SOCIAL EVENTS TODAY.

The Occult Research society is meeting this afternoon with Miss Sarah Louis at her home on South Thirteenth street.

The teachers and officers of the primary department of the First Christian church are receiving the mothers of the scholars this afternoon in the church parlors. The hours are from 3 until 6 o'clock.

The Woman's Relief Corps is meeting this afternoon in the G. A. R. hall.

The ladies of St. Ann's society of St. Andrew's church are entertaining with a card party this afternoon in St. Andrew's school.

The first session of the State Library society is being held this afternoon in the Morrison-Reeves library.

As has been prophesied, the subscription dance given last evening in the Pythian temple by the present social committee of the Country club house, was a successful and charming social event. Hart's orchestra of Indianapolis furnished the dance music. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Harry Jay, chairman, Miss Edna Johnson, Mr. Arthur Hill, Miss Nina Pennell, Mr. Harry Thornburg, Mr. Orville Comer and Miss Magdalena Engelbert. Punch was served during the evening. Later luncheon was served. Among those attending the function were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jay, Mr. and Mrs. W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Corwin, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGuire, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Grosvenor, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Leeds, Mrs. Maude Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Byram Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. the office of Minnehaha. Emma Graham will probably be re-elected great keeper of records for the fourth time. During the session reports will be made showing a successful year. It is expected that between six and eight hundred will attend the meetings. For those who arrived early, a reception was held last evening in the parlors at the Grand Hotel.

The members of the Home Economic Study club met yesterday with the Mother's league of Whitewater school instead of meeting with Miss Bertha Fife as was the original plan. The Home Economic club is a branch of the Domestic Science association.

Dr. J. A. Rondthaler delivered the address before the two organizations yesterday afternoon. He took for his subject "The Modern House." Dr. Rondthaler spoke from a scientific architectural and social standpoint. The Mother's league is much interested in the work of the Domestic Science association and hopes, with the combined efforts of both societies, to organize a cooking department in the various public school buildings. It is very probable that several members of the Mother's league will join the Domestic Science association. The regular weekly session will be held next Wednesday afternoon with Miss Marianna Stubbs. The subject for discussion at this time will be "The Construction of the House."

Mrs. Frank Land, president of the Domestic Science association, has been appointed delegate to the meeting of the Federation of clubs, which will be held at Indianapolis next week in the Claypool hotel. Any of the members are invited to attend.

A social afternoon was enjoyed yesterday by the circles of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church. The hostess for the affair was Mrs. C. A. Pierson, the guests being entertained at her home on South Eighteenth street. The hours were spent in a social manner. A short musical program was a feature of the occasion. Mrs. Pierson was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Edward Marlatt, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. C. W. Isenberger. About twenty-five guests were entertained. Luncheon was served later in the afternoon. Mrs. Frank Bell will be hostess for a meeting of the society, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 28, at her home, 17 North Twentieth street.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Grace M. E. church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors. The session will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The hours will be devoted to quilting. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dougan, who were married yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, left yesterday for a two-weeks' trip to the lakes. Upon their return they will be at home to their many friends at 321 South Thirteenth street.

A girl who doesn't spend half her playtime in matching jig-saw puzzles this autumn is certainly out of touch with the times. There are few fashions in games which have taken such a grip upon the public.

Bridge is the only rival of the jig-saw puzzles, and it has lost its place daily since the new game came in.

You all know about it, of course? It is an elaboration of the old-fashioned puzzle blocks of childhood days. The matching of them is as hard to the grown-up girl as the simple little blocks were to her baby intellect.

Instead of being cut in squares and easy angles they are cut out by a jig-saw into tiny pieces that take on every curve known to geometry.

There are from one to 300 pieces of wood in one puzzle, and these must be perfectly matched to complete one picture.

Everywhere you go, to a dinner, for an afternoon in the country, to a hotel, on a steamer, it matters not where, if you don't play puzzles you are behind the times and you are quickly counted out.

It makes little difference how well you may talk or sing, play the piano or dance. You are not wanted for those amusements. The rest of the world is matching blocks, and you must either do it or sit alone.

A house-warming was given recently for Mrs. George Sauer by the members of the H. S. club.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA.

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash.

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.

Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.

Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound. It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy has given us great confidence in its merits.

For sale by all druggists.

EAGER TO PLACE MONEY ON TAFT

Republicans Can Find No Men Willing to Wager Their Kale on Bryan.

DEMOCRATS TALK LOUD.

