RIDERS PLAN TO INTIMIDATE NEGROES

Governor Willson Asks Warn- ing Be Sounded.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 20.—Republicans here declare they are much worried over reports which have come to them from correspondents out in the state to the effect that the night rider organization was formed principally for the purpose of keeping negroes from voting.

Governor Willson and Secretary A. S. Bennett advised the other chiefs that it was a serious matter and they conferred upon it an entire day.

As a consequence, they have requested their speakers to tell audiences throughout the state that the banding together of persons to intimidate voters in a federal election is a penitentiary offense.

MADE BY CONVICT.

Horsehair Braid Attracts Much At- tention.

A horsehair braid at the Adams drug store is attracting a large amount of attention. The braid was made by a convict in the Montana penitentiary who formerly was an outlaw. It required two years in the making. The hair was taken from live horses. The braid is artistic. Hair has been dyed various colors before using and the designs are beautiful. The braid is the property of a local traveling salesman.

What To Do For a Cough.

There are so many pet ways of treating coughs and colds, and so many friends ready with all kinds of advice, that when a cough is contracted, it often bothers a person to remember what they did for the last one.

The following home-made remedy, kept in the home ready for use, will overcome an obstinate cough quicker than any expensive medicine you could buy. Any woman can make it in a few moments—here is the recipe:

Granulated Sugar Syrup 13½ oz.
Pinex ..... 2½ oz.
Put the Pinex in a clean pint bottle and fill up the bottle with the syrup, made as follows: Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add ½ cup of water, stir and let boil just a moment. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours, as required. This recipe makes a full pint of the cough syrup, and if kept well corked, it will never spoil. Tastes so good that children will take it without kicking.

This simple cough syrup usually stops a deep-seated cough in 24 hours. It is also excellent for colds, whooping cough, bronchial troubles, incipient consumption, pains in the chest, etc.

Pinex, as you probably know, is the most potent form of Norway White Pine Compound. It is very rich in gualacal and other elements which make the ozone of the pine forests such splendid medicine for throat and lung troubles. There are many pine oil preparations, but none of these compare with the real Pinex itself. If your druggist does not happen to have it, he will be glad to get it for you. The 2½ ounces cost you fifty cents. The Syrup costs you about four cents. So you can make a whole pint of this effective Cough Syrup for about fifty-four cents.

Wenger, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller and son Earl Miller.

Mr. Carl Feeger who has been visiting with his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Feeger, has returned to his home in Duluth, Minn.

A number of showers and social functions have been given during the past few weeks for Mrs. Daisy Mote, daughter of Mrs. William M. Williams 321 South Thirteenth street, whose marriage to Mr. Frederick Dougan will take place tomorrow morning at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's mother.

Miss Lucy Hardy of Indianapolis, who has been visiting in this city for a few weeks has returned home. Miss Hardy was the guest of Mrs. W. P. Haughton of Spring Grove and Mrs. Harry Jay of South Twenty-first street. A number of social functions were given in her honor while in the city.

The Science club of Earlham college met last evening at the college. The club is larger this year than it has been for several previous seasons. The program for last evening was in charge of Mr. Faurquhar, Mr. Denman, Mr. Walther and Mr. Chapman. The club meets once every two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferriday, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dill have gone to Indianapolis.

An interesting meeting of the Magazine club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eric Reynolds, on East Main street. Mrs. F. A. Brown and Mrs. Harriet Dill were the readers for the session. Articles taken from Harper's and the New England Magazine were given by the readers. Lunch was served after the program. Mrs. Elgar Hibberd will be hostess for the meeting of the club which occurs next Monday afternoon. Mrs. Warren W. Gifford and Mrs. Samuel Gaar will be the readers.

Mrs. C. A. Pierson will entertain the circles of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow afternoon, at her home, 47 South Eighteenth street. The hostess will be assisted by Miss Edward Marlatt, Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mrs. C. W. Isenberger. Invitations have been issued to sixty guests.

