PRODUCE OF THE CHASE.

In the days when buffalo still roamed the plains of Kansas in countless numbers a great many hunting parties came over from Europe to have a hand in their slaughter. One party was composed of a Frenchman named Auguste Rouland, the first husband of Christine Nilsson, the prima donna, and an Englishman, a Mr. Blackmore, from London. They arrived at Dodge City one day in the fall with a carload of equipment, including every sort of delicacy that the market afforded and several large trunks full of bright new butcher knives. A detachment of the Sixth cavalry from Fort Dodge was detailed to accompany them, and probably no command ever fared better than that one did. The Englishman shot a few buffalo, and the soldiers slaughtered them by the hundreds. But the Frenchman didn't kill one. Instead, he would take one of his brand new butcher knives, plunge it into the slain animal until it was smeared with blood, wrap it carefully in tissue paper and put it back in the trunk as a trophy of his chase to exhibit when he got back to Paris as proof of his mighty prowess as a hunter. That was his idea of sport--Kansas City Star.

GRAND JURY
INDICTMENTS

property. The grand jury further recommends that the wash house should be re-roofed and at the earliest convenience and opportunity, that a new building be provided for the women at this institution including a kitchen separate and apart from the dining room of this place. The jury has received no complaints as to the care and attention afforded the unfortunate in this institution--some sixty in number--and is to believe that they are as comfortably provided for as the means at hand will permit. This jury must recommend, however, that this institution with the great investment of money there at made, and with the constantly increasing cost of maintenance, that some more modern method of accounting be provided at the hands of the board of commissioners.
It is to be noted that this institution stands costing the county in the expenditures made therefor at this time, the sum of practically ten thousand dollars per year, against which is chargeable the products and receipts from the farm. It is to be remembered that most of the labor must be done by the inmates are not in any sense producers; but at the same time the reports and records should show more properly in detail, the expenses of the place and particularly the receipts from the farm. There is no criticism offered as against the superintendent, he simply keeping in vogue the system as has been employed for years. Again, in the matter of the contracts for supplies, it is to be noted that such supplies are not purchased under the contract but in addition thereto, are not charged against the county at the contract bid price but rather at the then retail market price which is always practically at a greater rate than the contract price and consequently at a loss to the county. These supplies, as purchased, it must be stated, are not in great amount and perhaps cannot be anticipated at the commencement of the respective quarters and their purchase therefore, is practically obligatory.
The jury, however, feels that under the law controlling these contracts, more careful attention to these contracts on the part of the board of county commissioners and on the part of the superintendent, would preclude the such happenings and to a saving to the county.

In the matter of the county jail, the jury hesitates about making further recommendations in view of the report made by previous grand juries. The equipment here is in no wise in keeping with the standard of Wayne county in its maintenance of its every other institution. This institution is in need of a complete renovation and it is imperative that this institution be completely rebuilt and along modern lines. The county now owns sufficient ground adjoining the jail lot upon which to build a proper jail, and it is to be hoped that the county will no longer delay than is necessary. With the additional space as now provided, an institution for the keeping of women, juveniles, men prisoners and insane are as temporarily in charge of the sheriff and all in separate apartments, can be provided and at the same time place all under the immediate supervision of the officers chargeable with their keeping. At this time, four insane men are at the county jail and three at the women's jail and most of whom, to all appearances, will be compelled to remain there indefinitely. These unfortunate are further practically treated as criminals in their care and the personal attention as given them--not purposely on the part of the officers, but on account of necessity under present conditions.

Also this jury insists that some form of labor for the prisoners be provided at all times, the absence of such now practically inviting commitment. In regard to the women's jail, this jury makes no further recommendation, the equipment therein being complete and the same is suitable to be used, if kept in its present condition, until the such time as the county will make provisions in the line as suggested above.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES HARRIS,
Foreman.

RINGING THE BREAKFAST BELL.

An American family who has experienced the difficulty of obtaining and retaining the services of a reliable kitchen girl while on a visit to Ireland became acquainted with a promising young girl and brought her back home with them.

In a few weeks she was installed in her new home and made acquainted with her new duties. Among other things she was told that it was customary when breakfast was ready to be served to ring the breakfast bell.
Her "all right, mum," came in such a confident tone that her mistress gave the matter no further thought.

