

THREE OBSTACLES CONFRONT EARLHAM

Must Defeat Butler, Rose Poly and DePauw to Win Championship.

BUTLER NEXT SATURDAY.

QUAKERS HOPE TO WIN THIS CONTEST AS COACH VAIL EXPECTS TO PLACE HIS FULL LINEUP IN THE GAME.

Three obstacles stand in the path of Earlham winning the secondary football championship of the state, namely—Butler, Rose Poly and DePauw. One at a time the Quakers will launch themselves against these obstacles and they are confident of overcoming all of them. The first one Earlham will go against will be Butler. This team the Quakers will meet Saturday on Reid Field and the fans of this city are assured the best game that has been played here so far this season. Butler has a strong, aggressive team and the Irvington rooters are as confident of their pet's defeating Earlham as the Quaker fans are confident that Butler will be spanked.

Coach Vail will probably place for the first time this season his full lineup in the game. This means that Hancock will resume his place at left end and Lawrence will direct the team play at quarterback. There is some doubt as to whether Captain Harrell will be able to resume his place at fullback, but an effort is being made to get him in shape for this contest. He still suffers with his wrenched ankle.

The Earlham student body is giving its team enthusiastic support and Saturday each class will march on the field separately, singing their class songs and giving the college football cheer.

The second obstacle in the championship path that confronts Earlham is Rose Poly. A week from Saturday the Quakers will journey to Terre Haute and will there give battle to the Roses. This year Rose has a mighty strong team as was shown by her defeat of the crack Wabash team. The Saturday following the Rose game the Quakers will climb the anatomy of the third obstacle, DePauw. This game will be played on Reid Field and will be not only the last game but the most important game of Earlham's football season. This contest should draw the largest crowd that ever attended a football game in this city.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE'S WHIRLWIND TOUR IS DOING MUCH GOOD

mitted. And the crowd laughed again, for the inquirer had shown by his own answer that he was enjoying republican prosperity.

Beveridge spoke to fully 25,000 people yesterday before he reached Fort Wayne. The night crowd could scarcely be estimated. The streets were filled with people and there were thousands of marchers. The Princess rink was packed to the doors and there was an overflow meeting at the court house. The street parade was one of the most spectacular and brilliant ever seen in Indiana. Senator Beveridge is a favorite in Fort Wayne, and the people showed it last night.

One man told Beveridge last night at Avilla that he was going to vote for Bryan for the same reason that republicans voted for Lincoln in 1860.

"Yes," said Beveridge, "Lincoln in 1860 stood for the principle that all men were equal and that there were no classes among the people of this country. Today Mr. Bryan is asserting that there are classes in this country. He contends that the interests of the laboring man are different from the interest of the employer, and that the interests of the farmer are different from the interests of the other people. That is the difference between Lincoln and Bryan."

This answer closed the debate with that individual. Altogether the Beveridge trip is a big success. Those who are watching the progress of it believe that it will do much good for the party and the ticket.

FAIR MINDED DEMOCRATS ARE NOW ASTOUNDED

before he became identified with the committee upon the investigation of Bryan.

"His (Bryan's) election would surely cause a disturbance in the industrial and economical development of the country."

