

CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES FADED

Earlham College Decisively
Defeated by Butler
Saturday.

SPANKED QUAKERS 31 TO 0.

IRVINGTON TEAM OUTCLASSED
EARLHAM IN ALL DEPART-MENTS OF THE GAME—VISIT-ORS SHOWED SPEED.

By Tort.

Earlham's hopes of winning the second annual state football championship went up in smoke yesterday afternoon when Butler turned the unexpected and spanked the astonished Quakers, 31 to 0. Only once was the Butler goal line threatened, at the close of the first half, and what is more, Butler outclassed and outplayed Earlham in every department of the game.

The Quaker defense was but tissue paper to the dashing, scrappy and speedy Irvington backs. On the other hand the Butler line and ends played such a brilliant game that not only was their defense impregnable, but time and time again they broke through the Earlham forwards, smashing to atoms the Quaker offensive formations.

It is true that Earlham was handicapped greatly by the absence of the two regular ends, Gaston and Hancock, and the back field was weakened by the crippled condition of Captain Harrell, but had the Quakers had their full strength in the field it is extremely doubtful if the outcome of the game would have been materially changed.

Butler repeatedly worked the forward pass with machine-like precision and for substantial gains. The Earlham defense was completely at sea when it came to solving this mode of attack. Butler's progress toward the Earlham goal was materially assisted by the long, accurate punts of Thomas. The Butler ends would go down the field like a flash under these kicks, and would nail the players who received the ball before they had taken a stride.

Butler would then hold the Quakers for downs or get the ball on an awkward forward pass, then resume their journey to a touchdown.

The bright particular stars for Butler were Eldridge and Stiffler at ends. Right Tackle Thomas, Halfback Greer and Quarterback McKay, who operated his team like a bolt of lightning, and who made his forward passes with the precision of a machine. Not only did he pass beautifully, but there was always a Butler man at the right spot to receive the pass.

The first half closed with the score 20 to 0. The last three minutes of play the Quakers made a desperate rally and fought the ball down to Butler's ten yard line. Coach Vail then appeared on the field and Referee Rulick penalized Earlham five yards for his action. Earlham then braced and by Captain Harrell's brilliant work carried the ball to Butler's three yard line where the Irvington eleven held for downs.

Second Half.

In the second half after ten minutes of hard fighting and considerable punting Butler made a lucky touchdown. White of Earlham in punting booted the ball into one of his own men. The ball rolled back of Earlham's goal line, where a Butler man fell on it. Five minutes later by a series of brilliant end runs and forward passes Thomas carried the ball over the line for Butler's last touch down. The work of Referee Rulick and Umpire Endsley caused considerable dissatisfaction to both teams.

PLAY MONDAY NIGHT.
Pirate and Entre Nous Bowling Teams Clash.

The next match in the city bowling league that is attracting much attention is that to be played between the Pirates and the Entre Nous team, Monday night. The latter aggregation holds to the cellar position in the league standing, but expects to move up a peg.

The bowling game is attracting quite a little interest in Richmond this fall and it is expected that even greater interest will be aroused before the winter is passed.

INDIANA THE LOSER

State University Gridiron Warriors Defeated by Illinois.

ONLY ONE TOUCHDOWN.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 31.—"Pom"

Sinnock, Illinois star quarterback, was the hero of the Illinois victory over Indiana by a 10 to 0 score today. The quarter-back acting captain in the absence of Van Hook, repeatedly made long runs and executed successful forward passes. Indiana kicked off and Illinois rapidly advanced the ball into Indiana territory by a series of line plunges, until the ball was lost on a fumble. Cartwright of Indiana, kicked to Sinnock. Straight football again brought the ball into the Hoosier's ground. An interchange of punts followed, but a sensational run by Sinnock put the ball on Indiana's 20-yard line. Brewer bucked off left tackle for a touchdown. Ralishack kicked goal. Score—Illinois, 6; Indiana, 0.