The following morning at 6 o'clock the family were rudely awakened by the violent ringing of the front doorbell. Thinking that a messenger must be waiting with some unusual message, the gentleman of the house did not stop to dress, but hurried down in his night robe and opened the door.
The new kitchen girl awaited him, her face beaming with a beautiful smile of triumph. Bowing low, she said in her rich Irish brogue, "Breakfast is ready, sor."--Los Angeles Times.

DIAMOND CUTTING.

It is said that before the fourteenth century no one knew how to cut and polish diamonds. They were esteemed for their marvelous hardness, but not greatly admired for beauty. There is a tradition that a journeyman jeweler in Flanders, Louis Van Berghem, discovered the art of cutting diamond with diamond. But it is probable that he only made some notable advance in the art since associations of diamond cutters had existed in France and Flanders from the fourteenth century.
Louis Van Berghem's most famous achievement was the cutting and polishing of a huge diamond belonging to Charles the Bold. Charles was so delighted with the result that he rewarded the artist liberally and declared that the diamond would now serve him for a bedroom lamp. This jewel, which was found on Charles' body after the battle of Nancy, is still in existence and celebrated under the name of the Sancy diamond.--Youth's Companion.

HE GAVE THEM LATIN.

Once, before he was president, Andrew Jackson was making a political speech in some obscure campaign in a backwoods Tennessee district. His address was very well received, but somehow there did not seem to be exactly the enthusiasm wanted for the occasion. Having vainly tried to "warm up" his hearers, the general was just going to sit down when the chairman of the meeting plucked him by the coattail. "For the Lord's sake, general, give 'em some Latin!" he bur-riedly whispered in the speaker's ear.
"They won't think you know anything at all if you quit like this. Smith, the opposition candidate, talked Latin to 'em half the evening!"

Old Hickory rose to the situation.
Advancing to the edge of the platform, he extended his arm and thundered out: "E pluribus unum! Sic semper tyrannis! Habeas corpus!"
The audience roared with applause.
The credit of the orator was saved, and the Jackson ticket won out in that county.--St. Paul Pioneer Press.

BRYAN GIVEN HOUR

Speaks in Richmond, October 31, Arriving Early in The Day.

SPEAKS IN GLEN MILLER.

William Jennings Bryan will speak one hour in this city on Saturday, Oct.
31. This will mark the close of the Democratic campaign in this county. It was first announced that the Bryan special train would arrive here about noon and that Mr. Bryan would deliver his address at the coliseum. Since then different arrangements have been made and the Bryan special will arrive here at 9 o'clock in the morning. It is also quite probable that he will deliver his address at Glen Miller park.

son Thomas R. favors the ward opposition is because it would give the Marshall move to do.

Dr. H. A. Gobin, acting president of DePaul university, is quoted as saying, "I think that every thorough going temperance man, whether he be Democrat, third party Prohibitionist or Republican, ought to vote for Mr. Watson."

S. E. Nicholson, the father of the celebrated Nicholson law, that has been such a valuable aid in the restriction of the liquor traffic says the defeat of Watson for governor will set back the temperance cause in Indiana at least two decades.

John L. Griffiths, who speaks in this city Saturday evening, was greeted by the largest crowd of the campaign at Winchester. He advocated the revision of the tariff by the Republicans and control of corporations. Talking upon state issues he said he doubted the sincerity of the Democrats as to temperance legislation as every saloon keeper and brewer in Indiana is supporting Marshall. The mention of Watson's name brought forth cheers from the audience that lasted for several minutes.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR VICTORY IN STATE OF INDIANA

will not leave anything unsaid or undone that will help the cause.

"By the time Taft gets through in Indiana there will be little left of the opposition that was stirred up by Samuel Gompers," said one man connected with the state headquarters.

NO OPPOSITION TO TAFT.

Aside from the efforts of Gompers to deliver the labor vote to Bryan and the unprecedented activity of the brewers in the attempt to run the politics of the state, there is no real opposition to Taft. If you ask a man to tell you what else there is that is working against the republican ticket he will tell you that he does not know of anything else. So, with Taft taking care of the Gompers agitation and the temperance democrats taking the place of those republicans who may be weaned away by the allments of the breweries the state committee believes that the result ought to be about what has been in the past--a republican plurality of not less than 30,000 and probably as much as 50,000.