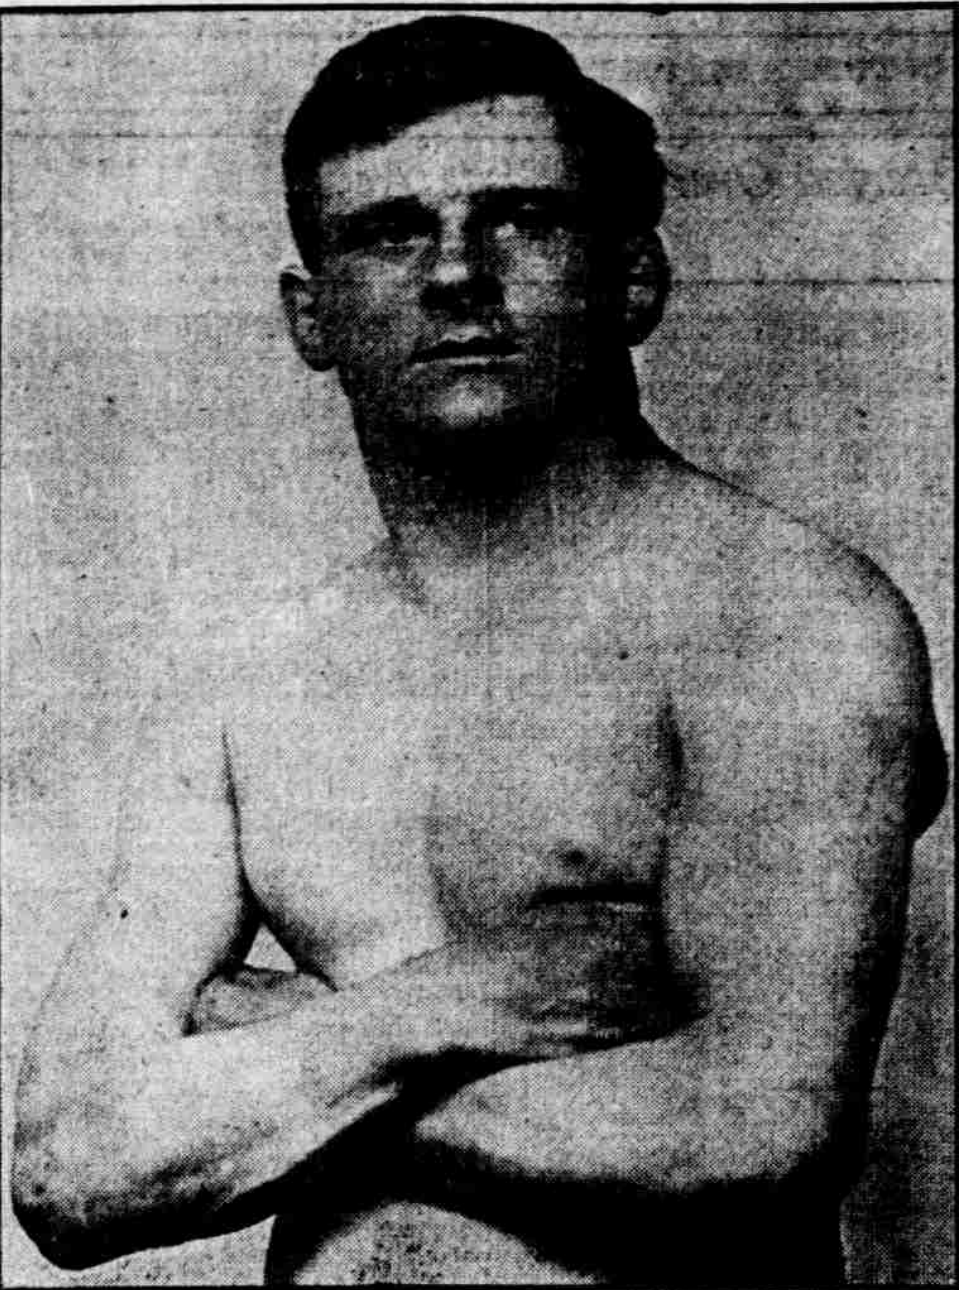

"We deem a republican victory less dangerous for the country than the election of Bryan."

"Only a few intimate friends and blind admirers of Bryan are still willing to follow him."

"The miserable intrigues of the man who would again incite the masses cannot retard this process. Bryan's strenuous activity will hasten his own annihilation."

"Rather candid remarks for the man now devoting his time to keeping the democratic coffers filled. Nicht wahr?"

CHAMPION LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT OF AMERICA TO BE SEEN HERE.

CHARLES OLSON.

Olson is considered one of the best wrestlers in the game today and it is very probable that the greatest crowd of the season will be present Thursday night at the Coliseum, to see him take on the "Terrible Turk" at catch as catch can.

Affairs of the Sporting World

Wonder what became of that Bostonian who wrote a whole side of a newspaper to show that base ball was stupid and unpopular?

Elmer Stricklett is anxious to get back on the Brooklyn band wagon. The good spitball pitcher should prove a tower of strength to the Dodgers next year if he returns. He played this season on the coast, with President Ebbets' permission.

The Cubs were rather generous in the division of the swag. They let Marshall and Kroh whack up one portion between them, while Treasurer Williams and Trainer Semmens parted another.

Hans Wagner recently invested his year's salary in Carnegie real estate. The Flying Dutchman is, without doubt one of the richest players in the game, with the addition of his new purchases. He is a bank director, a big holder of brewery bonds, railroad bonds, owns a business block and bowling alley, as well as a large chicken farm, two automobiles and about thirty blooded dogs.

Frank Navin says he wouldn't take Hal Chase as a gift. As this is the same fellow who estimates the value of Cy Young at the price of a beer, Hal will have no immediate reason for remorse.

The All-American team which is to tour Japan and the orient will sail from San Francisco early in November.

ATTACK MADE UPON CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Frank Hering Insinuates That Roosevelt and Taft Were Dishonest.

CROWD NOT IN SYMPATHY.

MANY PEOPLE LEFT BUILDING AFTER SOUTH BEND ATTORNEY MADE STATEMENT—GORE DID NOT SPEAK.

Frank Hering, a South Bend attorney, in a speech last evening at the democratic rally, held at the coliseum, denounced in the most bitter manner the action of the local republican organization in placarding the city with posters comparing the records of William Howard Taft and William Jennings Bryan, to the disparagement of the latter gentleman, as "cowardly and in violation of the American principle of fair play." Then the same speaker turned his vitriolic tongue loose upon President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft and by innuendo gave the impression that they had a guilty knowledge of an alleged theft in connection with the Panama Canal. Completing his tirade, Mr. Hering paused for a pause, but there was not a sound.

Mr. Hering was one of three speakers at the meeting last evening. The announcement that Senator Gore of Oklahoma would address the meeting was the magnet which drew the crowd, but he failed to put in an appearance being delayed by a wreck.