The Illinois line, despite the absence of Captain Van Hook, were impregnable against the fierce attack of the Hoosier forwards. Scott Paddock failed in an attempt for a field goal. Time was called with the ball on the Indiana 20-yard line, and the score remained, Illinois, 6; Indiana, 0.

PURDUE TOO HEAVY

Trounces DePauw Football Team by a Score of 28 to 4.

ROCHFORD WAS THE STAR.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 31.—DePauw was defeated by the Purdue eleven here today, the final score being 28 to 4. The game was stubbornly fought and several times the Greenback boys tore through the Purdue lineup and made large gains. Purdue did not use any new plays and the forward pass was used but seldom, but won on straight foot ball. Purdue was too heavy for the Methodists and the game was never in danger for the boiler makers. Rochford played a great game for Purdue making four out of the five touchdowns. Dennis Grady, the DePauw quarter back, was the star of his team near the end of the first half. He kicked a goal from the 23 yard line. His tackling at times was also sensational. Captain Jackson of DePauw, Rochford of Purdue were ruled in the second half for slugging. The summary follows:

Touchdowns—Rochford, 4; Getting-er, 1. Goals from touchdown—Holloway, 2; Goebel, 1. Field goal—Grady. Score first half—Purdue, 17; DePauw, 4. Final—Purdue, 28; DePauw, 4. Umpire—Gale, of Chicago. Referee—Soler, Indianapolis. Head Linesman—Davis, Princeton. Time of halves—30 and 75.

How to Know the Trees.
There is an auctioneer whose "gift of the gab" and native wit draw many purchasers to his sales. But sometimes, says the Springfield Republican, he is the subject rather than the cause of amusement. The man's name is O. A. Kelley. Not long ago he had to sell among other things a lot of pine logs, and the day before the sale he went over them and marked the end of each log with his initials. On the day of the auction an Irishman came along and immediately noticed the logs with the letters on them.

"O. A. K.," he read loud enough for all round to hear. "Begorra, if 'tis not just like Kelley to deceive us into believing thin pine logs are oak!"

You read a great deal in the funny papers about fathers going downstairs and kicking young men out for remaining too late with their daughters, but no such thing ever happens. All a father does under such circumstances is to growl to his wife. —Atchison Globe.

KUHN STANDS FOR TARIFF REVISION

Says Even Republican Presidents Opposed High Protective Tariff.

HE WAS WELL RECEIVED.

LARGE CROWD HEARD CONGRES-SIONAL CANDIDATE AT THE COLISEUM LAST NIGHT—TOUCH-ES ON RECENT PANIC.

A large crowd which almost filled the building, assembled last evening at the coliseum to hear the Rev. Thomas H. Kuhn of this city, democratic candidate for congress, deliver the closing address of his campaign, which has been waged in every nook and corner of the Sixth district.

The Rev. Mr. Kuhn devoted most of his time in a discussion of the tariff question. Mr. Kuhn opposed high protective tariff and stated that some of the ablest of American statesmen, notably President U. S. Grant, President James A. Garfield, James E. Blaine and President William McKinley, opposed the high tariff idea. He promised the voters of Wayne county that if he was elected to congress he would do everything in his power to secure a revision of the tariff. Mr. Kuhn was received by the crowd in a most hearty manner.

Speaking on the subject of high tariff Mr. Kuhn stated that American made trust goods by reason of high protection could be bought at least twenty per cent cheaper abroad than they could be purchased in this country. He pointed out that American citizens could not afford to purchase American made goods abroad and ship them to this country because under the existing tariff law they would have to pay an import revenue amounting to fifty per cent of the purchase price.

He pointed out the fact that existing tariff rates were so high that nearly all foreign countries had retaliated by placing almost prohibitive tariff rates on every class of goods exported from this country. He cited for an illustration the fact that the Gaar, Scott & Co. of this city had to pay the Canadian government from $400 to $525 on every machine shipped by the company into the dominion.

Mr. Kuhn, speaking of the recent financial flurry, quoted Leslie M. Shaw, who was President McKinley's secretary of the treasury, as saying that the so called "flurry" was in reality one of the most disastrous financial panics in the history of the country.

