

TERRIBLE TURK AGAIN VICTOR

Defeats Joe La Salle, Canadian Champion After a Long Bout.

MANY EXCITING FEATURES.

CROWD IN UPROAR WHEN REFEREE CRAIG GIVES TURK FALL AND AS RESULT WRESTLERS GO TO ANOTHER FALL.

When Joe LaSalle, the champion wrestler of Canada, wandered into Richmond last week and told the populace that he would give the "Terrible Turk" the greatest battle ever seen in Richmond, he stated what was the truth, for when the two men clashed at the Coliseum last night it took just forty-eight minutes for the Turk to put the Canadian's shoulder blades to the mat. It was undoubtedly one of the best wrestling matches yet seen but was marred during the last few minutes by the actions of many men in the crowd who refused to give the Turk a chance to speak following a contested decision made by Referee Craig.

The wrestlers are both big men and when LaSalle appeared at the ring-side he was greeted with cheers by the hundreds of people attending. He was the popular favorite, although when the Turk received such discourteous treatment at the hands of a few in the audience when he attempted to speak, much of this sympathy went to the Sultan's subject.

Referee Craig appeared at the ring-side before the match began and Manager Charlson left it to the crowd to decide who should officiate. There were cries of "Busch, Busch" from all sections of the coliseum while a few called for Craig. The Turk refused to wrestle with Busch officiating, as he claimed the German had a cordial dislike for him and he did not feel as though he wished to hazard his chances. Craig was finally chosen.

The big men fought several moments for an opening and then LaSalle took the part of the aggressor. He was cheered for his clever work in breaking the Turk's holds and for his lightning pace. The Turk was worried, but when after forty-eight minutes had passed, he began to thoroughly demonstrate his true form and soon had LaSalle to the mat for the count. He had LaSalle in several close places during the first period but the clever Canadian proved to be as slippery as an eel.

It was during the second period that the real excitement came. The Turk after twelve minutes of fast wrestling secured a half nelson and bar lock hold upon the Canadian and put the man on his back.

Referee Craig gave the second fall to the Turk and immediately skipped out of the ring, where he was surrounded by probably twenty-five men protesting against the decision. They stated that although to all appearances the Turk had the man to the mat, LaSalle's left shoulder lacked four inches of touching. Many men shouted that the fall was legitimate and there was an uproar in the big building for a few seconds.

LaSalle in a short speech stated that he had not been thrown and wanted a square deal and as long as he got a square deal he would say nothing but abide by the referee's decision. The Turk arose from his seat in the corner and stepped to the middle of the squared arena and lifted his hand, asking attention. Many of those people who have a dislike for the Turk, because he is a Turk, hissed, cat called and made other similar noises. The Turk smiled and coupled with the jeering of the crowd, that smile made him many friends, for he proved himself to be a sportsman, a better sportsman than those who jeered at him, according to the statement of many attending.

Promoter Charlson ruled that the bout should be continued until an unprotested fall was made. Carl Busch took the place of Craig. It took only six minutes for the Turk to fairly and squarely pin the Canadian's shoulders to the mat and the bout ended.

Next Thursday night at the coliseum, Carl Busch and the Turk will wrestle. Greco-Roman style will be used throughout the bout. This match promises to be one of the greatest of the series being given, for Busch and the Turk have but little use for one another and each will do his best to conquer.

COACH ENTHUSIASTIC

Horton Believes High School Football Team Will Defeat Steele.

TRICK PLAYS PRACTISED.

Coach Horton of the high school is very enthusiastic over the manner his fighting pig skin warriors have been showing up on the gridiron this week, and believes that the crimson and white will take the fast Steele high school team off its feet at Dayton tomorrow afternoon. During the past week Horton has sent his men through practice in trick plays and has been drilling them especially on the forward pass and dive tackling.

According to the various reports that have been received, the Buckeye team is much stronger than the team of last year and a hard fight is expected.

The Richmond team is in the pink of condition now and there is no reason why it should not take the game tomorrow.

DEAN RUSSELL ONE OF SPEAKERS

Appears Before School Officials in November.

