HUGHES WIRES TAFT TONIGHT

Sends Congratulations on Victory.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Governor Hughes has sent the following telegram to Taft at Cincinnati—My heartiest congratulations upon your victory.

HERALD SAYS TAFT HAS 305 VOTES

Great New York Journal Sums Up Situation.

OLD TIME PRICES.

Glimpse of the Days When Living Was Cheap in England.

Old time hotel rates in England were low. For instance, in the days of Queen Elizabeth the charge at the George Inn for a feather bed per night was a penny. Dinner cost sixpence (12 cents) and offered choice of "beef, mutton or pigge or fish." In Stuart times each room owned a name instead of a number, chiefly those of inn signs, such as the Cross Keys room, the Bell chamber, the Adam and Eve room, and so forth.

Formerly the custom in important cities during festival times was to limit the price of food and lodging by statute. In Canterbury during the celebration of the bicentenary of Becket's translation (1372) the price of bread was fixed at two loaves for a penny (2 cents), a fairly high figure considering the comparative value of money then and now, and wine brought 16 cents a gallon.

A century or so later the scale of prices in Edinburgh all the year round was equally moderate, sheep being sold at prices ranging from 12 cents to 20 cents, according to quality, "best hens" at 1 cent each and Rochelle wine at 1 cent a pint. Any vendor departing from these prices ran the risk of forfeiture of his goods.—Chicago News.

QUEER CRABS.

The Ingenious Manner in Which They Disguise Themselves.

Some species of crabs disguise themselves in an ingenious manner. They deliberately bite up seaweeds and plant them on their backs, very soon establishing a growth which harmonizes perfectly with the surroundings and deceives many an enemy. Should the weeds grow too vigorously the crab industriously prunes them with his claws and every now and then scrapes the whole lot off and starts a fresh garden on his roof, so to speak. The sponge crab behaves in a similar manner, nipping off little bits of living sponge and sticking them on his back, where they grow vigorously. The same end is served as in the other case. It is very amusing to keep crabs of one or other of these kinds in an aquarium and deprive them of the usual means of concealment.

They get very nervous and agitated and try to cover themselves with bits of paper or anything else that may be provided. One such captive is said to have had a little greatcoat made for him, which he put on in a hurry as soon as it was handed to him.—London Sphere.

Queer Tallians in Malta.

There are still to be found in Malta a number of small stones shaped and colored like the eyes, tongues and other parts of serpents. The superstitious among the Maltese connect these with the tradition that St. Paul when shipwrecked was cast on their island, and it was there that while lighting a bundle of sticks for a fire a viper fastened on the apostle's hand. St. Paul calmly shook the reptile off into the flames, and no harm followed. The natives wear these stones as talismans, in which character they suppose them serviceable in warding off dangers from snake bites and poisons. They are found in St. Paul's cave, imbedded in clay, and are set in rings and bracelets and when found to be in the shape of a tongue or liver or heart are hung around the neck. They are also taken internally, dissolved in wine, which method is attended, according to some people, by more immediate results.

Islands in New York City.

"I was showing an Englishman our city a week or two ago," said a New Yorker, "and was surprised to hear him express astonishment at the number of islands within our municipal boundaries. 'Is this entire island a part of New York city?' he asked as I took him on several trolley rides over Staten Island. 'And all these islands, too, are they New York city?' he inquired another day as he went up the East river. His remarks put me to thinking, and I've discovered that not one of the really great cities of the world has so many islands within its boundaries as New York. Staten Island in itself would make a good sized city. Some of the other islands, of course, are hardly more than specks, but they belong to New York city just the same."

The Darkest Hour.

The proverb which tells us that "the darkest hour is that before dawn" is inaccurate, for light increases in the morning as gradually as it decreases in the evening. The saying should be "the coldest hour," etc., which is perfectly true and is owing to causes connected with the deposit of dew. Hoarfrosts, too, usually take place just before daylight and are an additional cause of the peculiar chilliness of this time.—London Scraps.

Chairman Haas Says Watson Will Carry Wayne County by 1,000

Chairman E. M. Haas predicts that Watson will carry Wayne county by a majority of at least 1,000 and Taft will have a plurality of about 2,800. This prediction was made at the court house about ten o'clock tonight.

The returns which are coming in slowly and it is predicted that the full Wayne county returns will not be in until about four o'clock in the morning. Marshall is showing unexpected strength.

Taft Will Receive 378 Electoral Votes Say New York Dispatches

New York City, Nov. 4.—Only considering the safe states and definite reports that have been received, Taft will receive 378 electoral votes, although this is 136 more than is needed. This does not include Indiana for the latest returns show that Taft's plurality will be at least 10,000, and the other doubtful states are not included. It is stated at the democratic headquarters by Chairman Connors that he concedes to the election of Taft and Hughes. This announcement came as a great surprise.

Thousands Crowd the Coliseum to Hear the Election Returns

A popular hit, pure and simple, is the verdict of every onlooker in regard to the Palladium's invitation to the citizens of Richmond and Wayne county to be its guests at the coliseum and hear the election returns.

Fully 3,500 people if not more, have packed the huge building. Adherents of all parties are present, as is easily seen by the applause given upon the reading various election returns favoring the various candidates of the different parties.

As is to be expected in this republican stronghold, the majority of the Palladium's guests at the coliseum are republicans, a fact very apparent to any one there, who hears the great storm of applause arising after the announcement of gains by such republican candidates as Taft and Watson.

Rev. J. O. Campbell, who was Wayne county's choice during the race for the congressional nomination last spring, is reading the election returns to the vast assemblage. And no one is finding fault with his delivery either, as his deep voice carries to all parts of the great hall the news of what the people of this nation did with their ballots today.

The Y. M. C. A. supper served at the Coliseum this evening in connection with the Palladium's election returns was a great success. Several hundred people were served altogether. At the conclusion of the supper the tables were removed to make more room for the Palladium's guests. A "counter lunch" is still being served and many hungry ones are taking advantage of it to get cups of steaming coffee and sandwiches.