RUPE IS SILENT

Refuses to Enter Into Controversy Over Charges Made Against Hospital.

"HAS NOTHING TO SAY."

John L. Rupe, president of the board of trustees of the Reid Memorial hospital, last evening stated, when asked if he intended to make a reply to attack made on the board by Dr. J. M. Wampler, that he intended to enter into no newspaper controversy. "I have absolutely nothing to say. Dr. Wampler has always been a trouble-maker and nothing would delight him more than to get into a newspaper controversy with me."

Mr. Rupe stated that Dr. Wampler was the only person who had ever attacked the management of the Reid Memorial hospital. He said that the newspapers should not destroy the public's confidence in the management of the institution by printing articles written by such men as Dr. Wampler.

MORSE GOT MILLIONS

In Eight Months He Secured
Control of $16,692,283.

MRS. CURTIS ON THE STAND

New York, Oct. 31.—That Charles W. Morse obtained $16,692,283 of funds of the National Bank of North America, within a short space of eight months was the startling disclosure made at his trial today, in the United States criminal court, on the charge of alleged violation of the federal banking laws. In one month of all loans and discounts made by the bank, proceeds of 17.5 per cent of them went to the credit of Morse. And with whole of this vast amount he was practically doing nothing but gambling in stock market. Apart from these revelations most interesting developments of the days proceedings were appearance on the witness stand of Miss Wilson, Morse's stenographer and testimony of Mrs. Alfred H. Curtis, wife of the former president of the National Bank of North America, co-defendant with Morse in this case.

MANY ARRESTS MADE

During October Police Corralled Sixty-four Law Breakers.

ONE MURDERER CAUGHT.

The total number of arrests made by the local police force during the month of October was sixty-four. Public intoxication was the cause of thirty of these arrests. If each one of these men were given the minimum fine and all spent the time in jail, it would mean three meals per day for eleven days each. This would mean 990 meals at 13 1/3 cents per meal, making the total cost $132, for the board of these prisoners.

The other arrests were divided among the various offenses as follows: Murder, 1; held for superintendent, 4; begging, 1; assault and battery, 5; contempt of court, 1; prostitution, 2; associating, 2; commitment, 1; petit larceny, 4; attempted suicide, 1; on order of probation officer, 1; bastardy, 1; wife desertion, 1; rioting, 3; suspicion, 4; carrying concealed weapons, 1; beating way on railroad, 1.

RUPE SUCCESSFUL

Papers Are Finally Served on Standard Oil Officials.

DAVIDSON CLEVER OFFICER

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 31.—By a clever ruse of Attorney General Davidson, of Texas, a service has been secured on the Standard Oil company of Indiana and New Jersey and the Union Tank Line company, owned by the Standard Oil company. Suits to oust these companies from Texas had been filed nearly a year ago, but service could be had only on the Texaco companies. And upon what property could be seized in Texas while in the east, Attorney General Davidson and Special Assistant Lightfoot, through detectives, planned to get the papers served upon the Texas representatives of Standard Oil in Texas. After securing certain evidence representatives for the attorney general's office, claiming to be agents for a foreign company negotiated with the Standard Oil officers for exportation of oil, and secured letters of introduction to the Standard Oil company's representatives in Texas with whom to do business. Upon these the court papers were served. Suits for penalties aggregating $75,000,000 are being prepared.

Mr. Kuhn, speaking of the recent financial flurry, quoted Leslie M. Shaw, who was President McKinley's secretary of the treasury, as saying that the so called "flurry" was in reality one of the most disastrous financial panics in the history of the country.

New York, Oct. 31.—Providing of a great ocean liner has become a fine art in these days, for everything, from the most ordinary fare to the rarest products of the hothouse, must be at the disposal of exacting passengers throughout the voyage, says the London Mail.

On a model steamship, such as the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, the flagship of the North German Lloyd fleet, delicacies and dainties of all descriptions must be as readily procurable one, two, three and even four days from port as at the most exclusive restaurants on either side of the Atlantic. The installation of the la carte system of dining on the North German Lloyd steamships is largely responsible for the extraordinary demands made at sea for luxuries.

