

QUAKERS PREPARE FOR BASKETBALL

Eight Old Men Will Report For Practice This Evening.

EXCELLENT PROSPECTS.

STRONGER TEAMS IN INDIANA AND OHIO WILL BE PLAYED—OHIO TRIP MAY BE MADE DURING SEASON.

By Tort.

Now that the foot ball season at Earlham is over, arrangements for the basketball season have started. Manager Jones expects to offer the college and city followers of the great indoor game a treat for the season of 1908-09. The St. Mary's five of Dayton, from whom the Quakers won the championship of Ohio last year, have already signed to play at the coliseum and negotiations for games with Purdue, Wash., DePaul, Butler and Rose Poly are under way. It is also understood that Manager Jones has opened correspondence with the manager of the University of Michigan team for a game in this city. This will be the first season Michigan has had a basketball team. Should the Wolverines be secured it is probable a larger crowd would be attracted to the coliseum than when the Purdue five played here two years ago. This game was witnessed by 2,000 people.

Manager Jones is also contemplating taking his charges on an Ohio tour, playing the University of Cincinnati, Ohio State university, Wittenberg and the Cleveland Athletic club.

The material with which Coaches Vall and Holmes have to work with this year is the best in the history of the college. Eight out of twelve of last year's team will be on hand when practice starts this evening. It is also probable that Captain Wilson will return to college after Christmas. The old varsity squad now at college include Hotchkiss, Hancock, White, Conrad, Lindley, Overman, Swain and Harrell.

Among the new candidates who are expected to make the veterans hustle are Rees of Rochester H. S., and Morrison of Darlington H. S. Lawrence and Pitts, former varsity men, will also try for the team as will the Tebbitts brothers from Whittier college five, which won the championship of California last year.

BOTH ARE CONFIDENT

Terrible Turk and Olson Think They Will Win Wednesday Night.

MATCH DRAWS ATTENTION.

At the Simmons Brothers cigar store the sale of seats opened this morning for the wrestling match which will be pulled off Wednesday night at the coliseum between Charley Olson and Bob Manogoff, the Turk. In sporting circles this big match is the sole topic of conversation. Many out of town people will attend the match, some coming from Muncie and Anderson. Several of Olson's Indianapolis friends will also be on hand.

Olson is the favorite among the fans because of the recent defeat he administered the Turk, but everyone looks for a much harder fought contest, because the Turk will enter the ring in much better condition than he was in when he met Olson before. At that time Big Bob was suffering from a heavy cold.

Olson is always in "the pink" and he feels as confident of defeating Manogoff as at the previous meeting. At that time Manogoff downed him once. Olson says that this will not happen again and that he intends to put the Turk on his back twice in rapid succession. This statement, the Turk says, makes him smile.

PIRATES WILL FIGHT FOR FIRST PLACE

Will Meet Carmens in the City Bowling League Tonight.

The Pirates and the Carmens will do battle at the city bowling alleys this evening. The Carmens, better known as the "Red Demons" are holding first place in the city bowling league with a percentage of .668, while the Pirates are a close second with .600. This means that if the Pirates win two games, they will be the first place, but if they win all three they will go to first place. The Carmens will have their full team this evening and it is stated they expect to show the bold bad Pirates how the game is played.

The other games this week are Wednesday evening, Business Men's league, B's vs. A's and on Thursday evening, C's and D's will clash. On Friday evening the Entre Nous of the city league will make an effort to crawl from bottom position by winning from the last Richmond team.

There is no medicine so safe and at the same time so pleasant to take as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the positive cure for all diseases arising from stomach trouble. The price is very reasonable—50c and $1.

Affairs of the Sporting World

In the American league batting averages issued today it is shown that Ownie Bush in the twenty games he played with Detroit made twenty hits, an average of one per game. Bush was at bat 68 times, giving him an average of .294. Criss, the utility player of the St. Louis team, led the league with an average of .341, but he only played in 64 games. Ty Cobb was the real leader, batting .324 in 150 games. The other 300 batters were Delahanty of Washington, Crawford of Detroit, Gessler of Boston, Thomas of Detroit and Tuleiman of Boston. "King" Lajole only swatted at a .289 clip.

Eastern football gave the western game a black eye that will be a long time healing. Cornell, rated about ninth best team in the east played Chicago, the best western team, a 6 to 6 game. Pennsylvania humiliated Michigan by administering a 29 to 0 defeat. Ouch. Next Saturday the Yost eleven plays Syracuse, which played a 0 to 0 game with Princeton, and the supremacy of eastern football over western football will once more be demonstrated in a decisive manner.

