

PROBES SCOTH'S MURDER SENSATION

Grand Jury Begins Work Securing Evidence in the Carmack Case.

PROSECUTION IS BACKED

CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVED FROM ALL PARTS OF TENNESSEE TO BE USED IN CONVICTING THE COOPERS.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 12.—Davidson county's grand jury began to probe early this morning for evidence in what promises to develop into the South's most sensational murder trial since Governor Goebel was shot down in Kentucky.

Whether former United States Senator Edw. W. Carmack was a victim of conspiracy or whether Duncan Brown Cooper, the veteran newspaper man, sometimes referred to as the political boss of Tennessee and his son, Robin Cooper, who did the shooting, were justifiable on the grounds that they were acting in self-defense will be the final outcome.

Summons were served on scores of people in this county by the grand jury deputies, who have worked incessantly since the tragedy Monday. Self-defense will be the plea entered when the final trial arrives, but meantime a strong effort is being made to impress the grand jury with the fact that Senator Carmack was not fired the first shot, but that he uttered the first words that opened the conversation which led to the shooting.

Governor May Testify. Governor Patterson, it is believed, will testify in the early session before the grand jury. The name of the chief executive has been coupled with the preliminary talk which led up to the shooting on so many occasions, that added to his hurried return here from his home in Memphis, where he spent a few hours the day after the shooting it is believed he will be among the first to testify.

Ample funds are at hand to employ the best legal talent in aid of the prosecution. Subscriptions in dimes, dollars and larger amounts have already commenced to flow in, and announcement of associate counsel for General McCann will be made within 24 hours.

The chief witness for the state will be Mrs. Charles Eastman, a friend of Senator Carmack, who was greeting the editor as he was on his way from his office in the Tennessee Building to his apartments.

Important Witness. Equally important for the defense, it is said, will be a new witness discovered in the person of former Davidson County Sheriff J. D. Sharp, who accompanied Governor Patterson in his campaign over the state during the spectacular race with Senator Carmack for the gubernatorial nomination. The ex-Sheriff is said to have been with the Coopers, father and son, shortly before the killing, and is said to have reached the scene immediately afterward.

Denial by Governor Patterson. While here Governor Patterson took occasion to deny a report that he had been printed to the effect that Mrs. Lucius Burch, daughter of Colonel Cooper, had telephoned him on the morning of the tragedy asking for his aid.

PARTY CANNOT DIE

So Says Bryan Urging His Fellow Democrats to Have Courage.

NEED NOT WORRY FOR HIM.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 12.—Declaring the democratic party can not die and has accomplished more out of office in the last twelve years than the republican party has in office. W. J. Bryan bids his supporters not despair. In the coming issue of the Commoner he speaks of the election results and discusses the future. He says: "The election of 1908 is over and the returns disclose a signal victory for our opponents, but the principles for which our party stands, the policies for which our party contends, these are not dead."

"Does any one believe the American people will permanently permit secrecy as to campaign contributions? Does any one believe the American people will permanently permit the will of the voters to be thwarted, as it is now, by the election of senators through legislatures? Does any one believe the trusts will be permitted permanently to exploit the masses? Does any one believe the consumer will permanently permit the tariff to be written by the beneficiaries of that tariff? Does any one believe the public will permanently tolerate an estrangement between labor and capital? Does any one believe 15,000,000 of depositors will forever permit their savings to be jeopardized as at present? Does any one believe the extravagance of government will go on forever unchecked? Does any one believe our republic will permanently consent to a colonial policy with its humiliations and its final burdens?"

Says Party Has Done Much. "As for myself, let no one worry about my future. The holding of office is a mere incident in the life of those who are devoted to reforms. The reform is the essential thing. If one can advance reforms by holding office, then holding of office is justifiable; if one can best advance reforms as a private citizen, then holding of office is undesirable."

"The world owes me nothing. I have been abundantly compensated for what I have been able to do. My life will not be long enough to repay the people for their support and for the confidence they have expressed."

"With an abiding faith in the triumph of truth and an unflinching confidence in the righteousness of our cause, I speak this word of encouragement to those who call themselves friends."

Jeffersonville, Ind., Nov. 12.—In the death of his little daughter in a hospital here, a tragic chapter has been added to the story of desertion by Rev. J. W. The death of the child was the result of a complication of typhoid fever and brain trouble. The heart-broken mother, when seen, sat beside the little cot containing the body of the golden-haired child with a grief too deep for tears.

INDIANA WRITERS PLAN REUNION

Event May Be Held on George Ade's Farm.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Historians, romancers, unspecializing literateurs and novelists of both the common garden and hothouse varieties are said to be planning as quietly as is possible in a scattered army to hold a reunion in the Hoosier state next spring.

Plans are still in the embryo, scarcely more than suggestions; but those with whom they originated can see great possibilities if a convenient pasture spacious enough to accommodate several years ago similar plans were considered, but they died "a-bornin'" the promoters being unable to locate by mail, telegraph and special messenger enough authors with the price and inclination to guarantee success.

George Ade has a large and shady field adjoining his "west eighty" down in Newton county, and it is considered an ideal spot for such a mass meeting. The field has been tested, more than 10,000 men, women and children, to say nothing of hundreds of buggies and automobiles, having greeted President-elect Taft there before the election. Besides, there is a fine grove of several hundred acres just across the Iroquois River from the Ade place.

Lives Near to Ade. James Buchanan Elmore, the "Bard of Alamo," does not live far from Newton county, and, besides being familiar with the roads leading to Brook the Ade address, knows either by name or reputation all the writers between Attica and Logansport.

Others who are expected to attend to matters within the borders of Indiana in connection with the proposed meetings are the "Bard of Old Ripley," the "Sweet Singer of Haskell," James Whitcomb Riley, Booth Tarkington, if he's at home and Meredith Nicholson, "Charley" Major, the author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," may lend a helping hand—addressing envelopes or writing a special historical romance—if there is not an extra session of the Shelbyville court.

Will Round up Exiles. Wilbur Nesbit, George Barr McCutcheon, John T. McCutcheon and others who have made writing pay beyond the confines of Hoosierdom will try to round up those who have for some reason or other exiled themselves from the "pivotal" state.

The aluminum books for the blind now being printed in Edinburgh are of thin sheets embossed in the usual way. They are easier to read than paper books, do not soil, and are practically indestructible. Their expense is their drawback.
