sight and, finding the road clear of passer-by, made a step forward, seized the unlucky boy's head in its monstrous mouth and, lifting him up in the air, flung him down again on the earth with the upper part of his skull completely torn off.

"Having thus satisfied its revenge the brute quietly resumed its pace toward the village, as though nothing were the matter, till some men who had observed the whole, though unfortunately at too great a distance to be able to afford timely help, came up and killed it."—London Telegraph.

Describing the stringent police regulations of Berlin, a citizen of that city by way of illustration told the following story:

"Schmidt and Kraus met one morning in the park.
"Have you heard," says Schmidt, "the sad news about Muller?"
"No," says Kraus. "What is it?"
"Well, poor Muller went boating on the river yesterday. The boat capsized, and he was drowned. The water was ten feet deep."
"But couldn't he swim?"
"Swim? Don't you know that all persons are strictly forbidden by the police to swim in the river?"—Philadelphia Record.

"The best definition I ever heard of 'untold agony,'" says the philosopher of folly, "is this—it is a secret kept by a woman."

ASPIRANTS TELL PRESIDENT'S DUTY

All Candidates for High Office Outline Things They Would Do.

ROOSEVELT TAFT'S IDEAL.

INDEPENDENT GIVES WRITTEN
VIEWS OF W. J. BRYAN, WAT-SON, HISGEN, DEBS AND CHAFIN
—THE VARIOUS CANDIDATES.

New York, Oct. 14.—The Independent this week will contain articles by all the presidential candidates on the issues of the campaign. Mr. Taft says the question is one of approval or disapproval of the work of the present administration, which he calls "a wonderful series of successes." He mentions the various anti-trust and rebate prosecutions and the railroad rate law as praiseworthy achievements which have stopped the abuses that had crept in during the expansion of business in the last twelve years. He says that confidence has been restored and Bryan's election would be a menace to prosperity.

Mr. Bryan says the government now is in the hands of corporations and that large and secret campaign contributions have obligated the candidates in advance. Senators are elected by the special interests and not by the people, he declares, and Speaker Cannon has exercised despotic control over legislation. He says the democratic remedy is publicity for campaign contributions, the election of United States senators by popular vote and reform in the rules of congress.

Debs says the army of the unemployed is the country's biggest problem and proposes to have the government find work for them by building schools, reforesting the lands, building canals and other useful public works. He says the working class cannot be subjugated any longer.

Chafin believes prohibition to be the biggest economic question of any political party. The people who labor for a living spent more than $1,000,000,000 for liquor last year, he declares. Under prohibition this would have gone into the homes and been expended for something useful.

Watson Has Many Cures.

Tom Watson says, "no trusts are busted despite all the talk." He says the populists have the only solution of the trust question. He seeks to deprive the judiciary of the power it has usurped, would have the government own the public utilities, and would prevent land monopoly.

Higgen declares the independence party is the only really democratic party. The noble intentions of the Republican party, he declares, so far as its leaders are concerned, died with Lincoln. Trusts have fattened under Republican rule, and Bryan has sold out his old time convictions for the hope of office. Higgen promises to put back the reins of government into the hands of the people.

Report for First Month in Richmond Public Schools

Made Public.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT 2,963.

The report for the first month of school for the Richmond public schools has just been completed and shows that while the grade schools lost 28 in attendance the high school gained 37 over last year. The report this year compared with other years shows that there has been a gain of 107 in the attendance of the schools since 1903.

The total attendance for the schools for the first month is as follows: High school, 400; Garfield, 238; Finley, 245; Warner, 235; Starr, 449; Whitewater, 215; Hibberd, 254; Valle, 233; Baxter, 269, and Sevastop, 201.

This makes a total enrollment for all the schools of 2,963.

pastor of the Walnut street church of Evansville. He stated that to secure more liberal contributions the church should not invent new tortures to squeeze the money out of the people, but that a plan should be adopted which would make it a pleasure to give to the church and when each member of the congregation paid his church assessment he would, like the Jews of old, shout with joy. Dr. Kennedy stated that he thought well of the proposed plan to have each member contribute one-tenth of his annual income to the church.

Trustees Elected.

Yesterday afternoon the following trustees of the synod were elected: The Rev. J. H. Holiday of Indianapolis, the Rev. C. D. Van Noy of Franklin, the Rev. David Van Dyke of Greencastle, the Rev. T. H. Spann of Indianapolis and the Rev. Charles Little of Wabash. Last evening the Presbyterian brotherhoods of this city were addressed by Rev. Ira Landtrith, D. D., L. L. D. of Nashville, Tenn. The synod will conclude its business this afternoon and tonight the Rev. Landtrith will address the Federation of Men's Church Brotherhoods.

The Rev. Shumaker, president of the State Anti-Saloon league, will deliver an address before the delegates this afternoon. He will speak on the campaign to drive the saloons out of the state.

The meanest man again.

The Herald has discovered the meanest man in Sabatha. The cat disturbed his slumbers, and to get rid of them he offered a reward of 50 cents for every cat scalp. A boy destroyed nine of his sleep disturbers and brought the scalps to the man for the reward. He was paid but 50 cents, however, as the man claimed that each cat has nine lives and the nine scalps might all have been from the same cat.—Topeka Capital.
