

Money-Making Ways of Using Want Ads

To Get a Trade Worker or a Position as Trade Worker

Just note the illustration to the right. Good honest face and sturdy frame. These are the kind of men procured every day by employers, simply by using our little Want Ads asking for what is needed. No matter what kind of laborers you need, insert a Want Ad in the "Help Wanted—Trades" column on our Classified page. Trade Workers are faithful readers of our Want Ads, for they secure most of their jobs by them. It's the most economical, practical "employment bureau" in the city. A few pennies for the insertion of the ad is the only charge made. It costs but a stamp to answer the ads already inserted. Do you want Trade Workers—are you looking for a job? Use and read our "Trades" column.

THE RICHMOND HIGH SCHOOL

From the View Point of a Co-ed

The last term the senior English class debated on the subject, "Resolved. That the System of Guaranteed Banks is a Good Thing." The affirmative was taken by Ruth Peltz, James Chapman and Mildred Kuhn, while Charles Towle, Lucile Townsend and Bernhardt Knollenberg, represented the negative side of the question. Although both the affirmative and the negative sides put up strong arguments, it was the unanimous decision of the judges that the affirmative side should be awarded the decision and acted accordingly.

Mrs. George H. Gray, of Centerville, visited the high school yesterday.

The new programs for this term's work have just been issued. The faculty consists of nineteen members, seven of whom have been added to the high school corps of teachers within the last year. The building is in such a crowded condition that it is necessary to hold two different recitations in the same room during one hour of the day.

The name of Roy J. Horton, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., appears on the high school program as one of the faculty. He has been appointed athletic director of the high school, and as soon as the Y. M. C. A. building is completed, he will hold regular gymnastic classes in the gymnasium.

Next week the senior class will debate on the subject, "Resolved. That the game of Football Should be encouraged." The affirmative will be represented by Abbie Schaeffer, Charles Towle and Mildred Kuhn, and the negative by Ada Heath, Jessie Mann and Bernhardt Knollenberg. The question is an excellent one for a high school debate, and the contest promises to be an interesting one.

Next Saturday the Richmond high school football team will go to Hamilton, where it will play the high school team of that place. The game will undoubtedly be closely contested as the score of the game between Hamilton and Richmond on Oct. 10 was 11 to 11. The local lads are working hard so that they will be in good condition to meet the Buckeyes.

Yesterday one of the high school football men, whose head was crammed full of footballs, referees, coaches and etc., began to give a long discussion on the Holy Roman umpire. Was it any wonder the class roared with laughter?

Instead of receiving their grades each month, as previously, the high school students will be given their grades only three times during the entire term, or every six weeks.

purchases and sales amounted to 178,081 shares. The exchange total for the month was 190,000.

SUIT ON CLAIM.

Trial of Brumfield Case. Heard To-day.

The trial of the case of Millard Brumfield against the estate of Oliver Brumfield, on claim, was heard in the Wayne circuit court today. The plaintiff maintains the decedant was indebted to him at the time of his death and that the estate owes $111.09 on a note. The details of the transaction are rather obscure.

Another development was the revelation of how he had made a profit of $30,000 for the president of his American Ice company Wesley Oler, who was getting a salary of $24,000 a year and had he had "carried" him—with the aid of the bank of North America—to the extent of a loan of $141,000. The deal was for the purchase of ice stock at 71, even when Mr. Oler didn't want to buy and didn't want to borrow, when he was already indebted to another Morse bank, the New Amsterdam.

How Deal Was Made.

Oler's $30,000 profit was made when he asked Morse for a loan of $42,500 on 1,000 shares of ice. Morse took Oler's note and the cash was advanced by the Bank of North America. The stock was sold out at a profit, which was credited to Oler on another debt he owed the bank.

Later Morse told Oler the bank had 2,000 shares of ice and urged him to buy it at 71, telling him it was sure to go up. Oler said he didn't want any more stock as he was in debt to the bank. He said he was nearly out of debt and was anxious to get all the way out, but Morse induced him to take it, giving him note for $141,000. Then when ice had been put up by Morse to 90 Oler wanted to sell, but Morse would not let him and said to hold the stock until it was 110.