Lee Tannehill will quit Comiskey if he can secure the South Bend club franchise in the Central league.

PREPARED GOING AWAY OUTFIT

Mrs. Frances J. Flynn Visited Mrs. Gunness Before The Trial.

LAMPHERE SEEMS NERVOUS

SHERIFF HAZARDS A GUESS THAT MAN ACCUSED OF KILLING GUNNESS FAMILY WILL MAKE A CONFESSION.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 16.—Mrs. Frances J. Flynn testified in the Lamphere trial before a crowded court this morning that she had visited Mrs. Gunness shortly before the fire and saw an elaborate going away outfit Mrs. Gunness was making for her stepdaughter, Jennie Olson, whose body was identified as one of the victims buried in the yard. The outfit consisted of fine underwear, shirt waists, and an expensive coat, etc.

Mrs. Flynn lives near the Gunness farm and saw a fire at 4 o'clock and visited the ruins at six o'clock. Mrs. Turner, who translated the Norwegian letters from Helgelein, identified the eighty letters of love. The trial will probably continue all week. Lamphere was so nervous in jail, Sunday, that the sheriff pronounced him near a collapse. He received several visitors and read the bible diligently. Heretofore he has played cards and seemed indifferent about his case. The sheriff hazarded a guess that Lamphere will confess.

FASHION DESIGNER ACCUMULATED $500,000

MRS. JOSEFA NELLSON OSBORNE.

New York, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Josefa Nellson Osborne, known as the world's greatest society and stage dressmaker, who died Wednesday last at her home, 2 Rutherford place, left an estate of $500,000 which she accumulated by her advanced and original ideas on woman's fashions. This fact was made known today by intimate friends of Mrs. Osborne to whom she had, just previous to her death, confided regarding her business affairs.

Rube Waddell has forsaken the east, Rube says St. Louis is good enough for him, and he intends to spend his money there.

Ed Walsh is still in Chicago and gives State street a treat every evening by strutting over the course a couple of times.

We regret that Hans Wagner couldn't have made a couple more of home runs and made a cleaning up all around in the National league. Charley Murphy will never trade Chance and it's a good bet he will come across with an increase, although he has Chance signed up.

The Chicago White Sox have drafted First Baseman Tannant of the Decatur team of the Three I league. Jiggs Donohue, kindly take notice. Coast critics have nothing but praise for Perrine, who will be a member of the American league staff of umpires next year.

Fred Merkle won a game in the eleventh for the barnstorming Giants the other day with a clean single. It is needless to remark that Fred touched first.

Evidently Christy Mathewson's speechmaking through New York state in behalf of Bryan was not nearly so effective as his pitching, judging from results.

MRS. MILLER DIES

Fourth Member of Col. Miller's Family to Die in Two Years.

WAS A FORMER RESIDENT.

Mrs. May Miller, wife of Harry Miller, president of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and a former resident of this city, died this morning at her home in Chicago after an illness extending over a period of six months. The body will arrive here tomorrow morning and will be taken to the home of Col. John F. Miller, father of Mr. Harry Miller. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home and the burial will be at Earlham cemetery. Interment will be private.

Mrs. Miller was born in this city and was the daughter of the late John A. Burbank, who was at one time territorial governor of Idaho. Her sister is the wife of Governor Joseph Kibbey of Arizona. Mrs. Miller has a large number of friends in this city. The news of her death was a shock to all of them.

Mrs. Harry Miller is the fourth member of Col. Miller's family to die in less than two years' time. His wife died two years ago next month. A year ago last October, William W. Grubbs, his son-in-law died and last Spring his son, Rush Miller, died.

THOMAS TAGGART NOT A CANDIDATE

Declines to Make Race for Senate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Thomas Taggart announced today that he is not a candidate for the United States senatorship to succeed Hemenway, although he has received many letters urging same.

Her Own Doctor.

A Washington woman recently hired a negress. Going to the kitchen one day, she was amazed to find the negress sitting on the floor, with her hair standing out from her head like a black nimbus. The girl was pulling one curly lock and then another in such a way as to suggest that she had suddenly lost her reason.

"What on earth are you doing, Mary?" gasped the lady of the house.
"Nawthin', ma'am; only I has got a sore throat an' was jest tryin' to find de lock dat would pull mah palate up an' relieve de tickle."—New York Herald.

