WANTS A HEARING SOON.

TAGGART, FORAKER, ARCHBOLD,
BAILEY AND BRYAN WOULD BE
REPUDIATED IF HEARING CAME
NOW HE SAYS.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12.—William Randolph Hearst likes libel suits—he likes them served at almost any time or place. He also welcomes process servers—if properly introduced and presented during ordinary business hours. But he does object to appear in a "Venus at the Bath" role, and he said as much, and more, in Chicago Thursday night, after appearing in a serio-comic sketch, arranged by Governor Charles N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, aboard a Union Pacific train at Omaha.

In Chicago, Hearst said of the episode: "I am glad, indeed, to receive the summons. I was in the bathroom at the time—not avoiding any one, not suspecting any one, but employing the bathroom for the purposes for which it was made. These may be more or less unfamiliar to Mr. Haskell, but generally are understood by the cleaner element of the public. Some one knocked at the door and Mrs. Hearst responded. The man at the door did not state he was an officer or that he had a paper to serve. Mrs. Hearst thought he was a drunken ruffian, and I imagine the mistake was natural and excusable. She declined to let him in and he broke in the door.

"I stepped out and asked what the trouble was, and he said he had a summons to serve. Of course his action was high handed and contrary to law, but the Standard Oil people and their tools are not in the habit of respecting the law. I accept the summons notwithstanding, and I invited Mr. Haskell's suit immediately before election.

"If he cannot secure immediate action in the civil suit, I invite him to bring a criminal suit.

Coincidence in Amount Sued For.

"There is one singular thing about this civil suit, and that is that the amount sued for is $300,000, just exactly the sum that Mr. Mack claims to the Standard Oil company contributed to the democratic party.

"It would seem almost as if the Standard Oil were trying to recoup itself for its political generosity.

"I am going to New York. I will pass through Indiana. If Mr. Taggart of gambling house fame has any suit to bring I will be pleased to accept his service.

"I am then going through Ohio and if Mr. Foraker has anything in the way of a suit I will be on the platform waiting to accept his service.

"I will be in New York and if Mr. Archbold has any suit to make I will gladly accept the service.

"I make these statements and give you my itinerary in order that if any suits are to be brought they may be brought without any unnecessary annoyance to my family.

Willing to Give all a Chance.

"After leaving New York I am willing to go down to Texas, although I have been there once, in order to give Mr. Bailey a chance to sue; and then I am willing to go back to Nebraska in order to give Mr. Bryan, if he wishes, a chance to sue me for referring to the fact that he tried to get the rightful inheritance from the widow of a dead friend by a secret will.

"All these men will have ample opportunity to show that what I said of them is true.

"I only ask them to establish the facts before election, in order that all honest people may repudiate them more thoroughly.

Gov. Haskell's action is based on a speech made by Mr. Hearst in Memphis, Tenn., in which it is alleged, Mr. Haskell was charged with being an agent of the Standard Oil company.

Gov. Haskell asks actual damages of $300,000 and exemplary and punitive damages of another $300,000 for alleged libel upon his character.

FIGHT SAVES TOWNS.

Escanaba, Mich., Oct. 17.—Several peninsula towns which for the last twenty-four hours have been in critical danger from forest fire are believed safe. At Foster City, where the apparatus from four cities is being used to fight back the flames, conditions are great improved. Practically all the women and children were taken from the town, but the men are at their posts to guard against another outbreak. A big fire is reported along the lines of the Wisconsin and Michigan, Escanaba, and Lake Superior and Northwestern roads.

LIGHTHOUSE ASKS HELP.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 17.—Forest fires are burning around nine small towns in Chippewa county. West Neeliah was saved only by a shift of wind. The lighthouse crew at Point Iroquois has asked for help, and the tug Aspin has gone to its relief.

It is reported that settlers along the shore of Lake Superior are camping on the beach. Vast tracks of hard wood have been burned. As yet there is no indication of the heavy rain needed to relieve the situation.

The mere fact that a man is sent by his doctor to some particular baths or springs where he sees other invalids confident of a cure makes him think that he, too, can get well," said Dr. R. Murray Leslie, speaking at the Incorporated Institute of Hygiene in London.
