

RIDERS DO MURDER

Tennessee Governor Offers $1,000 Reward for Capture of Fiends.

ONE MURDERED OUTRIGHT.

Union City, Tenn., Oct. 21.—Advices from Reelfoot Lake, where a mob of masked men early yesterday took Col. R. Z. Taylor, 60 years old, and Capt. Quinton Rankin, lawyer of Trenton, out of their hotel at that place and murdered the latter, fail to report Col. Taylor's whereabouts.

A man named Powell, who hauls fish from "The Log" to Hickman, is said to have been forced to accompany the mob, which numbered eighty. Powell had been stopping at the hotel and when the riders called, every one out and compelled them to line up, Powell, Colonel Taylor, Capt. Rankin and the surveyor, whose name is unknown, are said to have been taken away, the others being permitted to return to their beds.

Powell states, it is said, that after killing Rankin a vote was taken regarding the disposition to be made of Taylor. Taylor jumped into the bayou, starting to swim across it. Shots were fired at him. Powell slipped away and brought back the story of the escape or attempted escape of Taylor.

Searchers found the trees on the edge of the bayou clipped by bullets and there were deep footprints in the mud along the shore. On the other side of the bayou there was a single footprint.

Governor Patterson arrived at Humberd during the afternoon and held a consultation with citizens of Trenton, who came down to meet him. He announced he had offered $1,000 reward and would visit the scene in person.

Judge Joseph E. Jones called a special session of court at Union City. He announces he will have the grand jury impaneled at once. Governor Patterson will have the militia called out to protect the court if necessary, but has not yet been called upon by the sheriff of Obion county.

I doctored with several physicians and used remedies without number but to no avail. Finally being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills I went to A. G. Lukens & Co's store and procured a box. I was better in three days after beginning their use, and I took in all the contents of three boxes. The lumber has never bothered me since and I have often told people of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills."

MARSHALL THEIR FOE

Teachers Fear Repeal of the Minimum Teachers' Wage Law.

MARSHALL'S STATEMENT.

Indianapolis, Oct. 21.—When Thomas R. Marshall, democratic candidate for governor, advocated the repeal of the teachers' minimum wage law in speeches recently he apparently struck an unpopular note with 1,000 or more school teachers of a half dozen counties. An effort to correct the false impression which Mr. Marshall left in the minds of the people of the counties will be made.

Solomon H. Esarey, assistant reporter of the supreme court, who was formerly a school teacher in Perry county, will visit his old home next week and will address a number of republican meetings. Mr. Esarey is not working under the direct auspices of the state committee, but, knowing what a hardship the repeal of the law would work on school teachers, he has decided to take a hand in undoing what harm Marshall has done. Men who are now teaching school will also aid in the work.

The teachers' wage law provides for a minimum per diem salary of two and one-half times the general average gained at the license examination. The repeal of the law would mean a restoration of the authority formerly held by township trustees to fix teachers' salaries, which under the old system were as low as $1.25 a day. Some of the counties which would be affected if the law were repealed are Perry, Crawford, Harrison, Orange, Washington, Clark, Floyd, Scott, Jefferson and Jennings. The trustees in practically all other counties have fixed a wage scale that conforms with the minimum law and it is likely, it is said, that the teachers in other counties would not suffer by the repeal.

Mr. Marshall is quoted as having said that an effort to have the teachers' wage law repealed would be one of his first official acts if he should be elected governor.

TO SAVE HONOR GIRL JUMPS FROM HOTEL

Tragedy Occurs at Evansville Last Night.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 21.—Ethel Logsdon, aged 17 years, rather than sacrifice her honor jumped from the third story of the Wellington hotel last night and will die.

She was employed at the hotel as a waitress, and came there two days ago from Chandler, Ind., a country town.

Her girlish beauty attracted the attention of one of the men who boarded at the hotel. He tried to force his attention upon her, but was repulsed.

Last night at 10 o'clock he tried to break the lock to enter her room in the hotel, and the door was just giving way when the girl, realizing her danger, chose death rather than dishonor. The girl leaped to the concrete pavement below. She was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where the surgeons found that her skull is fractured and that she is dying.

The man who attempted to assault Miss Logsdon escaped from the hotel. Other male boarders, when they heard of the attempted assault, rushed down the door to the boarder's room and would have lynched him had they caught him.

In Zanzibar Island there grows a cocoanut which has only a very thin layer of meat, being entirely filled with milk; this furnishes the natives drink, both before and after fermentation.