The opening meeting of the Ticknor club yesterday afternoon was made especially attractive by the observation of president's day. Mrs. D. W. Dennis was hostess for the session at her home, corner Main and West Seventh street. The meeting was entirely social. A large number of the members were in attendance. A musical program consisting of piano and instrumental numbers was given by Mrs. Edwin Rupe and Mrs. William Earhart. Later in the afternoon luncheon was served by the hostess. The dining-room was attractively decorated with floral designs. A large bowl filled with American beauty roses formed a centerpiece for the table. The club will meet next Monday afternoon with Miss Kelsey at her home on North Thirteenth street.

An interesting session of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions was held last evening in the parlors of the church. It was an open meeting and all were invited to attend. A business meeting was held preceding the program. The following papers were given: "Our Foreign Work, Its Extent and Visible Results," Mrs. B. F. Harris; "Bible Chair Work," Miss Elizabeth Hinchaw; "Young People's Work," Mrs. T. H. Kuhn; "Centennial Work," Mrs. Elizabeth Wright.

Mrs. Wright's paper was an explanation of the centennial of the Christian church, which will be celebrated in 1909. Arrangements have been made for this affair.

The Rev. S. W. Traum, pastor of the church, concluded the program with an address on "Relation of the Local Auxiliary to the Work at Large."

Mrs. S. W. Traum will be hostess for the November meeting of the society at her home on South Thirteenth street.

Perhaps at no time of year is informal entertaining more charming than in our early American fall.

The crisp feel of the coming winter in the air whets the appetite, while the last lingering touches of summer lend a pleasing sense of melancholy for the departed warm days.

Wild flowers now, as well as the garden blossoms left us, lend themselves to charming effects.

The tiny purple aster combines well with the deeper toned garden aster, or with goldenrod. The old-fashioned "Maiden's Bower" clematis, makes a most artistic decoration in very soft tones, when used with the purple aster.

Nasturtiums are in their glory. So is scarlet sage. Goldenrod alone does not produce so good an effect as when used as a background or a foil.

Dogwood, turning to its red-brown and glinting with scarlet berries, adds a great note of warmth, and dishes of mixed fruits go well with it on the luncheon table.

Miss Ethel Phetis will be heard this evening in recital with the Marguerite Smith Company at the Coliseum. Miss Phetis is a noted pianist and no doubt will give many delightful numbers.

Taft Rescues Child From Jam and Boy Is Held By the "Next President"

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 20.—While Judge Taft was making a speech here last evening there was a crush in which 30,000 persons tried to jam themselves into a space that would accommodate one-third that number. In the crush women fainted, others became hysterical, a girl of 12 years was trampled and a boy of the same age was rescued from the throng by Mr. Taft himself.

The candidate was the first to see the plight of the child, who had fallen to his knees in the terrific crush.

"Look out for that child. Get back," he cried, his voice rising above the tumult. "Lift him," shouted Mr. Taft. Two men raised the child shoulder high.

"Now pass him up here to me," yelled the candidate.

"Gee," said the boy a minute later, as safe and happy, he sat on the edge of the bunting-dressed stand. "I am glad I was took sick; I'll tell papa how the next president held me in his arms and called me a bully little fellow."

Councilman Bartel last evening called attention to the fact that the northwest corner of Ninth and Main streets was continually obstructed with boxes, etc. The matter was referred to the board of public works. Mr. Bartel said this corner was an eye sore.

TAFT WILL WIN AN EASY VICTORY IN "OLD BURN"

congress. While Mr. Watson has secured many pensions for old soldier claimants he has been unable, because of the limited quota of pension bills allotted to every congressman, to satisfy more than a small percentage of the applicants, and he has also to reckon with the irrepressible disappointments that grow out of the post-office patronage.

Some of Mr. Watson's most aggressive political enemies in the district are men who enjoyed the lucrative salaries of their local postoffices for four years by his recommendation and who felt themselves grievously wronged when he insisted that somebody else should have a chance to hold the office after the four years' term had expired.

