FOUL CLOVER SEED.

Makes It Plain Where the Weed Comes From.

The Connecticut experiment station is doing a great work in testing clover seed. It obtained fifty-one samples of the seed just as it is sold by Connecticut seed dealers. These samples were tested for weed seeds and also to see what per cent of the clover seed would sprout. The result of the test shows that only one-sixth of the seed as sold was fit to use. Three samples were adulterated with a worthless plant, and forty-one had more or less dodder, the most dangerous weed or parasite which can get into the crop.

Few days pass without a complaint from some one who finds the dodder in his clover. Samples are often sent in showing the clover plants strangled by a pest which twines around them and sucks their life away. The test shows a mild form of the affliction. Think of putting the seeds of this curse into the ground when you seed your clover! Yet that is just what is being done when we buy ordinary clover seed. In one sample of this Connecticut clover seed, 6,441 seeds of the dodder

Hints to Mushroom Growers.

In turning up a portion of a bed maggots may be discovered in the manure. A few may do no perceptible harm, but a large number will eat up the spawn, leaving not even a thread to develop a single mushroom. Many kinds of insects are apt to swarm in warm cellars, together with the egg laying varieties which cause the maggots, regardless of foul air which may often accumulate and which is an injury to the mushrooms. In each succeeding bed in large cellars insects follow up the new beds and become more vigorous. A high temperature such as we had last fall is conducive to their continued existence in summer garb. A good crop, however, can be secured in spite of them when the houses are kept at all times cool.

When mushrooms are grown in glass houses the return pipes are best run under the walks. In the usual way of heating, where the pipes run under the benches, paper placed over the beds will be found beneficial as a protector from excessive heat and drying. With good, vigorous spawn, properly prepared compost and care about the requirements of heat and moisture, a good crop is a positive certainty. There are garden crops equal to if not surpassing the mushroom as money makers to the producer, but no one need complain of well managed mushroom rooms.

THOUSANDS NOW

SEEKING FARMS

Nearly 100,000 Register for 6,000 Tracts in South Dakota.

LAWLESS ELEMENT ABSENT

OPENING OF TRIPP COUNTY ATTENDED WITHOUT DISORDER—ONE RAILROAD IS HANDLING ALL HOME SEEKERS.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 15.—With from 50,000 to 100,000 persons registering in two weeks for about 6,000 farms, the opening of Tripp County, South Dakota, promises to be the biggest thing in the history of government land drawings. About a million acres are offered, and almost the entire portion is tillable land.

All five points of registration are reached over one railroad through Omaha, and for the past three days the rush of hungry land-seekers through Omaha has been tremendous. Twenty-one thousand people have already been hauled by the Northwestern Railroad to Dallas, Gregory, O'Neill and Valentine. Twenty-five trains of ten coaches each left Omaha yesterday and today, and the capacity of the railroad company is taxed to the utmost. This morning twenty carloads of people arrived in Omaha from Kansas City alone enroute to one or the other of the registration points, and it is reported that 1,200 persons were left on the platform of the Union Station at Kansas City last night, unable to get a train to Omaha.

Notwithstanding the enormous crowds that are being handled over the single track road, there has not been a single accident or any disorder. Persons returning from O'Neill and Dallas say that the crowds are orderly and that the lawless element which has done things with a high hand at previous land openings in the West is little in evidence.

The biggest rush of all is expected next Saturday, although the registration does not close until Sunday. The Northwestern had over 150 extra coaches of its own in service, including a number of the suburban cars running in and out of Chicago, and has borrowed many cars from other lines, but has been almost