DEMOCRATS NAME SALOONIST FOR OFFICE

Talk of Removing Chaney of Rush County.

Rushville, Ind., Oct. 16.—Democrats have nominated a former saloon keeper for the office of prosecuting attorney in Rush county, and that the brewery interests brought about his nomination. John Chaney is the man in question. Dispatches from Rushville say there was talk of removing Chaney after the exposure came, but it was too late.

SIX MEN TO PROTECT PEOPLE

Sheriff and Five Deputies at Greensfork, Saturday.

In anticipation of the large crowd at Greensfork tomorrow, Sheriff Meredith will leave for that place on the early train in the morning. The sheriff will appoint five deputies to see that everything is conducted orderly. No trouble is anticipated but the sheriff believes it best to be on the safe side.

BREWERS LIE SAYS SHUMAKER

man vote solidly for the brewers. Then the Manufacturers' and Merchants' Association of Indiana, another political club of Albert Lieber's, of which the president of the Root Glass Company of Terre Haute, which concern belongs to the Terre Haute Brewery, is the president (our friend Francke again is vice president), has been doing its utmost to line up the bottle men, beer pump manufacturers, cooper and other allied trades to the brewery interests against county local option. Last of all comes the Liberal League, recently organized, and which boasts of an organization already effected in forty counties which also is serving as an ally of the brewers.

Party prohibition people used to tell us to vote tickets that the saloon men did not vote. It seems to us under those circumstances that it is an easy thing this year to elect a candidate for Governor, namely, Mr. Watson, for whom not a brewer, saloon keeper, bartender, distiller nor bar fly in Indiana will cast a ballot.

The temperance people of Indiana are facing a crisis. If they do not uphold the hands of these men who, in the legislature, and who, in the campaign, are declaring for the rights of the people to rule, then we believe that the temperance cause in the State of Indiana will go backward and will receive a staggering blow from which it may never recover.

QUAKERS HOPE TO BEAT FRANKLIN

Earlham Football Team Not in The Best Condition For Contest.

ARE WEAK AT TACKLING.

PLAYERS DO NOT SEEM TO HEED COACH VAIL'S INSTRUCTIONS TO THEM—GAME TO BE PLAYED ON REID FIELD.

While not in just the best fettle, the Earlham College football team counts upon a victory over Franklin in the game to be played on Reid Field tomorrow. The Baptists are putting up a better game now than they did a few weeks ago when crushed under such an overwhelming score by Wabash. The Quaker lads feel confident in a victory by a good-sized score.

Earlham's eleven is not in the best of shape. Coach Vail gave the players only very light practice last evening. He drilled them in catching punts and tackling low. In these two respects the team has shown its weakest points this season. Try as hard as he could, Vail could not get his men to make dive tackles. Whether it is nerve or inexperience that is lacking is hard to say, but it looked like the former. It takes nothing but nerve and reckless abandon to make a flying dive tackle, and the Quakers do not seem to have it in practice. An intercollegiate struggle may bring it out tomorrow, however.

The college boys are looking for a large crowd from the city to watch the contest.

FALLS OFF WAGON.

Ride on Water Wagon Was Too Hard.

Tom Jurgens, old reliable, fell again today. It was not down the bluff at the west end of the Main street bridge but it was even a more serious fall. It was off the water wagon to be picked up by Officer Vogelsson. Tom is in a bad way and is ticketed for a stay at the county bastille.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.
Copyright, 1903, by Edwin A. Nye.

THE GOLD BRICK REGILDED. He wanted to get rich quick. A page advertisement of the Sure Thing Mining and Milling company, limited, of Allureville, Nev., came under his notice. The writer of the ad. was a word artist. He used gorgeous rhetoric to picture the tons of ore in sight, each ton assayed in stentorian percent of virgin gold, dividends—these could not be less than 50 per cent—simply waiting the placing of machinery for development.

The price of the stock was "only 40 cents per share!" Why, did not everybody know the history of Homestake and Anaconda and Calumet and Hecla—how the shares once sold for a song? Moreover, said the promoters in their advertisement, "if you are not satisfied, come to our office."