IN SEVERAL INSTANCES THEY HAVE OFFERED TO BACK ASSERTIONS WITH MONEY UNTIL CONFRONTED WITH TAKERS.

Local Republicans with sporting blood in their veins are keeping their weather eyes cocked for Democrats with money who think Bryan has a chance to be elected, or who think he has a chance to carry either Indiana or Ohio. There have been quite a number of Democrats who have offered to make the most startling kind of wagers when they were certain no one was about who would call the bluff, but when they were run down by Republicans with the coin to bet with in every case a rapid and inglorious retreat has been beaten. For instance:

Yesterday the Columbus, O., agent of the American Seeding Machine Company entered the Westcott barber shop and displayed a roll of $100 and offered to bet one of the barbers the entire amount that Bryan would be elected. He was told by the barber that he would cover the bet if he had the money. A short time later a prominent young Republican heard of the wager and informed the barber that he would be willing at any time to cover the bet. The barber notified the Columbus man.

"Well," said he, "I will bet you if you have the money, but I won't if you have to borrow it." The barber replied that he was not going to borrow the money. He said his friend wanted to cover the bet on his own hook. As the agent left the barber shop he mumbled something about "not betting that way."

In a local cigar store a few days ago, one of those pompous, patronizing, I-know-it-all kind of individuals had by loud argument and a display of bills, browbeaten his small audience into a subdued silence. Finally a young man joined the audience. The pompous one, evidently with the intention of intimidating the new arrival, announced a boiler-ship tones. "I've got a hundred that says Bryan cuts down the Republican majority in Ohio by 100,000." He then swept his auditors with a haughty glance.

"Just wait ten minutes and I'll be back with a roll," spoke up the new arrival and hurried out the door.

Before he had gone a half block he was notified that the Democratic spendthrift had beaten a retreat out the back door of the cigar store.

A great tunnel which has lately been found at Gezer, in the land of the Philistines, in Palestine, was described at the annual meeting of the Macalister, whose son has been making the excavations, said the tunnel, which was made about 2,000 B. C., is as high as the "Two-penny Tube" and half as wide. It descends by eighty steps, the lowest of which is 150 feet below ground. In it is a well. The tunnel is the greatest engineering work that has been found in Palestine and has astonished everyone who has seen it.

GREENBRIAR SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED

Mystery Surrounds Origin of Fire Which Caused a Loss of $3,000.

ONLY PARTLY INSURED.

GREATEST LOSS IS TO FURNITURE AND EQUIPMENT—FARMERS FIGHT TO KEEP THE BLAZE FROM SPREADING.

Fire of an unknown origin completely gutted the Greenbriar school house on the Abington pike, southwest of the city at an early hour this morning. Nothing remains of the tattered structure but the brick walls. The loss is estimated at $3,000. The insurance amounts to only $1,575 on the building and $175 on the furniture and equipment. The walls remain standing and it is expected they will be pronounced safe and will not have to be rebuilt. The school house is one of the most modern in the county. It was built only about six years ago. Had it not been the ground was covered with frost at the time the fire would have spread to the fields and woods in the vicinity. The heat melted the frost on the grass in the school yard and neighbors had a hard time to protect the fences and outhouses and prevent further spread of the flames.

When the farmers of the neighborhood were aroused by the crackling of the flames and reflection of the light at about 3 o'clock this morning, the flames were burning on the roof at the east end of the building. This is far removed from the stove and adds mystery to the cause of the fire. The stove had contained fire early in the morning, but there was no fire when school closed and the teacher left the building. An inspection of the chimney today showed it to have been in good condition.

The greatest loss is on the furniture and equipment and the $175 insurance will not be sufficient to replace the seats. The interior of the building was burned out entirely. A new library was installed a short time ago at a cost of more than $50, and this was destroyed. All the furniture is an absolute loss.

Trustee Potter has not determined what accommodations may be provided temporarily for the school children, but will make an effort to open school some place in the vicinity.

DAYTON SUFFERS $50,000 FIRE LOSS

Fire Reaches Uptown Business Block.

Dayton, O., Oct. 22.—A loss estimated at $50,000 was created by a fire last night which started in an old frame building that stood over the Miami and Erie Canal on East Fourth street and owned by the Schwind Realty Company, but quickly spread to the Beaver & Butt Building, one of the leading uptown business blocks. All the property consumed was well covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is uncertain, but a small portion of the building in which it started was occupied by a blacksmith shop conducted by A. J. Makley. It is thought that it may have been the work of an incendiary.