Mr. Hering stated that the government could have purchased for $10,000,000 the rights of the defunct French company to the Panama Canal but for some unexplained reason this company had received $40,000,000. He accused Mr. Robinson, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt, and Charles P. Taft, brother of William H. Taft, as benefiting by this alleged crooked deal and to cast suspicion on President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft, he asked his audience in a sneering tone of voice, "did you ever hear of a single dishonest dollar crossing the palm of that great companion, William Jennings Bryan?"

It was the first time that a Richmond audience had ever heard any man cast reflections upon the honesty of President Roosevelt, the most beloved president in the history of the country, or of William H. Taft, Mr. Roosevelt's successor. The crowd sat almost petrified. A few seconds later many people arose and left the building.

C. C. Feight, an Indianapolis railroad man, was the first speaker and he made an attack on the labor record of James E. Watson. He concluded his address by telling the audience if it wanted a government that would extend as much protection to a poor washwoman as it would to a woman ablaze with jewels in the drawing room of her palatial mansion, it should vote for Bryan and Marshall.

The meeting concluded with an address delivered by Congressman Joe Robinson of Arkansas. He predicted his state would go democratic by a large majority.

A HEALTHY FAMILY.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlett, of Rural Route 1, Guilford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good. 25c, at A. G. Luken & Co's drug store.

The Old Time Lay Preacher. Most lay preachers, especially the veterans, have favorite sermons, which they preach year after year and often to the same congregations. Some have only half a dozen or less than half a dozen sermons all told. They have been so satisfied with their first efforts that they have never tried to better them. One venerable brother, when urged to add to his stock of three discourses that had gone around the circuit for more than thirty years, replied, with a laugh, "Praise the Lord, they soon forget!"—London Strand Magazine.

PALLADIUM WANT ADS PAY.

Special Notice To Prospective Piano Purchasers

I herewith submit, for your investigation, the names of just a few of the many satisfied patrons to whom I have sold high-grade pianos at JUST ABOUT ONE-HALF THE PRICE they are commonly sold at. Every one of these will verify my advertised proposition that I CAN AND DO SELL you a high-grade piano at one-half the price usually charged. The following list is for your investigation: John F. Dynes, County Commissioner; C. A. Langley, Mrs. L. K. Hill, Schuyler Crowe, George Crowe and Oliver Brumfield, all of Centerville, Ind.; Robert Hicks, Banker, Cambridge City; Mrs. Charles Wissler, East Germantown, J. J. Johnson, Knightstown; Methodist Church, Saratoga, Ind.; Alonzo Frame, Eaton, O.; Frank Davenport, Boston Pike; Herman Uphaus, 126 S. 5th St.; Mrs. Andrew Roser, 215 S. 10th St.; Alonzo Bennett, 618 N. 13th St.; Miss Ollie Horn, cashier Eggemeyer's Grocery, William Webb, Janitor First Presbyterian Church, Clyde St. John, John and Joseph Meyers, Archibald Brooks, engineer, 211 Chestnut St., and Chas. McCrea, 403 N. 14th street, all of Richmond, Ind.

If you are in the market for a piano, kindly take the pains to satisfy yourself, from these parties, that I positively do just as advertised, i. e., sell you a piano at just about one-half the price you pay the other fellow. My competitors will tell you that this cannot be done; these people whose names I have given above, will tell you that it can and HAS BEEN DONE with them, and what has been done can be done again.

The facts are, I am over stocked with high-grade pianos, bought at MY PRICE, for the cash laid down, and while this present stock lasts, I am going to sell them just as advertised—AT ONE-HALF THE PRICE usually paid.

I am handing the very finest line of pianos handled in Richmond, each and every one being fully guaranteed by both the manufacturer and myself.

These pianos are going fast, so don't delay your investigation. This is probably the greatest opportunity of your life time for the purchase of a high grade piano. Just think, the price is about ONE-HALF what your neighbor paid for his instrument.

REMEMBER, I cannot afford to duplicate these prices in the future; they are for the present stock only.

BOUT WILL BE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Turk Will Seek to Wrest Light Heavyweight Honors From Olson.

GREAT GO IS PREDICTED.

MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST IN CONTEST OF THURSDAY NIGHT—OLSON EXPECTS HARD MATCH.

Thursday night the greatest wrestling match that has been offered the local fans this season will be pulled off, and it is expected a monster crowd will witness it. The contest will be between Charles Olson, champion light heavyweight of America, and Bob Manogoff, the clever Turk wrestler.

The matches the Turk has engaged in in this city have been with opponents not in his class. He has shown himself to be the best man in every bout pulled off here, and if Olson imagines he is to have an easy time with Big Bob, he has guessed wrong. However, Olson is too much of a veteran to under estimate an opponent. He expects a hard contest and frankly admits it.

More than ordinary interest hinges on this contest. Olson holds the light heavyweight championship of the United States, an honor that the Turk has long coveted. Should Manogoff win his match Thursday night, a new light heavyweight champion will have been created.