The Fickle Shopper.
"That woman always keeps me guessing," said the grocery clerk as she went out. "I never can tell till the last minute what she is going to buy. Just now she priced the coffee. I gave her the prices—25 cents, 28, 30, 35, 40."
"Is your twenty-five cent coffee any good?" she asked me.
"Yes," said I, "hang up!"
"Then," said she, "give me a pound of your forty cent, ground fine."—New York Press.

Probably Not.
"I hate to be poor. Now, a millionaire can walk right in and order what he wants without bothering about the price."
"He can," stated the weary salesman, "but he seldom does."—Kansas City Journal.

HENEY RECOVERS FROM HIS WOUNDS

Wounded Prosecutor Says It Is Too Bad His Assailant Suicided.

CIVIC PRIDE REKINDLED.

DETERMINATION AROUSED TO SUPPORT PROSECUTOR IN HIS BATTLE AGAINST ALL CHARGED WITH FRAUDS.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 16.—The condition of Francis J. Heney is still most satisfactory and the attending surgeons report that he is making excellent progress on the road to recovery. He passed a comfortable night, sleeping most of the time, and rested easily today.

Although the bullet has been located, embedded in the left of the jaw about one inch in front of the ear, the surgeons have decided not to extract it until Mr. Heney gains more strength. The swelling in the throat is less than at any time since the patient was taken to the hospital, and he is breathing normally.

Sorry Haas Shot Himself.

When told of the massmeeting held Saturday night Mr. Heney showed great interest, and on being informed that his assailant had taken his own life at the county jail, he said:

"It is too bad he did it before giving his reason for shooting me."
The suicide of Morris Haas, who tried to assassinate the prosecutor was the subject of much discussion today and the police authorities were engaged in trying to ascertain how he was able to have concealed the pistol with which he took his life after he had been thoroughly searched two or three times.

The attempt to kill Mr. Heney has had the effect of rekindling civic pride and overcoming indifference and criticism of the prosecution of the bribery graft cases, and has evoked a determination to support the district attorney in the prosecution to a conclusion of all charged with debauching the public service.

THE PIGEONS WON.

In Spite of Clipped Wings They Got Back on Time.

The colonel was something of a pigeon fancier and had so much confidence in a certain strain of homers he was making a hobby of that when his friend the major proposed a wager the colonel removed the limit.

"We'll make it a supph," said the major. "Yo' black boy will tote a paiah ovah to the cyahs an' ship them to St. Louay, whah they ah to be libarated on ahviral. I wagh they ah not back in two days, sah."

The colonel accepted, crated his finest pair and included a note to the express agent with the charges. Meanwhile the major commended with Joe, the colored boy, and after the tendering of a certain half dollar and promises of immunity from the consequences of the colonel's wrath later Joe agreed to clip the pigeons' wings sub rosa.

Two days passed, and the major presented himself duly at the colonel's. The colonel eyed him with suspicious narrowness.

"Have they ahvired?" asked the major gaily.
"They hev, sah," said the colonel, with dignity; "they hev, but those two pigdigs, sah, hev the so'fest feet I evah saw on a bird, sah."—Browning's Magazine.

BE SURE YOU'RE RIGHT.

Then Take a Long Think and Mind Your Own Business.

The other day a man traveling on a shore line train noticed, protruding from an overhead rack, a dress suit case which he recognized as belonging to a friend. He knew that his friend always got off at the station which they had just passed, and as he was not in the seat the conclusion was inevitable that he had jumped off the train and forgotten it.

The man called the conductor and explained the case to him. After some discussion and a mild protest on the part of the conductor that it wasn't a part of his duty, the suit case was put off at the next station, with instructions to send it back on the first train the other way.

The man, feeling that he had done an able and friendly act, settled down for the rest of his journey.
But not for long. The face of his friend, who had been in the smoker and who happened on that particular afternoon to be going on to New London to attend a dinner party—loomed before him.

The moral of this, of course, quite evident.
Be sure you're right and then mind your own business.—Life.

Overboard.
"Overboard" is engraved on a metal label fastened to many articles of paraphernalia seen about the decks of a modern war vessel. It means that the article so marked should be thrown overboard whenever action with an enemy's ship becomes imminent. Alcohol chests, turpentine tanks, paints, spare spars, unnecessary hatches and other articles easily destroyed or splintered by shell fire are thus labeled. The president of Occident college, California, is said to have given the word a new meaning in civil life when he used it to indicate those who are unfit, useless or inapt in the struggle of life.

