CONSUL GENERAL TO LIVER-
POOL, BACK IN OLD INDIANA
READY TO ASSIST REPUBLICAN PARTY TO VICTORY.

Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—That both Taft and Hughes will carry New York is the prediction of John L. Griffiths, formerly of Indianapolis, now United States consul general at Liverpool, England, who arrived home yesterday to participate in the Indiana campaign in behalf of the republican ticket. Mr. Griffiths arrived in New York several days ago and has been speaking in New York state in behalf of Taft and Hughes.

"There is no question but that Taft and Hughes will carry New York," said Mr. Griffiths. "I never saw such enthusiasm among the people over any candidate as there is for Governor Hughes."

While in New York state Mr. Griffiths spoke in Buffalo, Rochester, Utica, Watertown and other cities under the direction of the national and state committees.

Mr. Griffiths arrived in Indianapolis shortly after 11 o'clock and reported to Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican state committee. He then lunched at the Columbia club and at 2:45 left for Winchester, where he spoke last night.

"I'm mighty glad to get back to Indiana and get into the harness," said Mr. Griffiths. "I am going to roll up my sleeves now and get busy. I will remain here until after the election and will sail for England about the 10th or 15th of November. Mrs. Griffiths is now in Cincinnati and will join me here in about ten days. I want thoroughly to familiarize myself with conditions in this state. I'm a little bit rusty, for I have had to study conditions in Indiana at long range."

"There is a great deal of interest in England over the outcome of the election in this country. The British newspapers are giving the campaign considerable space."

Mr. Griffiths is in good health. He was kept busy at the Columbia club yesterday greeting his Indianapolis friends.

Mr. Griffiths will speak tonight at Elwood. Tomorrow night he will speak at Vincennes. He will deliver two speeches on Saturday, one at Rockport at 2 o'clock and another at Newberg at 7:30.

Spotless Table Linen.

To have snowy table cloths and napkins you must use only pure soap. Yellow linen is inexcusable, and is really more expensive in the end, as poor, coarse soap makes quick work of fine cloth. Easy Task soap can be relied upon. It is white and pure, cleans without injury and costs but five cents.

AS STRANGE AS FICTION.

As True as Gospel—Proofs Not Wanted.

I give out this report for publication because I feel it my duty to society as the most wonderful discovery of the age. For over fourteen years I was an invalid. I suffered so much that I often prayed for death. I spent over twenty thousand dollars in search of health, was treated by many prominent doctors and visited a number of watering places, but was growing worse all the time. Last summer I heard a great deal of Root Juice talk and I made it my business to investigate every reported cure. I was at last so well satisfied that I bought one dozen bottles. I had suffered so long that I felt I would not get any good out of a small amount and as I decided to give it a trial, I determined to try it right. I do not know what my disease was, as every doctor diagnosed my case differently. I can only give the symptoms and they were numerous. My appetite was good at times and at other times I had no appetite. At times I would bloat so I could not button my vest, mucous would drop from my head down in my throat, especially in the morning; my breath was always bad; I had a burning sensation in my stomach most of the time; my kidneys gave me a great deal of trouble; I would often have to get up fifteen or twenty times during the night; I was constipated at times and at other times my bowels were too loose. I nearly always had a dull, heavy headache. After taking half a bottle of Root Juice I noticed improvement. I used six bottles before I stopped. All my friends in Peoria know just how I was and I want the world to know how I am now. I eat well and sleep well; there is not an ache or pain in my body. What a glorious gift is health, and I am happy to say to the world Root Juice gave me mine." A. J. Donovan, Peoria, Ill.

The great Root Juice is sold for one dollar a bottle, or three bottles for two dollars and a half at A. G. Luken & Co's drug store.

"What about the bandying about of the honored German name by the brewers so as to make it the special champion of the disgraceful 'booze joints,' dives and gambling halls owned and run by the breweries of Indiana and adjoining states? We respectfully protest that there are many self-respecting Germans in Indiana who believe that the American saloon has degenerated so disgracefully that it is not to be compared with its forerunner in the fatherland, and that since the brewers will not obey the law the people are justly entitled to have the right to banish the saloon altogether where they deem that the public safety requires it."

"The trouble with this whole brewer's outfit is that it is afraid to trust the people in whose hands this matter is now placed and to whom they will be accountable for their good behavior in the future. Their talk about the right of the people to rule is all 'shilly shally' which deceives no one."

"The difference between township and county local option is clearly shown by the elections in Illinois and Ohio, the former having township local option laws and the latter having county local option. In Illinois eighty-four counties held township elections last April. Eighty-three of these counties cast a majority vote against the saloon, but only twenty-nine of them went dry because of more townships in each of these fifty-five counties which remained wet had a pro-saloon majority. Yet the total majority in these eighty-four counties against the saloon was 65,000."

Advantage of County Unit.

"In Ohio thirty-six counties have held elections under their county option law, which became effective Sept. 1. Thirty-four of these counties have gone dry and only two wet. While we have not studied the results of the vote in each one of the different counties in that state, yet we are sure that very few counties cast a dry majority in each township. It is, therefore, easy to see the great advantage of the county unit as a temperance measure."

"But the township law of Illinois is superior to what the Democratic platform favors for Indiana in this: The township option law in Illinois includes

Milton, Ind., Oct. 15.—Willard Ten Eycke has established a record as a potato grower. He is only an amateur in the line and for this reason his success is regarded as the more remarkable. Off a small garden patch he obtained a yield that would average 400 bushels to the acre. The variety was the rural New Yorker.