"Our office" was luxuriously appointed. The man who wanted to get rich quick did not inquire of himself how these people could spend so much money in advance. The doctored reports of the assayers, the estimated output, cost of production, balloon dividends—all these he swallowed.

He did not know who the "experts" might be. He did not look up the personnel of the directory board. He asked for no certified abstract of title. You see, rich men look closely into their investments, however small. That is why they are rich. The man of small means, who can least afford it, shuts his eyes and takes the risk.

In the category of the mine sharks, our man is a "sucker," one of whom, tradition says, is born every minute. He did not go to his banker for advice. He sneaked into the bank and drew out his money as if the banker were his enemy and might cheat him out of his great chance.

He did not go to his lawyer. He did not ask his wife. That glowing advertisement, so chary of facts and so rosy in promise, had allured him. And so his money was one of the streamlets that made up the golden flood that poured into the head office of the swindling promoters. The man is a type. There are others.

The Mother—My little boy was rude. I know. I am afraid he is awfully spoiled. The Stranger—Don't mention it, madam. It is better he should be spoiled than that his young life should be blighted by the thought that he is different from all other American children.—Life

"PLEASE DON'T TURN PAPA DOWN." "Please don't turn our papa down" is the mute appeal made by the photographs of Paul and Scott Chapman, as they appear on the candidate cards being circulated by their father, W. J. Chapman. The senior Chapman is a candidate for county treasurer on the democratic ticket and his cards bear pictures of his babies.

NO SALOME DANCE

Superintendent of Police Is Responsible for Stopping It.

SAYS HE SAW ONE ONCE.

Upon the suggestion of Superintendent Bailey, the Salome dance was not put on at the Gennett theater last evening. Superintendent Bailey has seen this dance (he says out of town) and does not like it very well. He says he telephoned to Mrs. Swisher, resident manager of the Gennett, last evening, and told her if the dance was put on and "became too strong" it would be stopped. Mrs. Swisher informed him that the dance would not be attempted rather than run chances of police interference. The dance had been advertised extensively and the audience was somewhat disappointed.

WESTERN STATES ARE IN THE FOLD

Only Colorado, Montana and Nevada Doubtful, Say Republicans.

IS A CONSERVATIVE GUESS.

SENATOR FROM IDAHO THINKS PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL SUCCEED IN GETTING COLORADO IN LINE.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 16.—With the presidential race entering upon its last lap there came yesterday the first batch of serious estimates of the results. At Republican national headquarters the leaders took stock of the situation in the west and at Illinois headquarters the state central committee received reports of the progress of the Deneen campaign.

The most conservative of the estimates at the national headquarters was that Taft would carry every western state except Colorado, Montana and Nevada, and there were those who asserted that Colorado could be captured by hard work between now and election day. At the state headquarters the lowest estimate of Deneen's plurality was 150,000.

United States Senator Borah of Idaho, who returned from a trip through the west, told the national leaders he is confident Taft can carry Colorado.

"I have changed my mind about Colorado," he said, "since my trip through the state within the last few days. President Roosevelt is the idol of the west and the Roosevelt influence may be relied upon, in my opinion, to land Colorado in the Republican column. The people out there think that as Mr. Taft has been selected by the president to carry out the Roosevelt policies that is good enough for them. They will vote for Taft."

The board of public works at its meeting today declared vacated the first alley east of the Garfield school building. It was necessary to vacate this alley in order that the new high school building might be constructed.

BROWN NOW A PAPA.

Stork Visits Home of Former Richmond Boy.

With a smile covering his face there is not a happier man in Richmond than John Brown of North Eleventh street. It is all because that good bird, the stork, paid a visit to the home of his son, John Carl Brown, in Dayton, O., last evening and left a big bouncing ten pound baby boy. Today they received the congratulations from their many friends.

Carl Brown is a former Richmond boy. He made this city his home until the last few years when he went to Dayton as an electrician. His wife was Miss Onedia Dill, one of Dayton's prominent and respected families.

