SOUGHT TO MURDER FOR WRONGS DONE

Stenographer Seeks to Murder New York Postmaster Today.

SHOOTS, THEN SUICIDES.

DAUGHTER OF POSTMASTER MORGAN SEEKS TO PROTECT HER FATHER AND DEFLECTS BULLET INTO FATHER'S BODY.

New York, Nov. 9.—Postmaster Edward M. Morgan was shot and perhaps fatally wounded, about nine o'clock this morning by Eric H. B. Mackey, a stenographer for a Broadway law firm, who committed suicide immediately after the shooting of Morgan. Mystery surrounds the case and a number of possible causes for the act are suggested.

In addition to working as stenographer, Mackey had conducted a mail order brokerage business, having a private box at the postoffice, and the postoffice department had interfered with his scheme. This is the most plausible motive for revenge, although one rumor said he was a disappointed applicant for an appointment.

Morgan left home at nine o'clock this morning, accompanied by his little daughter, Dorothy, who usually went with him to the Hundred and Forty-sixth street subway station, where he takes the train for his office. Nearing the corner Mackey stepped out from a doorway of a store and asking if it was Mr. Morgan, drew his revolver and fired. Little Dorothy attempted to grasp Mackey's arm and in doing so deflected the bullet in Morgan's abdomen, passing clear through the body. At the hospital the doctors think the intestines are not punctured and a chance for recovery exists.

Morgan says he don't remember seeing Mackey before, but had correspondence with him regarding post-office matters.

Mackey, whose home was in Cambridge, Mass., came here several years ago and lived at a boarding house. He left a letter dated July, saying he intended committing murder soon as that was the only way a poor man could get revenge for wrongs, but didn't specify what the latter was. His employers said he was a sober, intelligent man, but conducted some mail order scheme under an assumed name.