ISSUES APPEAL FOR WATSON

Anti-saloon League Says He Should Be Elected to Save Option Law.

BREWERS ARE AGAINST HIM

THEY KNOW HE WORKED HARD
FOR THE PASSAGE OF MEAS-URE IN SPECIAL SESSION—
BACKERS OF MARSHALL.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—Stirred by the renewed activity of the brewery organization and all the other anti-temperance organizations, including the new Liberty league, the Indiana Anti-Saloon league has issued an appeal to the voters of the state to defeat the efforts of the brewers at the polls on election day. The appeal is in behalf of James E. Watson for governor, upon whom principally the liquor interests are making their fight, and the league explains why the brewers hope to repeal the county local option law through the election of Marshall.

The statement issued by the Anti-Saloon league is as follows:

"Let it be understood that the brewers of Indiana are against Mr. Watson for governor because he did all in his power to secure the passage of the county local option bill, and they are for the election of Marshall because Marshall tried to have the bill defeated, and for the further reason that they believe he will sign a bill repealing our county option law. They are not in favor of Marshall because he is a Democrat, but because he is against our county option law. They are against Watson, not because he happens to be a Republican, but because he favors letting the people rule on this question. Brewery politics is always saloon politics of the selfish sort and the entire brewery crowd favors those who favor the brewers. Albert Lelber, Floyd Woods and John Ward are Republicans, but they are doing everything in their power to defeat the candidate for governor who says he will veto any bill repealing or weakening our county option law. They are working hand in hand with Crawford Fairbanks, Thomas Taggart and Joe Bell, who are Democrats, to elect Tom Marshall governor of Indiana, and also to secure the election of a legislature eventually which will repeal our county local option law and place the collar of the brewery upon the people. Upon good citizens of this state rests the responsibility of defeating this cunning attempt to rob them of the victory they have already gained."

"Thomas Marshall has said that the difference between the platforms of the two old parties is only a difference concerning the unit. The German Alliance, however, in the resolutions it adopted at its state meeting, calls one local option, the other county prohibition, thus trying to deceive some people into believing that the election of those favoring our newly enacted county option law will of itself mean county prohibition."

"Nothing is further from the truth. The passage of the county unit law does not of itself mean the closing of a single saloon. It does mean, though, the conferring upon counties the privilege of ruling on this question—a right inherent in any government by the people, and something which the brewers themselves are moving heaven and earth to take away from the people."

German Name Banned.

"What about the bandying about of the honored German name by the brewers so as to make it the special champion of the disgraceful 'booze joints,' dives and gambling halls owned and run by the breweries of Indiana and adjoining states? We respectfully protest that there are many self-respecting Germans in Indiana who believe that the American saloon has degenerated so disgracefully that it is not to be compared with its forerunner in the fatherland, and that since the brewers will not obey the law the people are justly entitled to have the right to banish the saloon altogether where they deem that the public safety requires it."

"The trouble with this whole brewer's outfit is that it is afraid to trust the people in whose hands this matter is now placed and to whom they will be accountable for their good behavior in the future. Their talk about the right of the people to rule is all 'shilly shally' which deceives no one."

"The difference between township and county local option is clearly shown by the elections in Illinois and Ohio, the former having township local option laws and the latter having county local option. In Illinois eighty-four counties held township elections last April. Eighty-three of these counties cast a majority vote against the saloon, but only twenty-nine of them went dry because of more townships in each of these fifty-five counties which remained wet had a pro-saloon majority. every city and town, while in Indiana, according to the Democratic platform, it is intended to include every town but no cities, the latter being reached by wards only. Every student of temperance reform will readily see that this difference is a radical one and the proposal of the Democratic platform is far behind what actually is in existence already in Illinois.

"We do not desire to be understood as criticising the Democratic party, many of whose adherents are among the truest and best temperance friends that the cause has ever produced. We do say, however, that the leadership of this great party has fallen into bad hands, and that the leadership is determined to deliver the whole party over into the hands of the brewers. The only certain way to purify a party whose leadership would commit the party to a great wrong is to defeat every candidate at the polls who stands for what such conscienceless leaders demand. Then the party will come out of the contest better and stronger, even though it had to pay dearly for its lesson."

"Decent Democrats" Protest.

That it is about time the Democratic party in Indiana overthrew Thomas Taggart as its leader is the opinion expressed by the Rev. P. A. Baker, the national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, who was in the city recently looking into the Indiana situation.

The Rev. Mr. Baker gave out the following interview: "To a man on the outside looking on at the attitude of the Democratic leaders of Indiana is difficult to understand. That they should attempt to commit the high-minded, law-abiding, conscientious Democrats of this state to the policy of the brewers is amazing. They are trading off the best class of Democratic voters and receiving in return the worst class of Republican voters. It is not strange that the decent Democrats propose to protect their party by repudiating such a policy. After all the best party men are the ones who repudiate their party when it does wrong, by voting against vicious policies and vicious candidates. The action of the legislature in passing the county local option bill puts Indiana abreast of the progressive states of the union in the solution of the liquor problem."

Woman Interrupts Political Speaker.

A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaker recently by continually coughing. "If she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly and expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. A. G. Luken & Co."