Still the situation is very much improved so far as Mr. Watson is concerned, compared with two years ago. Four years ago his plurality in Wayne was 3,950. Two years ago it slumped to 346. The political experts here believe Mr. Watson will carry the county this year by at least 1,500, which would be a creditable showing, since the plurality of 1904 was abnormally large. A very important part of the Wayne county anti-Watson element of two years ago is with him this year on the county local option issue.

Watson Outlook Favorable.
Mr. Watson stands to lose some votes in his home county of Rush, where the Rushville postoffice has long been a bone of factional contention, and in Fayette he will run behind Taft, but, generally speaking, his fences throughout the district are in better shape than two years ago.

"I have made a canvass of the district and have visited a great many precincts," said District Chairman Ed Haas, "and I am satisfied that in four counties of the district Watson will pull ahead of the national ticket. In four of the others he will fall very slightly behind the national ticket and of course, will suffer his largest loss in Wayne county."

The fact that this is a presidential year means a great deal, from the republican point of view, in Wayne county. In the presidential year of 1904 the total vote polled in Wayne county by Mr. Watson was 7,202. In 1906 the total vote polled by him in the county was 4,031, a falling off of 3,171 votes. In other words, 44 per cent of the voting population did not go to the polls two years ago. This year interest in the national election will once more bring out a normal vote, and that means increased majorities for the republicans all along the line. That a full vote, such as is certain to be drawn out in a presidential year, is a harbinger of republican success was shown in 1904, when Stokes Jackson, the present democratic state chairman, was the democratic nominee for congress against James E. Watson, who piled up a plurality of 6,954, while two years ago, in an "off" election, Watson's plurality over Thomas H. Kuhn was only 1,506. At that, Jackson received 1,417 more votes than Kuhn. The "stay-at-home republicans" in Wayne county cut down Watson's plurality in the 1906 campaign. This year there will be very few "stay-at-homes."

Barnard Forging Ahead.

Judge Barnard is making about the same sort of race for congress this year against the Rev. T. H. Kuhn that Watson made against Stokes Jackson four years ago and Kuhn will be wiped off of the political boards Nov. 3 by a big majority like that which overwhelmed Jackson.

The campaign of 1904 was well advanced before Watson knew who was running against him. He was touring the country in a special train with Speaker Cannon when Stokes made his advent into the congressional arena. Returning home afterward he met Mr. Jackson, who said:

"Jim, we've been friends a long time and I hope our race won't create any bitter feelings."

"What office are you running for, Stokes?" asked Watson.

Stokes colored up and broke the news that he was running for congress.

This year Judge Barnard knows his competitor is a man named Kuhn, but the competition is not so stiff as to cause the judge any worry. Barnard is conducting a speaking campaign and expects to visit practically every township in the district.

W. H. Taft is making a good race in the Sixth district. The manufacturers of Richmond, who are a power in the industrial political world, are for him practically to a man. They are insistent upon a revision of the tariff that will lower the duties on raw materials, notably iron and lumber, and they have abundant faith in Mr. Taft, who was one of the first men in public life to declare for a revision of the Dingley schedules. It will be surprising if Taft's plurality in the district falls below 6,000 and 5,000 is a fair estimate of Barnard's probable plurality.

Breweryites' Influence Offset.

In every county of the district where there is a considerable urban population the brewery influence is plainly discernible in an effort to line up all the liberals and near-liberals against Watson. This especially is true in Richmond, where schools of instruction to teach men how to scratch in favor of the democratic ticket are being conducted in the back rooms of saloons.

When the county local option fight was on before the legislature a Richmond brewing company sent $600 to Indianapolis in one remittance to be used against the passage of that measure.

The work of the saloon element in Richmond, however, is more than offset by the counter activity of the Civic League, of which Timothy Nicholson is the leading spirit, the Ministerial association and the Anti-Saloon league, all of which are doing zealous service for the republican cause.
