

CHEERING NEWS FROM LEADERS

District Chairmen Report Situation Improves for Republicans.

HOLD A STATE MEETING.

SHOWN THAT SALOON MEN ARE USING EVERY KNOWN MEANS TO INFLUENCE VOTES AGAINST REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—That the situation throughout Indiana is much improved from a republican standpoint was the general opinion of district chairmen, who reported conditions in their districts yesterday to the republican state committee in session at the Claypool hotel. After the meeting State Chairman James P. Goodrich, Acting Chairman Fred Sims, Secretary Carl Riddick, Vice Chairman George Dinwiddie and various of the committeemen and state candidates, who were also present, expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the progress the republican organization has made and were confident that both Taft and Watson would carry Indiana by substantial majorities.

The meeting lasted several hours and was attended not only by the members of the committee and candidates on the state ticket, but by the members of the state executive committee as well. Most of the time was taken up with reports submitted by the district chairmen relative to conditions in each county in their respective districts. In each instance the district chairman said that the brewers and saloon men are leaving no stone unturned to organize the saloon patronage and the so-called "liberal element" throughout the state. It was declared that they are endeavoring to line up every other force possible and have themselves refused to take the county local option issue out of the campaign.

It was shown also that the brewers have been exaggerating and misrepresenting disaffection in the republican ranks. In many instances where the county chairman sent men to investigate the reported disaffection the report was found to be without foundation. The saloon men, it was declared are making their strongest fights in the cities of Terre Haute, Evansville, Muncie, Ft. Wayne, South Bend and other places where the saloon element is strong or where it is believed there is a chance to line up most of the labor vote with the liquor interests. It was declared, however, that at Linton and other points in the mining districts the miners are standing by the action of their delegates at the convention of the Indiana State Federation of Labor held recently at Vincennes, in which their delegates opposed the adoption of the now famous "booze" resolution which allied organized labor in this state with the liquor interests of Indiana.

Held Meetings in Saloons.
District chairman said after the meeting that the saloons in many districts are holding meetings in their saloons, it being arranged that the orator for the occasion should point during the course of his address to the saloon keeper, the bartender and the porter and urge upon the men assembled that if Watson is elected the saloons will close and each will be thrown out of employment; that the breweries will be closed and all of the brewery agents, officials or employees of any character will likewise be thrown out of employment; that the men whose rooms are now rented for saloons will lose through the closing of the saloons; that men will be robbed of their right to drink what they please, and that property values everywhere will decrease. It was shown that wherever possible ignoring of the county local option law is being taken advantage of; that saloon men are being pledged to get five voters each to vote against Watson and that a special effort is being made to line up the colored voters.

Reports made by Fremont Goodwine, candidate for Lieutenant Governor and others of the state candidates, who have been doing more organizing than stump speaking, were to the effect that there are twenty counties only in which the republican organization needs strengthening. Organizers have been sent into these counties and more will be sent to remain for two or three days and work in conjunction with the county organizations.

It was declared that the republicans have the advantage in a majority of these counties, but it was determined that every possible step should be taken that would tend to increase the advantage and for that reason it was determined that the county organization should renew their solicitations for campaign contributions.

It is not improbable that Senator Beveridge will tour Indiana on a special train and arrangements may be made to send James E. Watson on a short tour by special train also. These points have not been fully determined, according to State Chairman Goodrich.

Mr. Goodrich reached Indianapolis yesterday. He will remain in Indiana and during the remainder of the campaign will devote considerable time to organization work, visiting localities where he will be of service and assisting in strengthening the organizations and straightening out any disaffection that may develop.

Women's Woes.