Did Not Know Stock's Owner. Oler, on cross examination, said he didn't know whether the 2,000 shares of ice were owned by Morse or by the Bank of North America.

Bank Examiner Edward P. Moxey told of the purchases and sales through various brokerage houses on Morse's account of ice stock. The monthly totals showed Morse bought more than he sold. In March Morse's

MITCHELL'S DENIAL

Repudiates Campaign Circulars Sent Out as Coming From Him.

WERE UNAUTHORIZED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 21.—John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America has repudiated as unauthorized certain campaign circulars sent out purporting to give his political views.

The circulars to which Mr. Mitchell objects contained alleged likenesses of the labor leader, accompanied by political opinions attributed to him. Apparently the documents were sent to the secretaries of most if not all of the miners' local unions. Mr. Mitchell is hurt to think any one would believe him so lacking in modesty as to send his picture abroad, regardless of what he may think of politics.

"In order to remove any misunderstanding that may exist," says Mr. Mitchell in a statement issued to the public, "I wish to inform our members that I have not mailed or authorized any one else to mail to any member or officer of our union or to any one else any poster containing my likeness or giving expression to my political views, except so far as these views are expressed in the official circulars authorized by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor."

HIS BIRTHDAY.

The genial county recorder Frank Mosbaugh had a birthday today. Unlike most other persons who expect presents to be given them, Frank turned the trick around and all day was passing out large red plums to his friends. It was hoped by all the recorder's innovation would become the custom at the court house. Sheriff Meredith's turn comes next, but bean float is excluded, it is declared by court house attaches.

GETS SCHOOL CONTRACT.

Caldwell & Mobley, the local contracting firm, have been notified that they have been awarded the contract for building the new high school building at Franklin, Ind. Their bid was $40,831.

The Smart Set. A lady in a town lying under the Rockies was much distressed at hearing small clique in her town refer to themselves as the "smart set." She appealed to an ex-United States senator and asked him what he understood by the term "the smart set." He replied: "I think I can give you an inkling. In the eastern part of Colorado and in the western part of Nebraska there is a large tract of land known as the 'rain belt.' It never rains there."—Argonaut.

VORYS IS OUSTED

Hitchcock to Direct Ohio Campaign Until Election Time.

VORYS IS REVENGEFUL.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Following the revelations of republican disorganization in Ohio, the national committee took action which virtually removes Arthur L. Vorys from the direction of the Taft campaign in that state. National Chairman Hitchcock will take personal charge of the Ohio field and the committee will pour into the state all the strong speakers at its command in an effort to insure republican success.

Mr. Taft will speak in Cleveland at noon on Nov. 2 and in the evening at Youngstown. Other speakers who have been assigned to stump the state in the closing days of the campaign are:

Senator Robert M. La Follette. Postmaster General George Von L. Meyer. Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield. Secretary of Commerce Oscar Straus.

Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver. Leslie M. Shaw.

Gen. O. O. Howard.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

Congressman David Foster of Vermont.

Change of Ohio Management.

Since the opening of the campaign Ohio has constituted a subject principally in the republican scheme of organization. Vorys was the prince on the job, the understanding being that he should run the campaign in that state to suit himself without the intervention of the national committee. This was the consolation prize he received for his disappointment in not being made chairman of the national committee.

FEDERATION FIGHTS

Illinois Labor Men Do Battle Over Proposed Political Stand.

CANNON THE MAIN TARGET.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 21.—The question of endorsing political candidates, national and state, involves the delegates to the Illinois State Federation of Labor convention, which is now in session in a lively wrangle.

The Republicans in the convention are anxious to have the body take a neutral attitude, particularly as to the national campaign, while adherents of President Gompers' political policy are working for the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor program. Both sides are keeping close watch on each other's moves.

Almost before the convention got down to actual business a resolution was presented and sent to the resolutions committee denouncing in the strongest terms Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and his congressional record.

Eager to Get at Cannon. Some of the delegates demanded that immediate action be taken on an anti-Cannon resolution, declaring such an important matter ought to be disposed of at once, but President Edwin R. Wright ruled that all resolutions must first be considered in committee and then reported for action. A large number of purely labor resolutions also were presented and sent to committee.