It is a strong word and as such can be appropriately applied to men and things which when a ship must go to battle are not necessary or material to the end desired.—Army and Navy Life.

WILL HELP MEET MRS. SAGE'S OFFER

Wayne County Branch of Bible Society to Act.

A committee of the Wayne county auxiliary of the American Bible society, composed of L. H. Bunyan, G. H. Knollenberg and Edward Thompson, met this morning with the Ministerial association to devise ways and means for the county to assist in the movement to raise $500,000 so that the society can secure a like sum offered by Mrs. Russell Sage.

Mrs. Sage offered to give this amount provided a similar amount was raised by the society by January 1. All over the United States auxiliaries of the society are making an effort to raise the money.

CHURCH IN CHURCH.

They Were Not Uncommon in the Old Days in England.

Frequent cases of card playing occurred in churches in olden days in the high or curtained family pews that were to be found in several parts of England.

A case of card playing was mentioned by the poet Crabbe as having occurred in one of those pews in Trowbridge parish church. Mr. Beresford Hope stated that card playing was not uncommon in churches having curtained pews, where those occupying them were screened from the observation of the rest of the congregation, and that one of the Georges is credited with taking part at a game of whist in the church he attended.

The church at Little Stanmore, in Middlesex, has a luxurious room pew which is approached by a special door and staircase.

The old St. Paul's cathedral before the great fire of London was used by business men as a sort of exchange. The portico was let out to hucksters, and in those days gambling and cards are both said to have been indulged in without let or hindrance within the cathedral.—London Standard.

Outwitting a Bushranger.

In Mr. George E. Rozali's "Story of the Australian Bushrangers" the following little episode is related: A man named Michael, who went to an inn for food, found the place in the hands of the bushrangers. Fourteen guests were already disarmed and were being searched in order. Michael was compelled to take his place in line. The bushrangers handed him a pannikin of tea before they took his money. Knowing what was coming, he held the pannikin as if the tea were too hot to drink, and when the leader of the highwaymen was looking away dropped his roll of bank notes into it. He stood quite quiet, and when the bushrangers came to feel his pockets there were only a few shillings in them. The robbers appeared satisfied and allowed him to go. He carried his pannikin out with him, took his money and put it in his pocket without being observed. Then he mounted his horse, rode to the nearest police station and gave information.

Her Indorsement.

"Madam," said the teller of a bank in Baltimore to a woman who had handed him a check to cash—"madam, you have forgotten to indorse."

A worried smile came to the woman's face, but she took back the paper and wrote something on the back thereof.

When again the teller looked at the check he found that the woman had indorsed as follows:

"The bank has always paid me whatever it owed, and you need have no worry. Therefore I indorse this check. Very truly yours, Anna M. Blank."—Harper's.

IS NOT ARRAIGNED

For Second Time Continuance Of Keller Hearing Is Granted.

NEW ATTORNEY IN FIGHT.

Another continuance has been granted in the case of the State vs. Keller, charged with murder. The jury had been summoned and appeared in court witnesses were on hand and the court attaches were prepared for the trial of the case, which had been set for today. Announcement was made, however, that Keller has retained additional counsel and a continuance had been granted pending a conference of counsel and client. Keller's new rescuer from the penitentiary for life is Henry Robinson, an attorney at Louisville, Ky. It is not known when Mr. Robinson will be here to talk with Keller, but it is probable within a few days.

Prospects are that after he has heard the story of the case, Robinson will labor to induce Keller to enter a plea of guilty. The man has confessed to firing the shots, which caused the death of William Thornton and there are said to be no mitigating circumstances. Keller maintains he fired in self defense.

The county must pay another time for the jury that was called, but not used.

AGED WOMAN TELLS SPOUSE'S CRUELTY

once after he had been living in the stable for a week. I can't say that I had done anything to him. If I ask him anything in a good way he never give me a right answer. He knock on the table and call me a damn—. One he was gone three months and he come in and I say 'Hello papa' and he call me a name again. He said he didn't have to live with me and wouldn't. I couldn't do anything to suit him. He was cross to me but always good to the girls. I was afraid of him but tried not to let him know it. My heart felt just like it lay in water, I was that sad and hurt. When he was away I slept at night. That was more than I could do when he was home."

The names Mrs. Elstro accused her husband of calling her were the vilest that can be applied to a chaste woman.

The case was on trial throughout the afternoon and may require a part of tomorrow to conclude.