CLOVER BURNED.

Sparks From C. C. & L. Engine Cause Loss.

Economy, Ind., Oct. 16.—Sparks from the stack of a passing C. C. & L. locomotive set fire to a large clover field owned by Frank Thornburg, Wednesday afternoon. The clover crop was entirely consumed. The flames spread to an adjoining field of corn and it was damaged somewhat. The fields are so dry that fires are started daily by engine sparks. The farmers owning land along the right of way have to fight fire almost daily.

GREAT PROGRAM PROMISED CITY

Chautauqua of Next Year Will Be Bigger and Better Than Ever.

IDENTIFIED WITH ALLIANCE.

LOCAL MANAGEMENT IS IN BETTER POSITION TO SUPPLY WHAT THE PEOPLE MOST DESIRE.

Richmond will have the best talent that can be secured for the chautauqua next year. This is the promise made by Secretary E. K. Shera, who has just returned from the meeting of the Chautauqua Alliance which adjourned at Chicago yesterday. The Richmond association has just joined the Alliance, and the benefits it will derive can be seen already.

Mr. Shera is very enthusiastic over the prospective program for next year. The best talent in the country will be furnished to the Richmond organization. This means that Richmond will secure the same talent that the Winona assembly, the chautauqua of New York and Washington, D. C., will get.

The Chautauqua Alliance is a combination of some forty organizations over the country. Dr. Dickey, of the Winona assembly, is at the head of the Alliance.

At the meeting several speakers were considered, among whom were Governors Folks, Hanly and Johnson, although no contracts will be signed until the next meeting which will be held at Chicago, December 4, when the entire list of attractions will be considered.

A meeting of the local guarantors will be called soon, at which time a board of directors will be selected and a delegate will be named to attend the Chicago meeting. This delegate will get a line on the attractions and will make a report to the board of directors which will make arrangements for securing the best attractions.

CARE OF THE FOAL.

Wean Slowly, Feed Liberally and Handle the Animal Before Weaning.

The most suitable way to wean a foal is to begin to keep him from his dam two or three hours daily, increasing the time till they are together from about 9 p. m. to about 6 a. m., finally parting them some morning or some evening.

A daily feed of crushed oats mingled with a little chopped hay and bran given to the foal a week or two before weaning will soon teach him to be independent of the mother, but care must be taken not to allow the mare to have access to the manger while the foal is eating. She would probably eat it herself.

Before the foal is weaned it is important that it should have been handled. To get a foal handled, taught to be led about and to be able to handle it, lift its feet up, etc., without its offering any resistance is a work that involves a certain amount of time, but the time spent now is time saved when the foal is old enough to be broken in.

If the foal meets with an accident or falls a victim to some of the numerous ailments to which horseflesh is liable, a foal which has been handled is far easier to doctor than one which has never been touched.

After mare and foal have been finally separated the foal may be kept in a loose box, out of the hearing of other horses if possible, for two or three days, and it may then be turned out in the daytime and fetched up at night.

A foal's future depends a great deal on how it is treated during the first winter of its existence; therefore to do full justice it is essential that it should be liberally but not lavishly fed from weaning time till the time arrives the following spring to turn away into some luxuriant pasture for the summer.

To keep a foal on short commons with the idea of reducing the cost of the keep is, according to the old saying, cent wise and dollar foolish.

Foals invariably do best when they have company, and if two or three foals can live together so much the better. Before they are turned out in the morning they may have a feed of crushed oats, chopped hay and bran.

The same ration may be given when they are brought in again at night, with the addition of an armful of whole hay.

An occasional linseed mash may also be given, as it is beneficial in keeping the bowels open.

Two or three pieces of rock salt in the manger for them to lick is also a good thing.

After the mare has left the foal step must be taken to suppress the secretion of milk, and with that object in view dry food and plenty of exercise may be given.

A small quantity of milk may be drawn away daily, and rubbing the udder with molasses has also been found beneficial.

A dose of physic will also hasten the process, but it should be withheld if possible, especially if the mare is in foal.—W. R. Gilbert.