Richmond Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Frances Hamilton, of 27 North Ninth street, Richmond, Ind., says: "I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills by my sister who had used them and been cured of kidney trouble. At the time I was having severe back-aches and pains in my loins and shoulders, and I accordingly got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at A. G. Luken & Co's drug store. I used only two boxes in all and was entirely freed from the aches and pains. I have never had a return of my trouble since, although it was several years ago that I used Doan's Kidney Pills. My sister and I both think there is no remedy equal to this one, and very gladly recommend it to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Good Laces are Always Treasures

Every woman dreads sending her fine laces to the wash, because coarse yellow soap always spoils them. They should not be boiled, because the delicate linen threads, like all other vegetable fabrics, will boil soft. If you want your laces to look like new, use Easy Task soap. You need not boil them or give them hard rubbing.

The Long Lived Pear.

The pear is really more hardy than the apple and needs less coaxing. There are trees still standing near Monroe, in the state of Michigan, which were planted by the French settlers before Penn founded Philadelphia. Pear trees can be kept in good bearing, condition for 300 years and apples for at least 150 years. I have an apple tree 115 years old and its annual fruitage is as perfect as it was sixty years ago.—E. P. Powell in Outing Magazine.

SUCCESS WITH SHEEP.

Learning of the methods which have brought success to other business men has helped many a beginner to improve every opportunity while making his own start in a life's undertaking.

To become a true master of sheep breeding it requires the desire to do it correctly and to persevere for many years in continuation. A solid foundation is the first and greatest of all requirements, so do not start in a hurry, but do it well, says a writer in the Shepherd's Criterion. A few ewes of undeniable breeding and correct individual merit are more to be desired than a larger number of inferior ones. Books and articles have been written on this subject and have done a great deal of good in scattering practical ideas among fresh minds, but your best way to gather the most reliable and practical information is to visit the best breeder within an ordinary distance by rail. Go and stay a day or so and have a few hours' conversation with the breeder himself, and there you can learn of practical ideas which have given good results, both in feeding and breeding. By personal interview numerous things can be learned which are hard to tell on paper.

No matter whether you are making purchases or not, any large breeder will be only too pleased to have you go through his flock. If you are contemplating the founding of a flock or are a new breeder, you will be greatly profited by a visit to the largest and most reputable breeder within your reach, and if you are an old breeder you would enjoy seeing how others do things. Sometimes I think that breeders miss a great deal by not having their efforts more united. More visits with each other would bind them closer together, and each would profit by the experience of others. From personal experience I am sure that every such visit adds to your general knowledge of the business. Every visit I have ever made to another flock gives new ideas in breeding and feeding.

Your first few years should be spent in building such a live flock as will produce the very highest class of lambs. The first step is to get a few ewes from the oldest and most reliable breeder you know of, as these are the only ones that will give you uniformly good results, such as you desire. In a couple of years you can tell which ewes are not breeding just as you would wish, and these can be discarded, as well as their lambs, if at all undesirable. The lambs from the better ewes should be kept in the flock as breeders. Soon you have a most excellent breeding flock, and that will be the real foundation of your business. Keep your best young ewes regardless of what price may have been offered you. America needs more steady breeders in the sheep business who desire none but the very highest class obtainable. The common sort are in enough hands, so when you start make it your sole aim to have a flock superior to as large a per cent of the others as is possible.

The better your sheep are the larger will be the profits. When breeding pure bred do not huddle down in your little nest and think that everything will come to you. You must get out and meet other good breeders and exchange ideas. The experience of other breeders will assist you in breeding the top notchers, and when you have once placed your flock among the leaders of the country there will be great demand for the surplus of your flock. It is a great satisfaction to know that the sheep you sell will be admired and do well in any country to which they go.

The Porker.
The perfect mother punches her brood in some corner and settles down a few feet from them.
Never select a young boar with a coarse, homely head, as results are not apt to be satisfactory.
One acre of alfalfa in good growth will pasture about fifteen 100 pound sows receiving a full feed of corn.
In selecting a hog never pick out one that has very large bones, big, round hind legs, under the impression that the hog is strong and is going to stand up. Simply because a hog has got large bones is no criterion that he will stand up.
Castrate the pigs when they are three or four weeks old. Then they are unusually active and the wound heals quickly and is well before they are weaned, causing no setback in the pig's development.