During the year 1907 the cost of food supplies for the steamships of the North German Lloyd, according to a statement just issued, was more than $4,000,000, as against but a little more than $5,500,000 expended during the year for coal.

The immense quantities are shown by the figures of fresh meats, smoked meats and tinned meats, excluding poultry, fish and game. Of these alone some 14,000,000 pounds was consumed. The 61,258 passengers carried by the North German Lloyd steamers last year consumed 6,547,323 eggs, or almost 1,000,000 more eggs than in 1906.

One hundred thousand pieces of game were consumed during the year, and 1,400,000 pounds of poultry was found necessary. The number of Blue Point oysters eaten amounted to 182,500; Little Neck clams (shellfish dear to American voyagers), 455,190; crabs and lobsters, 82,633. To supply the demands for turtle soup some 13,407 pounds of fresh turtle was needed.

The bakers used more than 7,000,000 pounds of flour, and the babies on board the various steamers drank 76,623 bottles of specially sterilized milk. Twenty million pounds of potatoes, representing about 346,231 bushels, were used. Other supplies were: lard, 24,956,893 pounds; peas and beans, 770,000 pounds; coffee, 521,052 pounds; chocolate and cocoa, 65,257 pounds; butter, 1,205,964 pounds, and salt, 812,724 pounds.

During the year 2,327,225 cigars and packages of cigarettes were sold on board.

A Full House.
A comedian with a large family recently announced to his comrades at the club supper table that he had that morning been presented with "an addition."

"Congratulations, of course," said a fellow member half heartily, "but hadn't you nine before?"

"What of that?" returned the proud father cheerily. "As an actor I like to see a full house."

MADAME SPECTATOR'S OBSERVATIONS

By Catherine Allman

Ye tourist is a most wondrous animal, capable of the most curious impressions. Washington is the mecca of these harmless creatures, who wander about the city of magnificent distances admiring the many points of beauty and interest. Some friends of mine, a newly-married pair, came to the national capital on their honeymoon. They had a glorious time and went home impressed with all they had seen.

"Washington's just grand," sighed the bride to me as we entered the beautiful new station preparatory to their departure; "so many sights of interest and beauty; Mount Vernon, the monument, the capitol, White House and Library; oh, dear, how shall I tell the folks at home everything?"

"What did you think the most interesting, or, at least, what impressed you deepest?" I asked curiously.

"Why, the city is all so beautiful and impressive; but do you know, the thing that struck me most," she said after some consideration, "was a woman in the land office and guide pointed out to us. Her husband, years ago, went with General Greeley's polar expedition and was eaten up by his starving companions."

And speaking of Washington and tourists reminds me of a tale they tell on a dear old western lady who had come thousands of miles to see the capital city of the nation.

She trudged over to the Washington monument bright and early one morning, only to discover it would be half an hour before the elevator went up. She cast two or three half frightened glances up, up the glistening white side, against which she seemed a pigmy, and then resignedly took her place in line.

"My, my, dear me," she soliloquized aloud, "it's an awful fine big monument, but I should have thought a religious man like Washington would rather have been buried in a cemetery."

Landlords and landladies have had their share of troubles, from the famous Mrs. Podger who, according to Dickens, could never furnish enough gravy for the ravenous commercial gentlemen, to the dear, rapacious old creature of the present day. Two of them were confiding their troubles to each other at the meat stand in the market.

"I can get along with men boarders all right," said one, "but the women! Oh Lord, they'll beat you out in spite of yourself. I just got rid of a stinky one that was a bird. Why, do you know, she'd take coffee every meal and put five teaspoons of sugar in her cup. At the end of the meal she'd scrape out her cup and carry the residue of sugar up to her room, where she'd dry it out. And then what do you think she'd do? She waited until she had a pound of it and then tried to sell it back to me for coffee A sugar."

The craze for cigar bands has succeeded foreign postage stamps, and smokers of cigars are besieged by youthful "collectors." Even the little tots, too young to understand the fad, treasure up the bands, only to be despoiled of them by older children.
